NOTIFICATION.

The 29th June 1886.—The following revised rules for the employment of the steamers Chaffinch in local traffic between Chittagong and Rangamati, and in towing vessels to sea from the port of Chittagong, have been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and are hereby published for general information :—

RULES.

1. The steamer will ordinarily start from Chittagong every Monday with the flood-tide, and will leave Rangamati on her return trip every Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning. The time for leaving will be previously notified by the Engineer in charge with the approval of the Deputy Commissioner.

2. The above rule is subject to changes dependent on season, which will always be notified by the Commissioner.

3. The steamer shall be at the Rangamati Ghât at least one hour before the time fixed for starting, in order to allow for shipment of cargo.

4. The Commissioner shall be at liberty to take the steamer for his tours of inspection to Noakholly, Kutubdea, Cox's Bazar, and other places approachable by sea. On such occasions the weekly trip to Rangamati will be suspended, due notice being given to the public beforehand.

5. The passenger fares for the whole distance are as follow :—
First class—Rs. 8, with accommodation in the cabin on flat No. 1.
Second class—Rs. 4-8, with accommodation in the fore-cabin of the steamer.
Third class—Rs. 2, with accommodation on the after-deck of the steamer.
Fourth class—Re 1, with accommodation on the after-deck or roof of flat No. 1.

6. Matresses, crockery, glass, cooking utensils, and cabin furniture are supplied to first and second class passengers, but no provisions.

7. The steamer will stop, if required, at the following halting-places to land and pick up passengers and cargo :—

1. Chucktai mukh.	4. Sylock.
2. Lamboo's Hât.	5. Chandergonah.
3. Bhandaljuri.	6. Kaptai.

8. On approach of the steamer near each halting-place, intending passengers will wave their handkerchief or chudder, and shippers of cargo will show a red flag for stopping the steamer. When such signs are not exhibited, it will not be necessary to stop the steamer. For any place between Chittagong and Bhandaljuri, quarter fares or freights will be charged beyond Bhandaljuri, and as far as Chandergonah half fares. Beyond Chander-

gonah, and as far as Kaptai, three-quarter fares; beyond Kaptai full fares, and at the same rates in reverse order on the downward trip. First class passengers will be allowed to take with them two servants, and second class one, free of charge. Any number in excess of this will be charged for at fourth class rates. First and second class passengers will be allowed two maunds of personal luggage; third class and fourth class passengers 15 and 10 seers, respectively, free of charge. The remainder will be charged for at cargo rates hereinafter specified.

9. Government officers, except the Commissioner, travelling by the steamer, are required to pay the above fares in the same manner as if she were a private steamer. They will be allowed to take with them two orderlies free of charge, in addition to the private servants allowed by Rule 8.

10. A limited quantity of goods can be carried on each trip, but preference will be given to Government stores. The rates of freight for general weighable goods in bags, such as rice, dâl, sugar, &c., between Chittagong and Rangamati, will be 1 anna and 9 pies per maund, with quarter, half, and three-quarter rates between the places mentioned in Rule 8.

11. Small packages entrusted to the special care of the Engineer in charge will be charged for as follows for the whole distance or any part of it—

Not exceeding two feet in any direction, six annas; not exceeding 3 feet in any direction, twelve annas. Packages exceeding those dimensions will be charged for as cargo. For the carriage of specie, Re. 1 for every Rs. 1,000 will be charged.

All perishable and easily destructible stores, such as fresh bazar in open baskets, wines and ærated waters in baskets, matches, acids, kerosine-oil, and other dangerous goods will be charged under the parcel rates, whether they are entrusted to the special care of the Engineer or not.

Furniture will be charged for at 1 anna per cubic foot, empty return tins at 1 anna each, and empty bags at 1 anna per score as the minimum charge.

12. If space is available without causing inconvenience to passengers, animals will be carried at the following rates:—

Sheep or goat	0	4	0

The proportional reduction of fares fixed by Rule 8 for passengers and cargo will also apply to these rates.

13. Small country surangas, boats or dug-outs, may, if the state of the river permits, be towed up or down not more than two or three at a trip, and charged at three annas per maund of their carrying capacity, the legitimate crew of such being free. The passengers, if any, will be charged at third class passengers fares, with quarter, half, and three-quarter rates, according to distance travelled.

14. Persons intending to ship cargo at Chaffinch Ghât or Chaktai should give at least six hours' previous notice of the quantity of cargo they intend to ship, and may deposit freight. Preference will be given to those who make such deposits. Any not doing so will simply run the risk of their cargo being refused. If after notice has been given and deposit paid, all available space should be taken up by Government stores or sepoys, the deposit will be refunded, unless the shipper prefers to have the cargo carried next trip.

15. The above rates of freight do not include charges for shipping and landing. The former must be done by shipper or his agent at his own risk or cost. If within two hours after the arrival of the steamer at Chittagong or Rangamati, the shipper does not take delivery of his cargo, the same will be landed and kept in the godown at these places by the crew of the steamer, and a charge of half an anna will be charged on every maund of cargo or package for such landing. Godown rent of half-anna per day will also be charged if delivery is not taken within two days from the time of landing.

16. Applications for passage, freight, and information respecting the movements, &c., of the steamer, must be made to the Engineer in charge, who will receive all passage-money and freights and grant tickets and receipts, and will be responsible for the payment (in advance) of all fares and freight.

17. The steamer will also be available for the towage of vessels to sea from the port of Chittagong, and the following rates will be charged for this service:—

	Rs.
Vessels drawing under 17 feet	150
Ditto from 17 to 18 feet	200
Ditto from 18 to 19 „	250
Ditto from 19 to 20 „	300
Ditto from 20 to 21 „	350

NOTIFICATION.

The 24th June 1886.—In the exercise of the powers conferred on the Local Government by section 11 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878, the Lieutenant-Governor hereby appoints, with effect from the 10th July 1886, the wharf and landing-stages situated on the east bank of the Port of Calcutta at Budge-Budge to be the place for the landing and shipping of petroleum. The wharf shall extend from the northern boundary of the premises of the Budge-Budge Jute Mills Company on the south to the Ferry Ghât at the village of Budge-Budge on the north.

R. H. WILSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 24th June 1886.—In supersession of the notifications of the Government of Bengal, dated the 18th August 1879 and 29th November 1881, it is hereby notified for general information that the limits of the Port of Calcutta, and of the navigable river and channels leading thereto, as fixed with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, shall, with effect from the 10th July 1886, be severally as described below.

Port boundaries.

The limits of the port shall be—

On the north.—A line drawn from the boundary pillar at the Cossipore Gun Foundry Ghât to a point on the opposite side at Ghoosery.

On the south.—A line drawn from a masonry pillar placed at the mouth of the Budge-Budge khal to a pillar on the Howrah side of the river Hooghly bearing north-west of the first-named pillar.

So much of Tolly's Nullah as lies to the west of a line drawn across the Nullah, 25 feet to the west of Hastings' bridge.

The limits of the port include to the east and west so much of the river Hooghly and the shores thereof as are within 50 yards of high-water mark at spring-tides.

Port approaches.

The limits of the navigable river and channels leading to the port shall be—

On the north—The Port of Calcutta as above defined.

On the south.—A line drawn east and west from the Eastern Channel Floating Light-vessel. All parts of the navigable channels, called the Eastern and Western Channels, and of the river Hooghly, between the said limits and below high-water line at spring-tides.

N. B.—Within the above limits the port and the navigable river and channels leading to the port are subject to the jurisdiction of the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta, under the powers conferred upon them by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th April 1875, which vested them with the powers of Conservator of the Port, and by an order, dated the 29th November 1881, which vested them with the powers of Conservator of the navigable river and channels leading to the port.

2. Under the provisions of section 96 of Act V (B.C.) of 1870, all the port dues and fees payable under the provisions of Chapter VI of Act XII of 1875 (the Indian Ports Act) shall, with the exception of hospital port dues and pilotage fees, be received by the said Commissioners with effect from the 1st November 1881.

PORT RULES.

(For the Port of Calcutta within the jurisdiction of the Port Commissioners.)

Under the provisions of Act XII of 1875, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to sanction the following revised rules to be observed within the Port of Calcutta with effect from the 10th July 1886 :—

1. In these rules the word "daybreak" shall be held to mean half an hour before sunrise, and the word "dark" to mean half an hour after sunset.

Vessels not to move at night.

2. No vessel of the burthen of 200 tons or upwards coming into the port shall proceed above the house of the Superintendent of the Government Botanical Gardens (hereinafter called Garden House), or move from one place to another within the port above the Pillar at Panchpurah / Garden House between sunset and day-break without the special permission of the Commissioners : provided that a vessel which has arrived above Garden House before sunset may at once proceed to a safe anchorage at any part of the port between Tolly's Nullah and Prinsep's Ghât.

Exception in favour of steam-tugs.

3. Steam-tugs having no vessel in tow shall be permitted to enter the port after sunset at their own risk, but they shall not proceed above Chandpal Ghât. Steam-tugs shall be held liable for any damage which they may cause by moving at night.

Vessels not to move up on the flood or down on the ebb.

*4. No vessel of the burthen of 200 tons or upwards shall steam, sail, or be towed up on the flood or down on the ebb, within the port above Garden House, without the special permission of the Commissioners; and in cases where such permission is granted, the officers in charge shall be held strictly responsible for accidents which may occur in consequence of their taking the vessels up or down at a greater speed than is absolutely necessary in order to keep them under command; and in every case where such permission is granted, the speed of the vessel shall not exceed four miles an hour through the water.

Speed of vessels restricted.

5. No vessel shall steam, sail, or be towed up on the ebb or down on the flood, within the port above Garden House, at a speed greater than four miles an hour over the ground.

Vessels dropping up or down.

6. Vessels may at all times drop up or down the port above Garden House with their anchors on the ground. Vessels using their own steam power when dropping with the tide shall in no case proceed at a greater speed than is absolutely necessary in order to keep them under command.

* With reference to Port Rule No. 4, the following instruction for the guidance of Assistant Harbour Masters is published for general information :—Assistant Harbour Masters are forbidden, without a special order from the Harbour Master's office, to turn outward-bound vessels until they are below the Lower College Sand Buoy.

Vessels entering the port at neap tide.

7. Vessels entering the port at neap tides during the freshets are permitted to proceed above Garden House at slack-water at a speed not exceeding four miles an hour over the ground.

River and tug-steamers exempted.

8. River steamers and tug-steamers having no vessels in tow are permitted to move up on the flood or down on the ebb at their own risk, and at a speed sufficient to keep them under command; but in no case shall the speed within the port above Garden House exceed four miles an hour through the water.

Steering gear of steam-launches.

9. All steam-launches, steam cargo boats, steam ferry boats, and all other small vessels propelled by steam, plying within the limits of the port, shall have their steering gear so placed that the man steering can have a clear look-out ahead.

Speed of steamers inside moorings.

10. No steam-vessel of the character described in the preceding rule shall proceed at a greater rate of speed than four miles an hour when inside the moorings, and no such steam-vessel shall proceed at a greater rate of speed than four miles an hour anywhere within the port above Garden House after dark. Without the special permission of the Commissioners, no steamers carrying passengers shall be under weigh after dark between the limits of the landing-stages at Hastings on the south and Ahecreetolah on the north.

Ferry-steamers may be exempted.

11. Special permission may be given by the Commissioners to ferry-steamers to move in the port otherwise than is prescribed in these rules, due limitation being laid down as to place and hours of plying and speed in each case.

Vessels having powder in excess of the authorized quantity to be kept outside the port 12. No vessel shall have on board, within the limits of the port, more than 25lb of gunpowder as defined in the Act, of which not more than 15lb shall be common gunpowder, with 12 rockets and 12 blue-lights. All powder and combustible ammunition which vessels are by this rule permitted to keep on board shall be stored in a copper magazine out of risk of fire and explosion.

NOTE.—In these rules—

"Petroleum declared dangerous" means petroleum which the master of a ship has declared under rule 12 to be dangerous petroleum.

"Certificated petroleum" means petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the port of shipment, of such description as the Local Government may, from time to time, by written order prescribe, and to the effect that the petroleum is not dangerous petroleum.

"Uncertificated petroleum" means petroleum which the master of the ship has not declared under rule 12 to be dangerous petroleum, and which is not covered by certificate as aforesaid.

"Petroleum reported dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report, signed by the Chemical Examiner to Government and deposited in the office of the Port Commissioners, to be dangerous petroleum.

"Petroleum reported not dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report as aforesaid not to be dangerous petroleum.

Declaration in regard to petroleum.

13. The master of every ship bound for Calcutta and carrying petroleum shall, before reaching Budge-Budge, declare in writing to the pilot*—

(a) what quantity of petroleum the ship is carrying;

(b) whether any, and if so what, part of it is dangerous petroleum; and

(c) whether any, and if so what, part of it is certificated petroleum.

When the master declares that any petroleum is certificated petroleum, he shall produce to the pilot the certificates covering the same.

Dangerous petroleum to be landed at Budge-Budge.

14. A ship having on board more than 40 gallons of petroleum declared dangerous shall not proceed upwards beyond Budge-Budge; but such petroleum shall be landed at the petroleum wharf and shall be detained there pending the grant of an import license under section 4 of the Petroleum Act, or the orders of the Local Government for the disposal of the same.

Certificated petroleum in excess of 500 gallons to be landed at Budge-Budge.

15. A ship having on board more than 500 gallons of certificated petroleum, or more than 40 gallons of uncertificated petroleum, shall not proceed upwards beyond Budge-Budge; but such petroleum shall be landed at the petroleum wharf and detained there till the Chemical Examiner reports that it is not dangerous. This rule shall not apply to petroleum which is ordinarily used for lubricating or jute-batching purposes, and which has a flashing-point above 150° by Abel's test. On the master of a vessel producing a certificate that the petroleum which he has on board is all of this description, the ship may be brought up to the jetties and her cargo discharged in the ordinary manner, but the Commissioner of Police shall be entitled at any time to obtain samples of such petroleum for the purpose of having them tested.

Ship carrying less than 500 gallons may proceed.

16. A ship having on board only certificated petroleum, not exceeding 500 gallons, may proceed to any moorings in the Port of Calcutta, and there discharge the petroleum.

Procedure at the petroleum wharf.

17. (1) When, under the provisions of rules 14 and 15, any petroleum has been landed at Budge-Budge, the Superintendent of the petroleum wharf shall, within as short a time as possible, not exceeding 48 hours from the time of the petroleum being landed, obtain samples of the petroleum so landed.

* The pilot should deliver this declaration to the Harbour Master or his assistant when the latter comes on board.

(2). Every different quality of petroleum shall be separately sampled, and when petroleum is certified to be of uniform quality, a sample shall be taken from not less than one case in every 10,000 cases.

(3). The Superintendent shall forthwith seal the receptacles containing the samples, and having labelled them with the name of the ship, the name of the consignee, and such other distinguishing marks as he shall deem necessary, shall forward them to the Chemical Examiner to Government.

(4). The Chemical Examiner having tested them shall, within 24 hours after the receipt of the samples, sign a report declaring that they are or are not dangerous petroleum (as the case may be), and shall forward that report to the office of the Port Commissioners, sending a copy of it at the same time to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.

License required for removal of uncertificated petroleum.

18. Petroleum which has not been reported under the last proceeding rule not to be dangerous petroleum shall not be removed from the wharf except in accordance with a license granted under section 4 of the Act, or under an order of the Local Government.

Dangerous petroleum may under certain circumstances be kept on board.

19. When the petroleum declared dangerous on board a ship amounts to more than 40 gallons, and is not covered by an import license granted under section 4 of the Act, and the master desires to proceed above Budge-Budge, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, grant to any person a license to possess that petroleum at such place for such time and subject to such undertaking by such person for the re-exportation of that petroleum at the expiration of that time as it thinks fit; and may, notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, permit that petroleum to be landed and delivered to that person in such manner and subject to such conditions as it thinks fit.

Exemptions.

20. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum imported from the United Kingdom in iron drums, as part of a general cargo when the certified flashing point of such petroleum by Abel's test is above 80° Fahrenheit, provided that the quantity imported in any one ship does not exceed 2,000 gallons. A ship carrying only petroleum of this description may enter the port without any restriction, so far as the above rules are con- cerned, and discharge its cargo in the ordinary manner. The Commissioner of Police shall, however, be entitled at any time to obtain a sample of such petroleum for the purpose of having it tested.

21. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum comprised in a ship's stores and manifested as such, provided it is not of unreasonably large amount. If any question arises as to whether any petroleum manifested as ship's stores is of an unreasonably large amount, the decision thereon of the Port Commissioners shall be final.

Transportation by boat.

22. When petroleum reported not dangerous is transported by boat within the port—

(1) it shall be transported only after sunrise and before sunset, and in quantities not exceeding 5,000 gallons in one boat;

(2) no smoking, fire, or light of any description shall be allowed in any boat during the time the petroleum is on board the boat.

Harbour Master's assistants not to be interfered with.

23. The Harbour Master and his assistants shall not be interfered with in the execution of their duty. After a vessel is moored, she shall not be moved without the permission of the Harbour Master.

Vessels to be berthed and moved at the discretion of the Commissioners.

24. All vessels within the port shall take up such berths as may be appointed for them by the Commissioners or the Harbour Master, and shall move from one berth to another when ordered to do so; but this rule shall not apply to vessels when moving within the port between Budge-Budge and Garden House in charge of a pilot.

Ships with coal cargoes.

25. Vessels arriving in port with coal or other cargo likely to cause nuisance shall not proceed above Garden Reach moorings without special orders, and shall discharge their cargo from whichever side the Harbour Master may direct, and shall also adopt such measures as he may order for the abatement of the nuisance arising from the discharge.

Vessels in the stream to keep a clear hawse.

26. All vessels moored in the stream shall keep a clear hawse.

Moorings not to be occupied without Commissioners' permission.

27. No vessel shall use any of the moorings, whether fixed or swinging, without the permission of the Commissioners.

Vessels at swinging moorings how to be fastened.

28. All vessels lying at swinging moorings shall during the freshets (15th June to 31st October,) in addition to their bower chain, have the end of a good hawser also fast to the ring of the moorings.

Applications for assistant harbour masters to be made to the Deputy Conservator,

29. All applications to be hauled into or cast off from the moorings, or for any other assistance, shall be made either personally or by letter to the Harbour Master. Applications will, as far as possible be complied with in order according to date of receipt.

Vessels arriving in the port to rig in the jib and driver booms,

30. All vessels on arrival in the port shall rig in their jib and driver booms, and shall keep them so rigged in until the pilot takes charge of the vessel for the purpose of taking her to sea. They shall also strike their yards and masts when ordered by the Commis sioners. Vessels proceeding to the jetties shall remove all boats and other projections likely to damage the jetties and cranes.

Rules for regulating striking off yards and masts.

31. From the 1st day of May until the 30th day of June, and from the 1st day of October to the 15th day of November, all vessels in the port shall have their royal and top-gallant yards on deck, and mast-ropes rove in readiness to send the top-gallant masts down at short notice when required, that is, when the storm warning signal (ball) is displayed; and shall send down their top-sail yards and house top-masts when the storm signal (drum) is hoisted, or when ordered to do so by the Commissioners. Vessels about to leave the port may send their top-gallant yards aloft 24 hours before leaving the moorings. Vessels entering the port between the above dates, having top-gallant masts and yards aloft, may be placed in moorings, and the top-gallant yards of such vessels shall be sent down within 24 hours after they are moored.

Additional precautions to be taken on approach of bad weather.

32. On the occurrence of signs of an approaching cyclone, a black drum will be hoisted during daylight from the flagstaff on the roof of the Port Commissioners' Office, Koilah Ghât, another from the flagstaff opposite the Government Dockyard, Kidderpore, and another at the petroleum wharft at Budge-Budge. During the night, under similar circumstances, two bright lights in a vertical line will be exhibited from the same flagstaffs. When these signals are displayed, masters of vessels shall immediately take every additional precaution in their power to make the vessels snug and secure; they shall stow their top-gallant masts on deck below the rails, and shall have awnings furled, and the lower and topsail yards counterbraced or pointed to the wind, if not struck. The cables shall be bent to both bower anchors when possible.

STORM SIGNALS.

	Day.	Night.
This signal means cyclone probable, look out, send down royal and top-gallant yards, reeve mast ropes, furl awnings.	A black ball ...	Three lights in a vertical line.
This signal means cyclone approaching, carry out the instructions laid down in Port Rule No. 31.	A black drum ...	Two lights in a vertical line.

Free channel of 200 yards to be kept.

33. A free channel of not less than 200 yards in width shall be kept for ships moving up or down the river in the port, and also free passages to piers, jetties, landing places, wharves, quays, dock, and moorings; and all vessels shall move when ordered to clear such channels or passages.

Anchoring ground to be kept clear.

34. The river between the lower buoy of the College Sand and Metteabrooj Ghât shall be kept clear for turning inward or outward-bound vessels, and no vessels shall anchor within these limits. Between the College Sand and Tolly's Nullah vessels cannot anchor without infringing Port Rule 33. All vessels intending to anchor in Garden Reach shall be moored below Metteabrooj Ghât moorings in a clear swinging berth, as close to the south bank as the length and draught of the vessels will admit. Inward-bound vessels proceeding above Metteabrooj Ghât shall moor in the stream between Prinsep's Ghât and Tolly's Nullah, leaving the clear channel of 200 yards prescribed by Port Rule 33.

Obstruction by fishing stakes and nets prohibited.

35. From Garden House to Fultah Reach on the river Hooghly a deep navigable channel, not less than 200 yards in width, shall always be left clear for the passage of sea-going vessels, and between the hours from daylight to dark no fisherman shall obstruct the same by mooring or casting a stake-net therein. At Sankrail, Peer Saraug, and below Budge-Budge, where the deep water channel lines close to the shore, land marks have been erected to define the channel to be left clear, and no fishing boats shall be moored, nor nets of any description cast, between the line indicated by these marks and the shore. Between the hours from daylight to dark no stake-net nor drift-net shall be cast by fishermen in any part of Garden Reach within port limits.

Vessels to have an anchor at the bow.

36. Vessels lying in the stream, or at the moorings, shall at all times have at least one anchor at the bow, with a cable bent and ranged ready to let go.

Storm fastenings in time of bores.

37. All vessels placed in the moorings on the ebb-tide shall during spring-tides, when bores are expected, have their best hawsers passed from each quarter pipe abaft the main-mast, and made fast to the stern moorings if possible; otherwise to their own chains close to the moorings, and hove taut with sufficient strain to relieve the jerk on the chains and bitts when the bore comes in.

Vessels to remove projections from sides.

38. No vessel within the port above Garden House shall have any anchor or spar, or other substance likely to cause damage, projecting from her side.

Vessels anchored or under weigh in the port to show lights between sunset and sunrise.

39. All vessels anchored in the stream within the port shall exhibit between sunset and sunrise, when it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull of the vessel, a white light in a globular lantern of eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light visible all round the horizon and at a distance of at least one mile. Vessels under weigh at night shall show the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade's Regulations.

Cargo and other boats to carry a light.

40. All coasting vessels, cargo-boats, bhurs, budgerows, up-country boats, and passenger boats, when under weigh on the river after dark within the limits of the port, shall carry a white light in a lantern in the forepart of the vessel, where it can be distinctly seen; and all steam-vessels shall show, when under weigh, the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade's Regulations.

Steamers occupying moorings not to move screws or paddles except under limitation.

41. Steam-vessels occupying moorings shall not turn their screws or paddles without giving sufficient warning of their intention to do so to boats in the vicinity; they shall not put full power on when trying their engines in the moorings, nor shall any trial under steam be permitted so long as a vessel is lying at the jetties.

Smoking and use of naked lights prohibited below the upper deck.

42. No person shall smoke or use naked lights of any description in the hold or between-decks of any vessel lying in the port, or in any dock within the port. Closed lanterns, burning candles or vegetable oil lights, secured by lock and key, and in charge of an officer of the vessel, shall alone be taken between-decks or into the hold.

Fires permitted only in galleys within stated hours.

43. Fires shall be permitted only in galleys or fire-places regularly constructed for the purpose; such fires to be kept alight only between daybreak and 9 P.M. Cooking fires shall not be allowed on board of vessels in dock.

Gunpowder and combustible matter not to be taken into dock.

44. All gunpowder shall be landed before a vessel is put into dock.

Proprietor of docks to take precautions against fire.

45. The proprietor of every dock shall keep on the premises a good fire-engine, with serviceable hose and fire-buckets ready for immediate use with a supply of water at hand.

Vessels to be provided with fire-buckets.

46. With a view to the extinction of fires, all vessels in port shall be provided with three buckets for every hundred tons of registered measurement up to 600 tons, and two additional buckets for every hundred tons above 600, provided that the total number of buckets shall not be required to exceed 50 in any vessel. One-half of the number of such buckets shall be left constantly hanging up on the quarter-deck or other convenient place.

Measures to be taken by vessels on the occurrence of a fire.

*47. When fire has broken out in any vessel, the officers in charge of all vessels in neighbouring moorings or anchorage shall furl their awnings, get their force-pumps ready for use, and prepare to slipping their cables and chains, seeing specially that the pins of the shackles can be immediately knocked out.

Precautions against indecent exposure.

48. The riverbank being a place of public resort, masters of vessels in moorings shall have the forecastles and heads of their vessels screened in, so as to avoid indecent exposure.

Lying at single anchor prohibited

49. No vessel shall lie at single anchor in the port unless a pilot or assistant harbour master is on board.

Signal of departure to be hoisted.

50. All vessels about to leave the port shall hoist the blue-peter at the fore at least 24 hours before leaving the moorings, and shall keep it hoisted until the pilot takes charge of the vessel to take her to sea.

Speed limited when passing bridge opening.

51. With the exceptions hereinafter noted, no vessel of or exceeding 200 tons burthen shall, without the special sanction of the Commissioners, move up or down the port through the ship opening of the Hooghly Bridge, except such vessel is propelled or towed by steam against the tide, and then only at such rate of speed, not exceeding four miles an hour over the ground, as is absolutely necessary to keep good steerage way. No river steamer shall pass through the opening with more than two vessels in tow.

Exceptions.—Tug and river steamers, when not towing or propelling other vessels, may drop through the bridge opening, under steam, head to tide.

River flats may be dropped or warped at slack water through the ship opening or through the 60-feet opening.

Vessels not to pass each other in the opening.

52. No steam-vessel shall attempt to pass any other vessel proceeding in the same direction whilst between the pontoons of the Hooghly Bridge.

Not more than two cargo-boats to be towed through the opening.

53. No steam-vessel shall have in tow more than two cargo-boats when proceeding through the bridge opening with the tide.

Steamers to sound whistle when passing.

54. All steam-vessels, when passing through the bridge opening, shall sound their whistles as a warning to other vessels.

* For the better security of vessels against damage or loss by fire, a steam floating fire-engine has been provided, and is always kept under steam, ready to proceed at once to any place where her services may be required. The fire-engine station is at Fort Point, where the vessel is moored, and where a look-out is kept day and night. In case fire breaks out on board vessel, notice should at once be sent to the fire-engine station.

Penalties.

55. Any person committing an infringement of any of the foregoing Port Rules shall be liable to the penalties prescribed by the Act.

Special rules for regulating the discharge and loading of gunpowder on ship-board.

Vessels not to enter port with excess powder on board.

56. All inward-bound vessels carrying gunpowder, the total quantity of which is in excess of 25lb, of which not more than 15lb shall be common gunpowder, with 12 rockets and 12 blue-lights, are prohibited from proceeding above Budge-Budge, and the master of any vessel lying within the port, or in the river above Budge-Budge, which shall have on board any gunpowder in excess of 15lb shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 34 of the said Act XII of 1875; provided that boats will be permitted to bring as far as Neemuck Mehal Ghât, under cover of a pass to be granted by the Commissioners, 50lb of gunpowder, the property of dealers and consignees.

57. All such gunpowder in excess of the prescribed quantity must be landed and deposited in the magazine at Moyapore.

Powder to be landed at magazine.

Magazine keeper to take charge.

58. The magazine-keeper will take charge of the gunpowder immediately on its being conveyed to the shore at Moyapore, and will deposit it in the magazine.

Boats provided for landing powder.

59. For the convenience of vessels having gunpowder on board, a properly constructed powder-boat will be always in attendance off the magazine for landing and shipping powder. No charge will be made for the use of the boat for landing ship's powder, but the responsibility of the keeper in respect of the powder will not commence until it is landed on the bank, and will cease as soon as it is shipped on board the boat. Every precaution will be taken to ensure the safety of the powder while in the boat, but the landing and shipping is at the risk of the vessel.

Charge made for landing trade powder.

60. Vessels bringing consignments of trade or Government powder will be liable to pay landing charges for the use of the boat if the magazine boat is used, and should passing vessels require the use of the boat to put out or receive ship's powder, such vessels must be accommodated before the boat can be used to discharge powder or ammunition brought as cargo.

Signal to be hoisted when powder-boat is required.

61. In order to avoid unnecessary detention, masters of vessels requiring the use of the powder-boat are required to hoist a flag at the fore-topmast head on coming in sight of the magazine, as a signal to the keeper to have boat and coolies in attendance.

Packages to be marked.

62. Masters of vessels are required to mark the names of their respective vessels on the barrels and packages of gunpowder previously to their being landed, and, if not marked, they will not be received by the magazine boat.

Artificial lights prohibited.

63. Gunpowder shall not be landed or received into the magazine when artificial lights are required to be used.

Receipt to be granted.

64. The magazine-keeper shall give to the master, or other person making the deposit, a receipt for the number of packages, and he shall be accountable to such master or other person for the re-delivery of such packages.

Clerk in attendance.

65. A native clerk will be always in attendance in the powder-boat, and will receive from the master the declaration required by section 30 of the Act, and grant the receipt specified in the foregoing rule.

Vessels in distress or otherwise prevented from landing powder.

66. If any vessel shall be prevented, by stress of weather, or by being in distress, from landing or depositing such gunpowder in excess of the quantity allowed as aforesaid, such vessel may be permitted to come up to the lower limits of the port, but shall not proceed above Metteabrooj Ghât, and the master of such vessel shall forthwith give notice to the Harbour Master of his having such gunpowder on board, and shall obey his directions relating to the same.

Vessels not to take powder on board within limits.

67. Masters of vessels outward-bound, who may require gunpowder for their outward voyage, shall not take gunpowder on board in any part of the river above Budge-Budge, with the exception of a quantity not exceeding 25lb, of which not more than 15lb. shall be common gunpowder, with 12 rockets and 12 blue-lights.

Ship's powder to be kept ready for shipment.

68. Masters of vessels who have deposited ship's powder at the magazine should inform the Harbour Master of the date on which the vessel will pass the magazine outward-bound, and on receipt of this information orders will be forwarded to the keeper to place the powder in the boat, and send it off in such time as to avoid any detention of the outward-bound vessel. Before delivering the powder, the receipt granted by the magazine-keeper must be given up.

Delivery from magazine into boats.

69. Delivery of powder into boats at the magazine for conveyance to Calcutta will only be granted upon orders issued from the office of the Port Commissioners.

Place of landing powder from boats.

70 No boat containing powder shall be allowed to proceed above Neemuck Mehal Ghât. All powder shall be landed at Neemuck Mehal Ghât, and no powder shall be landed at any other ghât, except with the special permission of the Commissioners.

Government powder exempted.

71. The two foregoing rules shall not apply to Government powder-boats, which will be allowed to enter the port and discharge their powder under the rules laid down by the Inspector-General of Ordnance.

No lights or fire allowed on boats carrying powder.

72 No smoking and no fire or light of any description shall be permitted on board of any boat having gunpowder or combustible ammunition on board.

Landing after dark prohibited.

73. No powder shall be landed within the port at any time when artificial light is required to be used.

SPECIAL RULE.

Extension of special sections of the Act

74. The provisions of sections 38, 39, 40, and 41 of the Indian Ports Act XII of 1875 have been specially extended to the Port of Calcutta and the approaches thereto, under the provisions of section 3 of the Act.

BOARD OF REVENUE, L.P., Fort William, the 29th June 1886.

NOTIFICATION BY THE ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL, BENGAL.

STOCK CERTIFICATES.

As it does not appear to be generally known that Government Promissory Notes can be readily converted into Stock Certificates and re-converted into Promissory Notes at the option of the holders, and that Stock Certificate-holders enjoy certain special advantages, the attention of holders of Government Securities is drawn to the following particulars :—

1. Government Promissory Notes can be converted into Stock Certificates and re-converted into Promissory Notes at any time at the option of the holder.

2. The holders of Stock Certificates are not required to present them in person or by agent when the interest becomes due. On application made, interest will be paid to Stock Certificate-holders by warrants on any Government Treasury, which warrants will be sent by post, on the day the interest falls due, to the Stock Certificate-holders direct, or through the Treasury Officer, as they may desire.

3. Stock Certificates are not negotiable by endorsement, and are consequently of no value in the hands of a wrongful holder, and the risks arising from the possession of, or repeated transmission of, negotiable Securities, are thereby avoided.

4. In the event of the loss of a Stock Certificate by theft, fire, &c., a fresh Certificate will issue on satisfactory evidence of loss.

NOTE.—Further particulars can be obtained on reference to the Public Debt Offices, Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay.

R. H. WILSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 30th June 1886.—It is hereby notified for general information that, in supersession of all previous rules on the subject, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to lay down the following rules for the conduct of all future elections, under sections 15 and 27 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884, of Commissioners of Municipalities (except Howrah and the Suburbs of Calcutta):—

Rules for the conduct of elections under Act III (B.C.) of 1884.

1. In these rules—

(a) The term "the Magistrate" has the meaning prescribed by section 6, clause (8) of the Act.

(b) A "general election" means an election held under section 14 of the Act.

(c) A "by-election" means an election held under section 27 of the Act.

(d) A person shall be deemed to be resident within the limits of a Municipality if—

(1) he commonly lives and carries on his business, profession, or occupation within those limits; or if—

(2) he has his family dwelling-house within those limits, and occasionally visits it; or if—

(3) he owns immoveable property within those limits in respect of which he pays municipal rates, and occasionally visits it.

A person may be resident within the limits of more than one Municipality at the same time.

Of the qualification of voters.

2. Persons otherwise qualified to vote must be males, who have been resident within the limits of the Municipality for twelve months immediately before the date of the election, and who have attained the age of 21 years.

3. Subject to the above rule, all persons who have, during the municipal year immediately preceding the election, (a) paid an aggregate amount of not less than Rs. 1-8 in respect of any of the rates or taxes imposed by the Act and specified in the following rule, or (b) paid not less than Rs. 20 as rent in respect of the occupation by them of a holding which is assessed with the rate under section 85, clause (b), and who have been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be qualified to vote:

4. The following are the rates and taxes referred to by the preceding rule:—

(1). The tax upon persons occupying holdings under section 85, clause (a).

(2). The rate upon the annual value of holdings levied under section 85, clause (b).

(3). The water-rate on the annual value of holdings levied under Part VII.

(4). The lighting-rate on the annual value of holdings levied under Part VIII.

(5). The fees for house-service levied under Part IX.

(6). The tax upon carriages or horses, &c., levied under section 131.

(7). The fees for the registration of carts under section 143.

5. Subject to the provisions of Rule 2, any person who, being a member of a joint undivided family, one of the members of which has, during the municipal year immediately preceding such election, paid in respect of any of the rates or taxes referred to in the preceding rule an aggregate amount of not less than Re. 1-8, is a graduate or licentiate of any University, or holds a certificate as a pleader or mooktear, or holds any office or employment carrying a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem, and has been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be entitled to vote.

6. At elections held in newly-created Municipalities before municipal taxation has been imposed, every person qualified under Rule 2 who—

(1) prior to the creation of the Municipality was qualified under the rules framed under section 138 (a) of the Local Self-Government Act to vote at an election of members of a Local Board in respect of the area within the limits of the newly-created Municipality; or

(2) has, during the year immediately preceding the election, paid an amount of not less than 12 annas on account of chowkidari tax; or

(3) being a member of a joint undivided family, one of the members of which has, during the year preceding the election, paid an amount of not less than 12 annas on account of chowkidari tax, is a graduate or licentiate of any University, or holds a certificate as a pleader or mooktear.

and who has been duly registered as hereinafter provided, shall be entitled to vote.

7. Before the first general election held in any municipality after these rules shall have come in force, the Magistrate shall cause to be prepared a register of persons qualified to vote. Such register shall be prepared from municipal or chowkidari assessment lists, from enquiries made by persons specially deputed for the purpose, and in such other manner as may appear expedient.

8. The register of voters in any Municipality in which elections have been already held may from time to time be corrected and added to as the Magistrate may direct; and shall be thoroughly revised by him before each subsequent general election.

9. Except as otherwise provided by Rules 11, 12 and 14, any person, whose name has not been registered, may at any time by written petition to the Magistrate claim to be registered as a voter.

10. The Magistrate shall give due notice at the Municipal Office and in the Ward concerned of the presentation of such claim. Objections may be preferred within ten days from the publication of such notice at the Municipal Office or in the Ward, whichever is later; and if after due enquiry and after considering such objections (if any) the claim appears to be valid, the name of the petitioner shall be entered in the register of voters.

11. At least six weeks before the date fixed for any general election as hereinafter provided, a copy of the whole register, showing the persons qualified to vote, shall be published by the Magistrate at the Municipal Office, or, in the case of a newly-created Municipality, at such place within the Municipality as the Magistrate may direct. If the Municipality, has been divided into Wards for the purpose of election, an extract from the register, showing the persons qualified to vote in each Ward, shall be published by the Magistrate at suitable places within the Ward.

12. The Magistrate shall sit at some place within the Municipality to hear and decide objections to, and claims for, registration of voters on some date of which at least three days' notice shall have been given, and which shall be at least ten days after the publication of the lists in question, and at least one week before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections; and such decision shall be final.

13 The register as amended by the Magistrate after the hearing and decision of claims and objections shall be considered as the final register of persons entitled to vote at the elections, and no person whose name does not appear in the register shall be permitted to vote.

By-elections.

14. It shall not be necessary to publish the register or extracts from the register on the occasion of by-elections, provided that the register shall at all times be open to inspection by rate-payers at the Municipal Office, and that all persons whose claims have been admitted under the preceding rules shall be entitled to vote at such elections. The Magistrate shall in the case of each by-election publish a notice stating the latest date upon which claims to be registered under Rule 9 will be received.

Of the qualification and the nominations of candidates.

15. Any person qualified to vote under these rules shall be qualified for nomination as a candidate for any Ward or Wards in the Municipality.

16. Any rate-payer may, for the Ward in which he is qualified to vote, nominate any other qualified person as a candidate.

17. The Magistrate shall, at least six weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections, issue notices calling for nominations of candidates. Such nominations shall be delivered at the Municipal Office, or, if there is no Municipal Office, at such place as the Magistrate may appoint, within fourteen days from the date of publication of the notices in question. No names of candidates shall be received after the expiration of such period.

18. The preliminary list of candidates, with the names of the persons nominating them, shall be published in each Ward and at the Municipal Office, or, if there is no Municipal Office, at such place as the Magistrate may appoint, at least three weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. A notification shall at the same time be published, fixing a date for the hearing of objections to candidates. Such date shall be at least one week later than the publication of the notification in question.

19. The Magistrate shall hear and decide all objections to candidates, and his decision shall be final. Before publishing the final list, he shall ascertain that all the candidates are eligible and willing to stand for election.

20. The final list of candidates shall be published in each Ward and at the Municipal Office, or, if there is no Municipal Office, at such place as the Magistrate may appoint, at least one week before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. No candidate whose name is not contained in such list shall be eligible for election.

Of the manner of holding elections.

21. The elections shall be held on such dates as may be fixed by the Commissioner, and notified in the Calcutta Gazette.

22. The Magistrate shall decide at what place the election for each Ward shall be held, and shall fix the hours at which the poll shall commence and close.

23. The date, time, and place fixed for the election in each Ward shall be duly notified by beat of drum, and by the publication of notices in such Ward at least one month beforehand.

24. Each voter shall be entitled to vote for the Ward in which he ordinarily resides, and for no other. He shall be entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies for such Ward.

Provided that where the Municipality has not been divided into Wards, each voter shall be entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies on the whole Municipal Board.

Provided also that he may give all or any number of the votes to which he is entitled to any one candidate.

25. All persons wishing to vote must be present at the elections. No votes by proxy or in writing shall be received.

26. The Magistrate, or such other officer as the Magistrate may depute for the purpose, shall preside at the election for each Ward, assisted by a Committee of not less than three and not more than five rate-payers of the Ward, nominated by the Magistrate. In case of the non-attendance of any of the members of such Committee, their places may be filled up by the presiding officer from the rate-payers present at the polling-station.

27. The proceedings shall commence by the presiding officer explaining the nature and objects of the meeting to the assembled voters. He shall then read out the list of candidates, and state the number of vacancies.

28. Each candidate shall then be proposed by one qualified voter, and seconded by another. Subject to the control of the presiding officer on points of order, each candidate and his proposer and seconder shall be permitted to address the assembled voters on the subject of his candidature. The names of candidates not duly proposed and seconded shall be removed from the list.

29. In the case of the number of the candidates duly proposed and seconded not being greater than the number of vacancies, the presiding officer shall at once declare such candidates to be duly elected.

30. If the number of candidates duly proposed and seconded exceeds the number of vacancies, the presiding officer shall proceed to call for a show of hands in favour of each candidate. The presiding officer shall decide and state which of the candidates have received the largest number of votes by the said show of hands. Should no poll be demanded against any one candidate, he shall declare such candidate to be duly elected.

31. Any defeated candidate, or his proposer or seconder, may demand a poll on his behalf, as against any or all of the candidates selected under the above rule.

32. When a poll is demanded, the names of the voters and the votes given by them shall then and there be recorded by the presiding officer or by the members of the election committee under his personal supervision. All objections to voters shall, if possible, be summarily decided by the presiding officer, after reference to the register. No objections shall be entertained other than objections arising out of matters subsequent to registration under Rule 10.

33. The presiding officer shall not declare the poll to be closed until a period of not less than two hours has elapsed from the time when the poll was demanded, unless every voter who has been duly registered under these rules shall have previously recorded his vote.

34. The presiding officer shall then and there declare such candidates as have a clear majority of votes to be duly elected. Provided that if the majority for any candidate consists only of votes to which objections have been raised, and if the presiding officer has been unable to decide such objections summarily as provided by Rule 32, he shall adjourn the proceedings and report the matter to the Magistrate. The Magistrate shall hold such enquiry regarding the disputed votes as shall be necessary, and his decision shall be final. On the termination of such enquiry, he shall declare such candidates as have a clear majority of votes to be duly elected.

35. In case of an equality of votes for the same vacancy, and when the number of vacancies does not admit of all the candidates who have obtained an equality of votes being elected, the presiding officer, or, in the case prescribed in the proviso to Rule 34, the Magistrate, shall give a casting vote or votes.

36. In the event of any candidate being elected for two or more Wards, such candidate shall be at liberty to choose the Ward which he will represent, and in every other Ward in which the said candidate has been returned, the result of the election shall be determined as if no votes had been recorded for him. Provided that if there is no other candidate for whom votes have been recorded to fill up the vacancy thus caused, a fresh election shall be held.

37. The list of duly returned candidates for the whole Municipality shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Division for publication in the Calcutta Gazette.

Miscellaneous.

38. No election shall be invalidated on a point of form, provided that these rules have been substantially obeyed.

39. No election shall be invalidated on account of any irregularity whatever, unless it shall appear that the irregularity was such as materially to affect the result of the election.

40. No person in the employment or pay of the Municipality shall, directly or indirectly, engage in canvassing for votes, or otherwise assist in the election of any candidate, otherwise than by giving his own vote. Any breach of this rule will render him liable to dismissal.

41. All costs incurred in the preparation of the register of voters, the publication of notices, the holding of elections, or taking any other necessary action under these rules, shall be payable by the Commissioners out of the municipal fund. In the case of a newly-created Municipality, in which no municipal fund has been formed, the Magistrate of the district shall advance such sums as may be required; and such sums shall be recoverable from the Municipal Commissioners within six months.

R. H. WILSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 24th June 1886.—In modification of the notification dated the 18th July 1882, published at pages 617-18, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 19th idem, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 7 of the Petroleum Act, 1881, and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following revised rules to regulate the importation of petroleum. They shall have effect from the 10th proximo.

PRELIMINARY.

1. (1) All words and expressions used in these rules and defined in the Act shall in these rules have the meanings respectively assigned to them by the Act.

(2) In these rules—

"Petroleum declared dangerous" means petroleum which the master of a ship has declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum.

"Certificated petroleum" means petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the port of shipment, or such description as the Local Government may, from time to time, by written order describe, and to the effect that the petroleum is not dangerous petroleum.

"Uncertificated petroleum" means petroleum which the master of the ship has not declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum, and which is not covered by a certificate as aforesaid.

"Petroleum reported dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report signed by the Chemical Examiner to Government, and deposited in the office of the Port Commissioners, to be dangerous petroleum.

"Petroleum reported not dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report as aforesaid not to be dangerous petroleum.

IMPORTATION AT CALCUTTA.

2. The master of every ship bound for Calcutta and carrying petroleum shall, before reaching Budge-Budge, declare in writing to the pilot*—

(a) what quantity of petroleum the ship is carrying ;

(b) whether any, and if so what, part of it is dangerous petroleum ; and

(c) whether any, and if so what, part of it is certificated petroleum.

Where the master declares that any petroleum is certificated petroleum, he shall produce to the pilot the certificates covering the same.

3. A ship having on board more than 40 gallons of petroleum declared dangerous shall not proceed upwards beyond Budge-Budge; but such petroleum shall be landed at the petroleum wharf, and shall be detained there pending the grant of an import license under section 4 of the Act, or the orders of the Local Government for the disposal of the same.

4. A ship having on board more than 500 gallons of certificated petroleum, or more than 40 gallons of uncertificated petroleum, shall not proceed upwards beyond Budge-Budge; but such petroleum shall be landed at the petroleum wharf and detained there till the Chemical Examiner reports that it is not dangerous. This rule shall not apply to petroleum which is ordinarily used for lubricating or jute-batching purposes, and which has a flashing point above 150° by Abel's test. On the master of a vessel producing a certificate that the petroleum which he has on board is all of this description, the ship may be brought up to the jetties and her cargo discharged in the ordinary manner, but the Commissioner of Police shall be entitled at any time to obtain samples of such petroleum for the purpose of having them tested.

5. A ship having on board only certificated petroleum not exceeding 500 gallons may proceed to any moorings in the Port of Calcutta and there discharge the petroleum.

6. (1) When under the provisions of rules 3 and 4 any petroleum has been landed at Budge-Budge, the Superintendent of the petroleum wharf shall, within as short a time as possible, not exceeding 48 hours from the time of the petroleum being landed, obtain samples of the petroleum so landed.

(2) Every different quality of petroleum shall be separately sampled and when petroleum is certified to be of uniform quality, a sample shall be taken from not less than one case in every 10,000 cases.

(3) The Superintendent shall forthwith seal the receptacles containing the samples, and having labelled them with the name of the ship, the name of the consignee, and such other distinguishing marks as he shall deem necessary, shall forward them to the Chemical Examiner.

(4) The Chemical Examiner having tested them shall, within 24 hours after the receipt of the samples, sign a report declaring that they are or are not dangerous petroleum (as the case may be), and forward that report to the office of the Port Commissioners, and shall also send a copy of the same to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.

7. Petroleum which has not been reported under the last preceding rule not to be dangerous petroleum shall not be removed from the wharf, except in accordance with a license granted under section 4 of the Act, or under an order of the Local Government.

8. When the petroleum declared dangerous on board a ship amounts to more than 40 gallons, and is not covered by an import license granted under section 4 of the Act, and the master desires to proceed above Budge-Budge, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, grant to any person a license to possess that petroleum at such place for such time and subject to such undertaking by such person for the re-exportation of that petroleum at the expiration of that time as it thinks fit; and may, notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, permit that petroleum to be landed and delivered to that person in such manner and subject to such conditions as it thinks fit.

* The pilot should deliver this declaration to the Harbour Master or his Assistant when the latter comes on board.

9. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum imported from the United Kingdom in iron drums, as part of a general cargo, when the certified flashing-point of such petroleum by Abel's test is above 80° Fahrenheit, provided that the quantity imported in any one ship does not exceed 2,000 gallons. A ship carrying only petroleum of this description may enter the port without any restriction, so far as the above rules are concerned and discharge its cargo in the ordinary manner. The Commissioner of Police shall, however, be entitled at any time to obtain a sample of such petroleum for the purpose of having it tested.

IMPORTATION AT OTHER PORTS.

10. The master of every ship conveying petroleum shall on entering a port in the Lower Provinces of Bengal other than the Port of Calcutta, give intimation of the quantity and description of the petroleum to the Magistrate of the district, and shall not allow more than three gallons of dangerous petroleum to be removed from the ship for delivery to any one person, except upon the production by the consignee or his agent of a license under section 4 or section 5 of the Act (as the case may be) to possess the same.

GENERAL.

11. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum comprised in a ship's stores and manifested as such, provided it is not of unreasonably large amount. If any question arises as to whether any petroleum manifested as ship's stores is of an unreasonably large amount, the decision thereon of the Port Commissioners in Calcutta and of the Magistrate of the district elsewhere shall be final.

PART II.

Advertisements.

LAND SALE NOTICES.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government to the undermentioned lands, known as Government Lottery Committee lands, situated in the Town of Calcutta, will be put up to sale by public auction at the Calcutta Collectorate at 12 A.M. on the 12th July 1886, corresponding with 29th of Assar 1293 B.S.

The purchase will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1*st*.—The lands to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of the lands will be considered as the proprietor of the lands, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such lands will be transferred to him subject to the payment of Government revenue of 3 annas per kottah.

2*nd*.—The sale to be subject to existing leases.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100 (rupees one hundred), the whole amount to be paid at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100 (rupees one hundred), one-fourth the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that be a close holiday, then by the noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the land to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

Bye-laws for regulating the Service of Coolies.

WHEREAS it is expedient for the management and conduct of business in the New Municipal Market to regulate the service of coolies working for hire in and around this market, the following additional bye-laws are made under section 340 (f) of the Municipal Act:—

17 (a). With the exception specified below, no person shall on or after the 1st June 1886 work for hire as bazar cooly within the limits of the New Municipal Market who is not duly licensed for this purpose by the Commissioners, or by such officers as they may authorise to grant licenses to bazar coolies.

17 (b). A register of licensed coolies shall be kept up in the office of the Market Superintendent, which shall be open to the inspection of any member of the Market Committee during office hours on all days, except Sundays and close holidays.

17 (c). A licensed cooly shall wear a badge and such other distinctive dress as shall enable every person frequenting the market to know that he is licensed, and shall wear on his arm or in some other conspicuous place, a number corresponding with his number in the register of licensed coolies.

17 (d). No person other than a licensed cooly shal wear the badge, distinctive dress or number indicated in the preceding rule.

17 (e). Licensed coolies shall be charged such sum for the badge and other distinctive dress referred to above as the Market Committee shall from time to time prescribe.

17 (f). Sirdars shall be appointed to preserve order and discipline among the licensed coolies, and prevent their harassing the public, and shall be remunerated by salaries met by contributions to be paid by the coolies monthly as a condition of the continuance of their license: Provided that not more than one sirdar shall be appointed to 25 licensed coolies.

The contributions shall be such sum, not exceeding 6 annas per mensem, as may from time to time be fixed by the Market Committee.

17 (g). These rules shall not apply to private servants employed by persons frequenting the market to carry purchases made by them.

18. The Market Committee may, for special reasons to be recorded by them, refuse to allow any particular person to act as private cooly if they think that the employment of such person within the limits of the market is inexpedient.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 9th June, 1886, and was referred to a Select Committee :—

No. 8 of 1886.

A Bill to alter the constitution of the body corporate known as the Trustees of the Indian Museum, and to confer certain additional powers on that body.

Whereas it is expedient to alter the constitution of the body corporate known as the Trustees of the Indian Museum, and to amend the law relating to the powers of the said Trustees; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Museum Act, 1886; and

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. Sections 3, 4 and 5 of the Indian Museum Act, 1876, are repealed. XXII of 1876.

3. For those sections the following shall be substituted, namely :—

Constitution and incorporation of the Trustees of the Indian Museum.

"3. The Trustees of the said Indian Museum shall be—

(a) the person for the time being holding the office of Accountant General of Bengal;

(b) five other persons to be appointed by the Governor General in Council;

(c) five other persons to be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal;

(d) five other persons to be appointed by the Council of the Asiatic Society of Bengal; and

(e) five other persons to be appointed by the Trustees; and the said Trustees shall be a body corporate, by the name of the Trustees of the Indian Museum, and shall have perpetual succession and a common seal.

Number of corporators.

"4. All the powers of the said body corporate may be exercised so long and so often as there are nine members thereof.

Power to appoint new trustees.

"5. If a trustee appointed under section 3 dies, or is absent from India for more than twelve consecutive months, or desires to be discharged, or refuses or becomes incapable to act, or becomes Accountant General of Bengal, then the authority which appointed the trustee may appoint a new trustee in his place."

Continuance of existing trustees.

4. (1) For the purposes of the Indian Museum Act, 1876, as amended by this Act— XXII of 1876.

(a) the persons nominated by the Governor General in Council under the Indian Museum Act, 1876, and now holding office as Trustees, shall be deemed to be persons appointed by the Governor General in Council under section 3 of that Act as amended by this Act; XXII of 1876.

(b) the President of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, and the other members of the Council of that Society nominated by that Council under the Indian Museum Act, 1876, and now holding office as Trustees, shall be deemed to be persons appointed by the Council of the Asiatic Society of Bengal under the said section; and XXII of 1876.

(c) the persons elected and appointed by the Trustees under the said Act, and now holding office as Trustees, shall be deemed to have been appointed by the Trustees under the said section.

(2) The Secretary to the Government of India and the Superintendent of the Geological Survey of India shall cease to be ex officio members of the said body corporate.

Power to Trustees to keep collections not belonging to them.

5. Notwithstanding anything in the Indian Museum Act, 1876,— XXII of 1876.

(a) the Trustees of the Indian Museum, if they think fit, may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, and subject in each case to such conditions as he may approve and to such rules as he may from time to time prescribe, assume the custody and administration of collections which are not the property of the Trustees for the purposes of their trusts in that Act mentioned, and keep and preserve the collections either in the Indian Museum or elsewhere; and

(b) in the event of the trust constituted by that Act being determined, collections of which the Trustees have assumed the custody and administration under the foregoing part of this section shall not, by reason of their then being in the Indian Museum, become the property of the Government of India.

And whereas it is provided in the Indian Museum Act, 1876, that the Trustees of the Indian Museum shall have the exclusive possession, occupation and control, for the purposes of their trusts in that XXII of 1876.

Act mentioned, of the whole of the building called the Indian Museum, except certain portions thereof set apart for other purposes; and whereas the Trustees are by virtue of that provision in possession of the property described in the schedule to this Act; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Power to Trustees to part with certain property in their possession.

6. The Trustees may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, and subject to such conditions as he may approve, deliver possession of that property to such person as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may appoint in that behalf.

THE SCHEDULE.

Land bounded on the north by a straight line drawn between the east and the west boundaries parallel to the main south wall of the Museum at a distance of twenty-five feet from the said wall, on the west and south-west by the Chowringhee Road and the walls of the premises known as No. 20 Chowringhee Road, on the south by Kyd Street, and on the east by the walls of the premises known as No. 15 Kyd Street and No. 4 Chowringhee Lane, measuring in all four acres, three roods and sixteen perches, together with all buildings, roads and tanks existing or erected thereon, and all easements appertaining thereto.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to give effect to an arrangement, made with the approval of the Government of India, whereby—

(a) the Bengal Government is to be represented among the Trustees of the Indian Museum;

(b) the Bengal Government is to entrust the Trustees with the custody and administration of the economic, ethnological, Indian Art-ware and Fine Art collections belonging to that Government; and

(c) the Trustees, in consideration of the provision by the Bengal Government of additional accommodation required by them, are to surrender certain land adjacent to the Museum on which that Government may build a School of Art and Art Gallery.

Sections 3 and 4 provide for the representation of the Bengal Government among the Trustees, and sections 5 and 6 empower the Trustees to assume the custody of the collections belonging to the Bengal Government, and to make over to that Government the land on which the School of Art and Art Gallery are to be built.

The 25th May, 1886.

S. C. BAYLEY.

S. HARVEY JAMES,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

12. Powers exerciseable from time to time.

A Bill to amend the law relating to Imprisonment for Debt.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to imprisonment for debt; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and commencement.

1. This Act may be called the Debtors Act, 1886; and it shall come into force on the first day of January, 1888.

Extent.

2. (1) This Act shall extend, in the first instance, only to the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh.

(2) But any other Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, by notification in the official Gazette, extend this Act, with effect on and from a day not less remote than one year from the date of the notification, to the whole or any specified part of the territories under its administration or to any class of debtors within the whole or any specified part of those territories.

Definition.

3. In this Act the expression "Revenue Court" means a Court having jurisdiction in suits for the rent, revenue or profits of land.

Enforcement of decree or order for money by imprisonment permissible in excepted cases only.

4. Notwithstanding anything in the Code of Civil Procedure or any other enactment, a person shall not be liable to arrest or imprisonment for default in compliance with a decree or order of a Civil or Revenue Court for payment of money except in the following cases :— [Act XIV, 1882, s. 254: Act XII, 1881, s. 156: Act XIX, 1868, s. 109.] XIV of 1882.

(a) where the order is for payment of a fine; [Act X, 1882, s. 480: Act XIV, 1882, ss. 170, 174 & 412.]

(c) where the Court is satisfied that, since incurring the liability in respect of which the decree or order was made, the defaulter has fraudulently transferred, concealed or removed any part of his property, or committed any other act of bad faith in relation thereto, with the object or effect of impeding the enforcement of the decree or order by the attachment and sale of his property; [Act XIV, 1882, s. 359.]

(d) where the Court is satisfied that the defaulter either has, or has had since the date of the decree or order, the means to pay the money, and has refused or without reasonable cause neglected, or refuses or neglects, to pay the same. [32 & 33 Vic., c. 62, s. 5.]

Discretionary powers of Courts in some excepted cases.

5. In any case coming within the exception specified in clause (b) of section 4 the Court may, after inquiry into the case, [41 & 42 Vic., c. 54.]

grant or refuse, either absolutely or on terms, any application for the arrest or imprisonment of the defaulter, or for his release from arrest or discharge from imprisonment.

[Act XIV, 1882, s 287; 32 & 33 Vic., c. 62, s. 5.]

Power to make rules for guidance of Courts in other excepted cases.

6. (1) The High Court, with respect to Courts subordinate to it, and the Chief Controlling Revenue-authority, with respect to Courts subordinate to it, may, with the approval of the Local Government and the sanction of the Governor General in Council, make rules for regulating the procedure to be observed in inquiries for determining whether the case of a defaulter for whose arrest or imprisonment application has been made is a case coming within the exceptions specified in clauses (c) and (d) of section 4, or within either of those exceptions.

(2) Rules may be made under this section—

(a) for the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh, at any time after the passing of this Act, and

(b) for territories under the administration of any other Local Government, at any time after the publication of the notification extending this Act to those territories or to any class of debtors therein;

but rules so made shall not take effect until the Act comes into force in the territories for which they have been made.

(3) An authority making rules under this section shall, before making the rules, publish a draft of the proposed rules in such manner as the Governor General in Council, by notification in the Gazette of India, prescribes.

(4) There shall be published with the draft a notice specifying a date at or after which the draft will be taken into consideration.

(5) The authority making the rules shall receive and consider any objection or suggestion which may be made by any person with respect to the draft before the date so specified.

(6) A rule made under this section shall not take effect until it has been published in the local official Gazette.

(7) The publication in that Gazette of a rule purporting to be made under this section shall be conclusive proof that it has been duly made.

Provisions as to imprisonment under Act.

7. The operation of the enactment under which the defaulter is liable to arrest or imprisonment in any case coming within the exceptions specified in clauses (b), (c) and (l) of section 4, or within any of those exceptions, or is entitled to release from the arrest or discharge from the imprisonment, shall be subject to the following provisions, namely:—

[Act XIV, 1882, s 312. Act XII, 1881 s. 163.]

(a) the defaulter may be imprisoned for such term, not exceeding six months, as the Court directs;

[Act XIV, 1882, s. 339; Act XII, 1881, ss. 165 and 166; & Act XXVI, 1870, s 36.]

(b) no allowance for the subsistence of the defaulter, or for supplying him with clothing or bedding, shall be payable by the person on whose application the order for the imprisonment of the defaulter is made;

(c) during the term of his imprisonment the defaulter shall be maintained at the expense of the Government, and be subject, as nearly as circumstances admit, to the discipline prescribed in the case of a criminal prisoner undergoing simple imprisonment; [L. R. 13 Ch. D. 348.]

(d) notwithstanding the payment of the money in respect of which the decree or order was made, or any arrangement for the payment thereof or proof of present inability to pay it, or any expression of intention to apply for a declaration of insolvency, or any declaration of insolvency, or any request by the person on whose application the order for the arrest or imprisonment was made, the defaulter shall not be released from arrest, or, if he is in prison and the term of his imprisonment is not fulfilled, be discharged from prison, without the order of the Court; [Act XIV, 1882, ss. 336 & 341; & Act XII, 1881, s 163.]

(e) an appeal from the order for the imprisonment of the defaulter, and from an order refusing his release or discharge under clause (d) of this section, shall lie— [Act XIV, 1882, s. 588 (29).]

(i) if the Court making the order is a Civil Court subordinate for the purposes of the Code of Civil Procedure to the District Court, then to the District Court, XIV of 1882.

(ii) if the Court making the order is any other Civil Court, then to the High Court, and

(iii) if the Court making the order is a Revenue Court, then to the authority to which appeals lie from orders of the Court relating to the execution of decrees, or, where those orders of the Court are final, to such authority as the Local Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, appoint in this behalf; [Act XII, 1881, s. 196.]

and the order passed on the appeal shall be final. [Act XIV, 1882, s. 622 Act XII, 1881 s. 199.]

Commitment of fraudulent debtors to Magistrate.

8. Where the Court is of opinion that the defaulter has been guilty of any offence under the Indian Penal Code or under any enactment for the time being in force for the punishment of fraudulent debtors, it may, if it thinks fit, instead of ordering his imprisonment under this Act, send him to a Magistrate to be dealt with according to law. [Act XIV 1882, s. 359. XLV of 1860 [Indian Bankruptcy Bill 1886, s. 105.]

Special provisions with respect to arrest before judgment.

9. Notwithstanding anything in Chapter XXXIV of the Code of Civil Procedure, or any other enactment, a defendant in a suit for money only who has been arrested before judgment shall not, as such, either be required to give security for his appearance at any time after the day on which judgment is given, or, if he has been committed to prison, be detained in prison after that day: [32 & 33 Vic., c. 62, s. 6.] XIV of 1882.

Provided that, if judgment is given against the defendant, and the decree-holder applies, on the day on which judgment is given, for the enforcement of the decree by the imprisonment of the judgment-debtor, the Court may require the judgment-debtor to give such security as it thinks sufficient for his appearance at any time when called upon while the application is pending, and, if he fails to give the security, may commit him to prison, or place him in the custody of an officer of the Court, until the disposal of the application.

[Act XIV, 1882, s. 349.]

10. Nothing in this Act shall affect the liability to arrest and imprisonment of any person for whose arrest in execution of a decree or order a warrant has been issued by a Civil or Revenue Court before this Act comes into force in the territory in which the Court is established.

Saving of proceedings antecedent to commencement of Act.

11. The provisions of this Act shall bind the Crown.

Act to bind the Crown.

12. All powers conferred by this Act may be exercised from time to time as occasion requires.

Powers exercisable from time to time.

Imprisonment for Debt in India.

A decree or order for the payment of money may be enforced in India by the imprisonment of the judgment-debtor (Act XIV of 1882, s. 254). The Court has a discretionary power to refuse execution at the same time against the person and property of the judgment-debtor (s. 230), but has no discretionary power to refuse execution either against person or against property at the option of the creditor. When an application for execution of a decree is presented, it must, if it is not barred by efflux of time and is otherwise in order, be admitted, and then the Court must order execution of the decree according to the nature of the application (s. 245). The Court cannot refuse to issue its warrant for the execution of the decree unless it sees cause to the contrary (s. 250), and "cause to the contrary," as interpreted by the Courts, means some cause which deprives the decree-holder of the right to execute, or to execute against the party against whom execution is sought, or to execute in the mode prayed for.

2. A judgment-debtor may, when arrested, obtain immediate release by payment of the debt; but if he does not, he must be brought at once before the Court (ss. 336-337).

3. The Local Government may by notification* direct that whenever a judgment-debtor is arrested in execution of a decree for money, and brought before the Court, the Court shall inform him that he may apply, under Chapter XX of the Code, to be declared an insolvent, and that he will be discharged if he has not committed any act of bad faith regarding the subject of his application, and if he places all his property in possession of a receiver appointed by the Court (s. 336).

* Notifications have been issued under this section by all Local Governments except Hyderabad and Coorg.

4. If the judgment-debtor expresses his intention so to apply, and furnishes sufficient security that he will appear when called on, and that he will, within one month, apply to be declared an insolvent, the Court is to release him from arrest. But if he fails so to apply, the Court may either direct the security to be realised, or commit him to prison in execution of the decree (s. 336).

5. A person is not to be imprisoned in execution of a decree for more than six months, or, if the debt does not exceed fifty rupees, for more than six weeks (s. 342).

6. Whilst he is in prison, a monthly allowance must be paid for his subsistence according to scales fixed by the Local Government. The allowance is to be supplied by the decree-holder, and is to be deemed costs in the suit (ss. 338 to 340).

7. He is to be discharged from prison—

(a) on the amount mentioned in the warrant of committal being paid to the officer in charge of the prison, or

(b) on the decree being otherwise fully satisfied, or

(c) at the request of the person on whose application he has been imprisoned, or

(d) on default in the payment of the allowance for his subsistence, or

(e) on his being declared an insolvent, or

(f) on the expiration of the term of his imprisonment (s. 341).

His discharge from prison does not discharge him from his debt, but he cannot be re-arrested under the same decree (s. 341).

8. By the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, XV of 1882, the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure are applied, with modifications and exceptions, to the procedure in the Small Cause Courts at Calcutta, Madras and Bombay. Among the provisions not so applied are those which relate to the release of an arrested judgment-debtor on his expressing an intention to apply for a declaration of insolvency. Chapter XX of the Code, relating to insolvent judgment-debtors, is also not applied to these Courts. (See s. 23 and sched. II.)

9. The Act, however, contains certain special provisions with respect to an arrested judgment-debtor. Under section 29 the Court may release him from arrest on his giving security for payment. And under section 30, if it appears to the Court that a judgment-debtor under its decree is unable, from sickness, poverty or other sufficient cause, to pay the amount of the decree, or of any instalment under the decree, the Court may, from time to time, for such time and on such terms as it thinks fit, suspend the execution of the decree, and release the debtor, or make such order as it thinks fit.

10. In the four districts of the Dekkhan to which the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Acts apply arrest and imprisonment for debt have been abolished in the case of agriculturists.* And certain special Acts for the relief of embarrassed landholders contain provisions protecting the debtor from arrest or imprisonment in respect of the debts to which the Acts apply.

* "No agriculturist shall be arrested or imprisoned in execution of a decree for money passed whether before or after this Act comes into force."—(Act XVII of 1879, s. 21, as amended by Act XXII of 1882, s. 8.)

Imprisonment for Debt in England.

11. Imprisonment for debt was abolished in England by the Debtors Act of 1869 (32 & 33 Vic., c. 62), except in the following cases:—

(1) default in payment of a penalty, or sum in the nature of a penalty, other than a penalty in respect of a contract;

(2) default in payment of a sum recoverable summarily before a Justice or Justices of the Peace;

(3) default by a trustee or person acting in a fiduciary capacity and ordered to pay by a Court of Equity any sum in his possession or under his control;

(4) default by a solicitor in payment of costs, when ordered to pay costs for misconduct as such, or in payment of a sum of money, when ordered to pay the same in his character of an officer of the Court;

(5) default in payment for the benefit of creditors of any portion of a salary or other income, in respect of the payment of which any Court having jurisdiction in bankruptcy is authorized to make an order;

(6) default in payment of sums in respect of the payment of which orders may be made under the Act (that is, cases of contumacious refusal under section 5 of the Act, see para. 14).

12. The term of imprisonment in these excepted cases must not exceed one year (s. 4).

13. In cases (3) and (4) the Court has power to enquire into the case, and at discretion to grant or refuse an order for arrest or imprisonment (41 & 42 Vic., c. 54, s. 1).

14. Under section 5 of the Act of 1869, a Court may commit to prison for a term not exceeding six weeks, or until payment of the sum due, any person who makes default in payment of any debt, or instalment of any debt, due from him in pursuance of any order or judgment of that or any other competent Court. But the power is not to be exercised unless it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the person making default has, or has had, since the date of the order or judgment, the means to pay the sum in respect of which he has made default, and has refused or neglected to pay it. "Proof of the means of the person making default may be given in such manner as the Court thinks just, and for the purposes of such proof the debtor and witnesses may be summoned and examined on oath, according to the prescribed rules." A summons under this section is usually called a judgment summons.

15. It will be observed that all the cases in which a debtor is liable to imprisonment under the Act of 1869 involve some degree of delinquency.† And it has been held by high authority‡ that the Act was distinctly intended for the purpose of punishing fraudulent or dishonest debtors.

16. Sums recoverable summarily before Justices, or, as they are called in modern statutory language, Courts of summary jurisdiction, are usually fines. But as ordinary civil debts are in some cases so recoverable, it has been provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879 (42 & 43 Vic., c. 49, section 35) that an order of a Court of summary jurisdiction for the payment of a civil debt is not to be enforced by imprisonment, unless the case is such as would make the debtor liable to imprisonment under section 5 of the Debtors Act, 1869.

Imprisonment for Debt in Scotland.

17. In Scotland imprisonment for debt for sums under £8-6-8 was abolished in 1835 by 5 & 6 Wm. IV, c. 70, but alimentary debts (that is, debts for the support of the debtor's wife or children) were excepted from the operation of that Statute. In 1880 was passed the Debtors (Scotland) Act, 1880 (43 & 44 Vic., c. 34), which enacts, by section 4, that,

"with the exceptions hereinafter mentioned, no person shall, after the commencement of this Act, be apprehended or imprisoned on account of any civil debt.

"There shall be excepted from the operation of the above enactment—

(1) taxes, fines or penalties due to Her Majesty, and rates and assessments lawfully imposed or to be imposed;

(2) sums decreed for aliment:

"Provided that no person shall be imprisoned in any case excepted from the operation of this section for a longer period than twelve months."

The same Act contains provisions for the relief of insolvent debtors and for the punishment of fraudulent debtors.

18. By the Civil Imprisonment (Scotland) Act, 1882 (45 & 46 Vic., c. 42), imprisonment for alimentary debts was abolished, except in cases where there is a wilful failure to obey the decree for the debt (ss. 3 and 4), and the maximum term of imprisonment for failure to pay rates or assessments was reduced to six weeks (s. 5).

Imprisonment for Debt in Ireland.

19. In Ireland the law as to imprisonment for debt is regulated by the Debtors Act (Ireland), 1872 (35 & 36 Vic., c. 57), as amended by 41 & 42 Vic., c. 54, and is practically identical with the English law.

Proposals for amendment of Indian Law.

20. On the 17th November, 1881, a circular was addressed by the Government of India to all Local Governments and Administrations, stating that the Government of India had under consideration the question of amending the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure bearing upon the question of the arrest of pardánashín women in execution of the decrees of Civil Courts, but that before coming to any final conclusion on the subject the Governor General in Council thought it desirable to deal with the larger question of abolishing imprisonment for debt, and for this purpose to enquire whether sufficient reasons exist for the continued maintenance in India of the present system. Local Governments and Administrations were accordingly requested to favour the Government of India with a full expression of their opinion on the matter.

21. The replies to the circular disclosed much difference of opinion as regards the advisability of maintaining in India the present system of imprisonment for debt.

22. In favour of the maintenance under existing circumstances of the present system of imprisonment for debt were the Madras Government, the Madras High Court, the Bombay Government, the Bombay High Court, the Calcutta High Court, the Calcutta Chamber of Commerce and the Trades Association, Calcutta (unless a change were accompanied by the enactment of a stringent bankruptcy law), the British Indian Association, Calcutta, the Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces, the Punjab Chief Court, the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, the Chief Commissioner of Assam (provided the law were so altered as to permit the issue of process against the person only after all means of realising the decree by process against property have been exhausted), and the Chief Commissioner and the Judicial Commissioner of Coorg. The arguments which they advanced appear to be in the main the following:—

(a) that the total abolition of imprisonment for debt in India would be premature, and would remove from the Statute Book the only check upon the fraudulent alienation of property by solvent but dishonest debtors;

(b) that legislation has proceeded quite far enough in relief of the judgment-debtor, while there are in India special difficulties in executing a decree by attachment of property when the judgment-creditor is a member of an undivided* family. Creditors are not, it is said, in the habit of proceeding to extremities unless the debtor has the means of liquidating a portion at least of the debt. The men who go to prison are for the most part those who obstinately refuse to pay their debts, and cases of imprisonment for debt are not numerous;

* Sir C. Sargent, of the Bombay High Court, wrote:—
"The legal incidents of the undivided Hindu family, the minute distribution of property caused by the Muhammadan law of descent, and, though last not least, the practice of creating benami titles so common in this country, afford the dishonest debtor endless opportunities of baffling the efforts of the judgment-creditor to attach his property."

(c) that the abolition of imprisonment for debt would deprive lenders of personal security, would thereby depreciate credit, and would involve an increase in the rate of interest, already very high. In the case of agriculturists this might seriously impair their ability to pay the land-revenue;

(d) that abolition of imprisonment fordebt should only be attempted when the habits of secrecy, engendered by centuries of oppression, have partly worn away, and when transactions are open and the registration of deeds and bonds has become habitual. When the debtor's property can be easily traced and seized in execution of a decree, then it will be reasonable and right to withhold execution on the body of a pauper debtor except as a distinctly exceptional and penal measure in the case of fraud.

23. In support of the abolition of imprisonment for debt were the following authorities:—

(a) the Advocate General of Bengal, who advocated the introduction of the English system, because there is no reason why the matter should not be regulated in India as in England, if proper exceptions and limitations, as contained in the English Debtors Act of 1869, are prescribed, and because the abolition of imprisonment for debt would not cause any public injury, while, on the other hand, the present system in most instances operates only as a means of oppression, to the total ruin of the party imprisoned and of his family;

(b) the Bengal Government, which, while not prepared to resist the opinions of the local officers that abolition would at present be premature, thought that, if an alteration of the bankruptcy law were at any time undertaken, measures might then be adopted for the abolition of imprisonment for debt in cases where fraud is not established against the judgment-debtor;

(c) the North-Western Provinces and Oudh Government, which regarded the existing practice of placing in the creditor's hands the power of selecting his own method of coercion as a relic of the old semi-barbarous debt laws which has now been eliminated from almost every civilized code of judicial procedure. The present system operates with severity against all debtors, honest and dishonest, indiscriminately. The power of subjecting a debtor to arrest and imprisonment should be entrusted not to the decree-holder, but to the Courts, and its exercise should be limited to cases where clear proof exists of fraudulent and contumacious attempts on the part of the judgment-debtor to defeat the operation of a decree. Imprisonment is especially hard on the cultivator and working-man, whom it deprives of their means of subsistence and of providing for their families;

(d) the North-Western Provinces High Court, which advocated the abolition of imprisonment for debt, as it is doubtful whether "any useful purpose is served by the perpetuation in this country of that remnant of barbarism";

(e) the Punjab Government, which believed that there is some reason to fear that, under the present system, creditors occasionally make use of the law to gratify vindictive feelings or personal spite, and to coerce debtors to sell their land and property at a price below its proper value or to relinquish their just rights. Discretionary power ought to be expressly allowed to the Civil Courts, imprisonment not being resorted to as an ordinary process of execution of a decree, unless the Court is satisfied that there has been fraud or wilful concealment of property;

(f) the Chief Commissioner of British Burma, who pointed out that the imprisonment of debtors who are paupers, but who are not fraudulent, does no real good to any class, works directly and indirectly great harm to the poorer classes, and causes a distinct loss to the community at large. The practice of permitting such imprisonment has been gradually circumscribed among other civilized nations; among some nations it has absolutely ceased; and there is no reason why the way should not be paved for the disappearance of the system in India. Civil Courts should be allowed to grant execution against the body of judgment-debtors against whom there might be primâ facie ground for presuming fraud or bad conduct, unless the presumption were rebutted by the judgment-debtor;

(g) the Judicial Commissioner of British Burma and the Recorder of Rangoon, who were of opinion that imprisonment for debt should be abolished, except in case of fraud, which should be punished criminally. The Recorder recommended that the law as it now obtains in England should be applied to India;

(h) the Resident at Hyderabad, who considered that the present system of imprisonment for debt is not wanted to compel payment, while it may be used to bring undue pressure to bear upon a debtor, especially in an agricultural country where interest in land is generally given as security for debts. He recommended that imprisonment for debt should be retained only to meet cases in which debtors abscond or endeavour to fraudulently evade meeting their obligations.

24. Thus, the preponderance of opinion was on the whole in favour of the maintenance of imprisonment for debt under the present condition of India, but a considerable and influential minority were in favour of its abolition.

25. The arguments on which the upholders of the present system rely fall into two classes: first, arguments which, if valid at all, are valid for England as well as for India; and, secondly, arguments based on the special circumstances and conditions of India.

26. To arguments of the first class belongs the assertion that "to remove from the Statute Book the penalty of arrest and imprisonment in execution of a decree for money would be to paralyze the commerce and trade of the country." The same objection was made in England, first to the abolition of arrest on mesne process,* and afterwards to the abolition of arrest on final process. The power of arrest was removed, and neither commerce nor trade shewed any symptoms of paralysis.

* See Lord Cottenham's speech in 1844 on the Creditors and Debtors Bill; Hansard, 74, page 453.

27. Those who uphold imprisonment for debt, not as being generally expedient, but as being specially required for India, do so mainly on two grounds: first, the complexity and obscurity of Indian titles to property; and, secondly, the exceptional prevalence of fraud in India, and the exceptional difficulties of detecting it.

As to the first ground, it has been remarked that if it is wrong to allow a debtor to pledge his person as security for his debts, it is not the less wrong because, owing to the defect of Indian property law, he finds difficulty in giving a satisfactory security over his property.

In the argument based on the prevalence of, and difficulty of detecting fraud, there is undoubtedly much force, though it may be doubted whether the obstacles which can be placed in the way of a creditor realizing his debts are not as great in England as in India. But, however this may be, to make an honest, though needy, debtor liable to imprisonment, simply because fraudulent debtors are numerous and difficult to detect, appears to be as unjust as it would be to make homicide by misadventure punishable by death, simply because the crime of murder was rife and hard to prove.

28. There are in the opinion of the Government of India two principles which ought to be observed in every law of debtor and creditor. The Courts ought not to give effect to any pledge by a debtor either of his person or of the bare necessaries of life. The debtor ought not to be allowed, by his own action, supplemented by the action of the Courts, either to deprive himself of his personal liberty, or to reduce himself to starvation. If he cannot obtain credit except on one or other of these securities, it is better that he should not obtain credit at all. Experience acquired in the Dekkhan goes to show that these principles are as applicable to India as to England. The Code of Civil Procedure recognises one of these principles by exempting from seizure for debt the debtor's bare means of subsistence. But this recognition is nullified by the refusal to adopt the principle of exempting the debtor's person from seizure. Of what use is it to reserve by law to the debtor the bare necessaries of life, when he can be compelled to give them up by the threat of imprisonment? By those who advocate the retention of the present system, much reliance is placed on the very small proportion of actual imprisonments to warrants of arrest; and the inference drawn from this proportion is that the law, though harsh in theory, produces no hardships in practice. But there is reason to believe that, in the great majority of cases, exemption from arrest is purchased either by renewal of bonds on extortionate terms, or by surrender of property which the law has exempted from seizure, or by surrender of property which does not belong to the debtor at all, but to his relations or friends. In other words, the law enables a creditor to do indirectly what it forbids him to do directly.

29. It is said that the honest debtor has an easy way out of prison through the door of insolvency. But in the first place, the honest debtor ought not to be sent to prison at all; and in the next place, the door which is provided for his release is, for some reason or other, very rarely used. There is, or was until recently, a strong concurrence of opinion to the effect that the Insolvency Chapter of the Code of Civil Procedure is practically a dead letter. As to the causes of its failure,—whether it is to be accounted for by the preliminary proceedings being unnecessarily cumbrous or expensive, or by the difficulty of satisfying the Court under section 351 that the debtor has not been guilty of any kind of misconduct, or by ignorance of the law and of the modes of relief available to debtors,—opinions differ; but about the fact of failure there appears to be no difference.

30. Since 1883 the Government of India has received and published reports obtained from Her Majesty's representatives abroad on the systems of imprisonment for debt in force in the various countries to which they are accredited. Those reports showed that imprisonment for debt has been abolished in nearly all civilized countries.

31. Having regard to the state of the law in the United Kingdom, to those reports, to the success which has attended the abolition of imprisonment for debt in the case of agriculturists to whom the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Acts apply, to some expressions to be found in the opinions of the authorities who considered the draft Bankruptcy Bill of 1885, and to the advocacy by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh, and by the Chief Justice and Judges of the High Court of Judicature for the North-Western Provinces, of the entire abolition of the process of arrest for debt, so far as it is a process that can be set in motion at the discretion of the creditor, and of the enforcement of the process being restricted to cases in which the Courts are satisfied that there have been fraudulent and contumacious attempts to defeat the operation of decrees, the Government of India has decided to introduce a Bill giving effect tentatively and, in the first instance, within a limited area to the policy which dictated the English Act of 1869, and is believed by several authorities of weight to be applicable to India.

Provisions of Bill.

32. Sections 1 and 2.—It is proposed that the measure shall apply in the first instance to the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and be extendible to other Provinces, or to particular classes of debtors in other Provinces, by Local Governments with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council.

From the opinions recorded by the Chief Commissioner and by Mr. MacEwen, the Officiating Recorder of Rangoon, on the draft Bankruptcy Bill of 1885, and by the Recorder, Judicial Commissioner and other authorities, European and Native, on the circular of 1881, there appears to be a strong feeling in Burma in favour of abolishing imprisonment for debt where the debtor has not been guilty of fraud. But it is considered desirable that the proposed Act should apply in the first instance to the territories under one Local Government, and that its effect there should be ascertained before the Act is extended to other parts of the country.

The date on which the Act is to come into force in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh is the 1st of January, 1888. If therefore the Bill is passed during the present year, decree-holders will have more than twelve months within which they may proceed against their judgment-debtors under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. In England the period which elapsed between the passing and the coming into force of the Debtors Act 1869, was less than five months.

33. Section 4.—This section is based on section 4 of the Debtors Act, 1869, but applies only to arrest and imprisonment for default in compliance with decrees and orders of Civil and Revenue Courts. Clause (c) is specially designed to check those fraudulent alienations of property by solvent but dishonest debtors which are relied on by the opponents of any mitigation of the existing law as the main justification of imprisonment for debt.

34. Section 5.—This section, following the 41 & 42 Vic., c. 54, permits the Court to refuse, either absolutely or on terms, an application for the arrest or imprisonment, or for the release or discharge from arrest or imprisonment, of a defaulter who is a trustee or person acting in a fiduciary capacity and is required, as such, to pay any money which is in his possession or under his control, or any money for which he is accountable and of which he has not discharged himself.

The origin and object of this clause are stated as follows by Jessel, M. R., in Marris v. Ingram (L. R. 13 Ch. D. 343) :—

"Then we come to the Amendment Act of 1878, which was passed to meet a special class of cases, and the history of that Act was this: An application was made before me for the imprisonment of a trustee who had been ordered to pay a sum of money. It was a very hard case, one of an unintentional breach of trust; and though the man was actually dying, I had no alternative but to make an order. Then I had various other cases before me which led me to regret that the Court had no discretion, for it not unfrequently happened that a person who came in strictness under the first class of offences * was not guilty of any moral offence. Under these circumstances I thought it would be wise and prudent that a discretion should be given to the Courts to deal with exceptional cases, but not with the intention of repealing the existing Act. Mr. Marten, being a member of the Legislature, then adopted my suggestion, and procured this Amendment Act to be passed."

* That is to say, the defaults specified in 32 & 33 Vic., s. 62, s. 4.

35. Section 6.—This section empowers the High Court and the Chief Controlling Revenue-authority to make rules for regulating the procedure to be followed in the Courts subordinate to them respectively in inquiries as to the liability of persons to arrest and imprisonment on the ground of fraud or contumacy.

36. Section 7.—This section modifies the operation of enactments authorising arrest and imprisonment for default in compliance with decrees and orders of Civil and Revenue Courts for payment of money.

Clause (a), following the Code of Civil Procedure, limits the term of imprisonment to six months, notwithstanding that section 163 of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act, 1881, authorises imprisonment in certain cases for so long a period as two years.

Clause (b) relieves the decree-holder of the liability to maintain his judgment-debtor while in prison. If imprisonment is retained, not as a mode of enforcing payment but simply as a punishment, it will hardly be possible to continue the liability. This liability existed under the old Insolvency Law in England, and the Act which imposed it was once described as giving the creditor "the power of imprisoning and tormenting his debtor at the expense of 3*s.* 6*d.* per week."* If it is abolished, great care should be taken that imprisonment is not inflicted except in cases of misconduct which deserve punishment.

* Hansard, 74, page 451.

Clause (c) requires that the defaulter, though in the civil jail, shall nevertheless be subject, as nearly as circumstances admit, to the discipline prescribed in the case of a criminal prisoner undergoing simple imprisonment. Where a person is ordered to pay a fine, the nature and term of his imprisonment will be regulated by the general law. This clause relates to the other cases in which a debtor is liable to imprisonment. Those cases, as before observed, all involve some degree of delinquency (L. R. 6 Ch. 157); and the imprisonment contemplated by the Bill, as by the English Act (L. R. 13 Ch. D. 343), is simple, that is, without hard labour. The effect of this clause will be to deprive the defaulter, as a civil prisoner, of the privilege of maintaining himself, and purchasing or receiving from private sources food, clothing, bedding, and other necessaries (Act XXVI of 1870, s. 34).

Clause (d) provides that, except where the arrest or imprisonment is for default in payment of a fine, the defaulter, when once arrested or imprisoned, shall not be released from arrest, or discharged from prison, without the order of the Court. The Court may grant the order or refuse it. If it refuses the order, the defaulter may appeal.

Clause (e) so far modifies clause (29) of section 588 of the Code of Civil Procedure as to admit of an appeal being preferred from an order for imprisonment in execution of a decree.

37. Section 8.—This section follows section 359 of the Code of Civil Procedure in providing that where the Court is of opinion that the defaulter has been guilty of an offence against the Indian Penal Code or any special enactment for the punishment of fraudulent debtors, it may, instead of ordering his imprisonment in the civil jail, send him to a Magistrate to be dealt with according to law.

38. Sections 9 and 10.—These sections contain special provisions with respect to arrest before judgment, and save proceedings taken before the Act comes into force.

39. Section 11.—It has been decided In re Heavens Smith (L. R. 2 Ex. D. 47) that the English Debtors Act of 1869 does not apply to a case in which the defaulter is a debtor to the Crown. It is proposed that the Indian Act shall have the like effect as against the Crown where a decree or order for payment of money is made in its favour by a Civil or Revenue Court, as it will have against a subject.

40. The question of giving the Courts a discretionary power to refuse an order for the arrest and imprisonment of a judgment-debtor, or at least of a female judgment-debtor, will be considered when next the Code of Civil Procedure comes under revision.

Sept., 13th	12	12mo ...	1st ...	1,000	Printed	0 1 0	.....	A young wife, who professes great love for her husband, severely beats him because he does not give her any ornaments. Her husband, who is a poor man, is therefore compelled to steal a box of jewellery from a rich man's house and give it to her. She is immensely delighted and professes still greater love for her husband, who is, however, arrested and sent to jail.	4885
Nov., 11th	348	12mo ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	1 4 0	.....	Contains Ramprasad's Bidya Sundar, Krishnakirtan, Kalikirtan, Sita's Lament, and religious songs.	4886
„ 4th	380	12mo ...	1st ..	1,000	ditto ...	2 0 0	Upendra Krishna Gupta, 101, Musjidbári Street, Calcutta	Some of Iswara Chandra Gupta's poems are collected in this volume, and a long essay on the life, character, and writings of the poet, by Babu Bankim Chandra Chatterji, who has edited the collection, is prefixed to the poems.	4887
Oct., 28th	46	8vo ..	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 4 0	.....	Contains a letter written to Krishna in the character of Radha, a letter written to Rama in the character of Sita, a letter written to Bharat in the character of Kaikeyi, and so on. The letters are written in blank verse.	4888
„ 8th	36	8vo ...	1st ...	500	ditto ...	.....	.....	Contains a daughter's lament at the death of her mother.	4889
Nov., 8th	12	12mo ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 1 0	Gopál Chandra Chakrabarti.	Contains a description of the Durga Puja festival and of what the Bengalis do on that occasion.	4890
Oct., 10th	92	12mo ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 10 0	.....	A widow's lament for her deceased husband, in which the distinctive characteristics of a true and loving Hindu wife find expression. The poem is specially intended for those Bengali women of the present time who prize self above self-sacrifice, and do not care to cultivate the distinctive virtures of a Hindu wife.	4891
„ 9th	16	16mo ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ..	0 1 0	Jogendralál Sinha, 58, Clive Street, Calcutta.	Describes a dream in which a young man finds a young girl and tells her how he will love and live with her.	4892
Sept., 10th	71	12mo ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 4 0	Adhara Chandra Banerji, Harisubha, Hughli.	Contains Uttara's lament for her husband Abhimanyu, Bhanumati's lament for her husband Duryodhan, &c.	4893
„ 20th	42	12mo ...	1st ...	2,000	ditto ..	0 4 0	Makundalál Chaudhuri, 60, Simla Street, Calcutta.	Says that woman exercises very great power over man, and is not therefore a-balá or mightless, as the epithet implies.	4894
Oct., 21st	18	8vo ..	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 2 0	Srimati Sarat Kumári Debi, Krishnagar.	Poems on a variety of subjects ...	4895
„ 5th	51	12mo dy	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 8 0	Dina Náth Majumdar, 8, Sikdárpárá Lane, Calcutta.	Describes a mother's love for her child and the various acts of self-denial which she gladly performs out of love for the latter. There is no love so deep and pure and sweet as motherly love. Every man should worship his mother, and learn from her how to love and what it is to love. Before a man can love God, he must love his mother. Divine love is of the pattern of motherly love.	4896

MANI-BENGALI BOOK.
1885.	Pages.
Sept., 25th	12	8vo ...	3rd ...	2,000	ditto ...	0 3 0	Mafizuddin Ahmud, Calcutta.	There are certain sacred Musulman formulas, called Ganjal Aras, for praying to God and reciting His name and praises. These formulas, by reason of their different wordings, produce religious merit of different kinds, and bring unto them that recite them different spiritual blessings. The formulas, which are in Arabic, are given in this book in the Bengali character, and their meanings, &c., are explained in Musulmani-Bengali.	3

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE TEA-GARDENS IN THE DISTRICT OF CHITTAGONG FOR THE YEAR 1885.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—INLAND EMIGRATION.

Darjeeling, the 26th June 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Memorandum No. 271GM—IX-15, dated 28th March 1886, from the Commissioner of Chittagong, forwarding the annual report of the Assistant Inspector of Labourers, Chittagong, on the working of Act I of 1882 for the year 1885.

Memorandum No. 272GM, dated 28th March 1886, from the Commissioner of Chittagong, forwarding the annual report of the Deputy Commissioner, Chittagong Hill Tracts, on the working of Act I of 1882 for the year 1885.

Letter No. 499, dated 17th April 1886, from the Superintendent of Emigration, commenting on the above reports.

The number of persons employed on the tea-gardens in the Chittagong district, from which returns were received during the year, compares as follows with the number returned during 1884:—

	LABOURERS UNDER THE ACT.		OTHER IMPORTED LABOURERS.		TOTAL.
	1884 a.	1885 b.	1884 c.	1885 d.	1884. e.	1885 f.
Total at beginning of the year ...	706	915	1,346	1,055	2,112	1,970
Deduct during the year	396	335	285	360	681	695
Balance	370	580	1,061	695	1,431	1,275
Add during the year	545	143	581	358	1,126	501
Total at end of the year	915	723	1,642	1,053	2,557	1,776

The discrepancy between the total at the end of 1884 and the total at the beginning of 1885 is due to the exclusion from the returns of the latter year of tenants who had been born or permanently settled on the Chandpore Estate, and who were found on enquiry not to be "imported labourers" within the meaning of the Bengal Rules. The decrease of 192 in the number of labourers under the Act is connected with a diminution in the number of local contracts, of which 139 were registered under sections 111 and 112 of the Act, against 436 in 1884. The Assistant Inspector observes that there are no means of ascertaining whether these contracts are executed by newly-imported or time-expired labourers. When the registration is effected under section 112, there can be no difficulty on this score, the labourer being himself present at the time of registration; but when the contract is simply forwarded for registration under section 111, the Inspector has no materials for entry of the required particulars, which are contained neither in the contract itself nor in the employer's return No. 9, and he can learn the actual facts only at the next inspection.

2. The decrease from 915 to 723 in the number of labourers registered under the Act is satisfactory as indicating that many employers find it now unnecessary to bind their workmen by penal contracts. The Commissioner considers that it is no longer desirable to maintain the Inland Emigration Act of 1882 for Chittagong; and it is obvious that, as communications improve and the coolies originally imported settle permanently in the district, exceptional provisions for the execution of labour contracts will become unnecessary. The partial disuse of the Act shows that this time is approaching; but the Lieutenant-Governor does not consider that it has as yet arrived. Meanwhile it is expedient to work the system so as to give the least possible inconvenience to those concerned, while maintaining an effectual supervision; and with this object the rule prescribing the maintenance of certain registers has been modified during the year. It was also decided, on the advice of the Legal Remembrancer, that this rule does not apply to labourers who, though originally imported, have completely settled down in the district. In the present report doubts are expressed as to whether it is necessary to inspect estates on which such settlers are employed. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that such inspections should be made only where there is reason to believe that they are required, and the rule will be modified accordingly.

3. There were 35 deaths among contract labourers and 43 among free labourers during the year, the most fatal diseases being fever, cholera and bowel-complaints. The only estate on which the mortality was excessive was Futtickcherry, where, owing to defective water-supply, 22 contract labourers and 20 children under 16 years of age were carried off by diarrhœa and dysentery. The employer has been directed to sink wells for his coolies, and it is hoped that this measure may improve the sanitary condition of the estate. A special report should be submitted showing whether the water-supply is now satisfactory, with a view to action under Chapter G. of the Act, if the estate is unfit for the residence of labourers. The death-rates for the year among contract and free labourers, respectively, were 3·30 and 3·75, against 2·74 and 2·95 in the previous year; 73 births were reported against 66 in the previous year. Both in Chittagong and in the Hill Tracts labourers are well housed and cared for; in many estates native doctors are employed, and in all a sufficient supply of ordinary medicines is kept. The following are Mr. S. J. Douglas' remarks upon these points:—

"The Joint-Magistrate is an ex-officio Assistant Inspector of Labourers. He inspected three tea-gardens and recorded formal reports. Besides this, the District Magistrate visited two. The inspections have been carefully made; from these it appears that the employers treat their labourers well. The latter are on good terms with their employers.

"The accommodation in all estates is sufficient. The cooly lines consist of rows of huts on well-drained sites, and are sufficiently lighted and ventilated. Platforms and machans are provided for sleeping. The cooly lines and houses are neat and clean. The houses were built of bamboo matting, as usual. There is a market at or near every garden, and the labourers have every facility for buying all they want at market or in the villages.

"Sufficient medicines are kept by the employers. In some estates doctors are engaged and regular hospital arrangements exist. In others the sick are treated at their houses, which they prefer. They are properly looked after in every garden."

4. The average earnings of labourers, as noticed during inspections, are reported to have ranged from Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 4-7 a month. It is not clearly understood whether this is exclusive of the cost of living; by itself such a wage would appear to be low, and the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to have the matter explained. There were 13 convictions for desertion (section 175), and two for absence without cause (section 171), during the year. From statement No. I appended to the report, it appears that there are nine estates on which labourers under contract are employed, to say nothing of other imported labourers, and section 190 of the rules under section 143 of the Act requires at least one yearly inspection of each estate. The Commissioner will be requested to obtain from the officers concerned, and forward to Government, explanations of their apparent omission to observe this rule. As in the previous year, there was only one tea-garden in the Chittagong Hill Tracts which came under the provisions of Act I of 1882. At the close of the year this estate contained 31 labourers imported on contract, and 53 free labourers, with 30 dependents. There were three deaths during the year, and the average earnings were Rs. 4-12 for contracted labourers and Rs. 4-14 for free labourers.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secy. to the Government of Bengal.

FEMALE WARD IN THE LEPERS ASYLUM, CALCUTTA.

No. 1272T—M., dated Darjeeling, the 1st July 1886.

From—E. N. BAKER, Esq., Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Municipal Dept.,
To—The President, District Charitable Society, Calcutta.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 187, dated the 2nd ultimo, to the address of the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department, bringing to the notice of Government the liberality of Maharani Surnomoyi, M.C.I., of Cossimbazar, who has, at her own cost, erected a building for Hindu female lepers in the Society's Asylum at Amherst Street, and has provided the building with beds and bedding. A dead-house has also been built for the Asylum, the total cost for all these works, amounting to Rs. 7,765-3-3, having been borne by the Maharani.

2. In reply, I am directed to request that you will be so good as to convey to the Maharani the thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor for her liberality and public spirit.

3. A copy of the correspondence will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

No. 220T—M.P.I., dated Darjeeling, the 16th June 1886.

Endorsed—By the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

THE following is forwarded to the Financial (Medical) Department of this Government for disposal.

Copy of a letter No. 187, dated 2nd June 1886, from the President, District Charitable Society, to the Secretary, Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

As the Government publishes from time to time, in the Calcutta Gazette, the names of those persons who contribute to works of public utility, I have the honour to bring to the notice of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal the liberality of Maharani Surnomoyi of Cossimbazar, Member of the Imperial Order of the Crown of India, who has during the past year defrayed the entire cost of erecting a building for Hindu female lepers in this Society's Leper Asylum, 96, Amherst Street, and has also provided the building with iron beds and bedding.

2. The ward, which is of solid masonry, is capable of accommodating comfortably twelve patients; a verandah runs round the entire building, and the floor is raised two feet six inches on an arched platform, which ensures the dryness of the ward.

3. The building, which has been named after the Maharani, was erected under the supervision of Mr. J. Lambert, C.I.E., Deputy Commissioner of Police, who is in executive charge of the institution, and the entire cost, including that of a dead-house, also added to the Asylum by the Maharani, was Rs. 7,765-3-3.

TRANSFER OF THE MANAGEMENT OF CERTAIN GOVERNMENT COLLEGES TO LOCAL BODIES.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Darjeeling, the 18th June 1886.

READ—

Letter No. 7102, dated 7th November 1885, from the Officiating Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

Letter No. 2877, dated 29th April 1886, from the Officiating Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

Re-read—

Paragraph 10 of the Resolution of the Government of India, in the Home Department, No. 1—60, dated the 3rd February 1882 (under which Resolution the Education Commission of 1882-83 was appointed). Recommendations on the subject of the transfer of the management of certain Government Colleges to the local bodies, contained in Chapter VIII, section 10 of the Report of the Education Commission, and the Resolution of the Government of India, Home Department, thereon, No. 10—309, dated the 23rd October 1884.

Paragraphs 16 and 17 of letter No. 2285T—G, dated 25th September 1884, from the Government of Bengal, addressed to the Government of India, on the subject of the Report of the Education Commission.

Paragraphs 13 and 33 of Resolution No. 10—309, dated 23rd October 1884, by the Government of India, in the Home Department, on the above-named Report.

Paragraph 4 of letter from the Government of India, in the Home Department, No. 323C, dated 28th October 1884.

Paragraph 2 of letter No. 9427, dated 30th December 1884, from Mr. C. B. Clarke, Officiating Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

Paragraph 7 of letter No. 229, dated 15th June 1885, from the Government of Bengal, addressed to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

The Government of India, in the Resolution appointing the Education Commission of 1882, expressed a desire to offer every encouragement to native gentlemen interested in the subject to come forward and assist even more extensively than they had done previously in the cause of public instruction, considered necessary to secure that freedom and variety which are essential conditions in any sound and complete educational system. The Resolution continues :—

"The Government is ready therefore to do all that it can to foster such a spirit of independence and self-help. It is willing to hand over any of its own colleges or schools in suitable cases to bodies of native gentlemen who will undertake to manage them satisfactorily as aided institutions; all that the Government will insist upon being that due provision is made for efficient management and extended usefulness. It will be for the Commission to consider in what mode effect can most fully be given to these views, and how the grant-in-aid system may best be shaped so as to stimulate such independent effort, and make the largest use of the available Government funds."

2. The Education Commissioners, in discussing the subject, observed that if, as had been shown, private enterprise even now produces results which are found by ordinary tests to be by no means unsatisfactory, and produces them at an average cost in colleges of one-eighth, and in secondary schools of one-fourth the amount spent on each pupil in departmental institutions, it does not seem unreasonable to hope that it will at some future period meet all, or all except the very highest, educational wants of the community at an expense to public funds that will be little more than nominal. They were in favour of a gradual and cautious withdrawal of the State from the immediate management, as distinguished from the control, of colleges, and their specific recommendations were as follows :—

"That in dealing with the question of the withdrawal of Government from the management of existing colleges, these colleges be regarded as divided into three classes, viz.—

(1) Those from which it is premature for Government to consider the propriety of withdrawal on the ground that they are, and will long continue to be, the institutions on which the higher education of the country mainly depends.

(2) Those that might be transferred with advantage, as a measure promising useful political results, to bodies of native gentlemen, provided the new managers give satisfactory guarantees that the colleges will be maintained (a) permanently, (b) in full efficiency, (c) in such a way as to make it adequate for al the wants of the locality.

(3) Those which have been shown to be unsuccessful, or of which the cost is not of proportion to the utility, and from which Government might advantageously withdraw even with less stringent guarantees for permanent efficiency. Such colleges should be closed if, after due notice, no local body be formed to carry them on with such a grant-in-aid as the rules provide."

* * * We have therefore no hesitation in recommending that the Government of Bengal be requested to consider the propriety of dealing with the Rajshahye and Krishnagur Government colleges on the principle applicable to the second class, and with the colleges at Berhampore, Midnapore, and Chittagong on the principles applicable to the third class, as suggested by the Bengal Provincial Committee.

3. In the Resolution recorded by the Government of India in the Home Department, under date the 23rd October 1884, on the report of the Commission, it stated that—

"The Government of India accepts the cautious and well considered proposals of the Commission on the subject of the gradual withdrawal of the Government from the charge of institutions of a high order, and especially from colleges. These recommendations are quite in accordance with the policy of Government as explained in paragraph 10 of the Resolution appointing the Commission. It is left to the Local Governments to give effect to the recommendations on this subject gradually and as local circumstances permit. It is, as has been repeatedly declared, in no degree the wish of the Government of India to discourage high education in any way whatever. On the contrary, it believes it to be one of its most important duties to spread and foster it. What it specially, however, desires is to secure assistance to the limited funds of the State by calling forth every available private agency in connection with every branch of public instruction. It is in connection with high education, and in view of the direct pecuniary advantages which it holds out to those who follow it, that the Government thinks it can most properly insist on the fullest development of the principle of self-help."

4. The Lieutenant-Governor took an early opportunity of intimating his agreement with the views expressed upon this subject by the Commission, and of instituting enquiries with a view to give practical effect to their recommendations. An application recently received from Narail, in the district of Jessore, for the establishment at that place of a college on the grant-in-aid system, is receiving the favourable consideration of Government, and it is hoped that such an institution upon an independent basis will be opened before the end of the current year. The colleges of Rajshahye and Krishnagur will be transferred only in case any body of native gentlemen can give adequate guarantees for permanent and efficient management, and as yet no arrangement under such conditions has been possible. It has been represented, with regard to Chittagong, that the town is so isolated and cut off from other centres of education that there are good reasons for maintaining a college in it, whether a local body comes forward to undertake the management or not. In all these cases, while inviting offers from residents of position, it is necessary to wait until public opinion has matured, and the change recommended can be effected with the cordial co-operation of all concerned. In the meantime attention of public officers is drawn to the following passage in the report of the Commission as indicating the attitude they should at present adopt:—

"Of course a Director has no means of compelling private parties to come forward, and in ordinary cases we are not prepared to recommend the closing of departmental institutions which local effort is not willing to provide for. But a Director, and still more a Government, can do much to influence public opinion, and patient persistence in carrying out the policy of withdrawal whenever a suitable opportunity occurs will doubtless make it generally felt in course of time that all should co-operate in such measures who are capable of taking broad and comprehensive views of popular education and its true necessities."

5. The Midnapore College dates its existence from January 1873, when the people of the district, with much public spirit, subscribed a sum of Rs. 60,000 for the purpose of improving the status of the zillah school; and in consideration of this fact Sir George Campbell, in sanctioning the establishment of the college and law classes, fixed the Government grant at Rs. 3,000 a year for the following five years. These classes were to be maintained from a sum of Rs. 3,000 representing interest on endowments, and fees estimated at Rs. 1,200, the Government grant of Rs 3,000 being devoted to defraying the expenses of the school department alone. The charges properly debitable to the college largely exceeded the estimated Rs. 4,200; and on a redistribution of the expenditure between the two departments in 1878, it was ascertained that, while the College Department was working at a loss of Rs. 1,660 a year, there was an annual profit in the School Department of over Rs. 3,000. The Government grant was then redistributed, Rs. 2,000 being assigned to the college and Rs. 1,000 to the school. The limit of Rs. 2,000 for the college, however, was not very strictly observed, and the Government contribution to the College Department increased, with increase of expenditure, from Rs. 2,077-1-4 in 1880-81 to Rs. 2,850-2-8 in 1883-84. In 1884-85 large reductions were effected, and the Government grant dropped to Rs. 623-8-6 in that year, and to Rs. 406-15-7 in 1885-86. The receipts from interest on endowments and from fees in 1885-86 were Rs. 2,912-10 and Rs. 1,649-11 respectively, or Rs. 4,562-5 together; and as the total expenditure was only Rs 4,969-4, it appears that the income from these two sources is almost sufficient to meet all the current expenses of this college, the amount contributed by Government during the past year having amounted to little more than 8 per cent. of the whole receipts.

6. The School Department of this institution, known as the Midnapore Collegiate School, has hitherto received a fixed annual grant of Rs. 1,000; and its total income, including the grant, in 1885-86 was Rs 7,282-1, while the expenditure amounted to Rs. 6,813-14-3. The Municipal Commissioners of Midnapore have now offered to take over the management of the Midnapore College without making any reference to the school; but it has been strongly urged by the District School Committee, whose arguments are emphatically endorsed by the Inspector of Schools and the Director of Public Instruction, that the collegiate school should go with the college. It is represented that they are in fact two departments of one institution, sharing the expenses of a common establishment, viz. the head pundit, the clerk, the librarian, and menial servants; sharing also the same library, and working on the same premises. It is clear to the Lieutenant-Governor that, under these circumstances, division of management would only lead to grave inconveniences; and there appears to be no objection to transferring the school, as well as the college, to local management. The Education Commission recommended that all Directors of Public Instruction should aim at the gradual transfer to native management of Government schools of secondary instruction (including schools attached to first or second grade colleges), whenever the transfer could be effected without lowering the standard or diminishing the supply of education, and without endangering the permanence of the institution transferred. The Commission further advised that the experiment should begin with schools which had already won a high position, and laid down the following test:—"The fact that any school raises more than 60 per cent. of its entire expenditure from fees to be taken as affording a presumption that the transfer of such school to local management can be safely effected." This test, which was accepted as reasonable by the Lieutenant-Governor, has been fully satisfied in the case of the Midnapore Collegiate School.

7. The average sum required from Government by the college during the last two years has been Rs. 514; but the Lieutenant-Governor recognises the fact that the expenditure, especially on contingencies, must vary from year to year, and to provide for possible increases he is willing to allow a net grant of Rs. 600 to the College Department. He is also prepared to continue the present grant of Rs. 1,000 to the School Department. Both grants will be made for three years, after which period they will, if necessary, be revised.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor is assured that the Midnapore Municipality, or a body constituted under section 64 of the Local Self-Government Act, 1885, will be willing to assume the management of both the college and school on the terms above indicated. The Lieutenant-Governor therefore will be glad if the Director of Public Instruction will take the earliest opportunity of giving effect to the transfer of the double institution on the conditions stated in the present Resolution.

9. The Berhampore College was first opened in 1853. It was raised in 1865 to the status of a full college teaching the B.A. course, but in 1872 it was reduced to a lower class, teaching only up to the F.A. standard, on the ground that the Calcutta and Hooghly Colleges would suffice for such of the Berhampore students as might desire a more complete education. In 1879 it was noticed, in the Government Resolution on the Educational Report for 1878-79, that the number of students had fallen to 32, and that each of these cost the Government

Rs. 605 a year—about twice the average expense at a Government college. The question of the abolition of the institution was then taken into consideration; but although it appeared that this step would set free funds which might probably have been employed elsewhere with greater benefit to the educational needs of the province, the Government was unwilling, having regard to the past history of the college, and the feeling of the people of Moorshedabad on the subject, to adopt the extreme measure of final closure. The opportunity was, however, taken to make certain changes in the establishment with the view of at once increasing efficiency and diminishing expenditure. The effect of these reforms was to reduce the cost of education to a nearer approximation to the provincial average, and in 1884-85 the average total cost of educating each scholar was Rs. 376, the cost to Government being Rs. 253.

10. The number of students at the Berhampore College continues to be much the same as in 1878-79, and the proportion of the expense of their education borne by the State is still excessive. The monthly cost of maintaining the institution is Rs. 1,185, and the income derived exclusively from fees is only Rs. 167. In this case no direct offer has as yet been received from any local body to take over the charge of the institution, but it is understood that proposals for that purpose may soon be made. Government will be prepared to give to any responsible and suitable managers the maximum grant-in-aid allowed by the rules, and to make over considerable endowment funds for a hostel, as well as for buildings and for scholarships in connection with the college. There is a school attached to the college, the management of which should be transferred at the same time and on the same conditions.

11. In pursuance of the policy indicated by the Education Commission, and affirmed by the Government of India, it will be necessary, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, to close the Midnapore and Berhampore Colleges if no arrangement can be made before the 1st of May 1887 for the transfer of their charge. It is thus left to those interested to determine for themselves whether these institutions shall continue to exist, and the Lieutenant-Governor confidently anticipates that the public spirit and interest in high education, for which both the important districts immediately affected are remarkable, will be found equal to the occasion.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

THE following is published for general information.

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE METEOROLOGICAL REPORTER TO THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

MR. JOHN ELIOT, M.A., the permanent Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal, having been on long furlough during the past official year, the Department was under my control during the whole of the year 1885-86.

The system of meteorological observation established in 1883-84 for the extension and development of provincial meteorological reports has been steadily followed. The only change of importance which has taken place in the administration of the Department during the year was the reduction of some of the observatories of the second class, viz., Sibsagar, Bankipore, Hazaribagh, Cuttack and Chittagong, to the class of third class observatories. The above stations have now furnished more than ten years' complete registers of hourly observations on four days of each month. A good knowledge having thus been obtained of the diurnal changes of the various meteorological elements, the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India has thought it desirable to suspend the registration and reduce these observatories to third class stations from 1st January 1886, in order that the money saved by the reduction may be more profitably employed in extending meteorological work in other directions.

The records of the self-registering wind instruments will, however, be continued at Chittagong, Hazaribagh and Cuttack, and at Sibsagar those of the Seismic instruments also.

By this reduction it has been found possible to work without local superintendence of a kind which necessitates any amount of actual work, and thus the Superintendent's allowances for Sibsagar, Hazaribagh and Bankipore have ceased, and the services of the assistant observers at all the reduced stations have been dispensed with.

The normal meteorological allowance for third class imperial stations is only Rs. 15, but as the work of reducing the observations was allowed to be performed by the present incumbents at some of these stations, and in consideration of the fact that additional work will be required to be done by these observers in the way of looking after the anemographs and keeping records of daily synoptic observations, their allowances have been fixed by order of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India at a somewhat enhanced rate, as shown in the annexed table.

During the year the observatory at Tezpore (Assam), for the establishment of which sanction was given last year, was started from April 1885. The work at this observatory has, I regret to say, only been fairly satisfactory throughout the year. Two stations—Maldah and Krishnagar—of the provincial system have also been added to the list of observatories reporting to this office. The voluntary observatory at Bankoora, to which reference was made in last year's report, began to send in returns to this office from 2nd June 1885. So that three new stations were added to the list of provincial observatories and on the whole, they have sent in fairly satisfactory returns during the year.

The original number of imperial and provincial observatories from which returns were received in this office at the commencement of the year 1885-86 was one first class, seven second class, sixteen third class, and twenty-two provincial third class; but by the change in the class of some of these stations from the 1st January 1886, as noticed previously, and by the addition of the three provincial and one imperial observatories, they will in future be classed as follows:—

1 First class,
2 Second class,
21 Third class, and 25 Provincial third class.

Inspection of Observatories.—The following stations were inspected during the year:—

By Mr. Blanford—Gya.

By myself—
Darjeeling, Bankipore, Arrah, Buxar, Bhagulpore, Krishnagar, Dhubri, Rungpore, Hazaribagh and Durbhunga.

By my head clerk—
Saugor Island, Purneah, Jessore, Dacca, Midnapore, Bhagulpore, Rampore Beauleah, Noakholly, Comilla, Burrisaul, Furreedpore and Maldah.

First Class Observatory—Alipore observatory.—As this observatory is under the direct superintendence of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, and it is not under the Reporter for Bengal, no report can be given on its working during the past year.

Second class observatories.—The following are the second class observatories as now carried on:—

(5) „ 14th November 1885 to 31st March 1886.

Both these second class observatories were visited during the year. Dhubri was inspected by myself on 19th March 1886. Generally speaking I was far from satisfied with the condition of the observatory. The Casella's anemograph was, so far as direction, working with considerable friction and the pointer was showing south-south-west, but in reality the wind was east-north-east. It showed a great want of observation on the part of the observer to record and report a wind direction almost diametrically opposite to the actual direction. The thermometers were dirty and covered with cobwebs. The bulbs of the wet instruments were found to be slightly encrusted, and the compound of the observatory was considerably overgrown with jungle. The solar radiation thermometer had a separation of mercury at the top of the tube of almost exactly 4°. The observer stated that he made allowance for the break, and that he had reported the fact to the head office, but the statement could not be verified from the office records either at the observatory or at the head office. The rain-gauge receiver was found to hold only 1·38 inches of rain, and the observer stated that if the reservoir overflowed he mopped up the excess water with a cloth and squeezed out the water into the measuring glass. The rain-gauge was therefore changed by a 5-inch gauge with a proper receiver. The anemometer was in very bad order with the cups dented, and the instrument was erected in a most disgraceful manner. A new anemometer has been supplied. The observer and his assistant do not appear to understand their work properly. The observer's knowledge of English is very limited, and he is not in my opinion competent for the post of senior observer, though he might perhaps have previously done his work as assistant observer properly. A new head observer will have to be appointed after a man is thoroughly trained in the Alipore observatory. By my visit to the station my former convictions of the carelessness of the observer were fully confirmed. In July 1885 I had occasion to fine the head observer Kadimuddin Ahmed Rs. 5, and his assistant his allowance for nine days for neglect of duty in missing the hourly observations on several days, but the fines scarcely seem to have had the desired effect.

Saugor Island was visited by my head clerk on the 12th January 1886. It was the first visit of inspection since the thermometer shed was erected and the Beckley's anemograph put up in position in 1880. The sites for the shed and the anemograph were selected by Mr. Eliot on his visit to the station in March 1878. The thermometer shed is of the standard pattern and is erected within the grounds of the telegraph office, and enclosed by a nulla and a mound of earth at a distance as a protection from inundation. The telegraph office building stands directly to the south or south-east of the shed at a distance of 38 feet from it. There are several trees very near to the shed which have the effect of making the place very close and shady. The barometer is placed against the wall near the doorway leading into the signal room. It was originally placed in a wooden shed of the old telegraph office, and within the light-house compound, but the instrument has been in its present position since February 1880 in a good light and at a height of 25·3 feet above the mean sea level. A Fortin's instrument is in use, and it was found to be in good working order. The thermometers were found in good order.

The sun thermometer continues to be exposed on forked sticks at a height of 6 inches from the ground, as the same instrument has been in use since 1876. The regulation stand has not been brought into use here. The rain-gauge in use was of old pattern and 6 inches in diameter. The float of the gauge was lost, and the measurement of rainfall was made by means of a corresponding measure glass. It was situated on the embankment towards the south of the telegraph building. A new 5-inch rain-gauge has since been supplied and brought into use. The Beckley's anemograph is set up on the top of the watch tower of the telegraph office, and the cups of the anemometer are 51 feet above the ground. There are no objects near higher than the building. The instrument appeared to be set correctly, and its bearings were found well oiled. The condition of the observatory in charge of Mr. Peters, telegraph master, who has been for a long time connected with the Department, was highly satisfactory.

During the observership of Mr. Thomas, telegraph master, the grass minimum thermometer readings were found to be very low. An enquiry was made into the matter, and the result showed the defect in the readings was due to a break in the spirit column of the instrument, which was not noticed by the observer for months together. Mr. Thomas was therefore fined Rs. 15 in August 1885 for this gross carelessness. The grass readings for 18 months had to be rejected.

Imperial Third Class Observatories.—The observatories of Sibsagar, Hazaribagh, Bankipore, Cuttack and Chittagong have to be classed from this year under this head.

These are therefore 21 in number: 14 are situated in Bengal, 1 (Akyab) in Burmah, 4 (Sibsagar, Silchar, Tura and Tezpore) in Assam, and 2 (Gopalpore and Coconada) in Madras. The two last are maintained in connection with the Bay of Bengal storm signal service.

The following table gives the names of the Superintendents and observers at these observatories during the year 1885-86 :—

* Started from 2nd April 1885.
† Had special allowance of Rs. 10 for meritorious service.
‡ Had special allowance of Rs. 5 for good service.

Four of the observatories—Hazaribagh, Darjeeling, Cuttack and Chittagong—are provided with anemographs.

At Hazaribagh one of Cassella's pattern is in use and is in excellent order. At Darjeeling a Cassella instrument was previously put up, but it having failed to give satisfactory records, it was replaced by a Beckley's anemograph, which was placed in position by myself during a visit to the station in the previous year. The instrument having failed to act at the end of the rains I again visited the station in the cold weather and put it in working order, and fairly satisfactory returns have been received from 25th January 1886. The traces are, however, still somewhat indistinct, but this is to a certain extent owing to the fact that the recording paper used is not of the proper quality, but it is also a fact that the same Beckley when formerly in use at the Alipore observatory gave rather feeble traces.

The anemograph at Chittagong is one of Beckley's. It worked very well throughout the year, except for a period of 28 days (from 4 P.M. of 25th January 1886 to noon of 22nd February 1886), when there was a break due to the turning pin of the velocity rod having broken. It was repaired by the Mathematical Instrument Department, and the anemograph has thus again been rendered effective since 22nd February 1886. Cuttack is provided with a Cassela's anemograph, and so far as the records show the instrument is working satisfactorily.

Eight of these observatories were inspected during the year, viz., Gya, Bankipore, Hazaribagh, Dacca, Darjeeling, Durbhunga, Jessore and Purneah.

Purneah was visited by my head clerk on 23rd June. He reported that the observatory shed had been removed to a new site near the jail compound by order of Mr. Eliot, owing to the erection of a building for the jailor's quarters close to the old site, but the conditions of exposure were almost identical with those of the abandoned site. The shed was in good order and the instruments clean and in working order, with the exception of the minimum thermometer, which had its column separated. The anemometer has become much shut in by the gradual growth of a row of high trees that stand to the east and north-east of the instrument at a distance of 60 yards. The average height of the trees is now 50 to 60 feet, while the anemometer is at a height of 25 or 26 feet above the ground. The medical officer (Dr. Picachy) in charge of the observatory has been asked to select a more suitable site for the anemometer.

Darjeeling was visited on 16th November. As previously stated, the object of the inspection was to put the Beckley's anemograph in working order, as it had not worked for nearly two months, and the observer had not been able to put it right. The instrument was rendered effective. The other instruments were in good order, except the minimum thermometer, the column of which had slightly separated. The mercury in the cistern of the barometer was also cleaned, and the instrument put in good order. Mr. R. Carter, Rector, St. Paul's School, who is the Superintendent of the observatory, continues to take much interest in the observatory.

Bankipore was visited on 27th November by myself. The condition of the observatory was fairly satisfactory. Munshi Mohabat Lal, who has been the observer for some time, having been suspended from his appointment as head clerk, Temple Medical School, a brother clerk, who has had experience in meteorological work, has been temporarily put in charge of the observations. A higher rate of allowance had been sanctioned for the station by the recent arrangements in consideration of the fact that Munshi Mohabat Lal would reduce the observations himself and submit completed returns; but if the Munshi is not reinstated, and a new man is permanently appointed, the meteorological allowance will have to be reduced to Rs. 15, as at other third class stations, and the work of reduction and tabulation will be done in the central office.

Gya was visited on 16th December by Mr. Blanford, Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India. Mr. Blanford carefully verified the thermometers and the barometer in use, and the corrections of some of the thermometers were found to have altered. These instruments have therefore been recalled for re-verification. The worthlessness of the minimum readings at Gya was noticed in the previous administration reports. The real cause of this anomaly has been found to be that since the introduction of the Bengal Daily Weather Report in 1883 the readings of the wet minimum thermometer have been reported to this office in the 10 A.M. telegrams instead of those of the dry minimum. The observer (Nowringee Lal) had been given ample opportunity to find out the cause of the erroneous minimum readings reported daily, but he failed to do so, and the fact is fatal to his character as an observer. He was consequently fined two months' pay last year, and again a month's allowance (Rs. 15) in July 1885 for his continued inattention to the instructions he had received. The observer (Nowringee Lall) has gone on leave for six months, and advantage has been taken of this to appoint Mukund Lal, who had undergone practical training at the Bankipore observatory, to the observership.

Jessore was visited by my head clerk on 27th December. There has been no change in the site or exposure of the instruments, but there had been a very decided change for the worse in the observer, and most of the instruments were in bad order, and the observer's excuses for the state of the observatory were most paltry. In consequence the observer's special allowance has been suspended for six months.

Dacca observatory was visited by my head clerk on 20th January 1886. The barometer has been removed since 3rd May 1884 to the present position in the signal room of the telegraph office. It is now at an elevation of 21·7 feet above mean sea level. The mercury in the cistern of the barometer was cleaned. The minimum thermometer had been out of order since November, and the observer had been unable to put it right, but the spirit column was easily restored. The anemometer was much in want of oil, and the observer neglected to take in the sun thermometer every night. The observatory was therefore not in very satisfactory order.

Hazaribagh was inspected on 27th March. The condition of the observatory was very satisfactory. All the instruments were found to be in perfectly good order. The point of greatest importance in the inspection was to solve certain discrepancies in the wind records of the Casella's anemograph. It was found that the principle on which the observer had worked hitherto was to make the embossed arrows on the paper correspond to the actual direction of the pointer of the wind-vane or to the absolute direction of the wind, and thus the N. embossed arrow on the paper made a very considerable angle with the line of the paper. The instrument was re-set, and the observer instructed how to keep the instrument in the required order. The observer was recommended for the continuance of the special allowance of Rs. 5 he had hitherto drawn.

Durbhunga observatory was inspected on 30th March. All the instruments were in perfectly good working order and the shed in excellent repair. The observer, Baboo Jogin Chunder Banerjee, was the recipient of a five-rupee special allowance in 1883-84, but it was withdrawn for bad work. The observer was well reported on in 1884-85, and the condition of the observatory continuing to be equally good during 1885-86, he was restored to the special allowance for the ensuing year.

The remaining observatories of this class, viz., Sibsagar, Cuttack, Chittagong, Berhampore, Silchar, Demagiri, False Point, Akyab, Tura, Tezpore and Burdwan, could not be visited during the year, but from the returns received it may be presumed that their efficiency has been maintained in the majority of cases.

Sibsagar.—Baboo Dandadhar Dutt Barua has continued to do good work during the year, and the special allowance of Rs. 10 has therefore been continued to him during the ensuing year.

Cuttack.—Mr. Alley, telegraph master, was in charge throughout the year. The observations have been satisfactory and the returns punctual. He has been and is still the recipient of a five-rupee special allowance for meritorious services.

Chittagong.—The telegraph master in charge, Mr. Gabriel, has done his work well, and has been in charge of the observatory during the whole of the year. There were very few mistakes in the observations.

Berhampore.—The returns have been regular and satisfactory. Baboo Mahendra Nath Roy continues to be the observer. His special allowance of Rs. 10 has therefore been continued to him.

Silchar.—Mr. Blanford, Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, visited this station early in 1884, and found that the shed was not built according to the standard plan. The observatory has hitherto been a most costly one, requiring yearly repairs averaging Rs. 100. This was due to the shed being much larger than was necessary and to the sole use of wood in its construction, which was rapidly destroyed by the attacks of white ants. Mr. Blanford therefore sanctioned the erection of a more durable shed of standard dimensions supported on iron pillars. This has since been completed. The observer has submitted fairly satisfactory returns.

Demagiri.—This station has not been visited since it was started. The only instruments in use are a dry bulb and a maximum, a dry minimum thermometer and a wind-vane. The wind-vane was blown down by a storm and injured. The maximum and minimum thermometer readings have not been satisfactory. The civil hospital assistant of the Police Dispensary was in charge of the readings under the supervision of the civil medical officer. There is no allowance attached to this station, as it was established by the Deputy Commissioner of Chittagong Hill Tracts under the provisions of the rules for volunteer observers. The observations from this station are so far from satisfactory that they are frequently rejected.

False Point.—The observatory shed was blown down by the storm of September 23rd, which passed over this station and swept away Hookitola, which was also a rainfall recording station. A very valuable set of observations was made at this station during the cyclone of this date by Mr. Workman the observer. The telegraphic communication remained suspended from the 22nd September 1885 to 6th January 1886, when the 10 A.M. telegrams were again resumed. The shed instruments were all saved by their timely removal, but the anemometer was blown down and badly injured. This has since been replaced by a new instrument. The records for the year were fairly satisfactory. Mr. Workman, light-house keeper, was formerly the observer on an allowance of Rs. 25 a month, but he having been appointed Port Officer, False Point, Mr. London succeeded to the post of meteorological observer on the reduced allowance of Rs. 20, and the observations are now being taken by him.

Akyab.—The registers have improved much. They were punctually received in this office.

Tezpore has been noticed on page 1.

Burdwan.—The observatory is apparently in excellent order, and the returns from this station have been satisfactory. Baboo Mokshoda Prasad Roy Chowdhury has well maintained his reputation, and has been recommended for the continuance of his special allowance of Rs. 10.

Tura.—The registers from this station have been of very doubtful value.

These stations generally have done satisfactory work with the exception of Furreedpore and Mymensing. There have been many changes in the post of observer at Furreedpore in particular, and many incorrect readings were submitted by the new observers, who in most cases were ignorant of the correct methods of reading the meteorological instruments. A barometer room has been provided for that station, and the wind instruments have been set up on pillars on the roof of the room. The instruments have thus been localized in one spot, which was not the case previously.

* Started from 13th April 1885.

The earthquake in July 1885 caused considerable damage to instruments at some of the Northern Bengal stations. The anemometers and wind-vanes at Rungpore, Serajgunge and Mymensing were thrown down from the pillars on which they were erected and were badly injured. The barometer at Bogra was buried under a heap of ruins in the Circuit-house, but it was fortunately not much injured. The wind-vane and the anemometer at Bogra were rescued before the building came down. The instruments had therefore to be removed to the zilla school building.

The observatories inspected were—

Midnapore	Comilla.	Buxar.
Bhagulpore.	Burrisaul.	Maldah.
Rungpore.	Furreedpore.	Krishnagar.
Noakhally.	Arrah.

Midnapore—Was inspected on the 1st July 1885. The observatory is situated in the large office compound of the Executive Engineer. The barometer is kept in his sitting room. The anemometer is on the top of the office building at a height of about 27 feet from the ground. There are some trees round the building so that the site does not afford a good exposure for the wind instruments. The observer read the instruments correctly. The wet bulb only was slightly encrusted.

Rungpore—Was visited on the 21st March 1886. The wire-netting enclosure for the barometer in the court room has been well made. It should be kept padlocked. The shed is in good order. The observer was instructed to keep the anemometer well oiled. The observer was absent, but the officiating man read the instruments accurately, except that he did not read to tenths of miles in the anemometer.

Bhagulpore—Was visited on the 6th and 7th June 1885. The barometer had to be re-set to bring down the instrument to the observer's eye level. The sea level height was practically unaltered. A Roorkee pattern wind-vane has been supplied to replace Adie's wind-vane. The thermometer cage had to be re-set. The minimum thermometer had a degree length of spirit lodged in the top of the tube. The observer read the instruments correctly and quickly. The Executive Engineer, Mr. Martin, takes a personal interest in the work.

Arrah—Was visited on November 27th. The observatory and instruments were in good order. The officiating observer, Baboo Satis Chunder Banerjee, has kept the instruments and records in very good order, and submitted very punctual and accurate returns during the year.

Buxar—Was visited on December 8th. The observatory and the instruments generally were in good order, except that the maximum thermometer had ceased to act as a maximum. The wind-vane worked with friction and was not clean.

Noakholly—Was visited on the 29th and 30th January 1886. The changes in the site of the observatory and the exposure of instruments noticed in the administration report of 1883-84, pages 13 and 14, have since been carried out. The shed has been removed from the circuit-house compound to the jail grounds, which are sufficiently large and open in almost all directions. The shed is of the standard pattern and well built, and was in thorough repair. The barometer is set up in a room in the Collectorate in fairly good light and at a height 42·7 feet above mean sea level. It was reported that some mercury of the size of a poppy seed had leaked out of the cistern of the K. P. barometer during transit of the instrument to the station. Comparative readings of the barometer with a standard Fortin were taken, but the original error appeared to be practically unchanged. The anemometer and the wind-vane are set up on the top of the Collectorate on two small pillars where the exposure is satisfactory. The thermometers were in perfect order. The Magistrate of the district is in charge of the observatory.

Comilla—Was visited on January 26th. The barometer was carefully verified with an instrument taken from Calcutta, and the correction was found to have remained practically unaltered. The shed and the thermometers were in good order. The wind instruments are still on the top of the Collectorate—a place unsuited for wind registration from the existence of several trees in the neighbourhood. The instruments should be exposed on a pillar erected in the observatory grounds. This has been arranged for.

Maldah—Was visited on 26th and 27th June 1885. The establishment of an observatory at Maldah was sanctioned in June 1884, and no report of the completion of the shed was received up to the date of the visit to the station. The shed has been erected on a fairly open site in the compound of the charitable dispensary. It is of the standard plan. It is enclosed at some distance by an open lattice work fence to prevent admission of cattle. The thermometers had not arrived at the time of the visit, and so the barometer only was set up. It is in the office room of the medical officer in a satisfactory position and in good order. The only high building where a really satisfactory exposure could be obtained for the wind instruments is the Collectorate, but it is too far off to admit of the readings of all the instruments being taken at the same time. The dispensary is the nearest building where they can be set up. This is near the shed. The instruments will have to be put up here on 4-feet pillars. (This has been done.) The exposure is fairly satisfactory. The clerk of the Civil Surgeon, who was to be the observer, was absent from the station.

Furreedpore—Was visited on the 4th February 1886. The barometer was previously in a room in the jail. It was found necessary to erect a permanent brick platform for setting up the wind instruments, and the vault underneath was converted into a room for the barometer. The observer, Baboo Chooni Lal Ghosh, read the barometer imperfectly. The instruments generally were in order. The rain-gauge should be removed to the shed grounds and fenced in. The returns from this observatory have been far from satisfactory for some time.

Krishnagar—Was visited on the 17th March 1886 and found in good order. The thermometers were clean and the barometer in good order. The rain-gauge has been removed from its former position to somewhat higher ground, as last year it was flooded. The neck of the rain-receiver was unsoldered. This was locally repaired. The wind instruments are situated on the top of the dead-house. They were in good condition. There is a large tree to the south-west of the dead house. This should be cut down if possible, or at all events its top cut off. A Roorkee pattern wind-vane might be supplied instead of the small vane. (This has been done). The observer read the instruments quickly and correctly.

Burrisaul—Was inspected on the 23rd and 24th December 1885. The former site of the observatory having been condemned for various reasons, Mr. Eliot on his visit to this station in 1884 selected the compound of the Judge's court for the new site. A new shed has therefore been built here with the consent of the Magistrate, and the anemometer and the wind-vane have been set up on pillars on the top of the registration office, where they receive a fairly good exposure. The height of the cups from the ground is 22 feet. The shed as it now stands is 51 feet from the nearest building (Sub-Judge's court) and 16 feet from the main road. It is, however, well fenced in. The barometer was formerly in the Public Works Department staging bungalow, and its cistern was at a height of 4 feet above ground level. It has now (since September 1885) been removed to the Public Works Department store-room, which is close to the shed, and the difference in height of the mercury in the cistern of the instrument in its previous position and its present position was found to be 2 feet. The cistern of the instrument can therefore be said to be on an elevation of 14 feet (approximately) above sea level, the average level of the district being 12 feet above sea surface The barometer was found to be in good order and quite vertical. The readings of this instrument had been found to be low occasionally by amounts varying from 1 to 3 hundredths of an inch. Comparison Fortin's barometer No. 727 was put up side by side with the Burrisaul barometer and 14 comparative observations taken. They shewed that the observer knows how to read the instrument, and that the error of the Burrisaul barometer is unaltered. The defect may therefore be due to some fault in the observations made presumably during the absence of the regular observer from the station from time to time. The attention of the observer has been drawn to this fact, and he has been asked to train some one thoroughly so as to be able to entrust him with the observations during his absence. The maximum thermometer has ceased to be self-rgistering. The rest of the thermometers were in order. The N. pointer of the wind-vane was set about 6° to the east of true north. The observer has been requested to re-set the vane.

The rest of the observatories could not be visited, but the returns from the majority of them have been satisfactory.

Voluntary observatories and voluntary Superintendents.—During the past year the subject of voluntary observatories has forced itself into rather more prominent attention than has hitherto been the case, and the cause of this prominence has been far from satisfactory. The voluntary observatories reporting to this office are Tura, Demagiri, Durbhunga and Bankoora. At the Tura observatory in particular the question of voluntary observatories has appeared in a form which has previously threatened to happen in other cases, but which has hitherto been successfully avoided.

The Tura observatory was started in 1883 by the civil medical officer, Garo Hills, Dr. McNaught, and at first did good work; but after a time the observations fell off in value, and the observer became dissatisfied and careless. Dr. B. M. Gupta had charge of the station in the early part of the year 1885-86. He proposed the disestablishment of the observatory on the ground that the civil hospital assistant in charge refused to do the work of registration without extra remuneration. Dr. Gupta was informed that the observatory had been started with the sanction of the Government of India and the Chief Commissioner of Assam on the recommendation of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, and the willingness or unwillingness of a civil hospital assistant to take these observations did not in any way influence the question of the continuance of the observatory and the work of registration, but that the officials who took up the position of medical officer and civil hospital assistant at Tura should carry on the work till they were officially relieved of their duties in this respect. The matter was then referred to the Government of India by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, and it was ruled that no allowance could be granted to the observer, and that the duties of medical officers in connection with meteorological observations in this and other cases will be more fully defined.

In the case of other voluntary observatories, Demagiri has sent in returns of very doubtful value. Durbhanga for some time also did bad work, which was only stopped by the temporary withdrawal of the observer's special allowance of Rs. 5 per month, and in the last case it was shown that the work at Bankoora was not carried on very satisfactorily by an inspection made in April 1886.

It is certain that some definite ruling as proposed by the Government of India is necessary, as it is very seldom that the officers placed in charge of voluntary meteorological observatories show any real and tangible interest in their work. It would, however, be unfair to the large body of medical officers and Civil Surgeons to state that they take no interest in the meteorological work of their districts, but it is probably within the mark to say that the medical officers who take an active interest in this work, and who really see that the meteorological observers under them carry out strictly the rules of this department, are less numerous than those who are content to let things go on without an active supervision. The department certainly owes much to those medical officers who thus take or have taken a zealous interest in the meteorological work, but if all supervising officers acted in the same way, there would be less cause for complaint as to the quality of the observations from some of the stations than is actually the case.

A recent order of the Government of Bengal having relieved the Civil Surgeons' clerks at the district head-quarters of the necessity of taking additional thermometric observations for submission to the Commissioners of Divisions as was formerly the case, the medical officers have practically now no other means of studying the relation of diseases, &c., in connection with meteorology except by relying on the statistics sent in to the Meteorological Department, and therefore even from their own point of view, no less than from the necessity of sending accurate meteorological information for the use of Government, they should use every effort to secure the correct and punctual observation of all the meteorological elements in their districts.

In the case of the second class stations where Civil Surgeons received an allowance for supervision, and where the observers are paid, as a rule there has been little ground for complaint. In the third and provincial third class stations, where in many instances Civil Surgeons or Assistant Surgeons or Engineers are honorary Superintendents, and where the observers are in all cases paid, the work of superintendence is not so energetically performed, and there is in some cases room for improvement; but the observers being paid, a tangible hold can be obtained to secure accurate and good work. Finally, when both the Superintendents and the observers are not paid for their work, the quality of the returns has been in many instances so bad as to be of more than doubtful value.

The conclusion therefore suggests itself that either the principle on which these voluntary observatories was sanctioned should be rigorously enforced, or that some nominal allowance should be fixed so as to secure a tangible hold on the observer to ensure the correctness of the returns. Further addition to the list of volunteer observatories will probably have to be made with great caution until such time as the value and the usefulness of accurate scientific observations in meteorology is thoroughly appreciated, as it is for instance in many European countries, where private observatories are very numerous and where such observations can be relied on.

Rain-recording stations.—The scheme for the development and extension of the rainfall registration of the province, and more particularly the extension of rain registering stations to districts which have hitherto been unrepresented, which was submitted to Government at the beginning of the past official year, was sanctioned, and 73 additional rain-recording stations have been opened. The dates on which these stations began to send in reports are given in the table below:—

The number of stations reporting rainfall in 1884-85 was 172, and during the year this number was increased to 244 stations. The rules for the registration of rainfall framed in this office were somewhat expanded and reprinted, and the new rules were translated into Orya, Urdu and Bengali, in order that they might be clearly understood by men in remote places and who have very little knowledge of the English language. By this means, and by the ready and hearty co-operation of the various officers of Government, the Postmaster-General, the Inspector-General of Registration, and the various Magistrates and Deputy Commissioners of districts, the extensions were able to be carried out completely and fairly rapidly, and satisfactory returns are now received from the great majority of the 244 stations and the rainfall registration of the province is being carried on with fair accuracy and with considerable punctuality. The rainfall station of Hookitolla was swept away by the storm of 23rd September, and the raingauge at Jajpore was blown over. The former station remains therefore suppressed, but the rainfall registration at the latter was resumed from the 27th October 1885.

The very important subject of the conditions under which registration was carried on at the old rain-recording stations was taken up during the year, and question-papers were sent out to all stations, in order to determine the exact pattern of instrument in use at the various stations, the diameters of the gauges, and whether they were provided with the proper measuring glasses for such gauge, the nature of the exposure of the gauge and other important points, such as proximity of buildings, trees, &c.

The position of the instruments at Alipore Jail and Bongong had to be changed. The instruments at Dinagepore and Jehanabad (Hughli) had to be re-set as the mouth of the funnel was below one foot from the ground. In the case of the Alipore Jail it was found that the instrument had been removed some little time previously to the top of a two-storied building, 30 feet above the ground, without any reference to this department. It has since been placed on the ground in a well-exposed place. At the stations Raigunge and Sewan, the gauges were found to be much too close of trees or buildings to give any satisfactory record. At Chittagong the raingauge is at present on the roof of a single-storied building. It has been there since 1879. It was previously in a garden. As the houses are generally situated upon hills the raingauge was allowed to remain in this position pending a visit to the station.

It appeared that the gauges in use generally are of the Symon's pattern and of 5-inch diameter, with the exception of the following stations where instruments of larger diameter of funnel are in use. They are—

Kooshtea	8″	Churamon (Dinagepore) ...	8″
Patuakhally	9″	Bagdogra (Nilphamari) ...	8″
Madaripore	8″	Sitamari	8″
Nagong (Rajshahye) ...	8″	Motihari	8″
Mohadebpore (Dinagepore) ...	8″

At the stations of Dum-Dum and Semtagarh (Hazaribagh district), it would appear that Howard's raingauge is in use—consisting of a funnel to catch the rain and a Winchester quart bottle to receive and collect it.

As the same raingauges have been in use for a long time at these stations, no new instruments have yet been ordered for them, but enquiries are being made whether it is not possible to replace them by more reliable instruments. It was also ascertained that at Sherepore the funnel of the raingauge had been lost, and that it had been replaced by one locally made. It was found, however, that the funnel was only 4·8 inches in diameter, and this has been in use since December 1879. A correction will therefore be made in the mean yearly rainfall for this station to arrive at the correct normal data. A new instrument was of course provided for Sherpore. At Purulia there was no measure glass for the raingauge, but the fall was measured by means of an apothecary's fluid measure glass in drachms and ounces, and these were converted into corresponding inches according to a table supplied by the office some years before. A new measure glass has since been supplied.

Instruments.—The following tables show the number of instruments that have been broken or lost or rendered unserviceable during the year 1885-86 at the imperial and provincial observatories, and of the instruments supplied to them during the year:—

So far as can be judged there is not a single instance of breakage of any instrument due to the wilful neglect of the observers at any of the imperial stations. The return shows that in a few cases some of the instruments had to be changed for defects or for injury by storms or by the earthquake. At the provincial stations also the breakages have been almost nil. So that practically speaking it may be asserted that every possible care was taken by the majority of the observers of the instruments entrusted to them.

Office establishment.—There has been no change in the office establishment during the year, and on the 31st March 1886 it consisted of the following clerks:—

Baboo Chandi Charan Chatterjee, Head-clerk and Inspector of Observatories
" Purna Chandra Mookerjee, second clerk.
" Nibaran Chandra Chatterjee, third "
" Kamini Mohun Bose, Tabulator.
" Debendra Nath Banerjee, "
" Joggeswar Roy, "
Baboo Bireswar Mookerjee, Tabulator.
" Jati Lal De, "
" Rakhal Das Chakerbutty, "
" Ashutosh Roy Chowdhuri, "
" Hem Chandra Gosami, "
" Haridas Mozumdar, "
" Nagendra Nath Paul, Draftsman.

The office establishment under the able superintendence of the head-clerk, Baboo Chandi Charan Chatterjee, has worked exceedingly well throughout the year, and the work of reduction and tabulation of observations has gone on so smoothly that all the regular reports published by this office have been issued completely and punctually on the dates on which they were due.

The following are the regular reports and maps which were issued by the office:—

(a) The Bengal Daily Weather Report from 20th April to 7th of November and the Bay of Bengal Weather Report throughout the year.

(b) The weekly and monthly Meteorological and Rainfall Reports for the province published in the Calcutta Gazette.

(c) Three sets of three rainfall charts monthly during the south-west monsoon period, 1885 (i.e., from May to November), showing by colours—

(1) The actual distribution of rainfall for the same month.

(2) The variation of the actual from the average rainfall, indicating whether it was in excess or in defect, and the amount of such excess or defect.

(3) The variation of the actual from the average expressed as a percentage of the normal fall.

The three sets were all drawn and coloured by hand. One set was forwarded to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department, a second to the Sanitary Commissioner, and the third was kept for office reference.

(d) Sets of tables giving the average and actual rainfall and the difference between the actual and average rainfall (or variation) for each month of the year 1885 and for the whole year at 244 rainfall-recording stations. These returns were published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Three sets of additional charts were made showing the rainfall over Bengal during the monsoon period, and the variation from normal expressed as a percentage. These were all drawn and coloured by hand, and submitted to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department and the Sanitary Commissioner. One set is kept in the office for reference.

During the monsoon months, May to November, a daily chart was prepared shewing the meteorological condition obtaining over Bengal as communicated to the office from the various observatories by telegram. These charts are filed in the office for reference.

A short summary of the weather for the year up to the close of the monsoon period, and dealing more particularly with the distribution of the monsoon rains, was drawn up and submitted for the information of Government. Also a full summary of the meteorological characters of the year 1884 was prepared and submitted as usual to the Government of Bengal.

With the various extensions in the department, the work of the Central office has increased very largely, and it has become very trying for the office staff to keep pace with the rapidly increasing work without increased assistance. During the year 1885, 2,268 letters were received and 3,125 letters issued, or 5,393 letters in all docketted and filed for reference, or 2,896 more than the average number of the past five years. The reduction and tabulation of the 10 A.M. and 4 P.M. observations taken at the 23 imperial stations, and of the 10 A.M. observations taken at 25 provincial third class stations, and also of the daily synoptic readings taken at the observatories of Patna, Chittagong, Sibsagar, Dhubri, Hazaribagh, and Cuttack, have all been steadily maintained.

Of the provincial observatories, 22 stations have now supplied data for more than three years, and it will be necessary to have all the observations taken from 1883 entered in books for reference, and in such a manner that the mean pressure, maximum and minimum temperature and rainfall for any day of the year at any of these stations can be at once obtained. The entry of the rainfall observations taken at the recently-established 73 revenue stations will have to be undertaken in a similar manner to the preceding form to complete rainfall records for the office

The amount of work which has now to be done by the office is such that it is just as much as the staff can possibly manage, and such also that the presence of inferior workers among the clerks could not be tolerated. Any further increase of work will certainly necessitate a slight enlargement of the office staff; but as there has recently been a large saving in the cost of the department by the reduction of the second to third class stations, this additional cost could be easily made up. The reduction of the second to third class stations has in fact thrown additional work on the office in the way of tabulation, and it would certainly be fair if a portion of the saving were applied to the strengthening of the office staff while another portion might most profitably be employed in the establishment of additional observatories in the unrepresented districts of Bengal. Three or four additional observatories could be utilized most advantageously.

With an office establishment, every member of which has worked with zeal and intelligence, and where the staff, as has frequently been the case, has been kept overtime and the work has been done without complaint by all, it would be certainly invidious to distinguish any one as being more active and diligent than others in the office, and I therefore cannot single out any cases of individual merit.

Storm signals.—The most noticeable storm of the year was a small, but extremely violent cyclone on 22nd September, which passed through Orissa, and thence through Chutia Nagpur into Behar. It gave very little warning of its formation, and no certain warning of the direction of its movement, or of what precise part of the coast it was approaching. Orders were given at 0-45 A.M. of the 22nd to hoist day signal No. 5 at daylight at the signal stations of Saugor Island, Diamond Harbour, and Mud Point, which indicated the existence of a cyclonic storm of small extent in the Bay of Bengal, which would probably reach and cross the coast of the Bay south of a line joining Chittagong and False Point. This signal was changed at 2-55 P.M. for signal No. 8 followed by night signal No. 1. The Port Officers at Chandbali, Balasore, and Calcutta were informed accordingly. This signal remained hoisted till 8 A.M. of the 23rd. The centre of this storm passed over False Point at about 6-30 A.M. on the 22nd, and by its violence and by the severe storm wave, by which it was accompanied, did much damage, and caused much loss of life.

A number of smaller cyclonic storms occurred during the prevalence of the south-west monsoon over the Bay, the majority of them being generated over the sea area, but a few of them were formed over the land. These storms were about 23 in number, viz. 2 in June, 4 in July, 9 in August, 4 in September, 2 in October, and 2 in November. The majority of them were more or less feeble, and in most instances only gave heavy rain, but a few gave rise to strong winds and bad weather. The following is a list of all those which are known to have occasioned rather high wind and rough sea in the Bay :—

1. Storm of June 15th to 19th.—This was a comparatively feeble storm, but it remained almost stationary for some time, the centre moving slowly from the north-east corner of the Bay over the Sunderbuns to the north or north-west of Midnapore, until it reached the Chutia Nagpur hills, where it broke up. During its passage onward heavy rain fell over South Bengal and Orissa, and the influence of this depression was felt so far as Gopalpore. The sea along the west coast of the Bay up to this station was very rough. The storm was not, however, thought to be sufficiently severe to necessitate the hoisting of warning signals.

2. Storm of June 25th to 27th.—This depression was formed at the head of the Bay, or over the Sunderbuns, a little to the east or south-east of Saugor Island. It moved slowly towards the Balasore coast and then passed inland. Heavy rain accompanied the advance of this small storm. Fairly strong winds were also reported, the wind velocity at Saugor Island being 32 miles per hour on the 27th. As the storm was passing inland and was of small intensity, it did not justify the hoisting of signals in the river stations.

3. The False Point cyclone has been alluded to before.

4. Storm of October 12th to 15th.—It formed off the Madras coast about the 10th, and travelling parallel to the coast line just reached the Sunderbuns on the 14th and 15th, and then broke up. Day signal No. 7, warning signal followed by night signal No. 1 was hoisted from the morning of the 14th at 7-30, and the signals were lowered at 12-45 of the 15th.

It may perhaps be noticed in connection with this storm that one or two steamers which put out to sea from Saugor on the morning of the 14th, apparently notwithstanding the hoisting of the storm signals, had to put back again into Saugor on account of bad weather.

5. Storm of November 1st to 3rd.—The weather became unsettled in the south of the Bay off Negapatam on the 1st. These conditions developed into a cyclonic storm of moderate intensity, which reached the coast between Madras and Masulipatam on the 3rd, and passed inland in a northerly or north-westerly direction. The disturbance was rather large and diffused, and the whole of the western stations of the coast area were affected by it. The Meteorological Repoters of Madras and Bombay were telegraphed to at 2-20 P.M. of the 2nd November, notifying the approach of the storm.

6. Cyclone or cyclonic storm of November 14th to 23rd.—The first intimation of the cyclone was received from the unsettled condition of the weather at Diamond Island on the 14th. The cyclone appears to have gradually formed off the Ceylon coast between Trincomalee and Negapatam on the 17th. The Port Officers at Bombay and Madras were telegraphed to. The storm then travelled slowly northwards, and its centre was off the coast between Madras and Negapatam at 10 A.M. of the 18th. Information was telegraphed to the Port Officers at Madras, Masulipatam, Coconada and Vizagapatam. It progressed slowly in a north-easterly direction on the 19th, and moved towards the Aracan coast, and when it was in the centre of the Bay to the west of Diamond Island, telegrams were sent to the Port Officers, Chittagong, Akyab, and Rangoon on the 20th, apprising them of the probable approach of the storm. The storm was opposite Akyab at 10 A.M. of the 22nd, information of which was sent to the Port Officers at Akyab and Chitttagong, and it was stated that the storm was moving in a northerly or north-easterly direction. At midnight of the 22nd the Port Officer at Chittagong was ordered to hoist night warning signal No. 3, to be followed by day signal No. 1. Danger signal No. 2 was also hoisted at the Calcutta Port Approaches at 5 A.M. of the 23rd. These signals were taken down in the afternoon, when the storm had passed inland near Chittagong, where it broke up.

Daily Weather Report.—The Bay of Bengal reports of the storm signal service were published every day without any break during the year. The arrangement under which the report forms were supplied last year by the Survey of India Department, Lithographic Branch, was continued this year also. There has been no change in the number (20) of the reporting stations over the Bay area. The telegrams were received very regularly from almost all the stations. The telegrams from False Point were of course wanting for the time during which the telegraphic communication was interrupted owing to the damage caused to the telegraph lines by the cyclone at False Point in September 1885.

Mr. V. Nursing Rao has again favoured the department with the daily observations taken at Vizagapatam, the telegrams from which stations are received very punctually. The thanks of the department are therefore due to him for his continued valuable assistance in connection with the Storm Signal Service.

This report was supplied to 39 Government officers and 22 subscribers, paying at the rate of Rs. 2 a month. The receipts from subscribers during the year have covered the cost of printing the reports in this office and of distributing them. There was a balance of Rs. 76-9-9 at the end of the year 1885-86, which was kept in hand in order to meet repairs to the Lithographic Presses, &c.

The Bengal Daily Weather Reports were published last year during the period 20th April to 7th November. The number of stations which furnished observations for this report during the year was 37 against 32 of the preceding year. These reports were published and issued to 99 Government officials and 19 subscribers, as compared with 101 officers and 3 subscribers during the previous year. Most of the new subscribers are mercantile firms, and it would therefore appear that this report is becoming more appreciated by the general body of merchants in Calcutta.

In my remarks under this head in the last Administration Report, I pointed out the desirability of including the telegraphic observations of the Assam stations in these reports, in order that the meteorology of Bengal and Assam could be discussed as a whole. With the addition of the Assam stations the reports would become far more comprehensive and reliable, and greater grasp would be obtained of the conditions on which the meteorology of Bengal depends. In addition, too, if these reports were included, the Bengal report would become valuable to the Assam Government, while at present it is of no practical value. Further, the addition of the Assam, and Cachar stations would render the report valuable to a very considerable section of the merchants of Calcutta, or to all those who are directly or indirectly interested in the tea industry, and I have little doubt such an addition would considerably add to the general usefulness of the report, to its popularity, and to the number of its subscribers. I have both during last year and this year received applications from several merchants and firms in Calcutta, asking me to incorporate the rainfall statistics of the Assam and Sylhet districts, and the general meteorological condition of these areas in the Bengal reports, but I regret I could not meet their requirements. Before doing so it would be necessary for Government to sanction the expenditure of the cost of telegrams and postage from these Assam stations, and to make other necessary arrangements; and if His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor thinks this addition desirable, I shall be prepared to state the additional cost for telegrams, &c. Practically the whole of the additional cost would be in telegraphic charges. The cost would not be large for taking that three or four stations would report to the office for seven months, at the outside the cost would only be Rs. 840 per annum. This additional cost should scarcely fall on the Bengal Government alone, and probably the Assam Government might be inclined to contribute a fair proportion of the cost to carry out the work, by which undoubtedly a more accurate and comprehensive idea of the meteorology of Assam could be obtained than is at present possible. It would also have the very great advantage of giving a knowledge of the weather condition of Assam almost up to date, which knowledge is at present not obtainable, except in a modified way in the report published at Simla.

There would be absolutely no difficulty in arranging to carry on the work beyond the financial difficulty, for, as is well known, the Assam meteorological stations are under the superintendence of the Bengal Reporter.

Special work.—During the year Mr. Eliot's paper giving an account of the south-west monsoon storm of the 12th to the 17th May in the Bay of Bengal at Akyab, which was in the course of publication in the latter part of 1884-85, has been completed. This was printed in volume IV, part I of the Indian Meteorological Memoirs.

The disastrous cyclone at False Point in September 1885 was of peculiar interest. I have, as far as possible, compiled materials for the discussion of the storm, and the report is in fair progress. I hope to be able to see it through the press during the current year.

Expenditure.—The following statement gives the expenditure on account of the Bengal Meteorological Department during the year 1885-86, and the total grants sanctioned by Government under each of the various heads:—

Head of Expenditure.	Actual expenses incurred during 1885-86.	Budget grant for 1885-86.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Meteorological Reporter's allowance	5,400 0 0	5,400 0 0
Office establishment	6,397 9 0	6,138 0 0
Office rent (included in the India Office budget)	.....	.....
Observers — Telegraph masters, &c.	2,632 9 1	10,560 0 0
Observers — Native observers	3,980 0 0
Observers — Provincial observers	2,780 14 11
Messengers' allowances	108 0 0	108 0 0
Allowances to Superintendents of Observatories	1,260 0 0	1,440 0 0
Central Office.
Contingent and office furniture	822 8 3	750 0 0
Postage	1,914 9 0	1,900 0 0
Telegraphic messages	16,500 14 0	17,000 0 0
Travelling allowances	1,051 1 0	750 0 0
Observatories.
Building and repairs	1,283 1 11	1,200 0 0
Contingent	82 14 9	98 0 0
Total	44,112 1 11	45,644 0 0

The sanctioned number of observatories was in full work during the year, although in the case of two provincial stations the work began a little late.

The budget allotment has therefore been almost spent out. There is still a saving of Rs. 1,532, but this is mainly owing to the fact of the reduction of the second class observatories to the condition of third class stations with a reduced allowance for the observers, and with no allowance for the Superintendents, and also to the withdrawal of the assistant observers in five observatories from the 1st January 1886.

The figures in the statement printed above give the total expenditure for the year as shown in the books of this office, but the statement does not include the cost of instruments supplied to the observatories by the Indian Meteorological Department, nor the cost of stationery supplied to the Central office, nor the cost of printing the meteorological returns in the Gazette or otherwise, nor does it include the cost of the forms required in the Meteorological office, which are provided by the Bengal Secretariat Press.

CALCUTTA, the 6th July 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 2ND OF JULY 1886.

THE weather during the past week has been of ordinary monsoon character, though perhaps the indications point to the monsoon current being up to the present time somewhat weaker than usual. There have been during the week the usual small oscillations of pressure and of temperature, and also the shifting of the wind directions has been rather strongly noticeable, due probably to the preponderance or strengthening of one or other of the two great branches of the monsoon current. This action usually commences quite at the end of June or the beginning of July, and the meteorological character of the present year has therefore been normal in this respect. At the commencement of the week under review the wind directions over the whole province were more or less westerly, probably due to an extension of the Bombay branch of the monsoon current, while at the same time rather strong winds were blowing from the Bay of Bengal, as evidenced by the strength of the winds at the coast stations. The westerly element in the wind directions, however, only continued strongly marked during the first two days of the week, and on Monday, the 28th, there was a sudden change, and owing probably to an increase in the strength of the Bay of Bengal current, winds became south-easterly and easterly over the greater part of the province, particularly at the interior stations. At the close of the week, however, on Friday, the 2nd, the westerly winds again re-appeared at a few stations, but they did not form at all an important feature in the wind systems of the province, and practically winds have been southerly at the southern stations, south-easterly at the eastern stations, and easterly at the northern stations for the last five days of the week.

Conditions were, during the interaction of the wind currents, rather favourable to heavy rainfall over a considerable part of the province, and at individual stations some particularly heavy falls have been reported. The conditions of interaction and therefore of increased precipitation, were perhaps most pronounced in the eastern, northern and central districts, and therefore these areas have generally received rainfalls rather in excess of the normal. On the other hand, the comparative weakness of the general monsoon current during the week is shown by the deficient rainfalls in Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, and South Behar.

The changes of pressure have been generally small and of the usual oscillatory character; on the Saturday pressure was falling slowly, but for the following three days pressure rose, the rise on the 28th being decidedly rapid, particularly in North Bengal, where there had previously been an area of comparatively low pressure; for the next two days pressure fell, but not so rapidly as it had previously risen, while again on Friday, the 2nd of July, pressure had commenced to rise. The tendency of the changes has therefore been to continue the general excess pressure reported in the previous week. The mean pressure for the week at all stations has thus been 0·056″ above the normal, and the distribution of the excess has been fairly equal.

Rainfall having been fairly copious and very general during the week, the temperatures recorded have usually been decidedly low, and temperature over the greater part of the province has been slightly below the normal. Thus East Bengal, North Behar, South Behar and Chutia Nagpur all report temperatures below the normal, the greatest defect being in South Behar, where it has equalled 1·3°. On the other hand, in South-West Bengal, the mean temperature has been 0·5° above the normal, and in Orissa it has been 3·8° above the normal. For the whole province the mean temperature has been 0·3° above the normal.

Rainfall has been in excess of the normal in East Bengal, North Bengal, South-West Bengal, and North Behar; it has been in defect of the normal in South Behar, Chutia Nagpur and Orissa. North Behar has received 163 per cent. of the usual amount for the week; North Bengal has received a fall equal to 138 per cent. of the normal; in East Bengal the fall has equalled 154 per cent of the average fall, and in South-West Bengal the fall has been 108 per cent. of the normal. On the other hand, South Behar has registered a fall equal to 80 per cent. of the normal, and Chutia Nagpur also a fall equal to 80 per cent. of the usual amount, while, finally, Orissa has only received an amount averaging 31 per cent. of the normal. The rainfalls in most of the districts have been heavy, as is shewn by the fact that in East Bengal, North Bengal and North Behar the fall has averaged from four and five inches; in Chutia Nagpur, South-West Bengal and South Behar the fall has been between two and three inches, and in Orissa only a little more than an inch of rain has fallen.

Some particularly heavy falls have taken place at certain stations and in certain districts. In the division of Orissa the fall, as seen above, has been scanty, and this remark applies equally to both districts and stations. In South-West Bengal most districts have only received moderate falls, but Bagirhat in the Khoolna district has registered no less than 13·22 inches during the week, while Lalgola (Moorshedabad district), Beerbhoom, Kooshtea, and Jehanabad (Hooghly district) have registered between four and five inches. In East Bengal Fenny has received 11·24 inches in the week, Rangamatti (Chittagong Hill Tracts) 9·08 inches, and Satkanya (Chittagong district) 9·84 inches in the first four days of the week, while the following stations have received more than six inches:—Perozepore (Backergunge), Naraingunge, Moonshigunge, and Netrokona. In North Bengal the Rajshahye, Rungpore, Julpigoree, Darjeeling Hill, and Cooch Behar districts have received heavy rain; Buxa has reported 25·17 inches, and Julpigoree 16·45 inches, while the ollowing stations in this division have received more than six inches in the week :— Rampore Beauleah, Nattore, Bagdogra, Ulipore, Alipore Duar, Mickligunge, Darjeeling, and Silliguri. In North Behar the Purneah and Durbhunga districts have received very heavy rain; thus Madhubani (Durbhunga district) has registered 11·11 inches, while the following stations have received more than six inches :—Kalimpong, Kissengunge Arrareah, Soopool, and Bahera. In South Behar, Buxar reports the heavy fall of 7·66 inches, and Daudnagur (Gya district) of 5·10 inches, while Arrah and Bhabooah report more than four inches. In Chutia Nagpur, however, rainfall has not been very heavy at any station or in any particular district.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 2nd of July 1886 :—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of former years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0°·6 higher; and, finally, the thermometer, which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA;
Calcutta, the 5th July 1886.

A. PEDLER,
For Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of India.

MEMORANDUM.

THE birth and death returns of the principal Municipalities in Bengal exhibit the following results for the week ending 19th June 1886 :—

1. That births and deaths were registered in these Municipalities in the proportions per 1,000 of population of 15·6 and 24·3, respectively, as opposed to 16·0 and 22·8 per 1,000, respectively, during the preceding week ending 12th June, indicating an improvement in the registration of deaths.

2. That these events were recorded in the highest proportions in the following Municipalities :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Chittagong	30·5	Patna	50·6
Durbhanga	29·9	Gya	44·4
		Bhagulpore	38·0
		Durbhanga	31·5

3. That the diseases specified in the table appended to this memorandum furnish the death- rates exhibited below, in contrast with the results of the preceding week :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	19th June 1886.	12th June 1886.
Cholera	2·5	2·1
Small-pox	·1	·1
Fever	10·2	8·7
Bowel-complaints	3·9	3·5
Injury	·4	·9
Other causes	7·1	7·2

denoting mainly that there was a sensible enhancement of mortality from fever.

4. That of the death-causes above indicated, while bowel-complaints proved noticeably fatal only in the Patna town, viz. at the rate of 9·7 per 1,000 of population, and the casualties from small-pox and injury were nowhere conspicuously large, cholera, fever, and the maladies classed under the head of "Other causes," caused the highest mortality in the following Municipalities :—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.
Patna	13·6	Chittagong	23·5	Narainganj	20·7

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans, above alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

HUGHLI RIVER APPROACHES.

Alterations in character of lights.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 82. of 22nd December 1885, issued from this Department, on intended alterations in the character of the lights exhibited by the undermentioned light-vessels, approach to Húghli river—

The Port Commissioners, Calcutta, have intimated that on the 1st July 1886 the following alterations have been made :—

(1) Pilots' Ridge Light-vessel.

The light of Pilots' Ridge Light-vessel is a single flashing white light every minute, the duration of each flash being about ten seconds, and the eclipse fifty seconds.

This light will only be shown from 15th March to 31st October inclusive. A blue light will be burnt every hour between 7 P.M. and 5 A.M.

(2) Eastern Channel Light-vessel.

The light of Eastern Channel Light-vessel is a single flashing white light every thirty seconds, the duration of each flash being about five seconds, and the eclipse about twenty-five seconds.

During the S.-W. monsoon, or from 15th March to 31st October, a blue light will be burnt every half hour between 7 P.M. and 5 A.M. In the N.-E. monsoon, or from 1st November to 14th March, a blue light will be burnt every hour between 7 P.M. and 5 A. M.

By direction of the Government of Bengal,

ARTHUR W. STIFFE, Captain, I.M.,
Port Officer of Calcutta.

PORT OFFICE, Calcutta, the 5th July 1886.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 24th June 1886.—In modification of the notification dated the 18th August 1879, published at page 841, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 20th idem, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to declare, under section 6, Act XII of 1875, that from the 10th July 1886 the southern boundary of the Port of Calcutta shall be a line drawn from a masonry pillar placed at the mouth of the Budge-Budge khal to a pillar on the Howrah side of the river Hooghly bearing north-west of the first-named pillar.

R. H. WILSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 24th June 1886.—In the exercise of the powers conferred on the Local Government by section 11 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878, the Lieutenant-Governor hereby appoints, with effect from the 10th July 1886, the wharf and landing-stages situated on the east bank of the Port of Calcutta at Budge-Budge to be the place for the landing and shipping of petroleum. The wharf shall extend from the northern boundary of the premises of the Budge-Budge Jute Mills Company on the south to the Ferry Ghât at the village of Budge-Budge on the north.

R. H. WILSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 24th June 1886.—In supersession of the notifications of the Government of Bengal, dated the 18th August 1879 and 29th November 1881; it is hereby notified for general information that the limits of the Port of Calcutta, and of the navigable river and channels leading thereto, as fixed with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, shall, with effect from the 10th July 1886, be severally as described below.

Port boundaries.

The limits of the port shall be—

On the north.—A line drawn from the boundary pillar at the Cossipore Gun Foundry Ghât to a point on the opposite side at Ghoosery.

On the south.—A line drawn from a masonry pillar placed at the mouth of the Budge-Budge khal to a pillar on the Howrah side of the river Hooghly bearing north-west of the first-named pillar.

So much of Tolly's Nullah as lies to the west of a line drawn across the Nullah, 25 feet to the west of Hastings' bridge.

The limits of the port include to the east and west so much of the river Hooghly and the shores thereof as are within 50 yards of high-water mark at spring-tides.

Port approaches.

The limits of the navigable river and channels leading to the port shall be—

On the north —The Port of Calcutta as above defined.

On the south.—A line drawn east and west from the Eastern Channel Floating Light-vessel. All parts of the navigable channels, called the Eastern and Western Channels, and of the river Hooghly, between the said limits and below high-water line at spring-tides.

N. B.—Within the above limits the port and the navigable river and channels leading to the port are subject to the jurisdiction of the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta, under the powers conferred upon them by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, by an order published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 5th April 1875, which vested them with the powers of Conservator of the Port, and by an order, dated the 29th November 1881, which vested them with the powers of Conservator of the navigable river and channels leading to the port.

2. Under the provisions of section 96 of Act V (B.C.) of 1870, all the port dues and fees payable under the provisions of Chapter VI of Act XII of 1875 (the Indian Ports Act) shall, with the exception of hospital port dues and pilotage fees, be received by the said Commissioners with effect from the 1st November 1881.

PORT RULES.

(For the Port of Calcutta within the jurisdiction of the Port Commissioners.)

Under the provisions of Act XII of 1875, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to sanction the following revised rules to be observed within the Port of Calcutta with effect from the 10th July 1886 :—

1. In these rules the word "daybreak" shall be held to mean half an hour before sunrise, and the word "dark" to mean half an hour after sunset.

Vessels not to move at night.

2. No vessel of the burthen of 200 tons or upwards coming into the port shall proceed above the house of the Superintendent of the Government Botanical Gardens (hereinafter called Garden House), or move from one place to another within the port above the Pillar at Panchpara / Garden House between sunset and day-break without the special permission of the Commissioners : provided that a vessel which has arrived above Garden House before sunset may at once proceed to a safe anchorage at any part of the port between Tolly's Nullah and Prinsep's Ghât.

Exception in favour of steam-tugs.

3. Steam-tugs having no vessel in tow shall be permitted to enter the port after sunset at their own risk, but they shall not proceed above Chandpal Ghât. Steam-tugs shall be held liable for any damage which they may cause by moving at night.

Vessels not to move up on the flood or down on the ebb.

*4. No vessel of the burthen of 200 tons or upwards shall steam, sail, or be towed up on the flood or down on the ebb, within the port above Garden House, without the special permission of the Commissioners ; and in cases where such permission is granted, the officers in charge shall be held strictly responsible for accidents which may occur in consequence of their taking the vessels up or down at a greater speed than is absolutely necessary in order to keep them under command; and in every case where such permission is granted, the speed of the vessel shall not exceed four miles an hour through the water.

Speed of vessels restricted.

5. No vessel shall steam, sail, or be towed up on the ebb or down on the flood, within the port above Garden House, at a speed greater than four miles an hour over the ground.

Vessels dropping up or down.

6. Vessels may at all times drop up or down the port above Garden House with their anchors on the ground. Vessels using their own steam power when dropping with the tide shall in no case proceed at a greater speed than is absolutely necessary in order to keep them under command.

* With reference to Port Rule No. 4, the following instruction for the guidance of Assistant Harbour Masters is published for general information :—Assistant Harbour Masters are forbidden, without a special order from the Harbour Master's office, to turn outward-bound vessels until they are below the Lower College Sand Buoy.

Vessels entering the port at neap tide.

7. Vessels entering the port at neap tides during the freshets are permitted to proceed above Garden House at slack-water at a speed not exceeding four miles an hour over the ground.

River and tug-steamers exempted.

8. River steamers and tug-steamers having no vessels in tow are permitted to move up on the flood or down on the ebb at their own risk, and at a speed sufficient to keep them under command; but in no case shall the speed within the port above Garden House exceed four miles an hour through the water.

Steering gear of steam-launches.

9. All steam-launches, steam cargo boats, steam ferry boats, and all other small vessels propelled by steam, plying within the limits of the port, shall have their steering gear so placed that the man steering can have a clear look-out ahead.

Speed of steamers inside moorings.

10. No steam-vessel of the character described in the preceding rule shall proceed at a greater rate of speed than four miles an hour when inside the moorings, and no such steam-vessel shall proceed at a greater rate of speed than four miles an hour anywhere within the port above Garden House after dark. Without the special permission of the Commissioners, no steamers carrying passengers shall be under weigh after dark between the limits of the landing-stages at Hastings on the south and Aheeretolah on the north.

Ferry-steamers may be exempted.

11. Special permission may be given by the Commissioners to ferry-steamers to move in the port otherwise than is prescribed in these rules, due limitation being laid down as to place and hours of plying and speed in each case.

Vessels having powder in excess of the authorized quantity to be kept outside the port.

12. No vessel shall have on board, within the limits of the port, more than 25lb of gunpowder as defined in the Act, of which not more than 15lb shall be common gunpowder, with 12 rockets and 12 blue-lights. All powder and combustible ammunition which vessels are by this rule permitted to keep on board shall be stored in a copper magazine out of risk of fire and explosion.

NOTE.—In these rules—

"Petroleum declared dangerous" means petroleum which the master of a ship has declared under rule 12 to be dangerous petroleum.

"Certificated petroleum" means petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the port of shipment, of such description as the Local Government may, from time to time, by written order prescribe, and to the effect that the petroleum is not dangerous petroleum.

"Uncertificated petroleum" means petroleum which the master of the ship has not declared under rule 12 to be dangerous petroleum, and which is not covered by certificate as aforesaid.

"Petroleum reported dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report, signed by the Chemical Examiner to Government and deposited in the office of the Port Commissioners, to be dangerous petroleum.

"Petroleum reported not dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report as aforesaid not to be dangerous petroleum.

Declaration in regard to petroleum.

13. The master of every ship bound for Calcutta and carrying petroleum shall, before reaching Budge-Budge, declare in writing to the pilot*—

(a) what quantity of petroleum the ship is carrying;

(b) whether any, and if so what, part of it is dangerous petroleum; and

(c) whether any, and if so what, part of it is certificated petroleum.

When the master declares that any petroleum is certificated petroleum, he shall produce to the pilot the certificates covering the same.

Dangerous petroleum to be landed at Budge-Budge.

14. A ship having on board more than 40 gallons of petroleum declared dangerous shall not proceed upwards beyond Budge-Budge; but such petroleum shall be landed at the petroleum wharf and shall be detained there pending the grant of an import license under section 4 of the Petroleum Act, or the orders of the Local Government for the disposal of the same.

Certificated petroleum in excess of 500 gallons to be landed at Budge-Budge.

15. A ship having on board more than 500 gallons of certificated petroleum, or more than 40 gallons of uncertificated petroleum, shall not proceed upwards beyond Budge-Budge; but such petroleum shall be landed at the petroleum wharf and detained there till the Chemical Examiner reports that it is not dangerous. This rule shall not apply to petroleum which is ordinarily used for lubricating or jute-batching purposes, and which has a flashing-point above 150° by Abel's test. On the master of a vessel producing a certificate that the petroleum which he has on board is all of this description, the ship may be brought up to the jetties and her cargo discharged in the ordinary manner, but the Commissioner of Police shall be entitled at any time to obtain samples of such petroleum for the purpose of having them tested.

Ship carrying less than 500 gallons may proceed.

16. A ship having on board only certificated petroleum, not exceeding 500 gallons, may proceed to any moorings in the Port of Calcutta, and there discharge the petroleum.

Procedure at the petroleum wharf.

17. (1) When, under the provisions of rules 14 and 15, any petroleum has been landed at Budge-Budge, the Superintendent of the petroleum wharf shall, within as short a time as possible, not exceeding 48 hours from the time of the petroleum being landed, obtain samples of the petroleum so landed.

* The pilot should deliver this declaration to the Harbour Master or his assistant when the latter comes on board.

constructed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light visible all round the horizon and at a distance of at least one mile. Vessels under weigh at night shall show the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade's Regulations.

Cargo and other boats to carry a light.

40. All coasting vessels, cargo-boats, bhurs, budgerows, up-country boats, and passenger boats, when under weigh on the river after dark within the limits of the port, shall carry a white light in a lantern in the forepart of the vessel, where it can be distinctly seen; and all steam-vessels shall show, when under weigh, the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade's Regulations.

Steamers occupying moorings not to move screws or paddles except under limitation.

41. Steam-vessels occupying moorings shall not turn their screws or paddles without giving sufficient warning of their intention to do so to boats in the vicinity; they shall not put full power on when trying their engines in the moorings, nor shall any trial under steam be permitted so long as a vessel is lying at the jetties.

Smoking and use of naked lights prohibited below the upper deck.

42. No person shall smoke or use naked lights of any description in the hold or between-decks of any vessel lying in the port, or in any dock within the port. Closed lanterns, burning candles or vegetable oil lights, secured by lock and key, and in charge of an officer of the vessel, shall alone be taken between-decks or into the hold.

Fires permitted only in galleys within stated hours.

43. Fires shall be permitted only in galleys or fire-places regularly constructed for the purpose; such fires to be kept alight only between daybreak and 9 P.M. Cooking fires shall not be allowed on board of vessels in dock.

Gunpowder and combustible matter not to be taken into dock.

44. All gunpowder shall be landed before a vessel is put into dock.

Proprietor of docks to take precautions against fire.

45. The proprietor of every dock shall keep on the premises a good fire-engine, with serviceable hose and fire-buckets ready for immediate use with a supply of water at hand.

Vessels to be provided with fire-buckets.

46. With a view to the extinction of fires, all vessels in port shall be provided with three buckets for every hundred tons of registered measurement up to 600 tons, and two additional buckets for every hundred tons above 600, provided that the total number of buckets shall not be required to exceed 50 in any vessel. One-half of the number of such buckets shall be left constantly hanging up on the quarter-deck or other convenient place.

Measures to be taken by vessels on the occurrence of a fire.

*47. When fire has broken out in any vessel, the officers in charge of all vessels in neighbouring moorings or anchorage shall furl their awnings, get their force-pumps ready for use, and prepare for slipping their cables and chains, seeing specially that the pins of the shackles can be immediately knocked out.

Precautions against indecent exposure.

48. The riverbank being a place of public resort, masters of vessels in moorings shall have the forecastles and heads of their vessels screened in, so as to avoid indecent exposure.

Lying at single anchor prohibited

49. No vessel shall lie at single anchor in the port unless a pilot or assistant harbour master is on board.

Signal of departure to be hoisted.

50. All vessels about to leave the port shall hoist the blue-peter at the fore at least 24 hours before leaving the moorings, and shall keep it hoisted until the pilot takes charge of the vessel to take her to sea.

Speed limited when passing bridge opening.

51. With the exceptions hereinafter noted, no vessel of or exceeding 200 tons burthen shall, without the special sanction of the Commissioners, move up or down the port through the ship opening of the Hooghly Bridge, except such vessel is propelled or towed by steam against the tide, and then only at such rate of speed, not exceeding four miles an hour over the ground, as is absolutely necessary to keep good steerage way. No river steamer shall pass through the opening with more than two vessels in tow.

Exceptions.—Tug and river steamers, when not towing or propelling other vessels, may drop through the bridge opening, under steam, head to tide.

River flats may be dropped or warped at slack water through the ship opening or through the 60-feet opening.

Vessels not to pass each other in the opening.

52. No steam-vessel shall attempt to pass any other vessel proceeding in the same direction whilst between the pontoons of the Hooghly Bridge.

Not more than two cargo-boats to be towed through the opening.

53. No steam-vessel shall have in tow more than two cargo-boats when proceeding through the bridge opening with the tide.

Steamers to sound whistle when passing.

54. All steam-vessels, when passing through the bridge opening, shall sound their whistles as a warning to other vessels.

* For the better security of vessels against damage or loss by fire, a steam floating fire-engine has been provided, and is always kept under steam, ready to proceed at once to any place where her services may be required. The fire-engine station is at Fort Point, where the vessel is moored, and where a look-out is kept day and night. In case fire breaks out on board vessel, notice should at once be sent to the fire-engine station.

Penalties.

55. Any person committing an infringement of any of the foregoing Port Rules shall be liable to the penalties prescribed by the Act.

Special rules for regulating the discharge and loading of gunpowder on ship-board.

Vessels not to enter port with excess powder on board.

56. All inward-bound vessels carrying gunpowder, the total quantity of which is in excess of 25lb, of which not more than 15lb shall be common gunpowder, with 12 rockets and 12 blue-lights, are prohibited from proceeding above Budge-Budge, and the master of any vessel lying within the port, or in the river above Budge-Budge, which shall have on board any gunpowder in excess of 15lb shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 34 of the said Act XII of 1875; provided that boats will be permitted to bring as far as Neemuck Mehal Ghât, under cover of a pass to be granted by the Commissioners, 50lb of gunpowder, the property of dealers and consignees.

57. All such gunpowder in excess of the prescribed quantity must be landed and deposited in the magazine at Moyapore.

Powder to be landed at magazine.

Magazine keeper to take charge.

58. The magazine-keeper will take charge of the gunpowder immediately on its being conveyed to the shore at Moyapore, and will deposit it in the magazine.

Boats provided for landing powder.

59. For the convenience of vessels having gunpowder on board, a properly constructed powder-boat will be always in attendance off the magazine for landing and shipping powder. No charge will be made for the use of the boat for landing ship's powder, but the responsibility of the keeper in respect of the powder will not commence until it is landed on the bank, and will cease as soon as it is shipped on board the boat. Every precaution will be taken to ensure the safety of the powder while in the boat, but the landing and shipping is at the risk of the vessel.

Charge made for landing trade powder.

60. Vessels bringing consignments of trade or Government powder will be liable to pay landing charges for the use of the boat if the magazine boat is used, and should passing vessels require the use of the boat to put out or receive ship's powder, such vessels must be accommodated before the boat can be used to discharge powder or ammunition brought as cargo.

Signal to be hoisted when powder-boat is required.

61. In order to avoid unnecessary detention, masters of vessels requiring the use of the powder-boat are required to hoist a flag at the fore-topmast head on coming in sight of the magazine, as a signal to the keeper to have boat and coolies in attendance.

Packages to be marked.

62. Masters of vessels are required to mark the names of their respective vessels on the barrels and packages of gunpowder previously to their being landed, and, if not marked, they will not be received by the magazine boat.

Artificial lights prohibited.

63. Gunpowder shall not be landed or received into the magazine when artificial lights are required to be used.

Receipt to be granted.

64. The magazine-keeper shall give to the master, or other person making the deposit, a receipt for the number of packages, and he shall be accountable to such master or other person for the re-delivery of such packages.

Clerk in attendance.

65. A native clerk will be always in attendance in the powder-boat, and will receive from the master the declaration required by section 30 of the Act, and grant the receipt specified in the foregoing rule.

Vessels in distress or otherwise prevented from landing powder.

66. If any vessel shall be prevented, by stress of weather, or by being in distress, from landing or depositing such gunpowder in excess of the quantity allowed as aforesaid, such vessel may be permitted to come up to the lower limits of the port, but shall not proceed above Metteabrooj Ghât, and the master of such vessel shall forthwith give notice to the Harbour Master of his having such gunpowder on board, and shall obey his directions relating to the same.

Vessels not to take powder on board within limits.

67. Masters of vessels outward-bound, who may require gunpowder for their outward voyage, shall not take gunpowder on board in any part of the river above Budge-Budge, with the exception of a quantity not exceeding 25lb., of which not more than 15lb. shall be common gunpowder, with 12 rockets and 12 blue-lights.

Ship's powder to be kept ready for shipment.

68. Masters of vessels who have deposited ship's powder at the magazine should inform the Harbour Master of the date on which the vessel will pass the magazine outward-bound, and on receipt of this information orders will be forwarded to the keeper to place the powder in the boat, and send it off in such time as to avoid any detention of the outward-bound vessel. Before delivering the powder, the receipt granted by the magazine-keeper must be given up.

Delivery from magazine into boats.

69. Delivery of powder into boats at the magazine for conveyance to Calcutta will only be granted upon orders issued from the office of the Port Commissioners.

70 No boat containing powder shall be allowed to proceed above Neemuck Mehal Ghât. All powder shall be landed at Neemuck Mehal Ghât, and no powder shall be landed at any other ghât, except with the special permission of the Commissioners.

Place of landing powder from boats

71. The two foregoing rules shall not apply to Government powder-boats, which will be allowed to enter the port and discharge their powder under the rules laid down by the Inspector-General of Ordnance.

Government powder exempted.

72 No smoking and no fire or light of any description shall be permitted on board of any boat having gunpowder or combustible ammunition on board.

No lights or fire allowed on boats carrying powder.

73. No powder shall be landed within the port at any time when artificial light is required to be used.

Landing after dark prohibited

SPECIAL RULE.

74. The provisions of sections 38, 39, 40, and 41 of the Indian Ports Act XII of 1875 have been specially extended to the Port of Calcutta and the approaches thereto, under the provisions of section 3 of the Act.

Extension of special sections of the Act

NOTIFICATION BY THE ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL, BENGAL.

STOCK CERTIFICATES.

As it does not appear to be generally known that Government Promissory Notes can be readily converted into Stock Certificates and re-converted into Promissory Notes at the option of the holders, and that Stock Certificate-holders enjoy certain special advantages, the attention of holders of Government Securities is drawn to the following particulars :—

1. Government Promissory Notes can be converted into Stock Certificates and re-converted into Promissory Notes at any time at the option of the holder.

2. The holders of Stock Certificates are not required to present them in person or by agent when the interest becomes due. On application made, interest will be paid to Stock Certificate-holders by warrants on any Government Treasury, which warrants will be sent by post, on the day the interest falls due, to the Stock Certificate-holders direct, or through the Treasury Officer, as they may desire.

3. Stock Certificates are not negotiable by endorsement, and are consequently of no value in the hands of a wrongful holder, and the risks arising from the possession of, or repeated transmission of, negotiable Securities, are thereby avoided.

4. In the event of the loss of a Stock Certificate by theft, fire, &c., a fresh Certificate will issue on satisfactory evidence of loss.

NOTE.—Further particulars can be obtained on reference to the Public Debt Offices, Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay.

PART IB.

ORDERS BY THE LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL.

MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL.

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd July 1886.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor intends, in the exercise of the power vested in the Local Government by section 351 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884, and on the recommendation of the Commissioners of the Commillah Municipality made at a meeting, to confirm the following bye-laws, which have been framed by the said Commissioners under section 350 of the said Act, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of publication of this notification :—

1. When the owners or occupiers of any land have been ordered, under section 200 of the Act, to cleanse any water-course, private tank, or pool therein, they may, in addition, be ordered to remove the weeds instead of accumulating them on the slopes or banks of the tank, water-course, or pool.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

2. Any person committing nuisance on or by the side of a public road, or on any public ground, or on the banks of such tanks as are open to the use of the public, within the limits of the Municipality, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

3. No person shall cut sods or grass or remove earth or grass from the margin of any public road or from any public drain.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

4. No person shall leave any truck, cart, or other vehicle on any public road or form any encampment on a public road or public ground.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 20. The penalty for continued infringement after notice shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 2 daily.

5. No person shall deposit, except for the purpose of temporary relief, any article or thing on any public road without the permission of the Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

6. All owners or drivers of carts laden with bricks or other materials shall be responsible for their being so secured that the contents may not fall on the road.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

7. No person shall, without the permission of the Commissioners, carry bamboos or long planks of wood at night along any of the public roads without sufficient lights accompanying them, except on bright moonlight nights.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 5.

8. No person shall, without the permission of the Commissioners, take more than ten head of cattle at one time along any of the public roads within the limits of the Municipality except by such routes as shall be fixed for the purpose by the Municipal Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 25.

9. No person shall slaughter kine or any other animal on or by the side of a public road.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 25.

10. Every carriage plying within municipal limits between dusk and dawn shall carry two conspicuous lights, and every cart, palkee, or other vehicle or elephant or camel shall carry one conspicuous light in front.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 20.

11. No person shall, without the permission of the Commissioners, take an elephant along any of the public roads within the limits of the Municipality except by such routes and during such hours as shall be fixed for the purpose by the Municipal Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 20.

12. No person shall allow any animal to stray into any public road, or picket, or, tether any animal so that it may, while so picketted or tethered, reach any public road.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

13. No person shall, without the written permission of the Commissioners, set up any obstruction in any nullah or water-course, and the Commissioners may order the removal of any such obstruction on grounds of public health. Spreading fishing nets and placing fishing traps in a public drain or water-course are included within the meaning of the word "obstruction."

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

14. Any person who shall break or cause to be broken any wall, fence, rail, or post constructed for the protection of any public well, tank, drain, or other excavation, or who shall break or cause to be broken any municipal lamp-post or lamp on the side of any public road shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 25.

NOTIFICATION.

The 24th June 1886.—It is hereby notified that the provisional rules for regulating the storage of petroleum at Matiabrooj, in the suburbs of Calcutta, which were published under notification dated the 23rd January 1886, at pages 17 and 18, Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 27th idem, are withdrawn with effect from the 10th proximo, and that the rules under section 9, Act VIII of 1881, which were published at pages 790 to 794, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 5th August 1885, shall be held to apply in their stead.

R. H. WILSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 24th June 1886.—In modification of the notification dated the 18th July 1882, published at pages 617-18, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 19th idem, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 7 of the Petroleum Act, 1881, and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following revised rules to regulate the importation of petroleum. They shall have effect from the 10th proximo.

PRELIMINARY.

1. (1) All words and expressions used in these rules and defined in the Act shall in these rules have the meanings respectively assigned to them by the Act.

(2) In these rules—

"Petroleum declared dangerous" means petroleum which the master of a ship has declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum.

"Certificated petroleum" means petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the port of shipment, or such description as the Local Government may, from time to time, by written order describe, and to the effect that the petroleum is not dangerous petroleum.

"Uncertificated petroleum" means petroleum which the master of the ship has not declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum, and which is not covered by a certificate as aforesaid.

"Petroleum reported dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report signed by the Chemical Examiner to Government, and deposited in the office of the Port Commissioners, to be dangerous petroleum.

"Petroleum reported not dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report as aforesaid not to be dangerous petroleum.

IMPORTATION AT CALCUTTA.

2. The master of every ship bound for Calcutta and carrying petroleum shall, before reaching Budge-Budge, declare in writing to the pilot*—

(a) what quantity of petroleum the ship is carrying ;
(b) whether any, and if so what, part of it is dangerous petroleum ; and
(c) whether any, and if so what, part of it is certificated petroleum.

Where the master declares that any petroleum is certificated petroleum, he shall produce to the pilot the certificates covering the same.

3. A ship having on board more than 40 gallons of petroleum declared dangerous shall not proceed upwards beyond Budge-Budge; but such petroleum shall be landed at the petroleum wharf, and shall be detained there pending the grant of an import license under section 4 of the Act, or the orders of the Local Government for the disposal of the same.

4. A ship having on board more than 500 gallons of certificated petroleum, or more than 40 gallons of uncertificated petroleum, shall not proceed upwards beyond Budge-Budge; but such petroleum shall be landed at the petroleum wharf and detained there till the Chemical Examiner reports that it is not dangerous. This rule shall not apply to petroleum which is ordinarily used for lubricating or jute-batching purposes, and which has a flashing point above 150° by Abel's test. On the master of a vessel producing a certificate that the petroleum which he has on board is all of this description, the ship may be brought up to the jetties and her cargo discharged in the ordinary manner, but the Commissioner of Police shall be entitled at any time to obtain samples of such petroleum for the purpose of having them tested.

* The pilot should deliver this declaration to the Harbour Master or his Assistant when the latter comes on board.

5. A ship having on board only certificated petroleum not exceeding 500 gallons may proceed to any moorings in the Port of Calcutta and there discharge the petroleum.

6. (1) When under the provisions of rules 3 and 4 any petroleum has been landed at Budge-Budge, the Superintendent of the petroleum wharf shall, within as short a time as possible, not exceeding 48 hours from the time of the petroleum being landed, obtain samples of the petroleum so landed.

(2) Every different quality of petroleum shall be separately sampled and when petroleum is certified to be of uniform quality, a sample shall be taken from not less than one case in every 10,000 cases.

(3) The Superintendent shall forthwith seal the receptacles containing the samples, and having labelled them with the name of the ship, the name of the consignee, and such other distinguishing marks as he shall deem necessary, shall forward them to the Chemical Examiner.

(4) The Chemical Examiner having tested them shall, within 24 hours after the receipt of the samples, sign a report declaring that they are or are not dangerous petroleum (as the case may be), and forward that report to the office of the Port Commissioners, and shall also send a copy of the same to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.

7. Petroleum which has not been reported under the last preceding rule not to be dangerous petroleum shall not be removed from the wharf, except in accordance with a license granted under section 4 of the Act, or under an order of the Local Government.

8. When the petroleum declared dangerous on board a ship amounts to more than 40 gallons, and is not covered by an import license granted under section 4 of the Act, and the master desires to proceed above Budge-Budge, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, grant to any person a license to possess that petroleum at such place for such time and subject to such undertaking by such person for the re-exportation of that petroleum at the expiration of that time as it thinks fit; and may, notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, permit that petroleum to be landed and delivered to that person in such manner and subject to such conditions as it thinks fit.

9. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum imported from the United Kingdom in iron drums, as part of a general cargo, when the certified flashing-point of such petroleum by Abel's test is above 80° Fahrenheit, provided that the quantity imported in any one ship does not exceed 2,000 gallons. A ship carrying only petroleum of this description may enter the port without any restriction, so far as the above rules are concerned and discharge its cargo in the ordinary manner. The Commissioner of Police shall, however, be entitled at any time to obtain a sample of such petroleum for the purpose of having it tested.

IMPORTATION AT OTHER PORTS.

10. The master of every ship conveying petroleum shall on entering a port in the Lower Provinces of Bengal other than the Port of Calcutta, give intimation of the quantity and description of the petroleum to the Magistrate of the district, and shall not allow more than three gallons of dangerous petroleum to be removed from the ship for delivery to any one person, except upon the production by the consignee or his agent of a license under section 4 or section 5 of the Act (as the case may be) to possess the same.

GENERAL.

11. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum comprised in a ship's stores and manifested as such, provided it is not of unreasonably large amount. If any question arises as to whether any petroleum manifested as ship's stores is of an unreasonably large amount, the decision thereon of the Port Commissioners in Calcutta and of the Magistrate of the district elsewhere shall be final.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT,—BENGAL.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 258.

The 7th July 1886.

THE following accounts and reports of the Road Committees of the districts of Burdwan, Bankoora, Beerbhoom, Midnapore, and Hooghly and Howrah for the cess year 1884-85, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, are published for general information.

D. B. HORN,
Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

No. 53, dated Burdwan, the 16th January 1886.

From—The Chairman, District Road Committee of Burdwan,
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual road cess report of works done and in progress during the cess year 1884-85, together with the detailed accounts of receipts and expenditure, prepared by the Vice-Chairman and examined and certified to by the Audit Sub-Committee.

2. The total demand and collections of cesses for the year will appear from a separate detailed report on the subject, which is being submitted from the collectorate side.

3. The year opened with a deficit of Rs. 0,635-7-11, and closed with a balance of Rs. 32,835-8-4. Particulars in detail of the receipts and expenditure will appear from the enclosed accounts. The above balance includes Rs. 16,733-4, being the unexpended balance of the Government grant (Rs. 25,000) made for relief works, and which will have to be refunded to Government.

4. It appears from the District Engineer's report that the construction of the road from Satgatcha to Muntesser was completed, and the following works were partially done during the year:—

(1) Constructing culverts on the Undal to Ukrah road.
(2) Constructing earthwork on the diversion line Dewangunge to Culna road.
(3) Collection of brick for bridging Choonee and Ningodah khalls on the Dewangunge to Culna road.

5. The existing trees planted on seven of the district roads were maintained, and clusters of trees were planted at a distance of 200 yards between the 21st to 34th miles of Burdwan to Culna road.

6. The repairs to all the roads undertaken are reported to have been completed within the year, though final payments for certain works were not made after the close of the year.

7. Rupees 9,500 were allotted for improving village roads in the district, of which Rs. 9,065-8-6 were spent, as shown below:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Sudder sub-division	3,182	0	0
Cutwa	2,423	12	9
Culna	2,000	0	0
Kaneegunge	1,459	11	9
Total ...	9,065	8	6

The whole of the above amount was spent through the Collector on relief works for the purpose of affording relief to the distressed people of the affected tracts.

8. In the beginning of October 1884 the Road Cess Committee had to start relief works in the distressed tracts of the district, for which Rs. 717-8-9 were spent from the funds of the Committee, as shown in the margin. In November 1884, Rs. 5,000 were granted by Government to the Committee for expenditure on relief works. This sum was placed by the Committee at the disposal of the Collector for drinking water-supply purposes, by excavating or re-excavating tanks or wells, &c. Of this sum, Rs. 4,223-7-8 were spent for the purpose for which it was given, and the balance has been refunded to the Collector. In February last a further grant of Rs. 20,000 was made by Government for relief works, of which Rs. 3,266-12 were also spent through the Collector on road works, leaving a balance of Rs. 16,733-4 in the hands of the Committee, plus Rs. 788-9 subsequently refunded to the Committee after the close of the year, and which also will be refunded to Government.

	Rs.	A.	P.

No. 15, dated Bankoora, the 3rd November 1885.

From—W. V. G. TAYLER, ESQ., Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Bankoora,

To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the annual report of the Bankoora District Road fund for the cess year 1884-85, together with the detailed accounts of receipts and expenditure for the same duly examined and certified to by the sub-committee of audit.

* * * * * * *

2. Committee.—The District Committee previously consisted of 26 members, but in consequence of several of them having been disqualified owing to their absence at six consecutive meetings, the personnel of the Committee was reduced to only 15 members at the commencement of the year under review—six official and nine non-official. It was, however, strengthened in December last by the appointment of six new members—vide Government of Bengal, in the Financial Department's No. 2072, dated the 4th December 1884, copy received with the Divisional Superintendent's No. 256 of the 8th idem. Towards the close of the year two members have again ceased to be such, having failed in their attendance at six consecutive meetings.

3. There were ten meetings of the District Committee during the year under report, at which an average of 7·7 members attended. The attendance of the official members was satisfactory, but that of non-officials was not quite so. It is worthy of mention that of all the non-official members Mr. Sceales is the only gentleman who was present at almost all the meetings, and took a really lively interest in the work done. This gentleman travels continually over a large portion of the district, and has consequently a thorough knowledge of the requirements thereof, and is personally concerned in the good state of the roads. It is such gentlemen that are wanted as members, whereas the greater number of non-officials either live at the sudder and seldom visit the mofussil, or reside in the mofussil and rarely leave their homes even to attend meetings, and consequently know little of what is needed in other parts of the district.

4. The Branch Committee met five times during the year of report. With the exception of the Vice-Chairman, Baboo Rameswar Sen, none of the members took much interest in the business of the Committee. The mofussil members have been reported to have attended the meetings very seldom, and two meetings had in consequence to be postponed for want of a quorum.

5. Levy of cess.—The road cess was levied at the maximum rate in the district during the year under report. It was realised on the whole without much difficulty from all revenue-paying and revenue-free estates, excepting the ghatwali estates. Out of the gross demand of Rs. 52,721 from lands and mines, Rs. 43,521 were realised up to the end of the year, leaving a balance of Rs. 9,076 unrealized.* Of this Rs. 2,178 were outstanding against ghatwali and Rs. 6,898 against revenue-paying and revenue-free estates.

* Excluding remissions, &c.

6. Revaluations.—Partial revaluations under the Cess Act, 1880, are still in progress in this district, and are being carried on by Baboo Siti Kanta Ghose, Deputy Collector.

(a) The sanction of the Board of Revenue and of the Government of Bengal was received at different times to re-value 501 estates, including separate accounts in this district (310 revenue-paying and 191 revenue-free). These 501 estates represent no less than seven-eighths of the sudder jumma of the revenue-paying parts, and five-eighths of the acreage of the revenue-free parts of the old district, and about $\frac{1}{10}$ of the transferred tracts.

(b) Besides entering 14 estates and 2,601 tenures in registers Nos. I and II, respectively, and issuing the same number of notices to the holders thereof, the Deputy Collector has received during the year under report 2,324 returns from the holders of estates and tenures, and has taken prompt action on each of them.

(c) He has completed the revaluation of 38 estates and 7,891 tenures during the year, against 81 estates and 4,011 tenures in the previous year. Besides, 14 estates have been exempted from assessment as being situated within the limits of the Bishenpur Municipality, and 49 rent-free and other tenures have been exempted. Twenty of these latter were below Rs. 5 in value, and 29 were rights of fisheries, exempted under Board's Circular No. 5 of January 1884.

(d) Thus up to the end of September 1885. 444 estates and 25,385 tenures (including rent-free tenures) have been valued and 25 estates have been exempted, leaving only 32 estates (including separate accounts) to be yet re-valued.

(e) All the above 444 estates and 25,385 tenures have been valued on returns, after due enquiry and testing of the returns, and not one was valued summarily as before.

(f) As stated in previous reports, 13,433 lakhiraj petitions under section 67 of Act IX (B.C.) of 1880 have been received in this district. Of the rent-free tenures covered by those petitions, 6,717 have been valued and 108 have been exempted from assessment up to the end of September 1885. Of these, 4,795 have been valued during the year under report. The above 6,717 lakhiraj tenures, as already stated, have been valued on returns, and the total annual value assessed thereon is Rs. 1,10,762, yielding a total cess of Rs. 6,922-10.

(g) It may be stated here that in the course of the valuation of those lakhiraj lands it has been found in many cases that lands other than lakhiraj, such as punchak paying, ghatwali, and other mal lands, as well as lakhiraj lands which were included in the original valuation, and for which cesses are being paid now, were erroneously entered in the lakhiraj petitions. These errors are being rectified now on application by the holders of such lands, while furnishing boundaries of their lands. Making all reasonable allowance for such errors, I have reason to expect that there will be a large increase of revenue (not less than Rs. 14,000) from the lakhiraj lands alone covered by said petitions.

(h) The procedure adopted by the Deputy Collector is the same as followed in the previous years. He has, by his usual scrutinizing enquiry and testing of the returns, been able to effect a large increase in the annual value of the khas lands. He has also been enabled to class 3,717 persons, who were wrongly returned as mere cultivating royts, as tenure-holders under section 26 of the Act, and thereby to secure an increase of Rs. 1,27,801* in the annual value of the lands.

* One lakh, twenty-seven thousand eight hundred and one only.
S. K. GHOSE,
Deputy Collector.

(i) Judging from the results of the estates and lakhiraj tenures valued up to the end of September 1885, there has been a net increase of Rs. 1,88,417† in the annual value. On the other hand, a decided relief was given to those suffering from summary taxation, as is evident from the fact that there has been a decrease of Rs. 21,614 in the annual value of the estates which were valued summarily at the time of the original valuation.

† One lakh eighty-eight thousand four hundred and seventeen only.
S. K. GHOSE,
Deputy Collector.

(j) The above increase of Rs. 1,8,417 is of course exclusive of the increase in the annual value of the tenures comprised in the estates, the revaluation of which has not yet been completed.

* One lakh eighty-eight thousand four hundred and seventeen only.
S. K. GHOSH,
Deputy Collector.

(k) Credit is due to the unflagging zeal of Baboo Site Kanta Ghose for this satisfactory state of affairs. The establishment under that officer has continued to work smoothly and well.

7. Works.—The following are the works of an important nature that were executed or in progress under the head original works.

8. Bankoora and Taldangra Road.—The construction of a bridge over a khal on the 6th mile of the road was sanctioned in May 1885, and let out in contract in the same month. In consequence of excessive rain no adequate progress could be made, and the Committee, on the application of the contractor, ordered the work to be deferred till the current cess year. The work has now been taken up.

9. Taldangra and Simlapal Road construction.—The construction of the first two miles of the road, which are the worst portions, was sanctioned by Government during the year. Formal possession of the lands required for the two miles has been given to the District Engineer since the close of the year, and the work will be commenced ere long.

10. A project for the construction of the remaining portion is under preparation by the District Engineer.

11. Indpore and Khatra Road.—The construction of the first five miles of this road from Khatra was completed before, but the final bill, amounting to Rs. 442-13-6, was paid during the year under review. Sanction to the construction of the remaining 9½ miles of the road from Rangamatia to Indpore was obtained from Government only at the latter end of the year. Arrangements for acquiring the required quantity of land are in progress.

12. Indas and Kutulpore Road.—This road was constructed during the year before, but the final payment was made during the year under report. There are two khalls across the road besides the river Dwarkessar. These two khalls prove a very great nuisance during the rainy season, sometimes so much so that the roads become impassable Provision was made for constructing a causeway across one of these two khalls, named Khundanga. An estimate for the work was sanctioned, and the causeway constructed during the year under report. There was another work on this road sanctioned, viz., the diversion of the portion of the road near Indas. This work had to be postponed in consequence of lands having not been acquired.

13. Pilgrim Road.—This road has been metalled at a cost of Rs. 1,017, and has thereby become of great advantage to the travellers.

14. Raipur and Salboni Road.—A project for the construction of this line of road is under preparation by the District Engineer. It has not yet been finally approved by the Divisional Superintendent of Works. It is desirable that there should not be any more delay in bringing out a complete project for the road to enable the work being taken in hand.

15. Onda and Chabra Road.—An estimate amounting to Rs. 2,090 was sanctioned for the bridging and metalling this line of road. The Committee's grant for the year having been only Rs. 1,000, the work could not be finally paid for, although it is reported to have been nearly completed. Rupees 1,000, however, were given to the contractor as advance, hence no expenditure will be found in the annual accounts against this road.

16. The construction of village roads is a work also worthy of mention. Under the head "original works" the Committee's grant for village roads in the sudder subdivision was Rs. 1,500 and in the Bishenpur sub-division Rs. 3,500. In the sudder subdivision only two village roads—one from Pakhanna to Asoria and another from Bhadul to Ektesswar—were constructed at a cost of Rs. 641-11-3. In the Bishenpur sub-division the construction of village roads became one of the means of giving relief to the agricultural classes in thanas Sonamookhi, Kotulpur, Indas, and Bishenpur, and also in thana Gangajalghati, situated in the sudder sub-division. The whole of the Committee's grant of Rs. 3,500 for the sub-divisional village roads, and Government grant of Rs. 5,000, were placed at the disposal of the sub-divisional officer for expenditure on the construction and repair of village roads, and thereby giving indirect relief to the labouring population in the affected tracts. Fifty-four village roads are reported to have been constructed at a cost of Rs. 6,325. The detailed accounts of this expenditure having not been submitted, the entire sum is shown as outstanding advance, and hence no expenditure will be found to have been incurred under head "sub-divisional village roads" in the accounts herewith submitted.

17. The next work worthy of notice under head "original works" is the planting of trees on the roadsides. There were no new plantings, but the trees that were planted previously were properly maintained during the year. On most of the roads the work was done by paid coolies; only on a few the tree-planting was done by piece-work agreement system. The total number of trees that were maintained during the year were 4,849. The state of the trees in general is reported to be good.

18. All the existing roads of the district were repaired as usual during the year. Owing to the extraordinary rainfall almost all of the roads were damaged, more or less. Measures were, however, at once taken by the District Engineer to repair the damages quickly. On the Bankoora to Roghunathpur and Indas to Kotulpur roads the damage was rather heavy. A bridge on the 4th mile of the former road was broken down, and rendered utterly useless. An estimate for constructing a new bridge with adequate waterway is being prepared by the District Engineer.

19. On the Indas and Kotulpur road portions of the 5th and 6th miles, along with a six-foot culvert, have been swept away by the flood of the Dwarkeswar. This will have due attention during the present year.

20. All the repair works were finally paid for during the year, excepting only a few of those (flood damage repair works) that were sanctioned when the year was almost coming to a close.

21. I visited almost all the roads, excepting in thanas Khatra and Raipur, during my late winter tour, and the condition in which I found them was on the whole satisfactory. I have as yet seen very little of the repair works of the year under report, and I am therefore not in a position to offer any remarks regarding them. I may state here that the number of roads in the district, both metalled and unmetalled, is very great in comparison with the resources of the Committee. After providing for the repair and maintenance of these roads, there remains very little to spare for new works, although they are so much needed, especially in the tracts recently transferred from Manbhoom. Unless aided by Government, the Committee will not be able to open out means of communication in this jungly country within a very short time. I have lately visited that part of the district for the first time, and was struck with the very great want of proper communication, and am strongly of opinion that in future the attention of the Committee should be paid, first of all, and as far as their means will permit, even to the detriment of some of the roads in other thanas, to this portion of the district.

22. With reference to the roads situated within the Bishenpur sub-division, the Chairman of the Branch Committee reports that their condition is satisfactory. Most of the village roads that have been constructed as relief works have proved very useful in affording facility of communication between several important places.

23. Character of Officers.—The Vice-Chairman, Baboo P. N. Singh, performed his duties very satisfactorily, and has rendered much assistance to me. The Accountant, Baboo Bama Charan De, of his office, has continued to merit the good opinion of all the Committee, and is a reliable and useful officer. The District Engineer, Baboo Nobo Gopal Banerji, takes an interest in his duties, and has given satisfaction. His office is in good order and well looked after.

24. A copy of the proceedings of the Committee, and a copy of the audit certificate of the Sub-Committee, are herewith enclosed.

WE, the undersigned members of the Bankoora Road Cess Sub-Committee, do hereby certify that we have examined the annual accounts of the Bankoora Road Committee for the cess year 1884-85, and found them to be correct.

5. Resolved—That the budget estimate of the Bankoora District Road Fund for the current year as now revised by the Committee be passed

6. The Committee consider it desirable that all fourth class roads or cart tracks which have been taken over by them for maintenance should be nicked out to prevent encroachments thereon. As a through nicking out or other kind of demarcation is a question of some expense, the Committee propose that the roads should be nicked out only at such places where there is apprehension of encroachments being made by the neighbouring people. The District Engineer is directed to execute this work on the two roads Taldangra to Raipur, and Pindugullee to Bikrampur, as soon as possible, and to submit the necessary estimates for sanction at the next meeting.

7. Resolved—That Munshi Ali Zamin be made a member of the Sub-Committee of Audit.

P. N. SINGH,
Vice-Chairman.

No. 59, dated Soory, the 25th January 1886.

From—W. FIDDIAN, Esq., Chairman, Road Cess Committee, Beerbhoom,
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual accounts of income and expenditure of the Beerbhoom District Road Fund for the cess year ending 30th September 1885.

2. The total number of meetings held during the year under report was six, at each of which there was a quorum. Among the non-official members, two named in the margin did not attend any meeting during the year, accordingly, under section 115 of Act IX of 1880, they cease to be any longer members of the Committee. The official members, and most of the non-official members residing at the sudder station, have attended with some degree of regularity, and I consider the working of the Committee on the whole satisfactory, though the chief burden of the work still falls on the official members.

Babus Duckhinatrumjun Mookerjee and Denobundhoo Mookerjee.

3. There are 65 roads, both metalled and unmetalled, maintained by the Committee, besides bungalows, and the roads are classified into the following four classes :—

1st	class	116 miles.
2nd	,,	190¼ ,,
3rd	,,	77 ,,
4th	,,	107½ ,,
Total		490¾ .

The total number of miles repaired during the year was 406.

4. The collecting establishment consists of a head clerk and five mohurirs. The head clerk has shown himself an efficient and steadly worker.

5. The executive establishment consist of a District Engineer, and a staff of two sub-overseers, one clerk, and one Head Clerk and Accountant.

6. The percentage of fixed charges for establishment during the year was 18 per cent. against 19 per cent. in the previous year.

7. At the close of the preceding year there was a balance of Rs. 6,046-15-10, including a small amount of Rs. 21-8 in the hand of the District Engineer, being the balance of his imprest cash.

The actual receipts brought to the credit of the fund during the year were Rs. 74,279-9-3, including a special grant from Government of Rs. 12,000 on account of special works to meet the distress prevailing in the district. The outstanding balance on the 30th September 1885 was Rs. 9,774, of this amount Rs. 1,156-8 was due from Moorshedabad, Rajshahye and Burdwan. On the other hand, the total expenditure of the year amounted to Rs. 80,656, including the cost of establishment and other minor charges. In consequence of prevailing distress due to short crops in the past three years, the Committee had to spend a sum of Rs. 16,000 for road and tank works in the most distressed parts of the district in addition to the special grant made by Government, and this obliged the Committee to revise and alter their original budget for the year under report as per Government order No. 3,390R C, dated the 8th October 1884, postponing all the original works provided in the estimate with one exception, viz, the metalling of road No. 39, Laghata to Kalgram.

8. The only other original works executed during the year were four iron girder bridges on road No. 39, Laghata to Kalgram, one of which was 15 feet span and 3 of 12 feet span.

The road is 10 miles long, of which 5 miles and 40 chains have been metalled, i. e., 2 miles and 40 chains during the year under report, and 3 miles in the two preceding years.

9. Owing to the necessity for undertaking relief works as stated before, the estimates for the unmetalled roads throughout the district were considerably reduced. These roads were however taken in hand and repaired so as to prevent serious deterioration. The 2nd and 3rd class roads in the district have been miled with iron mile-posts, and the work of checking repairs will be thereby facilitated.

10. All the metalled roads provided in the budget for the year were repaired and kept in good order. The bridges and culverts were also attended to.

11. The seven inspection bungalows together with the two staging bungalows at Soory and Ramporehat were repaired and kept in good order.

12. As regards the repair of village roads during the year under report, the Committee could make no allotments in consequence of the large expenditure incurred on relief works, which swallowed up the sum originally provided for the village roads in the budget.

13. With regard to arboriculture, satisfactory progress has been made in planting out and maintaining trees in the sudder, and also in the sub-division. The total number of trees planted out during the year in the sudder sub-division was 2,235, and that in the Ramporehat sub-division was 543, about 3,459 trees were growing satisfactorily. The charges on account of arboriculture amounted to Rs. 688-12-3.

14. The District Engineer has continued to give his attention to the improvement of the roads under his care, and has succeeded in raising the character of the district communications, especially in respect to bridges. The roads generally are steadily improving. His subordinates also have worked well. The Committee's Head Clerk and Accountant has given entire satisfaction.

W. FIDDIAN,
Chairman.

No. 144, dated Midnapore, the 20th January 1886.

From—R. CORNISH, ESQ., Chairman, Midnapore District Road Cess Committee,
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual accounts* and report of the Midnapore District Road Fund for the cess year 1884-85.

* Per packet post.

2. The annual accounts were duly examined and audited by the Sub-Committee, and passed at a special meeting of the Committee held on the 18th instant.

* * * * * * * * *

4. The percentage of average attendance of members was 43·7, while that of the previous year was 37·5. During the year under report there were four meetings of the Branch Committee at Tumlook, four at Contai, and five at Ghattal. In all the meetings of the Branch Committees there was quorum.

5. The following are the most important original works that were constructed, or are in course of construction during the year under report :—

(a) Bunglows and out-offices have been constructed at Ghoatea, Keshpore, Pirakata, and at Kheerpoy.

(b) Raising and widening the 10th and 11th mile of road No. 5 from Ghattal to Chunderkona is nearly completed.

(c) Construction of a bridge of 4 spans of 17 feet each over Dhurpury khal in the 26th mile of road No. 12 from Dohijuree to Siddh has been completed, and materials for a bridge of 3 spans of 19 feet each over Jashpore khal in the 28th mile of the road are being collected.

(d) Widening and metalling the connecting bund from Mohunpore to Khorgopore has been completed.

(e) Construction of road No. 76 from Pingboni to Slaboni has been completed.

6. Trees have been planted on both sides of some of the principal roads, and those planted already have been maintained and reared. Their general growth and health are satisfactory.

7. All the main lines of communication received substantial renewal and petty repairs to metal surface as far as funds are available. All the kutcha roads were maintained and kept fit for wheel traffic.

8. On account of heavy floods in the month of August 1885, many of the roads and bridges were damaged, the damages were repaired as far as possible, and roads made passable for traffic. In the budget for the year 1885-86 provision has been made for thorough repairs to the said roads.

9. A statement showing the number and length of village roads repaired and constructed during the year is as given below :—

NAME OF SUB-DIVISION.	Number of village roads repaired and constructed during the year 1884-85.	Approximate length of the village roads.	Actual expenditure incurred during the year 1884-85.	REMARKS.
			Rs. A. P.
Sudder sub-division	52	102	7,279 7 9
Contai ditto	35	116	3,669 4 0
Ghattal ditto	25	24	1,729 0 9
Tumlook ditto	12	54	3,700 1 3
Total ...	124	294½	16,378 6 9

10. Work on the village roads has been carried out chiefly by village punchayets under the supervision of the sub-divisional officers and the members of the Branch Committees, and in some cases by contractors, where suitable local agency was not found.

11. The establishment under the Committee have worked satisfactorily. The books and accounts of the Committee have been kept systematically and with great care. Baboo Benoy Krisna Bose, the District Engineer, has continued to give us the most entire satisfaction. I do not believe we could have a better officer. In conclusion, I must place on record my thanks to the Vice-Chairman, Baboo Bepin Behary Dutt, on whom has fallen all the routine work of the office.

12. The new Cess Law continues to work smoothly. I am glad to say that voluntary payments show a slight tendency to increase. The total collections during the year under review were Rs. 1,46,992, against Rs. 1,42,104 in the previous year. The increased collection was in part due to the interest taken in his work by Baboo Upendro Chunder Mookerjee, Deputy Collector.

Explanatory memorandum to accompany the Annual Account.

1. Receipt side.—In the annual account a sum of Rs. 888-12-3 has been shown against the head of "Fees, Fines and Forfeitures," but the progressive total of the monthly return for September 1885 shows Rs. 866-6 only against that head, that is less by Rs. 22-6-3. This sum (Rs. 22-6-3) was realized by the Deputy Collector of Tumlook on account of peons' fees and credited under the head of "Miscellaneous." In the annual account this sum has been shown under its proper head "Fees, fines and forfeitures"

2. Out of Rs 2,400 being the amount of Government contribution towards the joint Road Cess and Public Works Cess establishment, Rs. 1,200 were shown against the head of "Miscellaneous" and Rs. 1,200 against "Grant from Government" in the monthly accounts up to September 1885—vide Accountant-General's No. 411L.F., dated 24th September 1885, but in the annual account the whole amount, Rs. 2,400, has been shown against its proper head "Grant from Government" instead of showing half of the said amount in one head and the other half in the other.

Sub-head.				Figures as shown in the monthly account for September 1885. Rs. A. P.
"Fees, fines and forfeitures"...				866 6 0
Add amount received by transfer from the head of miscellaneous				22 6 3
				888 12 3
"Miscellaneous"				2,922 1 6
	Rs.	A.	P.
Deduct amount transferred to "Fees, fines and forfeitures"	22	6	6
Deduct amount transferred to "Grant from Government"	1,200	0	0
				1,222 6 3
				1,699 11 5
"Grant from Government"				10,422 9 9
Add amount received by transfer from the head of miscellaneous				1,200 0 0

3. By the above transfers the figures of the annual account against the head of "Fees, fines and forfeitures" have been increased by Rs 22-6-3 against "Grant from Government" by Rs. 1,200, and the figures against the head of "Miscellaneous" decreased by Rs. 1 222-6-3 as per detail given in the margin.

4. Expenditure side.—The expenditure as shown in the annual account under the head of "Original" and "Repairs" is Rs. 15,863-9-3 and Rs. 87,558-6, while the expenditure in the monthly account against those heads amounts to Rs. 15,845-5-3 and Rs. 87,576-10 respectively, that is, the expenditure of "Original work" has been increased by Rs. 18-4, and that of "Repairs" decreased by the same amount. The reason of this difference is that out of the materials collected for "Repair work," and the cost of which was formerly charged to that head, materials worth Rs. 18-4 have subsequently been transferred to the head of "Original work" for construction of bridges, &c.

5. The figures both of the receipt and expenditure sides of the quarterly returns for the first, second, and third quarters have been compared, and the total of each sub-head agrees with that of the annual account with the exception of the items mentioned above.

W. CORNISH,
Chairman.

No. 243, dated Hooghly, the 20th February 1886.

From—G. TOYNBEE, Esq., Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Hooghly,

To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

WITH reference to your letter No. 35 of the 4th instant, I have the honour to submit the report on the administration of the Hooghly and Howrah District Road Fund for the cess year 1884-85.

* * * * * * * * *

2. None of the Committees have held many meetings during the year. This is partly owing to the fact that the funds of the Committee are spent almost entirely on repairs, the estimates for which require more formal sanction, and partly to the absence of other business, and the approaching introduction of the Local Self-Government scheme.

3. A decrease of seven miles in the total length of metalled roads under the District Road Cess Committee was made during the past cess year. Owing to want of funds to maintaining it in proper order, the road from Howrah to Juggutbullabpore was abandoned as a metalled road:—

	1883-84.	1884-85.
Metalled roads	80·09	73 09
Unmetalled roads	365·61	372·61
Total ...	445·70	445·70

4. All repairs to roads provided for in the budget estimate were undertaken and duly completed within the cess year, with the exception of the repair of a bridge on road No. 70 (from Guza to Kristanagore), which could not be done with the amount provided for it in the budget, and no further funds were available.

5. In the budget for 1884-85 the only provision made for original works was for the construction of three culverts on road No. 81 (from Goghat to Shambazar), and three culverts on road No. 80 (from Pursoorah to Iohanabad). The amount provided for them in the budget was Rs. 1,770. Both these works were completed within the cess year.

6. The general condition of the bridges in the district is fair, but that of the roads both metalled and unmetalled, is not satisfactory. The fact is that the funds of the Committee cannot keep pace with the growing demands of the people for good roads, and the constantly increasing traffic on those already constructed. Brick metal, however good and well laid down, will not stand the wear and tear of country cart traffic, and the Committee cannot afford to replace it with stone. It would in my opinion be better to leave a road altogether unmetalled than to metal it with brick metal. The whole funds of the Committee are spent in establishment and repairs, and if no further funds be forthcoming in the shape of a grant from Government, it will be impossible to make any new roads, or to thoroughly repair all those now in the list. During the month of August last the whole country was flooded, and with the exception of two roads, viz. the Bydebaty to Bhola and Nobogram to Bora roads, all other roads in the district, both metalled and unmetalled, were under water, and for some time were in consequence more or less damaged.

7. The village roads were repaired by the local Sub-Committees, zemindars, and village headmen, whose work was fairly satisfactory as far as it could be tested by the Engineering establishment. In many instances the grants from the Committee were supplemented by local contributions. The registers I and II of village roads have been kept up, and will form a useful record when the Local Self-Government scheme is introduced.

8. The trees planted along the sides of district roads were properly looked after and are now throwing well. The experiment seems to be a success so far as it goes. The Committee have not funds for its further extension.

9. The different establishments under the Road Cess Committee have, generally speaking, given satisfaction in the discharge of their duties. The District Engineer is not in my opinion sufficiently active and energetic, and consequently does not make the most of the limited funds at his disposal.

10. The Branch Committees formed in the different sub-divisions of the district do not seem to have taken much interest in their work; but, as explained in paragraph 2, the funds placed at their disposal have been spent chiefly on repairs, and there was little or no business that was not of formal nature.

11. As regards the general working of the system, I hold that the Committees as consultative bodies have been a success. As they are to be shortly replaced by the District and Local Boards, no further remarks seem called for..

12. This report will be laid before the Committee at their next meeting, and any remarks that the members may wish to make will be duly communicated to you.

G. TOYNBEE,
Chairman.

No. 106, dated Burdwan, the 7th April 1886.

From—E. E. LOWIS, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of the Burdwan Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

WITH reference to section 179 of the Cess Act of 1880, I have the honour to submit herewith, in original, the annual reports and accounts of the receipts and expenditure of the Road Cess Funds of the several districts of this division for the cess year 1884-85.

2. The total receipts of all the districts in the division for the cess year 1884-85, including balances on 1st October 1884, and sums under the heads of advances and deposits, amounted to—

	Rs.
Midnapore	1,94,758
Hooghly and Howrah	2,02,299
Burdwan	1,80,490
Beerbhoom	1,02,888
Bankoora	60,572
Total ...	7,41,007

3. The net disbursements of the year (excluding advances and deposits, Rs. 1,02,845) amounted to Rs. 5,38,022, viz.—

	Rs.
Midnapore	1,35,315
Hooghly and Howrah	1,68,044
Burdwan	1,33,355
Beerbhoom	61,732
Bankoora	39,576
Total ...	5,38,022

4. The available balances on 30th September 1885 aggregated Rs. 88,732, exclusive of a deficit balance of Rs. 5,326 in the Hooghly and Howrah district, viz.—

	Rs.
Midnapore	38,458
Burdwan, Rs. 32,835—16,733, to be refunded to Government ...	16,102
Beerbhoom	22,232
Bankoora	11,940
Total ...	88,732
Hooghly	—5 326

5. Attention has been given to arboriculture, the existing trees have been maintained in all the districts. New trees have been planted in the three districts of Midnapore, Burdwan, and Beerbhoom. The Hooghly and Howrah Committee report they have no available funds for further extension.

6. With reference to village roads it must be noted that the cess year was very exceptional, provision having first to be made for relief works, and then to repair excessive flood damages.

7. In Beerbhoom, money that would have been allotted to village roads in addition to other funds aggregating Rs. 16,000, besides the Government special grant, was spent on road and tank works in the most distressed parts of the district.

8. In Burdwan, the village road funds, Rs. 9,783, were disbursed on relief works, through the Collector, and of the Government grant of Rs. 25,000, Rs. 2,479 were disbursed by the Collector for drinking water-supply purposes.

9. In Bankoora the allotment for village roads, Rs. 3,500, in addition to the Government grant of Rs. 5,000, was utilized for repair and construction of village roads in the distressed tracts, and Rs. 6,325 were expended.

10. In Hooghly and Howrah, advances amounting to Rs. 28,997 were made, and in Midnapore Rs. 16,378 were expended on village roads.

11. The heavy floods of August 1885 caused great damage to many of the roads and the old bridges especially in the southern districts. These damages have been repaired as far as possible, and the roads opened for traffic.

12. Generally as a whole the roads of the Division have been well maintained.

13. The Hooghly and Howrah Committee report that, for want of funds, they have been unable to do all that is necessary; that their whole funds are absorbed in maintaining the existing roads; that they have no funds available for new roads or even for thoroughly repairing the existing metalled lines; and that they have been compelled to abandon the metalling on seven miles of the important line of road from Howrah to Juggutbullubpore.

14. The remedies would appear to be to convert the important lines on which the statistics of traffic show it to be feasible into tramways that shall be self-supporting. A proposal of this kind for the Howrah and Juggutbullubpore road has been generally approved by Government, and it is hoped it may be possible to carry it through.

15. With the exception of the Hooghly District Engineer, who is reported to have been wanting in energy, the District Engineers have, during the year, worked well, particularly so in Beerbhoom and Midnapore. My acknowledgments are also due to the Divisional Superintendent, Mr. Roberts, for his willing and intelligent co-operation.

Bye-laws for regulating the Service of Coolies.

WHEREAS it is expedient for the management and conduct of business in the New Municipal Market to regulate the service of coolies working for hire in and around this market, the following additional bye-laws are made under section 340 (f) of the Municipal Act:—

17 (a). With the exception specified below, no person shall on or after the 1st June 1886 work for hire as bazar cooly within the limits of the New Municipal Market who is not duly licensed for this purpose by the Commissioners, or by such officers as they may authorise to grant licenses to bazar coolies.

17 (b). A register of licensed coolies shall be kept up in the office of the Market Superintendent, which shall be open to the inspection of any member of the Market Committee during office hours on all days, except Sundays and close holidays.

17 (c). A licensed cooly shall wear a badge and such other distinctive dress as shall enable every person frequenting the market to know that he is licensed, and shall wear on his arm or in some other conspicuous place, a number corresponding with his number in the register of licensed coolies.

17 (d). No person other than a licensed cooly shall wear the badge, distinctive dress or number indicated in the preceding rule.

17 (e). Licensed coolies shall be charged such sum for the badge and other distinctive dress referred to above as the Market Committee shall from time to time prescribe.

17 (f). Sirdars shall be appointed to preserve order and discipline among the licensed coolies, and prevent their harassing the public, and shall be remunerated by salaries met by contributions to be paid by the coolies monthly as a condition of the continuance of their license: Provided that not more than one sirdar shall be appointed to 25 licensed coolies.

The contributions shall be such sum, not exceeding 6 annas per mensem, as may from time to time be fixed by the Market Committee.

17 (g). These rules shall not apply to private servants employed by persons frequenting the market to carry purchases made by them.

18. The Market Committee may, for special reasons to be recorded by them, refuse to allow any particular person to act as private cooly if they think that the employment of such person within the limits of the market is inexpedient.

CALCUTTA, the 26th August 1875.

The following revised advertisement is published in substitution of that which appeared at page 1084, Part II of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th July 1881:—

The Indian Law Reports,

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

For the complete series, including postage, Rs. 22-8.

	Without postage.	With postage
For the Calcutta Series ...	Rs. 10 0	Rs. 12 8
„ each of the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series ...	„ 6 0	„ 7 0
„ a part of each of the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series purchased separately (inclusive of postage in India) ...	.....	„ 1 0

Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., Calcutta.
„ Thacker & Co., Bombay.
„ Higginbotham & Co., Madras.
The Government Central Book Depôt, Bombay.
„ Curator of Government Books, North-Western Provinces and Oudh.
„ Superintendent of Government Printing, Bengal.

Orders and subscriptions for 1885 should be at once remitted.

JAILS.

Dated Darjeeling, the 5th July 1886.

READ—

Letter No. 3333, dated the 26th April 1886, from the Inspector-General of Jails, forwarding the Report of the Superintendent on the Administration of the Reformatory School at Alipore for the year 1885.

Read also—

Letter dated the 9th April 1886, from the Inspector-General of Jails, forwarding th Report of the Superintendent of the Reformatory School at Hazaribagh for th year 1885.

The Reports for the year 1884, and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

The number of boys on the 1st January 1885 in the Alipore Reformatory School was 105. During the year 27 boys were admitted, 19 from the Presidency and Suburban Police Courts and from Howrah, and eight from mofussil districts, giving a total of 132, or the same number as in 1884. Of these, 17 were released on expiry of sentence, one was released on bail, four were transferred to the School at Hazaribagh, one was retransferred to the Alipore Jail, and one died, leaving 108 boys at the close of the year, of whom 53 were Hindus, 54 Mahomedans, and one Native Christian.

2. The discipline and general behaviour of the boys is reported to have been satisfactory. The fact that punishments increased from 3·3 in 1884 to 4·7 in 1885 is due to the larger average number of boys in the school during the year. The number of cases in which penal diet was given fell from 131 to 117; but the Lieutenant-Governor is inclined to think that this number might be even further reduced without impairing discipline. The fact that 106 boys were locked up in cells as against only 14 in 1884 demands some explanation, and the Inspector-General will be asked to ascertain and report why it was found necessary to resort so often to this somewhat severe form of punishment. The mark system, under which the boys can each earn an anna per week for good behaviour, attention and industry, continued to work well, and has proved a great stimulant to emulation amongst the boys

3. The increase in the number of admissions into hospital from 1·93 in 1884 to 2·91 in 1885 is accounted for by the greater number of boys in the school. The year under review was exceptionally healthy, and the only boy who died was suffering from chronic dysentery when received from the Presidency Jail.

4. The cost of maintenance per head fell from Rs. 140-9 in 1884 to Rs 128-12-4 in 1885, the decrease being chiefly due to the larger average number of boys during the year under report. While there was a decrease in expenditure under the heads of Construction and repairs and Contingencies, there was an increase under the heads of Diet, Hospital, Clothing, and Fixed establishment. It is only necessary to notice the increase in diet charges, which rose from Rs. 2,873 7-9 in 1884 to Rs. 3,567-4-9 in 1885, showing an increase per head of Rs. 2-12-4, which is said to be due to the higher prices of rations prevailing during the year. The Inspector-General points out the excessive cost per head for diet in the school Rs. 33-5-5), as compared with that in the Alipore Jail (Rs. 25-2-3). Cost of diet per head must of course increase in an inverse ratio to the number of persons to be fed; but, as suggested by the Inspector-General, the Board of Management will be asked to enquire and report if there are any special reasons for such a difference. The manufactory operations were well carried out, and the system of education and industrial training continued to be the same as in the previous year.

5. Reports were received during the year regarding 48 released boys. Of these, 36 are said to be doing well and to bear a good character amongst their neighbours; four boys could not be traced; two were sent to jail for theft; and regarding six the reports were unfavourable. These reports show on the whole that the discipline and training undergone in the institution are productive of satisfactory results.

6 A want which has been much felt was supplied during the year under review by the purchase of a 3½ horse-power gas engine, and the erection of a gasholder for storing the gas required to work the engine. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the undertaking has been a success. It will now, the Superintendent states, be possible to undertake work which was hitherto beyond the strength of the boys to perform, and to give instruction to a larger number in "turner's work."

7. The Lieutenant-Governor is well satisfied with the general result of the school management during the year, and with the care and energy with which the Superintendent has, as in preceding years, performed his duties. The acknowledgments of Government are due to the President and Board of Management of this institution.

8. There were 139 boys in the Hazaribagh Reformatory School on the 1st January 1885. During the year there were 74 new admissions and 12 releases on expiration of sentence, and two under Government orders; four boys died and one escaped, leaving 194 at the close of the year, made up as follows:—

Hindus	...	...	...	...	158
Mahomedans	...	...	...	...	32
Sonthals	..	...	...	...	2
Ooriyas	...	...	...	...	2

Seventy-two cells were built during the year, and 42 are under construction; the total number, when completed, will provide accommodation for 232 boys. In the Resolution on the Report for 1884, the Lieutenant-Governor remarked that it was unnecessary to send to the reformatories boys convicted of offences not indicating depravity, or who have relatives who are able and willing to attend to their proper training. Moreover, it was pointed out in circular No. 46P of the 12th September 1882, that boys under 11 years of age should not be sent to a reformatory, unless they belong to a criminal tribe, or come of parents habitually criminal. Having regard to these orders, it is probable that the accommodation will be amply sufficient to meet all requirements in the near future. The attention of Commissioners and Magistrates will again be particularly directed to these orders.

9. The water-supply is excellent ; a bathing platform has been constructed during the year, and new latrines are being provided. The daily average number of sick rose from 0·88 in 1884 to 4·04 in 1885 ; the increase being due to the fact that the daily average population increased from 81·5 to 172, and that there was an epidemic of cholera during the year, two out of four deaths being due to that disease.

10. The number of punishments inflicted increased from 205 to 252—a small increase compared with the increase in the number of boys. The number compares favourably with that in the Alipore Reformatory School ; but the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that his remarks in last year's Resolution regarding penal diet in the latter school do not appear to have been attended to in the Hazaribagh School. The Resolution, however, was only published in the middle of June, and it is possible that the majority of cases in which this punishment was inflicted occurred during the first half of the year.

11. In the Resolution on the Report for 1884, the Lieutenant-Governor remarked that the system of education in the Alipore and Hazaribagh Schools should be assimilated as much as possible At Alipore attendance at Schools is compulsory for only one hour in the morning, and optional for two hours in the evening ; but the Report does not state what are the hours of industrial labour. In future a statement should be given (as has been done by Dr. Meadows for the Hazaribagh School) showing how the day is spent and what is done during the several hours. In the same Resolution the Lieutenant-Governor remarked that the system of five hours' school work and five hours' industrial labour each day at Hazaribagh would admit of more relaxation. The Superintendent appears to have reduced the school hours to three and to have increased to seven the number of hours for industrial work, the total number of hours remaining the same. The Lieutenant-Governor is certain that ten hours' application each day to books and labour is too much for growing lads. Only one hour appears to be allowed for play, from 2 to 3 P.M. ; the two hours deducted from industrial work might with advantage be added to the time for rest and recreation. The Inspector-General should take steps to assimilate the systems in the two schools as far as possible, and the subject should be specially noticed in the report for the current year.

12. The cost of diet per head was Rs. 33-4-6 against Rs. 36-8-10 in 1884, thus being almost exactly the same as the cost in the Alipore School. The expenditure on building showed a large increase owing to the construction of the 72 new cells already referred to. The total expenditure under all heads was Rs. 21,798-1-3 as against Rs. 11,930-2-3 in 1884.

13. It is not stated how many Magistrates' reports were received regarding released boys. The Deputy Superintendent received 76 letters from released boys during the year, and it is stated that, of the boys released since the school was opened, only two have reverted to evil habits.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that the work of both Dr. Meadows, the Superintendent, and of Mr. Hill, the Deputy Superintendent, has been favourably noticed by the Inspector-General of Jails ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the President of the Board of Management of the Reformatory School at Alipore, for information and communication to the Members of the Board.

Ordered also that a copy of the Reports, and a copy of the Resolution, be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Jails for information and communication to the Superintendent of the Hazaribagh Reformatory School.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. DUNBAR BLYTH,

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CONVERSION OF THE HIGH ENGLISH AIDED SCHOOL AT NARAIL INTO AN AIDED COLLEGE.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 13th July 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter from the Officiating Director of Public Instruction, No. 31—2835, dated the 27th April 1886, and enclosures, on the subject of the conversion of the High English Aided School at Narail, in the Jessore district, into an Aided College.

THE Narail High English Aided School was established in 1857 and was affiliated to the University in 1861. Ever since its establishment it has maintained its reputation as being the best school in the Jessore district, no less than 157 students having passed the Entrance examination, of whom some obtained Government junior scholarships of the first, second, and third grades. At starting the school had only 30 students on its rolls; now it has close upon 300. It receives from Government a grant-in-aid of Rs. 55 per mensem, the average monthly fee receipts for the last six months, inclusive of the grant-in-aid, amounted to Rs. 400-12, and the average monthly expenditure for the same period Rs. 345, leaving a surplus balance of Rs. 55 annas 12 per mensem.

2. The zemindars of Narail, encouraged by the success of the school, wish to raise it to the status of a second grade college, and have asked the Government to assist them in carrying out their project by increasing the grant-in-aid from Rs. 55 to Rs. 150 a month. The total cost of the College Department is estimated to be Rs. 600 rising to Rs. 720 per mensem, and the receipts are estimated as follows :—

	Rs.
Fees	400	per mensem.
Subscriptions	75	,,
Grant-in-aid	150	,,
Total Rs. ...	625	per mensem.

3. The Director of Public Instruction has recommended that a consolidated grant to the extent of the amount asked for, viz., Rs. 150 per mensem, be given for the school and the proposed college, on condition that the managers provide from local sources Rs. 475 a month, and guarantee the maintenance of the institution for at least five years, and further that they charge a fee of at least Rs. 5 a month in the College Department.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that any assistance which the Government may render the public-spirited zemindars of Narail in their laudable efforts will be fully utilised, and he accordingly has much pleasure in constituting the Narail High English Aided School an aided college from the 1st July 1886, and sanctioning a grant-in-aid of Rs. 150 per mensem for its support from that date on the condition recommended by the Director of Public Instruction.

ORDER—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of it be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction for information and communication to the Managers of the school.

Ordered also that a copy be forwarded to the Accountant-General, Bengal, for information, with the intimation that the increased grant-in-aid for the school will be met from the present allotment of Rs. 5,41,000 for grants-in-aid.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BENGAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE FOR THE COLONIAL AND INDIAN EXHIBITION OF LONDON, 1886.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS (F.)

Calcutta, the 13th July 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ AGAIN—

The Resolution of this Government, dated the 2nd May 1885, appointing a Committee to take charge of the arrangements for the Bengal Court of the Colonial and Indian Exhibition of London, 1886.

Read—

The Resolution of this Government, dated the 31st July 1885, enlarging the Committee so as to represent the mercantile community.

Letter No. 586LE, dated the 13th April 1886, from the Secretary to the Bengal Executive Committee for the London Exhibition, submitting the Committee's Report and Catalogue of Bengal Artware exhibits.

Letter No. 1905—I, dated the 7th June 1886, from the Government of India, Foreign Department, forwarding copy of a Resolution adopted by the Royal Commission for the Colonial and Indian Exhibition at a meeting held on the 3rd May 1886.

After the general character of the duties of Provincial Governments in connection with the Colonial and Indian Exhibition of London, 1886, had been indicated by the Secretary of State and the Government of India, an Executive Committee, composed of the following members, was appointed to undertake, on behalf of this Government, the equipment of the Bengal Court of the London Exhibition:—

Mr. H. A. Cockerell, C.S.I., President.
Hon'ble Colonel S. T. Trevor.
Mr. M. Finucane.
Dr. G. King.
Mr H. H. Risley.
Lieutenant-Colonel Waterhouse.
Mr. H. H. Locke.
Surgeon-Major D. D. Cunningham.
Hon'ble A. P. MacDonnell.
Mr. A. Pedler.
„ M. H. Jackson, Member and Secretary.

The duties of the Executive Committee were at first limited to the collection, with the assistance of Local Committees, of specimens of the artware, ornamental fabrics and decorative work of Bengal, and the preparation of screens to be erected along the front of the Bengal Court, showing the characteristic styles of Bengal architecture. It was originally intended to confine the representation of economic and commercial products to the Imperial Courts; but it was subsequently found more convenient that the Bengal Court should represent both the economic interests and artistic products of the Province; and in order to enlist the co-operation of the mercantile community of Bengal in the preparations for the Exhibition, and thus ensure an adequate representation of important commodities and manufactures, the Executive Committee was enlarged by the addition of the members whose names are noted in the margin. Sub-Committees were formed, one to superintend the construction of the screens and the collection of artware, and a second to undertake the work of collecting trade samples and arranging collections of lac, indigo, jute, silk and paper which were sent to Bengal from all other parts of India. Both Sub-Committees held frequent meetings, and the details of all the work entrusted to them were carried out with great thoroughness. The silk collections were made over to Mr. Wardle, under whose control a separate Silk Court has been opened in the Exhibition. In addition to the duties originally assigned to it, the Committee rendered valuable assistance to the Government of India in the formation of an ethnological collection, and in forwarding to London all articles collected in Bengal.

Mr. D. Cruickshank, Vice-President.
„ H. Berger.
„ J. Henderson.
„ C. R. Hills.
„ J. J. J. Keswick.
„ R. Lyall.
„ J. D. Maxwell.
Hon'ble R. Miller.
Mr. J. Murdoch.
„ T. Ralli.
„ A. Simpson.

2. On the 11th December 1885 a preliminary exhibition of the artware collection was opened in Calcutta. The screens had not been completely finished, and many valuable exhibits had not been received—notably two carefully prepared models of the Kantanagar and Burrakar temples. Fresh exhibits, however, came in daily during the time the Exhibition was open, and a very fair idea was conveyed of the appearance which the Bengal Court must present at the London Exhibition. A special feature of the Court is the collection of wood-carving, which was not represented in the Bengal section of any previous Exhibitions, and the screens and models are full of interest as faithful representations of the characteristic forms of architecture in this province. The total number of entrances at this preliminary exhibition was 4,573, and the receipts amounted to Rs. 2,001, the expenditure being nearly the same.

3. The Committee's report contains a cordial acknowledgment of the assistance given to them by the following gentlemen and firms in obtaining exhibits and in lending collections of artware for exhibition:—

His Highness the Maharajah of Hill Tipperah.
The Nawab Bahadoor of Moorshedabad.
Nawab Ahsanullah of Dacca.
Maharani Sarnomoyi, C.I., of Kassimbazar.
Maharajah of Hatwa.
Maharajah of Dinagepore.
Rajah Sir Sourondra Mohun Tagore, KT.
Baboo Madhub Chander Ray, Julpaiguri.
Baboo Kali Sankar Chatterjee, Julpaiguri.
Baboo Okhoy Kumar Sen, Dacca.
Moulvie Fazli Rahim, Patna.
Baboo Sarat Chunder Das, C.I.E, Darjeeling.
Llama Ugyen, Darjeeling.
Baboo Behari Lal Barik, Gaya.
Most Narayan Sijwarin, Gaya.
Ritter R Von Schwarz.
Mr. T F. Peppe, Arrah.
„ A. Scott.
„ Jules Schaumburg.
Messrs. Angelo Brothers.
„ Apcar and Company.
„ Begg, Dunlop and Company.
„ Burn and Company.
„ Ernsthausen and Company.
„ George Henderson and Company.
„ J. Thomas and Company.
„ Jardine, Skinner and Company.
Messrs. Ralli Brothers.
„ Schœne, Kilburn and Company.
„ Turner, Morrison and Company.
The Bengal Chamber of Commerce.
The Bengal Silk Company, Limited.
Mr. W S. Grieve, Manager, Bally Paper Mills
Mr. C. T. Ambler, of Messrs. Ambler and Company.
Mr. W. G. Carpenter (Messrs. Walsh, Lovett and Company).

4. To meet the cost of the Bengal industrial collection, the Executive Committee was provided by this Government with a sum of Rs. 20,000, which was afterwards supplemented by a further grant of Rs. 3,000 from Provincial funds. The following special grants were made to the Committee by the Government of India:—

	Rs.
For screens	2,000
„ commercial collections	2,000
„ ethnological collections	800
„ packing and freight	3,700

Nawab Ahsanullah of Dacca and Maharani Sarnomoyi, C.I., of Kassimbazar, in addition to contributing valuable collections of artware and fabrics, each presented a sum of Rs. 3,000 to be expended, respectively, on the Mahomedan and Hindu screens, which form the most distinctive features of the Bengal Court.

The contributions noticed in the last paragraph bring up the total receipts to Rs. 37,500. Final accounts have not yet been submitted owing to the non-receipt of local accounts from district officers.

5. The results of the labour of the Bengal Executive Committee have been proved satisfactory by the reports received from London of the effective appearance of the Court, and the beauty and interest of its varied exhibits. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to express his congratulations to the President and Members of the Committee on the success of their well-directed efforts, and his acknowledgments of the assistance so cheerfully rendered by them to Government in securing an adequate representation of the arts, industries and commerce of Bengal. The special thanks of Government are due to Nawab Ahsanullah of Dacca and Maharani Sarnomoyi, C.I., of Kassimbazar for their munificent donations in aid of the Committee, and to the other noblemen and gentlemen who have presented or lent valuable collections for exhibition; and Sir Rivers Thompson has much pleasure in acknowledging the courtesy shown by the various commercial firms, whose resources have been placed unreservedly at the disposal of the Committee.

The Lieutenant-Governor also notices with satisfaction, from the Report of the Bengal Executive Committee, that the Committee had the advantage of the cordial co-operation of the divisional and district officers and all other Government servants to whom they applied for aid.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that copies of it be forwarded to the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural and the Foreign Departments; the other departments of this Government; the Commissioners of Divisions; and the Members of the Bengal Executive Committee for the London Exhibition of 1886.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RELIEF OF DISTRESS CAUSED BY THE FLOODS OF 1885 IN THE DISTRICT OF MOORSHEDABAD.

THE following papers are published for general information.

P. NOLAN,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 5MA, dated Calcutta, the 29th June 1886.

Memo. by—A. SMITH, ESQ., Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

COPY forwarded to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department, for information.

2. Among the private subscribers the donations of the Nawab Bahadur of Moorshedabad, Maharani Surnomoyi, Baboos Budh Singh and Bissen Chand Singh Dudhurias, Mr. Anderson himself, Messrs. Jardine, Skinner and Company, and Maharajah Sir Jotindra Mohon Tagore deserve special notice.

No. 471G, dated Berhampore, the 17th June 1886.

From—J. ANDERSON, ESQ., Collector of Moorshedabad,
To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

WITH reference to your No. 22MA of the 16th September 1885, I have the honour now to submit herewith statements showing the average loss of crops by the very heavy floods of the past year and the subscriptions and other assistance received by me for the relief of the distress caused by them.

2. I am happy to say that the district and people have now completely recovered from the effects of the calamity, and things have everywhere resumed their normal state.

3. There was of course considerable loss and suffering, and more panic at the time, but the injury inflicted by the floods have been more than recouped by the bumper rubbi crop which the people have since reaped, and by the renewed fertility imparted to the fields by the rich top-dressing of silt which will produce its full effect next year and continue for years to come to give abundant harvest.

4. I beg here to make my sincere and respectful acknowledgments to the superior authorities for their uniform support and my hearty thanks to my subordinates for their loyal co-operation in the very difficult task of alleviating distress in the trying crisis of the inundations. I also thank cordially the many generous private individuals for their prompt and liberal response to my call for help and money. It is invidious to submit names where so many strove to do their utmost in a laudable cause, but within my own knowledge I must single out for special mention Mr. H. Ferrer, Joint-Magistrate, and Baboo Bepin Behary Mookerjee, Sub-divisional Officer of Kandi, for the calm sagacity shown by them, as well as the great efforts they made; Mr. Pratt, District Superintendent of Police, and Baboo Bisseswar Chatterjee, Divisional Inspector of Jungipore, for their invaluable efforts in distributing aid to the distressed poor, as well as to Baboos Lal Behari Singh, Sub-Inspector of Raghunathgunge thanna, and Hari Podo Bhattacharjee, head-constable in charge of Khamra outpost.

5. During the whole of the time, Baboo Surji Kumar Pandit, District Engineer, gave me invaluable advice and assistance from his lengthened residence in that post in this district. Among private individuals, I constantly received all I asked for in the shape of aid from the Nawab Bahadur of Moorshedabad. Unfortunately the Maharani of Casimbazar held back for a time her princely aid under the mistaken notion that Government had not come forward in a worthy manner, but this was only until His Honour fully satisfied her advisers on the point. Before that, in the distress from drought, she gave me as much pecuniary aid as I asked for. The others I saw working and spending money the most liberally were Baboos Budh Singh and Bishen Chand Dudhuria, bankers of Azimgunge, Mohunta Ram Krishna Dass of Suti, Baboo Panchoo Ram Mandal of Dangapara, thanna Doulatabad.

OBSERVATIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS CONCERNING THE INTRODUCTION OF LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT ACT.

Nos. 1325-29T—M, dated Darjeeling, the 1st July 1886.

From—R. H. WILSON, Esq., Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department,

To—The Commrs. of the Presidency, Burdwan, Rajshahye, Dacca, and Patna Divns.

I AM directed to communicate to you the following observations and instructions of the Lieutenant-Governor concerning the introduction of the Local Self-Government Act III (B.C.) of 1885 in the districts of your division which come under the third schedule of that Act. These instructions may conveniently be divided into three parts, each of which deals with a distinct branch of the work to be done in bringing the Act into operation. These are (1) the constitution and appointment of the District and Local Boards themselves, (2) the powers and duties to be conferred on and exercised by the Boards, and (3) the financial arrangements arising out of those powers and duties. Sir Rivers Thompson desires that you will give your very careful consideration to the instructions now conveyed, and that, in submitting the information which is called for in subsequent paragraphs of this letter, you will supplement it with any facts or suggestions which, by reason of your general experience of the province, or the special circumstances of your division, may suggest themselves to you as deserving the attention of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Instructions for the introduction of Act III (B.C.) of 1885.

2. Firstly, I am to observe that it is not intended at present to proceed with the appointment of Union Committees. It will be possible to arrange for this hereafter when the larger and more important bodies have got into working order. But at the present stage of a novel experiment, Sir Rivers Thompson feels that to attempt to deal with that order of intelligence which will ordinarily be found in Union Committees would be to import an unnecessary element of confusion which would seriously endanger the success of the whole scheme. For the present, therefore, he has resolved to proceed only with the appointment of District and Local Boards in specially-selected districts. As regards the constitution of these, arrangements have been finally made in all the districts, falling under the schedule, for the election, under the rules framed under section 138(a) of the Act, of two-thirds of the members of each Local Board. Some of these elections have already been held, and the remainder will, for the most part, be completed in the course of the current month. In Government order No. 1013-7T—M, dated 19th instant, you have been requested to submit a full report on the results of the elections in your division immediately on their being completed. In this report you should at the same time submit nominations, two names for each vacancy, for the appointments to be made by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 11 of the Act. In the event of the elections failing, wholly or partially, in any thana, you should at the same time submit nominations for the appointments to be made under section 10 of the Act, and in making your selections for these nominations the Lieutenant-Governor desires that you will have regard to the circumstances under which the elections have failed, and will endeavour, as far as you can, to give effect to the real wishes of the electors. In submitting your nominations for appointments under section 11, you should have regard to the representation of influential minorities, to the balancing of rival factions, and to the necessity of securing a due proportion of men of business habits, known integrity, and established social position. You will observe that the law imposes no restriction on the proportion of members of a Local (as opposed to a District) Board who may be salaried servants of Government. Your attention is also invited in this connection to section 16 of the Act, from which it will be seen that, unlike the new Municipal Act, the Local Self-Government Act admits of the appointment of ex-officio members.

Union Committees not to be appointed at present.

Election and appointment of members of Local Boards.

3. As soon as your report has been received, the Lieutenant-Governor will make his selection from among your nominations for appointments under section 11, and also, if necessary, for appointments under section 10; and the names of the members so appointed, together with those of the elected members, will be published in the Calcutta Gazette under Rule 48 of the Election Rules. Immediately after this has been done, but not before (see Rule 77), you should, without waiting for further instructions from Government, instruct the District Magistrates to convene meetings of each of the Local Boards in their respective districts, for the purpose of electing their Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen under sections 25 and 26 of the Act. Under Rule 65, clause (g), at least one-half of the total number of members of a Local Board must be present to constitute a quorum for the purpose of electing a Chairman or Vice-Chairman. You will observe that both Chairman and Vice-Chairman, if elected by the members, must be chosen from among the members of the Local Board, and that both elected and appointed members are eligible for election to either of these offices. Immediately on the election of the Chairman, his name, with a report of the proceedings, should be forwarded for the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor The election of a Vice-Chairman does not require confirmation by Government, and need not be reported.

Election of members of District Boards.

4. As soon as the Local Boards have been fully constituted by election and appointment and publication in the Calcutta Gazette, they are required to proceed to elect members for the District Board for the district in which they are situated. The total number of members for each District Board in these districts, the proportion of the total number of members which is to consist of elected members (one-half in each case), and the number of members to be elected by each Local Board within the district, have already been fixed by notifications published in the Calcutta Gazette under section 7 of the Act, and are shown in the figured statement appended to this letter. The condition prescribed in Rule 53, clause (a), is therefore fulfilled, and as soon as the names of the members of the Local Board have been published in the Gazette, the condition in clause (b) of that rule will also be fulfilled, and the period of one month fixed by Rule 54 will begin to run. You will observe that by Rule 55 it is unnecessary for the members of a Local Board to postpone the election of members of the District Board until after they have elected a Chairman or Vice-Chairman. There is no objection to the election of members of the District Board being made at the same meeting as that at which they elect their Chairman and Vice-Chairman, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that as a general rule this should be done. You will observe that under section 7, clause (5) of the Act, and Rule 59 of the rules, a Local Board is not bound to elect persons from among its own members to be members of the District Board. A Local Board may elect (a) any member, whether elected or appointed, of any Local Board within the same district; and (b) any person who, though not a member of any Local Board within the same district, is qualified under section 13 of the Act to be elected as such. Thus, a Local Board at an outlying sub-division might wish to choose as its representative on the District Board some person who usually resides at or near the head-quarters of the district. It would be at liberty to do so if the person in question were a member (either elected or appointed) of the Sudder Local Board, or if he were qualified, under section 13 of the Act, to be an elective member of the Sudder or any other Local Board within the district.

Appointment of members of District Boards.

5. The election of members by the Local Boards should be conducted in accordance with Rules 53 to 60, and the names of the elected members should be reported at once to Government. In doing so, you should also submit nominations, two names for each vacancy, of persons to be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor to be members of the District Board. You will observe that in this case also, as well as in the case of Local Boards, the law admits of ex-officio appointments. The District Magistrate, however, should not be nominated, as it is the Lieutenant-Governor's intention, as stated below, to appoint this officer, as a rule, to be Chairman; and if in any case he is not Chairman he should not be a member of the Board at all. The Lieutenant-Governor is also averse, as a rule, to the appointment of police officers to be ex-officio members of the District Board, though he does not object to the appointment of individual officers by name for special personal reasons. I am to draw your attention to the last clause of section 7 of the Act, in which it is provided that not more than one-half of the appointed members (i e., under present circumstances, not more than one-fourth of the total number of members) may be salaried servants of the Government, as defined in section 4.

District Magistrate to be Chairman of the District Board.

6. When the names of the elected and appointed members of the District Boards have been settled, they will be published in the Calcutta Gazette under Rule 60, and formal orders will simultaneously issue appointing the District Magistrate to be Chairman of the Board of his district. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that, at all events for the first year, this arrangement will be necessary to ensure success in the initiation of a large and important scheme. Under section 24 of the Act the term of office of an appointed Chairman is one year, and it will therefore always be possible to make other arrangements on the expiry of the first year of the introduction of the measure, if it is found advisable. As regards the appointment of Vice-Chairman of District Boards, the members of each Board should proceed, in accordance with the provisions of Rule 76, and without further instructions from Government, to elect one of their members, whether elected or appointed, to be Vice-Chairman. Such elections do not require the confirmation of Government and need not be reported.

District Boards to frame rules for the conduct of business.

7. When the District Boards have been fully constituted, you should instruct them, without further orders from Government, to hold a meeting at a convenient date for the purpose of framing rules for the conduct of business under section 32 of the Act. A specimen set of rules under this section will be forwarded to you for communication to the Boards. They will not of course be in any way bound to adopt the specimen rules, but the latter will serve as a convenient model in respect of form, wording, and subject-matter In framing these rules each District Board should have regard to the matters which, under section 101 of the Act, will be transferred to the control and administration of the Local Boards subordinate to it. Further instructions on this point are communicated in paragraph 20 below. When draft rules have been framed by a District Board under section 32 they should be published by the Board in any manner which you may think suitable, in accordance with the provisions of section 143 of the Act and a copy in English should also be forwarded by you to the Superintendent of Government Printing for publication in the Calcutta Gazette. The Board, in framing their draft rules, should fix a date on which they will proceed to take the same into consideration. This date should not be less than 30 days after the local publication of the draft rules, and should be specified in a notice to that effect, which should be published along with the draft rules, both locally and in the Calcutta Gazette. On the date so fixed the Board should again meet, and after considering any objections which may have been received, should finally settle the rules and forward them through the proper channel for the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor, and for publication in English in the Calcutta Gazette. As regards the rules to be framed by Local Boards under section 32, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it will be necessary to defer action until it has been finally decided, in the case of each Local Board, what matters are to be transferred to its control and administration under section 101. When this has been done each Local Board should proceed, with the sanction of the District Board to which it is subordinate, to frame rules under section 32, following, as far as is practicable, the procedure laid down above for the framing of rules by District Boards, except that it shall not be necessary to publish the draft rules of any Local Board in the Calcutta Gazette until after they have been finally approved by the Lieutenant-Governor. The Lieutenant-Governor also directs, under section 31, that the minutes of the proceedings at each meeting of a District and Local Board shall be published by affixing a copy thereof, duly signed by the Chairman of the meeting, in some conspicuous place at the office of the District or Local Board in question.

Date for commencement of the Act.

8. Finally, it will be necessary under sections 1 and 21 of the Act, to fix by a notification the date on which the Act shall come into force in each of the districts, and on which the several District and Local Boards shall come into existence.

It is the Lieutenant-Governor's wish that the Act should be brought into operation with the least avoidable delay; and as it is hoped that the arrangements for the constitution of the Boards, for the determination of their powers and duties, and for the provision of funds, will be completed within the next three months, the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to fix the 1st October next as the date in question. This date is the first of a new quarter, and it is also the beginning of a new cess year under Act IX (B.C.) of 1880. and is in other respects apparently suitable. In submitting your reply to this letter, the Lieutenant-Governor desires that you will state whether, in your opinion, there is any objection to this arrangement. It will be observed that under section 1, clause 3, all notifications, orders, rules, and appointments made and elections held under the Act will take effect from the date so fixed.

Powers and duties of District Boards.

9. The above remarks relate entirely to the constitution and appointment of the District and Local Boards. It has now to be determined what powers and duties shall be conferred and imposed on the Boards so constituted. Part III, Chapters I and II of the Act, deal with this portion of the subject. It will be seen that, under section 59, the provisions of this Part under A Pounds, B Education, C Medical and D Public Works, apply of their own force to every District Board constituted under the Act, and the Lieutenant-Governor has no intention of exercising the power conferred on him by the last sentence of that section, and withdrawing any of those provisions from any district. On the other hand, the provisions of this Part under the headings E Sanitation, F Vaccination, G Census, H, Famine Relief, and I Miscellaneous, do not apply to any District Board until they have been expressly extended to it by notification. Each of these sections will now be considered in order.

Pounds.

10. A, Pounds.—Section 61 of the Act, read with section 1, clause (a) of Act XVIII of 1883, empowers the Lieutenant-Governor by an order in the Calcutta Gazette to transfer to a District Board all or any of the functions of the Magistrate of the district or of the Local Government under the Cattle Trespass Act. Under this authority, the Lieutenant-Governor proposes, unless you see any objection to this course, to transfer to each District Board in your division all the powers exercised by the District Magistrate under Chapters I to IV, both inclusive, of the Cattle Trespass Act. These powers relate to the establishment of pounds, the determination of the villages by which each pound shall be used, the appointment of pound-keepers, the fixing of fees for the watering and feeding of cattle, and generally for the executive management of pounds. Under section 52, clause (3) of the Local Self-Government Act, the surplus accruing under section 18 of the Cattle Trespass Act must be placed to the credit of the District Fund, and will, it is hoped, form an important part of the Board's assets; and since it is expedient that administrative control should accompany financial responsibility, it seems necessary that full powers should be conferred upon the Boards in this branch of the administration. It is true that in some parts of the country the pounds and the power of impounding cattle under the Cattle Trespass Act have been used as engines of offence, and that abuses have occurred which require to be very carefully guarded against. It must be remembered, however, that the District Magistrate will, for the present at least, be Chairman of the District Board, and that both he and the Commissioner possess extensive powers, under sections 124 to 132 of the Act, to check any improper exercise of its powers by the Board; and the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that there should be little practical difficulty in securing that the pounds shall be as well administered as at present. The Lieutenant-Governor does not propose to confer any powers under Chapters V, VI, and VII of the Cattle Trespass Act. These powers are of a judicial nature, and are not such as could properly be exercised by a Board.

11. With the control of pounds would be transferred also any establishments now employed in district or other offices for the management or account work of pounds; all pound-buildings the property of Government would be vested in the District Board; the latter would be required to accept the responsibility for any farming or other leases which may be current when the Act comes into force, and generally to step into the position of Government, receiving the receipts and being responsible for the expenditure.

12. B, Education.—You will observe that the provisions of the Act are precise and definite as to the classes of schools that are to be transferred to the Boards. By section 62 all middle and primary schools under public management—as defined by Rule 104—are to be made over, with the exception of schools for the education of Europeans and Eurasians. Under section 63 the Lieutenant-Governor is empowered to make over also any other schools or classes of schools, but at the outset it is not intended to take any action under this section. It will not have escaped you that the Act has no application within the limits of any municipality, and no schools of any kind within municipal limits will come under the control of the Boards. Arrangements are being separately matured in regard to the action to be taken under section 64 for the transfer of high English schools within municipal limits to Joint Committees, and for the present it is unnecessary for you to consider this point. For the present, therefore, the Boards will have to deal only with primary schools, and with middle schools, English and vernacular, in all cases without municipal limits. In the case of Government middle schools they will take over the entire maintenance and management; in the case of aided middle schools they will be entrusted with the management of the grant-in-aid allotment; and in the case of primary schools they will be entrusted with the management of the primary grant. They will for the present have nothing to do with any high English school, Government or aided, whether within or without municipal limits; though it is probable that when the scheme is in full working order arrangements may be made to give the Boards some control over this class of schools also. A complete code of rules (Rules 104 to 169) has been promulgated for the guidance of the Boards in dealing with the schools to be transferred to them, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that you will cause these to be carefully studied and strictly adhered to.

Education.

13. The Director of Public Instruction has been requested, in a letter No. 1339 P—M of this date, a copy of which is enclosed, to furnish Government with the following information for each of the scheduled districts, excluding in each case so much of the district as lies within municipal limits:—(1) a list of all Government middle English and middle vernacular schools to be transferred to the Boards, with full details of establishment, receipts from all sources, and expenditure; (2) a list of all aided middle English and middle vernacular schools at present receiving grants from the grant-in-aid allotment together with the grants given to each, and the other information indicated in Rule 124; and (3) the amount of the primary grant at present allotted for expenditure on the extra-urban portion of the district after deducting the assignment for expenditure on Government estates. The Director has been requested to send you an extract of so much of this information as relates to the districts of your division, and you will then be in a position to inform the District Boards precisely what functions and liabilities they have to undertake in the present. For the future their proceedings will be regulated in accordance with the rules already referred to, which will be supplemented, if necessary. The Lieutenant-Governor also intends to transfer to the Boards the offices, establishments, and funds (if any) of the District Committees of Public Instruction, which will cease to exist on the Act coming into force, and I am to request that you will be good enough to cause this to be done. You will see also from the letter to the Director of Public Instruction what arrangements it has been decided to make in respect of the establishments (sub-inspectors, teachers, clerks and servants) now in the service of Government which will, under the operation of the Act, be transferred to the District Board. Copies of the nominal rolls referred to in paragraph 5 of that letter will be forwarded to you for communication to the various Boards in your division; and you should be careful to impress upon them that any education establishment they may decide to employ after the Act has come into force will not be regarded as rendering qualifying service under the Civil Pension Code and will not be entitled to pension or leave allowances from Government. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that these instructions will be sufficient to enable you to guide the District Boards in their management of educational matters during the early days of their existence. If, however, you feel doubt in respect of any points either among those referred to above or otherwise, you should state them in your reply to this letter, and apply for instructions regarding them.

Medical.

14. C, re Medical.—As regards the duties of District and Local Boards in respect of medical charity, you will doubtless have observed that the provisions of section 66 of the Act, unlike those sections which relate to education, do not expressly state that any particular class of hospitals or dispensaries shall be made over to local authorities. The law is permissive, and authorizes the Lieutenant-Governor to make over "any public charitable dispensary or hospital" to the control and administration of the Board. It has therefore to be decided what institutions shall be so transferred in each case. Public charitable hospitals and dispensaries are, as you are aware, divided into three kinds—Class I, State institutions; class II, Local Fund institutions; and class III, private institutions (see Government circular No. 25, dated 11th December 1884, and the accompanying copy of a list of all the dispensaries in the province). The Lieutenant-Governor proposes, unless you see any objection in particular cases, to transfer under section 66 all the institutions in class I, and any institutions in class II that there may be in the districts in your division outside municipal limits. As regards the dispensaries in class III, the case is different. An institution which is supported wholly or principally by private subscriptions, and managed by a committee of private persons, represents a higher stage of development than one which is supported chiefly by local taxation and managed by a quasi-official Board. When, therefore, any existing public dispensary is the bonâ fide outcome of private charity and enterprise, the Lieutenant-Governor would prefer to leave it on its present footing. Government would still continue to provide superior inspection and registers, the only change being that the general powers of inspection and control now exercised by the Magistrate would be transferred to the District Board, which should also be made the channel through which should be paid any contribution now made from the public revenues. There are, however, some dispensaries in class III which, though nominally supported by private subscriptions, are in reality maintained only through the personal influence and exertions of the local officials whose subscribers are actuated by other motives than benevolence and public spirit, and whose committees take little or no interest in their management. In such cases it would, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, probably be to the advantage of all concerned if the control and administration of the institution were transferred, with the consent of the Committee, to the District Board. There might be some danger of a falling off in subscriptions, but the Lieutenant-Governor thinks this is a risk which should be run, and he would even prefer to altogether close any institution whose status was shown to be irreparably unsound.

15. I am desired therefore to request that you will be good enough to prepare and submit to Government a statement showing precisely what dispensaries should, in your opinion, be made over to the Boards in accordance with the principles laid down in the last preceding paragraph. You should distinguish between the three classes, and in the case of class III you should state your reasons for proposing to make the transfer, and should also state in each case whether the consent of the committee or proprietor has been obtained. For each dispensary you should state (1) what buildings it possesses; (2) its endowments or invested funds, if any; (3) its probable cash balance on 1st October next; (4) its establishment in complete detail; (5) its expenditure, exclusive of establishment; and (6) its annual income, distinguishing between cash receipts from Government, from local funds, and from private sources. In the case of dispensaries in class III, which you consider should not be transferred, you should state what grants, if any, are made by Government, and whether, in your opinion, the liability for the payment of these could conveniently be transferred to the District Board. Rules under section 138 (k), which deals with medical charity, have been published for preliminary consideration. They are now being dealt with by Government, and will shortly be finally issued. Sections 67 to 70 of the Act relate rather to the future than to the present, and, so far as is now known to the Lieutenant-Governor, there will be no necessity for immediate action under them by any District Board. Any action that they may find it expedient to take must be considered on its merits when the occasion arises. You will observe that as Union Committees are not to be established at present, and as Part I, Chapter II, cannot therefore be extended to any district, the provisions of section 72, which relate to the registration of vital statistics, will have no application.

Public Works.

16. D, Public Works.—The process of transferring to the District Boards the powers and duties prescribed under this section presents little or no difficulty, and can be disposed of very briefly. For practical purposes it may be said that these powers and duties are those of the present District Road Committees. Section 3 of the Act restrains the new Boards from discharging any of the establishment, including the District Engineer, employed under the Cess Act, except on payment of compensation, and the Lieutenant-Governor assumes that no such discharges are likely to be made. The new Boards will thus step into the place of the District Road Committees; they will have to carry out the same works, and will have at their disposal the same trained establishments. The Magistrate of the district, who is now Chairman of the Committee, will also be Chairman of the Board, and it is probable that many of the members of the former body will also find seats on the latter. The chances of friction and breach of administrative continuity are thus reduced to a minimum. In those districts for which a Divisional Superintendent of Works has been appointed, under section 136 of the Cess Act, that officer will, on the Local Self-Government Act coming into force, be appointed Inspector of Local Works under section 132. In districts for which no Divisional Superintendent has been appointed, special arrangements will be made in due course, and orders will be communicated to you from the Public Works Department of Government. You will observe that under the Act no part of the cost of the Inspector of Local Works or his establishment is chargeable to the District Fund, and the contribution now paid by the District Road Committees on this account will cease as soon as the Local Self-Government Act comes into force. A set of rules under section 138, clauses (l) and (m), will shortly be issued, which will provide, among other things, for those minor matters in which the new Act differs from the corresponding portions of Act IX (B.C.) of 1880; and the Lieutenant-Governer has little doubt that they will be sufficient for the guidance of the Boards under your general supervision.

Sanitation and vaccination.

17. It is now necessary to consider those sections of Part III which do not apply to any District Board until expressly extended thereto. The first two of these—E, Sanitation and F, Vaccination—may be treated together The Lieutenant-Governor is consulting the Sanitary Commissioner as to the advisability of extending these to the districts under notice, and he desires also to be favoured with your opinion as to this measure with regard to the districts of your division. Probably it will not be advisable in any case to introduce any of the optional sections till the beginning of the next financial year, by which time the new Boards will, it is hoped, have been working for half a year, and will be better able to cope with an addition to their duties. But since, by Rule 81, the 31st December has been fixed as the latest date for the submission by the District Boards of budget estimates for the ensuing financial year, and since it is expedient that the budget should provide for all branches of service which the Boards are to administer during that year, an early decision is desirable. The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that the provisions of section E, Sanitation, if effectively administered, should be among the most beneficial as well as the most legitimate duties of District and Local Boards, and he would wish to extend this section wherever practicable. As regards section F, Vaccination, there is more room for doubt; but in this, as in other matters Government must be largely guided by your views. In submitting your opinions on these two subjects the Lieutenant-Governor desires that you will make your proposals as precise and definite as possible, showing clearly what work you would wish the District Boards to undertake, what establishments they would require, and what expenditure would be involved. The Lieutenant-Governor would also be glad to receive the views of the Boards themselves where this can be arranged without undue delay.

to above or otherwise, you should state them in your reply to this letter, and apply for instructions regarding them.

Medical.

14. C, re Medical.—As regards the duties of District and Local Boards in respect of medical charity, you will doubtless have observed that the provisions of section 66 of the Act, unlike those sections which relate to education, do not expressly state that any particular class of hospitals or dispensaries shall be made over to local authorities. The law is permissive, and authorizes the Lieutenant-Governor to make over "any public charitable dispensary or hospital" to the control and administration of the Board. It has therefore to be decided what institutions shall be so transferred in each case. Public charitable hospitals and dispensaries are, as you are aware, divided into three kinds—Class I, State institutions; class II, Local Fund institutions; and class III, private institutions (see Government circular No. 25, dated 11th December 1884, and the accompanying copy of a list of all the dispensaries in the province). The Lieutenant-Governor proposes, unless you see any objection in particular cases, to transfer under section 66 all the institutions in class I, and any institutions in class II that there may be in the districts in your division outside municipal limits. As regards the dispensaries in class III, the case is different. An institution which is supported wholly or principally by private subscriptions, and managed by a committee of private persons, represents a higher stage of development than one which is supported chiefly by local taxation and managed by a quasi-official Board. When, therefore, any existing public dispensary is the bonâ fide outcome of private charity and enterprise, the Lieutenant-Governor would prefer to leave it on its present footing. Government would still continue to provide superior inspection and registers, the only change being that the general powers of inspection and control now exercised by the Magistrate would be transferred to the District Board, which should also be made the channel through which should be paid any contribution now made from the public revenues. There are, however, some dispensaries in class III which, though nominally supported by private subscriptions, are in reality maintained only through the personal influence and exertions of the local officials whose subscribers are actuated by other motives than benevolence and public spirit, and whose committees take little or no interest in their management. In such cases it would, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, probably be to the advantage of all concerned if the control and administration of the institution were transferred, with the consent of the Committee, to the District Board. There might be some danger of a falling off in subscriptions, but the Lieutenant-Governor thinks this is a risk which should be run, and he would even prefer to altogether close any institution whose status was shown to be irreparably unsound.

15. I am desired therefore to request that you will be good enough to prepare and submit to Government a statement showing precisely what dispensaries should, in your opinion, be made over to the Boards in accordance with the principles laid down in the last preceding paragraph. You should distinguish between the three classes, and in the case of class III you should state your reasons for proposing to make the transfer, and should also state in each case whether the consent of the committee or proprietor has been obtained. For each dispensary you should state (1) what buildings it possesses; (2) its endowments or invested funds, if any; (3) its probable cash balance on 1st October next; (4) its establishment in complete detail; (5) its expenditure, exclusive of establishment; and (6) its annual income, distinguishing between cash receipts from Government, from local funds, and from private sources. In the case of dispensaries in class III, which you consider should not be transferred, you should state what grants, if any, are made by Government, and whether, in your opinion, the liability for the payment of these could conveniently be transferred to the District Board. Rules under section 138 (k), which deals with medical charity, have been published for preliminary consideration. They are now being dealt with by Government, and will shortly be finally issued. Sections 67 to 70 of the Act relate rather to the future than to the present, and, so far as is now known to the Lieutenant-Governor, there will be no necessity for immediate action under them by any District Board. Any action that they may find it expedient to take must be considered on its merits when the occasion arises. You will observe that as Union Committees are not to be established at present, and as Part I, Chapter II, cannot therefore be extended to any district, the provisions of section 72, which relate to the registration of vital statistics, will have no application.

Public Works.

16. D, Public Works.—The process of transferring to the District Boards the powers and duties prescribed under this section presents little or no difficulty, and can be disposed of very briefly. For practical purposes it may be said that these powers and duties are those of the present District Road Committees. Section 3 of the Act restrains the new Boards from discharging any of the establishment, including the District Engineer, employed under the Cess Act, except on payment of compensation, and the Lieutenant-Governor assumes that no such discharges are likely to be made. The new Boards will thus step into the place of the District Road Committees; they will have to carry out the same works, and will have at their disposal the same trained establishments. The Magistrate of the district, who is now Chairman of the Committee, will also be Chairman of the Board, and it is probable that many of the members of the former body will also find seats on the latter. The chances of friction and breach of administrative continuity are thus reduced to a minimum. In those districts for which a Divisional Superintendent of Works has been appointed, under section 136 of the Cess Act, that officer will, on the Local Self-Government Act coming into force, be appointed Inspector of Local Works under section 132. In districts for which no Divisional Superintendent has been appointed, special arrangements will be made in due course, and orders will be communicated to you from the Public Works Department of Government. You will observe that under the Act no part of the cost of the Inspector of Local Works or his establishment is chargeable to the District Fund, and the contribution now paid by the District Road Committees on this account will cease as soon as the Local Self-Government Act comes into force. A set of rules under section 138, clauses (l) and (m), will shortly be issued, which will provide, among other things, for those minor matters in which the new Act differs from the corresponding portions of Act IX (B.C.) of 1880; and the Lieutenant-Governer has little doubt that they will be sufficient for the guidance of the Boards under your general supervision.

Sanitation and vaccination.

17. It is now necessary to consider those sections of Part III which do not apply to any District Board until expressly extended thereto. The first two of these—E, Sanitation and F, Vaccination—may be treated together The Lieutenant-Governor is consulting the Sanitary Commissioner as to the advisability of extending these to the districts under notice, and he desires also to be favoured with your opinion as to this measure with regard to the districts of your division. Probably it will not be advisable in any case to introduce any of the optional sections till the beginning of the next financial year, by which time the new Boards will, it is hoped, have been working for half a year, and will be better able to cope with an addition to their duties. But since, by Rule 81, the 31st December has been fixed as the latest date for the submission by the District Boards of budget estimates for the ensuing financial year, and since it is expedient that the budget should provide for all branches of service which the Boards are to administer during that year, an early decision is desirable. The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that the provisions of section E, Sanitation, if effectively administered, should be among the most beneficial as well as the most legitimate duties of District and Local Boards, and he would wish to extend this section wherever practicable. As regards section F, Vaccination, there is more room for doubt; but in this, as in other matters Government must be largely guided by your views. In submitting your opinions on these two subjects the Lieutenant-Governor desires that you will make your proposals as precise and definite as possible, showing clearly what work you would wish the District Boards to undertake, what establishments they would require, and what expenditure would be involved. The Lieutenant-Governor would also be glad to receive the views of the Boards themselves where this can be arranged without undue delay.

Other heads.

18. As regards section G, Census, no action is at present necessary. It will be soon enough to think of extending this when the time for the next census, 1891, draws near. As regards section H, Famine Relief, also no immediate action is probably required, but the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to hear your opinion on the subject. Section I, Miscellaneous, deals with (1) staging-bungalows and serais; (2) destruction of noxious animals; 3) fairs and exhibitions; and (4) works not otherwise provided for. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to extend the provisions of this section from the beginning of the next financial year to any district where you think it advisable to do so In the event of your recommending this measure in any case, the Lieutenant-Governor desires that your proposals may be submitted with the same particularity as in the case of sections E and F referred to in the last preceding paragraph.

Ferries.

19. There is a further branch of the public service not specifically alluded to in Part III of the Local Self Government Act, which should, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, be in some degree made over to the control of District Boards. This is the management of public ferries. Under section 35 of Act I (B.C.) of 1885, it is provided that the Lieutenant-Governor may direct that any public ferry situated in any district in which a District Board has been established shall be managed by the District Board, which shall thereupon exercise (with certain exceptions) the powers of the District Magistrate under the Ferries Act; and section 52, clause (4), of the Local Self-Government Act provides that all receipts in respect of such ferries shall be credited to the District Fund. Under the heads of Education and Medical the receipts of the Boards will fall considerably short of their expenditure, and the transfer of the ferry receipts (which exceed the corresponding charges) will be a convenient method of redressing the financial balance. The Lieutenant-Governor desires therefore that you will furnish Government with a list of all public ferries in the districts of schedule 3 in your division, exclusive of those which have been declared municipal ferries under Act III (B.C.) of 1884, and also exclusive of any which lie wholly within the limits of any municipality. You should state the gross receipts and charges on account of each ferry, whether it is at present farmed or held khas, and whether any part of the receipts are at present assigned to any District Road Committee or other local authority. You should also state whether any such ferry does not lie wholly within one district, and how the management and receipts and charges should be distributed in such a case. Unless you see any objection to this course, the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to transfer all such public ferries, with their receipts and charges, to the management of the District Boards under section 35 of the Ferries Act.

Powers and duties of Local Boards.

20. It now remains to be decided what matters under the control and administration of the District Board shall be transferred under section 101 wholly or in part to the control and administration of the Local Boards subordinate to it. You will observe that no Local Board, of itself, has authority over any matter whatever. A Local Board acts solely as the agent of the District Board, and has authority in such matters only, and to such extent as may be delegated to it. It receives allotments of funds from the District Board, and is not permitted by law (section 102) to incur expenses or undertake liabilities beyond their limit. In deciding what matters shall be transferred to each Local Board, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to be guided, as far as possible, by the wishes of the several Boards themselves. He requests you therefore to ascertain the wishes of each District Board in your division as to the branches of service to be transferred to each Local Board subordinate to it, and also the wishes of the Local Boards in question; and he would be glad also to have your own views on the subject to assist him in his final decision. There is nothing in the law which makes it necessary to entrust the same branches to all the Local Boards in one district, much less in one division. The special circumstances of each subdivision and the constitution of each Board will introduce possible elements of difference. Generally speaking, the Lieutenant-Governor considers it inexpedient, at the outset of this large and difficult undertaking, to overweight the comparatively weak Local Boards with too heavy a burden of functions and responsibilities. In subdivisions where a Branch Road Committee has been in existence under the Cess Act, there will ordinarily be little difficulty in making over to the Local Board the same powers in respect of public works as were exercised by the former body. In medical matters also, it will probably be possible to make considerable devolutions of authority to the Local Boards. With respect to pounds, ferries, and education, however, though something may be done, the Lieutenant-Governor finds it difficult to speak with any certainty, and it would certainly be unwise to attempt any hard-and-fast rule. In no case would the Lieutenant-Governor propose to transfer any of the optional powers under sections E to I to any Local Board at first starting, although ultimately some of the matters included in these sections may be transferred with much advantage. Whatever your recommendations may be, it will be necessary to carefully consider their financial consequences, and to indicate with as much accuracy as may be possible what provision of funds will require to be made under each head.

Office and establishments of District Boards.

21. Before leaving this portion of the subject, a few words may usefully be added regarding the office to be provided for each District and Local Board. Ordinarily the office now used by the District Road Committee should suffice, at least for the present, for the District Board; and similarly the office of the Branch Road Committee should suffice for the Local Board. When there is no such office, as in the case of Sudder Local Boards, the office used by the District Committee of Public Instruction should be made available; and where this is insufficient or non-existent, arrangements might be made for the Boards to use a room in the collectorate or subdivisional office till a separate office has been provided. The clerical establishments employed under the Cess Act for account and other purposes might well be utilized, at all events at first, for the disposal of office work in all branches of service administered by the Board, with the assistance of any special staff there may be in any district for educational, medical or other work. The officer who now keeps the accounts of the District Road Fund should be appointed under section 54 to keep the accounts of the District Fund. In some cases an allowance is given to some clerk of the district staff for attending to work connected with pounds or ferries. These allowances should be made available among the assets of the Boards. With regard to any additional establishments which it may be found necessary to employ over and above those already referred to, it does not seem possible to lay down any general rule, except that they should always be on the smallest possible scale. The funds which can be placed at the disposal of the Boards are very limited, and whatever is spent on clerical establishments will reduce pro tanto the sum available for expenditure on substantive work.

Financial arrangements.

22. The last of the three heads into which these instructions are divided relates to finance. This subject is dealt with in Part II of the Act, to which your careful attention should be given. The first point for consideration is section 45. This section is intended to provide for the transfer to the District Board, on its coming into existence, of the balances of any local authority which is merged in it. The only such local authority of a general nature are (1) the District Road Committees; (2) the District Committees of Public Instruction; and (3) Dispensary Committees of the kind referred to in paragraph 14 above as proper subjects for transfer to District Boards. The Lieutenant-Governor proposes therefore to issue a notification under this section, vesting all the funds of these bodies in the District Boards immediately on the latter coming into existence; and to enable him to ascertain what sums will thus be placed at the disposal of the Boards, he desires that you will furnish Government with an estimate of the probable balances on the 1st October next at credit of each of these bodies. You should also report whether there are any other local bodies which will be merged in the District Boards, and whose funds should in your opinion be transferred to the latter. It will be convinent if at the same time you will report what sums have been expended in each district in conducting the election and introducing the Act generally, in order that they may, as directed in Government order No. 248—52, dated 16th January 1886, be debited against the Boards concerned. The Lieutenant-Governor will then be in a position to know with some accuracy what sums will be at the disposal of each Board when it first comes into existence.

Rate of cess, and budget for public works.

23. Section 46 provides that on or before a day prescribed in the rules in that behalf, the District Board shall hold a meeting to fix the rate at which the road cess shall be levied during the ensuing cess year. The date so fixed, by Rule 69, is the 31st August in each year, and the District Boards will not have come into existence by that day in the current year. The District Road Committees will still be in existence, and those Committees should therefore fix the rate of road cess for the cess year 1886-87 in the scheduled (and other) districts in your division. The rate so fixed will be valid under section 2, clause 2 of the Act. You will observe that the rate of cess is required to be fixed for the cess year, while by section 47, clause (1), the District Board is required to frame its estimates (which must include public works and all other branches of service administered by it) for the financial year. The reasons for maintaining a separate cess year will cease to exist when once the new Boards have come into operation, and the Lieutenant-Governor will take an early opportunity of changing the date for the beginning of the cess year, under section 11 of the Cess Act, to the 1st April. In the meantime as the cess is in all the scheduled districts levied at the maximum rate, no practical inconvenience is likely to arise. The District Road Committees will, in due course, prepare their annual budget estimates for the entire cess year 1886-87, beginning on the 1st October 1886. The District Boards, stepping into the place of the District Road Committees, will take up the budgets of the latter and work upon them (in respect of public works) until the 31st March 1887. The budget of the District Board for the financial year 1887-88 should proceed on the assumption that the cess will be levied during the six months from October 1887 to March 1888 at the same rate as at present; and should, in respect of works, take up the budget of the District Road Committee at the point at which the latter will be interrupted, i.e., from the 1st April 1887. The latest date for the submission of the estimate of the District Board to the Magistrate is, as already stated, fixed by Rule 81 for the 31st December in each year, and the form in which the estimate should be prepared and the other rules and forms of account under section 138 (i) are now under the consideration of Government, and will very shortly be published. The procedure to be followed by the Magistrate and yourself in dealing with the estimates when submitted is clearly laid down in sections 47 to 49 of the Act, and does not seem to call for special remark.

Commissioner to frame ad interim budget for remainder of current financial year.

24. It will be necessary for Government to frame for each District Board an ad interim budget estimate on which the Board shall work during the six months from October 1886 to March 1887, until their own first budget estimate shall come into effect. As regards public works, the manner in which this should be done has been described in the last preceding paragraph. In order that the ad interim budget may be complete under all heads, I am to request that you will be good enough to prepare and submit for each District Board an esitmate in the accompanying form, together with subsidiary estimates as shown in the form. The entries under the head Opening Balance, which should be given in detail in subsidiary estimate No. 1, should include all sums estimated to be at the disposal of the Boards under section 45 of the Act, in the manner described in paragraph 22 above. Subsidiary estimate No. 2 should contain full details of the receipts and expenditure on account of the pounds to be transferred to the Boards, including any charges for clerical establishment in the Board's office. Subsidiary estimate No. 3, which should be compiled chiefly from the information to be supplied to you by the Director of Public Instruction, as explained in paragraph 13 of this letter, should show on the receipt side (1) the primary grant; (2) the grant-in-aid allotment; (3) the receipts of Government middle (English and vernacular) schools to be transferred, distinguishing between the receipts from (a) endowments, (b) private subscriptions, (c) contributions from local funds, (d) fees, and (e) miscellaneous; and (4) miscellaneous receipts. On the expenditure side it should show (1) the estimated outlay from the primary grant; (2) the estimated outlay from the grant-in-aid allotment; (3) the expenditure on the direct maintenance of middle schools, distinguishing between (a) teaching staff (details of which should be given),

(b) servants, (c) books, (d) buildings, and (e) contingencies; (4) other establishments, such as sub-inspectors, clerks, servants and the like; and (5) contingencies. Subsidiary estimate No. 4, Medical, should show in detail the receipts and expenditure of each dispensary to be transferred to the Board under paragraph 15 of this letter, together with any grants-in-aid for which you propose to make the Board responsible, and the receipts and expenditure, if any, likely to occur under the operations of sections 67 to 70 of the Act. The entries under the head Public Works should be taken at one-half of the estimated receipts (excluding the opening balance) and charges of the District Road Committee for the cess year 1886-87, according to the budget estimate which will have been framed by the latter. Subsidiary estimate No. 6, dealing with ferries, should contain for this branch of service the same information that subsidiary estimate No. 2 contains for pounds. Under the head of Miscellaneous should be shown the receipts, if any, likely to be realized under section 52, clauses (2) and (7) of the Act, and any items not otherwise classified; and the charges for miscellaneous expenditure, such as stationery and printing, initial election expenses, travelling allowances under section 53, clause (6), and other unclassified charges. The percentage for cost of audit should for the present be taken as 1·54 per cent. on estimated income, which is the rate now paid by District Road Committees. The entries under the head "Grant from Provincial revenues" should be fixed at the lowest amount necessary to ensure a reasonable closing balance on the 31st March next, and will, it is hoped, in some cases be nil. It must be borne in mind that these budget estimates deal with a period of six months only, and not with an entire year; and the entries on both sides of the account should be calculated accordingly. The Lieutenant-Governor requests that every effort may be made to ensure that the estimate shall be as correct as possible, in order that the new Boards may be placed in a position of sound financial equilibrium, while at the same time no unnecessary demand is made on the narrow resources of the Local Government. As regards the budget estimates to be prepared by the District Boards for the financial year 1887-88, there are some matters, such as the primary grant, the grant-in-aid allotement, and the grant from Provincial revenues, in respect of which further instructions will be required. These will be communicated to you on receipt of your reply to this letter.

Budget estimates of Local Boards.

25. As regards the preparation of statements of requirements and expenditure of Local Boards, no final action can be taken until it is decided in each case what matters are to be transferred to their control and administration under section 101 of the Act. As soon, however, as orders have been communicated to you on this point, you should instruct all District Boards in your division to arrange for the submission to them of such statements in the manner provided by section 51 of the Act and the rules to be framed under section 138 (i). These statements will not necessitate any revision in the budget estimates to be framed by you under the last preceding paragraph, for the work to be done by any Local Board will consist only of a transfer from that which would otherwise be done by the District Board, and such transfer must always be accompanied by a simultaneous allotment from the funds at the disposal of the District Board.

Miscellaneous financial arrangements.

26. There remain one or two minor matters in connection with the financial arrangements of District and Local Boards. Under section 52, and in accordance with the directions of the Government of India, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that the balance standing to the credit of the District Fund shall be kept in the custody of the Collector of the district, and shall be lodged in the Government treasury. Under section 54 the Lieutenant-Governor directs that the quarterly account of receipt and expenditure of the District Board shall be published by lodging a copy, duly signed by the members of the Finance Committee and countersigned by the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, in the office of the Magistrate and Collector of the district, where it shall be open to inspection by all members of the public at all reasonable times without payment of a fee. The annual account of receipts and expenditure shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall also be lodged as above in the office of the Magistrate and Collector. Your attention is draw to the provisions of section 55, under which each District Board is required to appoint a Finance Committee. Arrangements should be made to have this done at an early date. The accounts of the Finance Committee shall be audited by the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts and his assistants.

27. The above remarks include everything in regard to which instructions appear to the Lieutenant-Governor to be required for the guidance of district officers in introducing the Act. If in respect of any matter they appear to you to be defective or to require reconsideration, the Lieutenant-Governor desires that you will draw his attention to it. In communicating them to your subordinates, you are at liberty to supplement them by any further instructions which you may deem necessary and which are consistent with the Act and Rules, and with the views of the Lieutenant-Governor as stated in this letter. The work which you and the district officers subordinate to you will be called upon to perform in introducing the Local Self-Government Act in the district of your division is of a delicate and difficult nature, and calls for the exercise of administrative qualities, tact, forethought, judgment, and discretion, in an eminent degree. Sir Rivers Thompson trusts and believes that none of his officers will be found lacking in these qualities, and that no efforts may be wanting on their part to the successful initiation of this great reform.

* Situated within a municipality, but the management has not been formally vested in the Municipal Commissioners

No. 1339T—M, dated Darjeeling, the 1st July 1886.

From—R. H. WILSON, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department,
To—The Director of Public Instruction.

I AM directed to forward herewith, for your information, a copy of a letter Nos. 1325-29T—M of this date, which has been addressed to the Commissioners of the Presidency, Burdwan, Rajshahye, Dacca, and Patna Divisions, in which instructions are communicated in regard to the introduction of the Local Self-Government Act III (B.C.) of 1885 into the 16 districts enumerated in Schedule III of the Act. Your attention is specially invited to paragraphs 12 and 13 of this letter, in which the subject of education is discussed.

2. The sections of the Act which deal with Education are 62, 63, 64 and 65. Section 62 declares that every District Board shall be charged with, and responsible for, the maintenance and management of all primary and middle schools under public management within the district. Section 63 provides that the Boards may be charged with the maintenance and management of any other class of schools within the district. Section 64 provides for the appointment of Joint Committees for the maintenance and management of high English schools within the limits of a municipality; and section 65 contains provisions for the improvement of primary schools under private management. You will observe that the last three sections are permissive, and have no application in any district until special orders have been passed in that behalf in each case. As you are aware, arrangements are now being matured for the appointment of Joint Committees for the management of high English schools under section 64, concerning which you were addressed in Government order No. 920T—M, dated 17th June 1886. It is unlikely, however, that these arrangements can be completed in time to be introduced by the 1st October next, and there are some advantages in postponing the transfer of these institutions until the District Boards have been fairly started. This subject therefore need not be further considered in the present connection, and we may assume that no District Board will at the outset have anything to do with any high English school, either within or without municipal limits. Similarly, it would, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, be injudicious to take any action under section 63 or section 65, until the District Boards have been in existence for some short time, and have become to some extent familiarized with their duties under the Act. These sections also may therefore be disregarded for the present. There remains only section 62, and it is chiefly to the provisions of this section that the Lieutenant-Governor now desires to direct your attention.

3. You will observe that under the provisions of sections 1 and 4, the Act does not apply to any municipality or cantonment, and the expression "within the district" used in section 62 signifies only those portions of the district which are not included within the limits of any municipality or cantonment: all the instructions conveyed in the subsequent paragraphs of this letter should be read subject to this limitation, and the information which is called for is not required in respect of any school within municipal limits.

4. Under Rule 104 of the rules laid down under section 138 (j) of the Act, the expression "under public management," in section 62, has been defined so as to include schools receiving aid from the grant-in-aid allotment; and as you are aware, it is intended to entrust the administration of this allotment to the Boards, subject to the rules laid down in that behalf. It follows, therefore, that the District Boards will at once take over, and become responsible for, (1) the direct maintenance and management of Government middle English and middle vernacular schools (other than schools for Europeans and Eurasians) within their jurisdiction; (2) the administration of the grant-in-aid allotment for their district (as defined in the last preceding paragraph), in respect of middle English and middle vernacular schools; and (3) the management of the primary grant for their district as defined above. In order therefore that each District Board may be informed precisely of the duties it has to perform and the liabilities to which it is subject, I am directed to request that you will submit to Government, at a very early date, the following information for each of the 16 districts mentioned in Schedule III of the Act:—(1) A detailed list of all the Government middle schools, English and vernacular, within the district, showing separately for each school (a) its endowments or invested funds and the annual receipts therefrom; (b) receipts from private subscriptions; (c) from local funds, if any; (d) from fees; (e) from miscellaneous sources; (f) its establishment in full detail; its expenditure on (g) buildings, (h) books, and (i) other contingencies; (j) the scholarships specially attached to it, if any; (k) its average attendance; and (l) any other facts of interest or importance; (2) a detailed list of all the middle schools within the district which at present receive aid from the grant-in-aid allotment, the name of the Secretary, the amount of the grant at present received by each, the period for which it has been fixed, and the heads of information specified in Rule 124; and (3) the amount of the primary grant of the district, after deducting the sums, if any, assigned for expenditure on Government estates from the 1 per cent. allotment on collections. The reason for deducting this last-named item is that the sums so placed at your disposal each year (Rs. 43,500 for 1886-87) represent the contribution made by Government as zemindar for the educational improvement of its own zemindaries. They cannot be made over to District Boards, but must continue to be administered by the Magistrate as at present.

5. It is also the Lieutenant-Governor's intention to transfer to the District Boards the establishments, office, and funds (if any) of the District Committees of Public Instruction, which will cease to exist on the Act coming into force in any district; and I am to request that you will arrange to have this done. The staff of Sub-Inspectors will also, as provided in Rules 158 to 161, be transferred to and become the subordinates of the District Boards, as well as the teaching, clerical, and menial establishments employed in those Government middle schools which are made over under the provisions of section 62. In respect of all establishments so made over, the following general arrangements have been decided upon in respect of promotion, leave, and pension allowances, though it will be open to you to refer specially any case in which they seem to you to be unsuitable. As regards promotion, officers not on the graded list of the Subordinate Educational Service have no specific claim either to increase of pay or to any other appointments than those they are now holding. Their future promotion must therefore be left entirely to the discretion of the Boards, subject of course to the general rules prescribed in respect of the qualifications of employers. As regards officers who are on the graded list, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that their names must be retained on the Government list; they will get the promotion to which they are entitled in due course, and any increase of expenditure which such promotion may throw upon any District Board will be taken into consideration in fixing the annual assignments to the Board. The strength of the Subordinate Educational Service must be reduced ultimately by the number of appointments which will be transferred to the Boards, and you should submit proposals for the distribution of the reduction over the various grades of that service. Sub-Inspectors of Schools, though not belonging to the graded service, should be treated for this purpose as if they did. As regards leave and pension, it has been decided by the Government of India that officers who at the time of transfer to a District Board are rendering qualifying service under the Civil Pension and Civil Leave Codes shall be deemed to be rendering qualifying service after their transfer. They will be entitled to leave and pension under the rules of those Codes, and will not be required to make any subscription on this account. Their leave allowances will be payable by the Boards, and their pensions by Government. Officers who at the time of transfer are not rendering qualifying service, and all officers who may be employed by the Boards after they have come into existence, will have no claim on Government for either leave or pension; and their claim on the Boards will be such as may be provided for in any rules which the latter may make in that behalf. In order that there may be no misunderstanding on this point, I am to request that you will forward to Government a nominal roll for each district, showing the name, appointment, and salary of every officer, whether of the inspecting, teaching, clerical, or menial staff, who will be transferred to the service of any District Board under these orders, and specifying whether he is now rendering qualifying service under Government or not. It should be clearly understood that no officer who is not shown in this roll as rendering qualifying service will have any claim to leave or pension from Government.

6. You will observe that by Rule 156 the Deputy Inspector of Schools is required to prepare the district education budget and submit it to the District Board by the 15th July in each year. This will not be practicable for the ensuing year 1887-88, for the Boards will not come into existence till the 1st October next. You should, however, instruct the Deputy Inspectors to prepare district budgets for the year 1887-88, and submit them to the Boards as soon after they come into existence as may be convenient. These budgets should, in the present case, proceed on the assumption that the amount of the primary grant and of the grant-in-aid allotment for the district will be the same as in the present year. They will be incorporated by the District Boards in their general budget estimates for the year 1887-88, which, under section 47 and Rule 81, are required to be submitted to the Magistrate by the 31st December. It is scarcely necessary to mention that the district budgets should not include any schools within municipal limits.

7. You should forward to the Commissioners of the Presidency, Burdwan, Rajshahye, Dacca, and Patna Divisions copies of so much of the information, and of the nominal rolls above referred to, as relates to the scheduled districts of their respective divisions, and I am to point out that it is of importance that this information should be in the Commissioners' hands at the earliest possible date. For the present, as already stated, the Act is being extended only to the 16 districts in Schedule III, and information is only required for those districts. Before long, however, the Act will be extended to all other districts in the Province (except Singbhoom, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and the Chittagong Hill Tracts), and you should at your leisure arrange to collect and compile similar information for all the districts not included in the above schedule.

No. 1341T—M, dated Darjeeling, the 1st July 1886.

From—R. H. WILSON, ESQ., Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department,

To—The Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

I AM directed to forward herewith, for your information, a copy of a letter No. 1325-29T—M of this date, which has been addressed to the Commissioners of the Presidency, Burdwan, Rajshahye, Dacca, and Patna Divisions, and to draw your attention to the remarks made in paragraph 17, in regard to those sections of the Local Self-Government Act which deal with Sanitation and Vaccination. For the present the Act is being introduced only into the 16 districts enumerated in Schedule III of the Act, and your opinion is requested as to the advisability of extending to those districts the provisions of sections 87 to 91, and 92 to 96 of the Act. You will observe that the Lieutenant-Governor has expressed himself in favour of extending the former group of sections to every district in which this is practicable without avoidable delay, and he would be glad if this could be arranged for with effect from the 1st April 1887. In deciding whether or not this shall be done, however, much must depend on the views taken by yourself and the Commissioners of the divisions concerned, who have been consulted on the subject; and I am to request that you will favour the Lieutenant-Governor with your opinion on the subject at an early date. If you should be of opinion that these sections (dealing with sanitation) should be extended, it is requested that you will make your proposals as precise and definite as possible, stating clearly what work you would wish each District Board to undertake, what establishment would be required, what expenditure would be involved, and how it might best be met.

2. As regards section F, Vaccination, the Lieutenant-Governor has not expressed any decided opinion; but he is disposed to think that in those districts which have been thoroughly protected, and in which the licensed system generally prevails, there would be little practical danger of retrogression if the powers of the District Magistrate under the Vaccination Act were transferred to District Boards. The general control and supervision of vaccine operations would still remain with your department, while it is probable that by enlisting the active sympathies of the members of the District Board, existing apathy and obstruction might be materially lessened. I am directed to request the favour of an early reply.

ALEXANDER PEDLER,

Offg. Meteorologigical Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL SUMMARY OF THE PROVINCE OF BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE 1886.

In Bengal the month of June is, from a meteorological point of view, the most important month of the whole year, for it is in this month that the south-west monsoon establishes itself over the province, and generally over the greater part of Northern India. Another fact which gives great importance to the meteorology of June is that the distribution of rainfall during this month is found to indicate in a rough and general way the chief features of the distribution of rain which may be expected during the whole of the south-west monsoon season.

Normal meteorology of the month.—The south-west monsoon current, which blows from the Bay of Bengal, is produced by causes which have already been referred to in the reports of previous months. During March, April and May the temperature of the whole of India, and of Northern India in particular, increases with great rapidity, and there is thus a steady and increasing difference of temperature between the land and sea area, and at about the end of May, or the commencement of June, this difference attains its maximum. With this difference of temperature, southerly winds blow from the cool sea area towards the heated land. At first these are merely light and local winds; but with the increasing differences of temperature, the southerly moist winds increase in force and in depth till finally a point is reached, when there is a general advance of a large and deep body of moist winds, which may be said to absorb the previous comparatively local winds. It is this general advance of the moisture-laden winds which constitutes the commencement of the south-west monsoon in Bengal. It will be seen, however, that there is no reversal of previous conditions in this case, but rather the strengthening of the previous conditions; and thus in Bengal frequently it is somewhat difficult to state with accuracy the exact date of the commencement of the monsoon. The sea breeze blowing over Bengal from the Bay of Bengal in March and April is generally light and to a certain extent variable, and there is no doubt that it only extends to a short distance from the coast. During the middle or latter part of May, however, a very important change commences, and very strong southerly winds begin to blow in the south of the Bay, giving rise frequently to heavy rain and squally weather. These southerly humid winds advance steadily northwards, giving rise sometimes to the formation of cyclonic storms of more or less intensity, but in other cases advancing more quietly. The advance takes place usually along the eastern part of the Bay, and by the end of May monsoon winds are generally blowing over the whole of the southern half of the Bay. After a short interval, another advance of these winds takes place, and by the first week in June these strong and deep southerly winds reach Eastern Bengal, absorbing the lighter local winds in their progress; the monsoon current commences to spread over East and North Bengal, appearing as a south-easterly wind in East Bengal, and as an easterly wind in North Bengal, owing to the deflection caused by the hill systems to the East and North of Bengal. After the first burst it usually extends in a westerly direction, and a few days after the monsoon has commenced in East Bengal, it gives rain to South-West and West Bengal, and a few days later, or when reinforced by another burst of southerly winds, the monsoon extends over Behar and Chutia Nagpur.

It is an important fact that the rainfall in the south-west monsoon is not due to a perfectly steady and continuous action, but that it occurs rather as a series of waves or pulsations, a strong wave of rainfall being followed by a period of comparative calm and absence of rainfall, and it is during the latter that frequently small barometric depressions or cyclonic storms are formed, generally over the sea area, and which, after developing for a few days, advance over the land, bringing heavy rainfall to the districts through which they pass. With reference to these storms, it may also be said that the longer the period during which they are forming the more intense they will be. So far also as has been ascertained up to the present time, it would appear that, during a comparatively weak monsoon, the periods of comparative cessation of rainfall are more frequent and are of longer duration than during a monsoon of normal strength, and thus weak monsoons are frequently characterized by the number and comparative intensity of the cyclonic storms or barometric depressions which visit the land, while during years when the monsoon is equal to or above its normal strength, these storms occur but seldom, and they are of little intensity.

In addition to the monsoon current blowing from the Bay of Bengal, there is of course a second branch of the monsoon current blowing from the Indian Ocean and Arabian Sea towards Bombay. The formation and character of this branch of the monsoon current have been discussed in previous monthly reports, and at certain periods of the monsoon season this branch has an important influence on the rainfall in Bengal, but in normal years, in June, the rainfall is due almost entirely to the Bay of Bengal branch of the monsoon current, so that at this period its influence need not be discussed.

The normal rainfall of June then occurs to a great extent from similar actions to those of April and May, though of course these conditions are much intensified. The rainfall is therefore much heavier than in the preceding two months, and the distribution is to a certain extent similar. The lines of equal rainfall run nearly north and south, the heaviest rainfalls occurring in East and parts of North Bengal, and the smallest in the western parts of Behar. In the former districts rainfall varies from 25 to 35 inches, while at Buxar it is less than 5 inches.

The most important meteorological features of June are therefore the date of the commencement of the south-west monsoon, its strength, the occurrence of cyclonic storms, and the rainfall.

Establishment of the Monsoon.—It was shown in the report for the month of May that fairly strong monsoon winds had set in over the greater part of the Bay during that month, and on the 31st a feeble barometric depression had formed in front of the advancing monsoon winds, and was on that day off the Akyab coast. On the 1st of June the depression was reaching South Bengal, and in its advance over the land it was followed by a strong monsoon current, and the rains may be said to have set in over South-East Bengal on about the 3rd of the month, and with this first burst of the rains heavy rain fell over this area, for at Chittagong no less than 20 inches was reported within two days. This advance of the rains did not, however, last very long, nor did it penetrate to any great extent into the interior; but a few days later a second small barometric depression was formed off the Pegu coast in front of the advancing monsoon current, which passed inland near Akyab on the 7th, and then a second slight advance of monsoon winds took place over East Bengal. Again, the heavy rainfall brought up was confined almost entirely to the districts of East Bengal, and only showers were reported from other districts. This advance then died away, and practically no rain fell over the province from the 11th to the 14th, but during this period a large and rather intense cyclonic storm formed over the head of the Bay, which, after developing for three or four days, passed inland in a north-westerly direction, the centre crossing the coast to the east of Saugor Island. The storm advanced for several days in a north-westerly direction, till it finally broke up on the 20th in the Bikaneer desert. With the advance of this powerful storm, a strong wave of monsoon winds advanced over the whole province, and the rains then commenced in all districts. The monsoon rains may therefore be practically said to have commenced in East Bengal from about the beginning of the month, and over the remainder of the province from the middle of June, that is from the 15th or 16th. The second date is perhaps a few days later than the monsoon usually commences in Bengal.

Strength of the Monsoon.—The monsoon current may vary in two days, and its strength will depend on the two considerations of its velocity and the depth or thickness of the current. No means are available for measuring the depth of the current, so that, in judging of the strength of the monsoon current from year to year, only its velocity can be measured and compared. The velocity can be measured accurately, but it will be seen that this alone can give only a rough approximation to truth. In the table below are given the actual hourly velocity of the winds for June compared with the average for the same period at all the stations near the coast, from Diamond Island round to False Point, at which winds have been registered for a sufficient length of time to give a reliable average :—

Stations.	Actual average wind velocity for June 1886. Miles per hour.	Normal wind velocity in June. Miles per hour.
Diamond Island	9	4·4
Akyab	4	4·2
Chittagong...	6	4·0
Dacca	6	3·7
Calcutta	6	8·4
Saugor Island	13	15·0
Cuttack	3	3·7
False Point	7	13·3

It will be seen from this table that, while the first four stations all show wind velocities above the normal, the second four are in all cases below it. The first four stations are those to the east of Bengal, and along the east coast of the Bay, and the second four are in the western part of Bengal, and on the west coast. This evidence appears therefore clearly to point to the conclusion that the monsoon current has at present a rather more strongly eastward set than usual, and that it is, and perhaps will be, comparatively strong over Burma and Arakan, and probably over South-East Bengal, while it is comparatively weak over the western and perhaps northern districts of Bengal. Taking the wind velocities of these eight stations to have an equal value in calculation, and comparing them with the normal, the average velocity of the wind current during June over the whole province appears to have been slightly below the normal.

Barometric depressions during the month.—Two small and one large and somewhat violent cyclonic storm were formed during the month. The first was formed at the close of May off Akyab and reached the South Bengal coast on June 1st, the centre passing to the west of Chittagong. The centre was on the 2nd not far from Burrisal, and it then advanced inland and filled up. It was a very feeble storm, though it gave very heavy rain to South-East Bengal. The second depression was also very feeble, and it formed off the Pegu coast on the 5th and 6th, and then advanced inland near Akyab on the 7th. It also brought up heavy rain to South-East Bengal. The third storm was a powerful one, and it has undoubtedly formed the most important feature of the month, and it will form a very important feature in the meteorology of the year, as it brought about the commencement of the rains over the greater part of the province, and over a large part of Northern India. The following is the description of this storm taken principally from the report for the week ending the 18th of June :—

There were no indications of the existence of the storm from the observations received on the 12th June. Pressure was, however, falling rapidly, particularly at the head of the Bay, and while very light winds were blowing in South Bengal, in the centre and south of the Bay a fairly strong monsoon current was reported. The observations, however, which were received on the 13th, showed very distinctly that a cyclonic storm was in process of formation at the head of the Bay The storm continued to develop, remaining almost stationary on the 14th, and on this day very strong monsoon winds were reported from the whole of the centre and south of the Bay, showing clearly that the storm had intensified. On the 15th the storm had again intensified still further, and was evidently advancing in a northerly or north-westerly direction, and the centre of the storm was probably to the east or south-east of False Point, though a considerable distance from land. During the whole of this day it was evident that the storm was intensifying and slowly, but steadily, advancing, and as it progressed it became evident that it would reach the coast not very far from Saugor Island. The storm centre continued to approach nearer and nearer to Saugor Island during the night of the 15th and the morning of the 16th, when the storm had evidently become of considerable size and intensity.

The storm centre reached the coast to the east of Saugor Island at 7 A.M. on the morning of the 16th, and travelling in a north-westerly direction its centre was a little to the north of that station at 10 A.M. of this day, where the excessively low pressure of 29·106" at 9 A.M. was reported. So far as observations have been received up to the present time, it would appear that the centre of the storm was accompanied by winds which were of very considerable violence, though comparatively little damage was done; but at Mud Point it may be mentioned the violence of the wind was such that it broke the signal flagstaff on which the storm signals were hoisted, so that for the present storm signals cannot be hoisted at that station. From the light-vessel at the mouth of the Mutlah it has been since reported that they were visited by a cyclone on the 16th, so it is probable that the storm centre passed either over this place or close to it, and then advancing in a north-westerly direction to the north of Saugor Island, it passed through the Midnapore district. At 10 A.M. on the 17th the centre of the cyclonic storm was in the south or south-west of Chutia Nagpur, probably to the south-west of Ranchi, while at 10 A.M. on the morning of the 18th the storm was passing from South Behar into the North-West Provinces, the centre being probably to the south-west of Dehree, and on the morning of the 19th the report from the Meteorological Reporter of the Government of India at Simla showed that the storm had advanced to Jhansi, and on the morning of the 20th it had advanced to the Bikaneer desert, where it finally broke up. The storm therefore travelled over a course of about 1,200 miles, and after it passed over the land, it advanced in a north-westerly direction at the rate of about 200 miles a day.

Information which has since been obtained from the logs of ships, which were at the head of the Bay during the passage of the storm, show that the storm near its centre was very fierce and gave rise to excessively strong winds and high seas.

Pressure—Variations during the month have been large, particularly during the formation and existence of the small cyclone just described. For the whole month, however, pressure has not varied very much from the normal, and the mean pressure for the whole province only shows a variation of two thousandths of an inch above the normal. In Orissa, at Saugor Island, Calcutta and Gya the mean pressure has been slightly below the normal, but at all other stations it has been in slight excess.

Temperature—Variations have also been considerable during the month. For the first few days of the month temperature was in almost all cases below the normal, but with the delay in the setting in of the rains, temperature for about ten to fifteen days became rather considerably above the normal, and since that time it has again been below the normal. The mean temperature for the month shows that, while temperature has been below the normal in Orissa, East Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur, it has been above the normal elsewhere. The greatest variations are an excess temperature of 2·4° in North Behar, and a defect of 1·2° in Orissa. For the whole province the mean temperature has been 0·2° in excess of the normal.

Rainfall.—Speaking generally of the whole province, the rainfall has been smaller than the normal, the variation, so far as can be calculated from the mean of the divisional averages, being a general defect of about eight per cent. When, however, the rainfall of the province is considered more in detail it will be found that the divisions of Orissa and South Behar have received excess falls, while East Bengal, South-West Bengal, North Behar, and Chutia Nagpur have received falls decidedly in defect, and finally in North Bengal the fall has been very defective. The excess falls in Orissa and South Behar may perhaps be accounted for by the passage of the cyclonic storm through the western districts, which brought up a heavy burst of rainfall in its rear.

The comparison of the actual rainfall of the various great divisions of the province during June with the normal for the period is best shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month, calculated in this way, are included in the table below under the heading of June. This table really gives the condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to the end of June for each meteorological division, the first six columns of figures giving the actual monthly rainfall in each division compared with the normal and worked out as a percentage, while the seventh column shows the actual fall for the first six months of the year compared with the normal fall, also worked out as a percentage; the figure 100 therefore in the table will represent a normal fall, a number larger than 100 an excess fall, and so on.

...

Taking up the figures for the month of June, it will be seen that the fall in Orissa has been 36 per cent. in excess of the normal, and in South Behar the excess has been 13 per cent. In all other divisions the falls have been defective; in East Bengal the defect has been only 7 per cent, in South-West Bengal the defect has been 13 per cent., in North Behar and Chutia Nagpur the defect has been 22 per cent., and finally the defect in North Bengal has been no less than 40 per cent. of the normal The table also shows that for the first six months of the year the rainfall over the province, taken as a whole, has equalled about 99 per cent. of the normal fall, also that, while Orissa and South Behar have received for the six months 31 and 11 per cent., respectively, of excess rainfall, the fall has been more or less defective in all other districts. In South-West and East Bengal the defect for the six months is only 2 per cent., in North Behar it is 11 per cent., in Chutia Nagpur 13 per cent., and in North Bengal no less than 20 per cent.

The distribution of the normal rainfall for June has already been described, and the actual fall has generally resembled the normal, though there have been important variations. The heaviest falls have occurred in the Darjeeling Hills, where Buxa has received 44·45 inches, and also in the Chittagong district, where Chittagong reports 40 97 inches. From the excessive amounts in the eastern and northern districts the rainfall pretty steadily decreases from the east to the west, and from the coast line towards the interior, till in a considerable part of Behar the fall has only equalled 4 inches, while at such stations as Sitamarhi, Paru, Bagaha, and Barrh the fall has been from three to four inches, and at Dehree it has only been 2·27 inches.

The variations of the actual falls in June from the normal rainfall have in many instances been very large. When these variations are charted, it is seen that the whole of Orissa, except the Pooree district, has received an excess fall. An area of country which has received an excess fall then stretches in a northerly direction from Orissa including parts of the Midnapore, Hooghly, Burdwan and Beerbhoom districts, the greater part of the Sonthal Pergunnahs and Moorshedabad, parts of Rajshahye and Maldah, and the greater part of South Behar except the Patna district. A part of North Behar defined by such stations as Tajpore, Mozufferpore and Madhubani is also included in this area of excess rainfall. Another area of excess rainfall is to be found in South-East Bengal, where it includes a considerable part of Chittagong, Dacca, and Noakholly districts, and finally there is a centre of excess rainfall of no less than 14 inches at Sitiguri. As a general rule the amount of excess fall in these districts is small, varying up to 3 inches, but the stations of Cuttack, Jagatsingpore, Jellasore, Maldah, Jungipore (Moorshedabad), and Rajmehal show a greater excess, and at Chittagong the excess fall is no less than 17·42 inches. The remainder of the province has received a fall in defect of the normal. In all the western divisions the defect is generally not as much as three inches, but in some of the northern and eastern districts the defects are very large. Thus a great part of North Bengal shows a defect varying from 5 up to more than 10 inches, or even as high as 18·87 inches at Dinhatta. The Mymensingh and Tipperah districts are also largely in defect, the defect running up to as much as 8·96 inches at Brahmanberiah, and 8·56 inches at Kishoregunge. In the western districts Purulia, Semtagurah (Hazaribagh district), Bankoora, Rampore Haut, Cutwa, Meherpore, Chuadanga, Jessore, Satkhira, Serampore, Buseerhat, Barrackpore, and Diamond Harbour represent areas of very decidedly defective rainfall.

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and the normal rainfall of the month of June in all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance or weight being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the weekly and monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 15 years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third column in a slightly different form. It states as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in excess or defect from the normal rainfall, and is hence the difference between the numbers in the third column and 100 :—

CALCUTTA, the 6th July 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 9TH OF JULY 1886.

WEATHER conditions during the week have been of normal character for the full development of the rainy season. A fairly strong monsoon current has been blowing over the whole province, and rainfall has been frequent and copious. In most districts rainfall has occurred on five or six days out of the seven, and, excepting the extreme western districts, the whole province has received a rainfall largely in excess of the normal for the period. At the commencement of the week the monsoon current blowing over the province was almost entirely south-easterly, and at the northern stations easterly. This continued until Monday, the 5th, when a strong westerly element appeared in the wind directions, and winds became generally south-westerly. At the same time wind velocities at the coast stations became considerable; the hourly wind velocity at such stations as Saugor Island and Gopalpur being 20 miles and upwards for several days. The westerly element in the wind directions began to disappear on Thursday, the 8th, and easterly winds were reported on this day from North Behar and in East Bengal. These interacting winds have of course been favourable for heavy rainfall, and as the interaction has been most marked over the northern, eastern and central districts, the rainfall has here been very large. On Friday the 9th, a slight disturbing element appeared in the course of the steady monsoon winds in the form of a small barometric depression which was formed at the head of the Bay, and which caused the winds over South Bengal to be more or less cyclonic in direction. The steady moist current from the sea was therefore deflected towards the Arakan coast, and very heavy rain commenced to fall over that area, while rainfall became more or less scanty in the northern districts of Bengal. At the close of the week the feeble depression was close up to the head of the Bay, and the centre was apparently not very far to the west of Chittagong.

Pressure—During the week has experienced the usual oscillatory changes, and it was for two or three days rising and for the remainder of the time falling. The mean pressure for the province for the previous week was 0·056″ above the normal, and again during the present week the excess recorded has been of precisely similar amount. The excess pressure recorded during the week has been largest at the south-western stations and comparatively small in Behar

Temperature With the very general and heavy rainfall during the week, has continued very low, and, except in Orissa, all districts show temperature distinctly below the normal. The defect is largest in South Behar, where it equals no less than 4·5°; in North Behar the defect is also large and is 2·3°. In East Bengal the defect is 2·5°, and in Chutia Nagpur it is 1·4° The deficient temperature in South-West Bengal is comparatively small and only equals 0·8°. Finally, in Orissa temperature has been in excess of the normal by 1·7°. Taking all these districts to have an equal value, the mean temperature of the province has been 1·6° below the normal.

Rainfall—As stated previously, has been very general and heavy during the week, excepting in the extreme western districts. A comparison of the rainfall in the various meteorological divisions with the normal fall for the same period will show that North Behar has received 255 per cent. of the normal, North Bengal has received 204 per cent., and East Bengal 186 per cent.; South Behar has received 189 per cent., and South-West Bengal 188 per cent. On the other hand, the falls in Chutia Nagpur and Orissa have been in defect, and Chutia Nagpur has only received 73 per cent. of the normal, and Orissa only 38 per cent. Taking the province as a whole, it has therefore received a rainfall during the week equal to 162 per cent. of the normal.

The heaviness of the rainfall for the week may be judged from the fact that in North Behar the amount of rain has averaged nearly 9 inches falling on 5·8 days; in North Bengal an average of 8·01 inches has fallen on five days. In East Bengal the rainfall has averaged 6·33 inches, while in South-West Bengal and South Behar the fall has been nearly 5 inches. In certain districts and at individual stations the falls have been exceedingly heavy both for the week and on particular days; thus at the following stations the falls for the week have exceeded 18 inches:—Cox's Bazar, Rangamati, Julpaiguri, and Buxa; while at the following stations falls in excess of 10 inches for the week have been recorded:—Gournadi (Backergunge district), Madaripore, Narainguage, Bagdogra, Alipore Duar and Fallacotta (Julpaiguri district), Dinhatta, Meckligunge, Kissengunge, Arrareah, Chupra, and Pakri Barawan (Gya district). The largest rainfalls on any particular day have been on the 4th—Gajol 4·11 inches, Bagdogra 4·05 inches, Julpaiguri 5·90 inches, Meckligunge 4·72 inches, Buxa 5·96 inches, Arrareah 5·35 inches, and Pakri Barawan 6·12 inches. On the 5th—Kurigram 6·40 inches, Dinhatta 4·85 inches. On the 6th—Julpaiguri 9·64 inches, Alipore Duar 4·83 inches, Meckligunge 4·38 inches, Buxa 4·32 inches, Kissengunge 5·60 inches, Protabgunge 5·15 inches, and Motihari 4·30 inches. On the 7th—Cutwa 4·17 inches, Jessore 4·11 inches, Madaripore 4·38 inches, Manickgunge 4·55 inches. Chandpore 5·10 inches, Serajgunge 4·21 inches, Alipore Duar 4·12 inches, and Chupra 5·83 inches. On the 8th—Canning Town received 4·09 inches, Alipore 4·21 inches, Mohesreka 4·74 inches, Rangamati 12·21 inches, Gournadi 6·36 inches, Daudkandi 4·27 inches, and Gopalgunge 4·37 inches; while on the 9th the excessive rainfall of 15·72 inches was reported at Cox's Bazar, though no other stations on this day reported heavy rain.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 9th of July 1886 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

THE chief features in the mortuary statistics of the districts in Bengal for the month of March 1886, deduced from the table annexed to this memorandum, are :—

1. That 102,151 persons died among a population of 66,163,884, representing an annual death-rate of 18·48 per 1,000 against 17·04 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 20·88 per 1,000 in the corresponding month of the past year, indicating, as compared with the former period, a sensible improvement in the registration of deaths and that of the latter period a large reduction.

2. That the following districts returned the highest proportions of deaths :—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille.
Julpaiguri	32·28	Rungpore	28·92
Pubna	31·80	Cuttack	25·44
Balasore	31·20	Jessore	25·08
Nuddea	29·52

3. That the mortality from the specific death-causes is exhibited below, contrasted with similar information for the corresponding month of the preceding year :—

	Ratio per mille during—
	March 1886.	March 1885.
Cholera	1·56	2·16
Small-pox	·10	·24
Fever	13·44	14·52
Bowel-complaints	·72	·84
Injury	·24	·12
Other causes	2·28	2·64

indicating that there was an abatement of mortality from every death-cause (excepting injury), prominently from cholera and fever.

4. That cholera and fever caused the greatest loss of life in the following districts, while the rest of the diseases did not display conspicuous fatality anywhere, excepting in Puri, where 10·44 per 1,000 of the population died from the maladies classed under the head of "Other causes" :—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.
Balasore	11·64	Julpaiguri	30·84

OFFICE OF SANITARY COMMISSIONER FOR BENGAL,
The 12th July 1886.

R. LIDDERDALE, M.D., Deputy Surgeon-General,
Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

THE principal Municipalities in Bengal returned, during the week ending 26th June 1886, the birth and death-rates of 17·2 and 22·9 per 1,000 of population, respectively, as opposed to 15·6 and 24·3 per 1,000, in the preceding week ending 19th June, indicating an advance in the registration of births with a falling off in that of deaths.

2. The following Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Durbhanga	33·1	Gya	39·0
Burdwan	27·5	Patna	37·9
Bhagulpore	27·1	Serampore	37·3
		Bhagulpore	34·5
		Burdwan	30·5

3. The mortality from the principle diseases does not exhibit any noticeable differences in comparison with the death-rates from the same diseases during the preceding week :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	26th June 1886.	19th June 1886.
Cholera	3·1	2·5
Small-pox	·1	·1
Fever	9·4	10·2
Bowel-complaints	3·4	3·9
Injury	·4	·4
Other causes	6·5	7·1

4. The highest death-rates from cholera and the diseases coming under the head of "Other causes" were returned from the following Municipalities, the rest of the maladies not proving conspicuously fatal anywhere, excepting bowel-complaints, which appears to have prevailed noticeably fatal only in the Serampore town, viz. at the rate of 13·7 per 1,000 of its population :—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.
Darjiling	19·5	Puri	12·6
Patna	14·0	Gya	12·3

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans, above alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

ALLEN MEARS,
Dy. Traffic Manager.

JAMALPORE the 14th June 1886.

General Remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during five weeks ended 29th May 1886.

INCREASES.

Cotton.—Good demand both for local consumption and for shipment.

Piece-goods.—An active demand up-country owing to marriage festivals and agricultural prosperity increased the traffic under this head.

Wheat.—An improvement in this staple due to the demand for export to the United Kingdom.

Sugar.—This increase was attributable to good demand and fair prices.

Pulses.—Good crops and brisk demand at mofussil trade centres account for this increase.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—Due to good supply and demand.

Seeds.—A sudden rise in prices of a speculative nature in the Calcutta market for speculation accounts for this increase.

DECREASES.

Coal and coke.—Want of demand on foreign railways and in the Calcutta depôts may be assigned as a cause of this decrease.

Gunny.—This decrease is attributable to fluctuation of trade.

Opium.—This decrease can only be accounted for by the outturn from the Government Factory having been less than in May 1885.

Railway material (Foreign).—Decrease was due to large despatches to the Bolan Pass and other State Railways last year, while this year the traffic has been very limited.

Tobacco.—Due to dull market and diversion to other railways.

Government Stores.—Unusually heavy despatch to the North-Western Frontier last year accounts for this decrease.

Salt.—This staple shows an increase in the weight carried attended with a decrease in freight, which was owing to fluctuation of rates.

NOTIFICATION.

The 17th July 1886.—The following notification, published in Part I, page 391 of the Gazette of India, dated the 26th June 1886, is republished for general information.

R. H. WILSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 1574, dated Simla, the 25th June 1886.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

IN exercise of the powers conferred by sections 58 and 67 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1880, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rules regarding the relief of distressed seamen or apprentices in Bengal :—

Relief of distressed seamen.

In these rules the term "distressed seamen" includes—

(a) all seamen and apprentices being native Indian subjects of Her Majesty who have been shipwrecked, discharged, or left behind at any place in British India, whether from any British ship employed in the merchant service, or from any of Her Majesty's ships, or who have been engaged by any person acting either as principal or agent to serve in any ship belonging to any foreign power, or to the subject of any foreign State, and who are in distress in any such place;

(b) all seamen and apprentices not being native Indian subjects who have been shipwrecked, discharged, or left behind at any place in British India from any British ship registered in British India, and who are in distress in any such place.

2. In taking charge of distressed seamen, the local authority will provide them with subsistence and clothing, as their necessities may require, but upon the most reasonable terms possible, and no more expensive clothing should be supplied to an officer than to a common seaman. Beds and bedding should not be supplied except under special circumstances, and the value of clothing should not exceed Rs. 10 for each person. In any case of unusual expense, when the local authority considers it absolutely necessary to deviate from the foregoing rules, or to provide relief for a longer period than one month, a statement of the exceptional circumstances which necessitated the further outlay is to accompany his accounts when transmitted for audit. Money payments to the seamen themselves for purposes of relief must be avoided as far as practicable.

3. In all cases to which section 62 of the Act applies, a report should be submitted by the local authority to the Government, in order to admit of the seaman's wages (if any are due) and the expenses incurred in his behalf being recovered from the master or owner or other person liable under section 63 of the Act.

Conveyance home of distressed seamen.

4. Distressed seamen who are in receipt of relief are to be sent home by the earliest available opportunity, and British vessels requiring men to make up their complement should be preferred in order to admit of the seamen earning wages while being so sent; but if no such vessel can be found, and if there is no immediate prospect of any such vessel requiring men, they should be sent as supernumeraries on board the British vessels (whether registered in British India or not) that may be in the port at the time, and bound to their homes, or to ports near their homes, as the case may be; provided, however, that no ship be required to convey more than one supernumerary to every fifty tons of her registered tonnage. Distressed seamen who refuse to work, if able, for their passage home, cease to be entitled to further relief under these rules.

5. The local authority will endorse upon the agreement of the British ship, on board which distressed seamen are sent under section 56 or section 57 of the Act, the name of each man sent on board, and the day on which he was sent on board. He will also, in the case of a distressed seaman sent on board under section 57, fill up, sign, and deliver to the master an order with certificate in Form A for the seaman's conveyance.

6. Whenever there are no British merchant vessels to which distressed seamen can be allotted, and the local authority thinks it desirable, in order to avoid expense, to engage a passage for them in foreign merchant vessels, he may do so on the best terms he can obtain. He should avoid, if practicable, making any payment beforehand for such passage, but should report the terms to the Government, and direct the master to apply for payment to the shipping master at the port to which the vessel is bound.

HIGH COURT NOTICE.

ISSUED BY AUTHORITY OF THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT FORT WILLIAM IN BENGAL.

CIVIL.

Rule No. 7, dated the 14th of May 1886.

(c.) All copies, whether certified or uncertified, must, in future, before issue, be examined by a salaried officer.[2] The copies themselves will, in all cases, be made by section-writers, who will be remunerated at the rate of 2 annas per folio.

[2] The duty of examining copies should be, as a rule, entrusted to the head clerk or sheristadar, but where this is not possible, the Judge of the Court should make any other suitable arrangement, except that the copyists must not be allowed to examine for each other (C. O. No. 8 of 9th June 1875).

Uncertified copies should only be marked as "examined" and initialled by the examiner, while copies to be used, or capable of being used as evidence, should be "certified to be a correct copy" and signed in full, and bear the seal of the court (C. O. No. 30 of 23rd August 1879).

1. In the second paragraph of foot-note 2, page 292, cancel from the words "while copies to be used * * * *" to the end.

2. After clause (c.c.), page 292, insert the following :—

(c c.c.) Certified copies must be "certified to be a true copy," must bear the seal of the Court, and must be signed in full, if not by the Presiding Officer, then by the officer hereinafter named, viz. :—

At the head quarters of a district.

In the case of copies of—

Judicial documents not being Wills,—by the sheristadar.

In the case of copies of—

In Courts of Small Causes constituted under Act XI, 1865.

All certified copies,—by the head clerk.

In other Courts at out-stations.

All certified copies, by the sheristadar.

In every case the certifying officer will append to his signature the words "authorized under section 76 Act I of 1872."

The words—

> Certified to be a true copy.

NOTIFICATION BY THE ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL, BENGAL.

STOCK CERTIFICATES.

As it does not appear to be generally known that Government Promissory Notes can be readily converted into Stock Certificates and re-converted into Promissory Notes at the option of the holders, and that Stock Certificate-holders enjoy certain special advantages, the attention of holders of Government Securities is drawn to the following particulars :—

1. Government Promissory Notes can be converted into Stock Certificates and re-converted into Promissory Notes at any time at the option of the holder.

2. The holders of Stock Certificates are not required to present them in person or by agent when the interest becomes due. On application made, interest will be paid to Stock Certificate-holders by warrants on any Government Treasury, which warrants will be sent by post, on the day the interest falls due, to the Stock Certificate-holders direct, or through the Treasury Officer, as they may desire.

3. Stock Certificates are not negotiable by endorsement, and are consequently of no value in the hands of a wrongful holder, and the risks arising from the possession of, or repeated transmission of, negotiable Securities, are thereby avoided.

4. In the event of the loss of a Stock Certificate by theft, fire, &c., a fresh Certificate will issue on satisfactory evidence of loss.

Commissariat Notice No. 2.

1st.—Sealed tenders for the supply of the undermentioned articles in the Golaghat Commissariat Transport Division for conveyance of Government stores from date of commencement of contract to 1st December 1887 will be received by the Depôt Transport Officer at Shillong up to noon on the 15th August 1886, and opened by him then and there in the presence of all parties who may choose to attend.

2nd.—No tenders will be received except on forms obtainable from the Transport Office, Shillong, which, as well as any information required regarding the contract, will be given on application to the Depôt Transport Officer, Shillong, up to 4 o'clock P.M. on the 7th August 1886.

4th.—Covers to be superscribed "Tender for hired carriage."

5th.—The tender may be in part or for the whole requirement, and the Depôt Transport Officer reserves to himself the right to accept the tender in whole or in part; but in the event of his accepting in part only, and the tenderer failing to take up the contract, the whole earnest deposit will be confiscated.

6th.—Tender for each article and description of article will be separately accepted or rejected, and separate treasury receipt for earnest money will be required for each. Tenders without earnest money will not be attended to.

7th.—In the event of earnest money being deposited in treasury and a tender not submitted, the earnest money will be confiscated:—

VILLAGE CHOWKIDARI ACT I (B.C.) OF 1886.

Nos. 1032-39J—D, dated Darjeeling, the 30th June 1886.

From—W. DUNBAR BLYTH, Esq., Offg. Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal,
To—All Commissioners of Divisions (except the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore).

I AM directed to draw your attention to the provisions of Act I (B.C.) of 1886, an Act to amend the Village Chowkidari Act, 1870. The Bill, as originally introduced, was intended to embody the suggestions of the majority of a Commission which was appointed to investigate and report on the whole system of village police, and was designed to provide a remedy for certain alleged evils, the chief of which were the undue influence of the punchayets over the chowkidars, and the uncertainty and irregularity which prevailed in the payment of the salaries of the chowkidars. The above allegations were freely criticised in various quarters, and the Legislative Council ultimately came to the conclusion that the existing system ought to have a further trial.

2. It was asserted by the opponents of the original Bill that the failure of the punchayet was due to want of care in the selection of its members, and that satisfactory results might be hoped for from more carefully selected punchayets. I am to draw your particular attention to the amendment of section 3, which provides that the punchayets shall always be selected on the spot by some officer exercising magisterial powers, after ascertaining, by any means he thinks best to employ, the persons who, by reason of their local influence, in the opinion of the villagers, or for other special reasons to be recorded by him, are most fit to be appointed members of the punchayet. This procedure is, moreover, to be adopted, as soon as practicable, in the case of every village to which the Act has already been extended. There can be little doubt that, when nominations under the Act of 1870 were made by the police, many uninfluental men, and persons unfit for other reasons, were appointed to serve as members of punchayets. The present law requires that a magisterial officer shall in all cases visit a village where a punchayet has to be appointed, and such an officer should not have much difficulty in ascertaining the names of the best men; and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts therefore that for the future only the best men will be appointed.

3. I am also to draw your attention to sections 43 and 44 (as amended by the new Act), under which the punchayets are to pay or remit their collections "to such officer or person as the Magistrate shall appoint" under section 43. These words leave a wide discretion to the Magistrate, and while they do not compel the employment of a member of the punchayet on this duty, they do not exclude it. One of the principal reasons for the introduction of the original Bill was that "the village watchmen being now appointed, paid, punishable and liable to be discharged only by the punchayets, have become less amenable than they should be to the regular police, who must, to a great extent, depend on these village watchmen for the information necessary to enable them to detect crimes." The original Bill has been considerably modified, but this object has not been overlooked; and though the powers of the punchayet have not in other respects been interfered with, the Bill, as finally passed into law, provides that the chowkidars can be paid by a person other than a member of the punchayet. Under section 43 of Act VI of 1870, the chowkidar was to be paid by the collecting member of the punchayet. Under the present law, he will be paid by such officer (including police officers) or person as the Magistrate thinks fit to appoint; but I am to say that, in the absence of very urgent necessity, no police officer under the rank of a Sub-Inspector should be employed for this purpose. As regards the persons to be appointed under section 43, much must be left to the discretion of Magistrates; but it is not the Lieutenant-Governor's wish that police officers should be indiscriminately and invariably employed in every instance. Though it is desirable to make the village watchmen more amenable to the regular police, still it is not the intention of Government that they should be entirely dependent on them for their pay. Under the former law it was impossible to prevent collusion between the punchayets and the chowkidars, and the latter might admit payments which had never really been made. The present law provides the means of introducing, if necessary, an intermediate agent, thereby minimising, if not altogether removing, the chances of such collusion.

4. Attention is requested to the amendment of section 6, which renders it obligatory on a Magistrate, in case of the death or retirement of any member of a punchayet, to call on the remaining members to nominate a substitute, and it is only in the event of their failing to do so within 30 days, or of their nominating an unfit person, that the Magistrate can himself proceed to appoint a fit and proper person. Under section 9 the terms of appointment and of exemption after retirement have been extended from two years to three; and it should be noted that on the expiry of the term for which the members of a punchayet have been appointed, the Magistrate shall appoint a new punchayet in the manner prescribed in section 3.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor is desirous that the Act should be extended to as many villages as possible, consistently with the requirements of sections 3 and 4 of the Act. But the Act should not be put in force where there are already chowkidars in the enjoyment of chakeran lands, and the amount and value of such lands are sufficient for their proper maintenance.

6. Sir Rivers Thompson is fully aware of the difficulty that will be experienced in carrying out the provisions of section 3 of the Act; but he trusts that every endeavour will be made to comply with the requirements of the law. The services of Honorary Magistrates might be utilised in cases where they live in the interior of the district; and, if necessary, applications may be made to vest Sub-Deputy Collectors with magisterial powers (where they do not already possess them), in order that full advantage may be taken of every available agency.

7. The new provisions of section 46A, in cases where difficulty is experienced in collecting from the villagers, should be borne in mind.

8. In conclusion, I am to request that, at the close of the camping season of 1886-87, you will be so good as to submit a report on the working of the Act, and that you will notice especially the extent to which it has been found possible to carry out the provisions of section 3, and the nature of the agency employed under sections 43 and 44.

REPORT ON LUNATIC ASYLUMS IN BENGAL, 1885.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 13th July 1886.

RESOLUTION.

The Report on the Lunatic Asylums in Bengal for 1885.

The Report for 1884, and the Resolution recorded upon it.

In Bengal there are asylums for the reception of lunatics at Bhowanipore and Dullunda in the suburbs of Calcutta, and at Dacca, Patna, Berhampore, and Cuttack.

2. On 1st January 1885 the total number of persons in the asylums was 919. During the year 214 persons were admitted and 18 were readmitted; 93 were discharged cured, 26 were made over to the care of friends, 4 are reported to have been discharged "otherwise," and 73 died. There thus remained 955 persons at the close of the year. The daily average population was 939·62 against 920·96 in 1884. The percentage of recoveries calculated on the mean daily population was 9·89 against 9·77 in 1884.

3. On the 1st January 1885 there were in the asylums 363 criminal lunatics. During the year there were 93 new admissions and 11 re-admissions. Of the new admissions, 27 were charged with "murder," 3 with "attempt to murder," 1 with "culpable homicide," 6 with "grievous hurt," 2 with "hurt," 7 with "attempt to commit suicide," 18 with "theft," 5 with "trespass," 3 with "arson," 5 with "house-breaking," 2 with "mischief," 1 with "trespassing on the railway," 1 with "culpable homicide not amounting to murder," 1 with "theft and voluntarily causing hurt," 1 with "robbery," 2 with "lurking house-trespass," 1 with "theft and escape," 1 with "loitering," 5 with "house-trespass or house-breaking," and 1 with "unnatural offence." During the year 50 persons were discharged and transferred, &c., 30 died, and 387 remained at the close of the year.

4. As usual, much difficulty was experienced in classifying accurately the different forms of insanity. This is perhaps not very material. During the year 80 patients were returned under the head of "acute mania," 80 under "chronic mania," 11 under "melancholia," 17 under "acute dementia," 26 under "chronic dementia," 1 under "idiotcy," 2 under "imbecility," and 15 under "not insane." Of the causes of insanity, the chief were, as usual, the excessive use of ganja and intemperance. Fever is said to have led to 7 cases of insanity, 9 cases are attributed to hereditary predisposition, and 5 to epilepsy.

5. The health of the asylums was generally good. The following table shows the prevalence of the principal diseases in the year under report:—

	Dullunda.		Dacca.		Patna.		Cuttack.		Berhampore.		Total.
	1884.	1885.	1884.	1885.	1884.	1885.	1884.	1885.	1884.	1885.	1884.	1885.

Cholera	.....	.....	3	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	2	3	2

The above figures show a considerable decrease in cases of anæmia and debility in Dullunda. Diarrhœa increased in Dacca; dysentery increased to some extent in Dacca, Patna, Cuttack, and Berhampore. Pneumonia occurred in Dullunda only, and cholera in Berhampore. The decrease in these diseases, as also in phthisis, is a very satisfactory feature in the returns of the year under review. There were comparatively few cases of injuries to lunatics. In Dacca there were 3 cases of simple fracture and 5 cases of contused wounds, while at Dullunda 6 cases of injury were recorded, none of which proved fatal. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs in Dr. Cowie's view that "the absence of injuries of any kind in so many of the asylums is a most gratifying feature, and speaks highly for the great care and humanity exercised over the poor afflicted inmates."

6. The total number of deaths fell from 87 in 1884 to 73 in 1885. There was a decrease in Dacca and Patna. The mortality increased in the Dullunda Asylum from 18 in 1884 to 27 in 1885. It is explained that in this asylum a considerable proportion of the deaths consisted of old chronic hopeless cases that had been hanging on between life and death for a lengthened period. The Inspector-General remarks that post mortem examinations were seldom neglected. Complaints of overcrowding are made regarding the Dacca and Cuttack Asylums, but arrangements are being made which will relieve the former. At Cuttack, where there is a small local asylum, the urgency is not great. There was abundance of room at Patna and Berhampore.

7. The following table shows the receipts and expenditure in each asylum during 1885 :—

* Loss.

The gross expenditure was Rs. 86,171 against Rs. 91,695 in 1884, showing a decrease of Rs. 5,524 as compared with the expenditure of the previous year. The cost of establishment was Rs. 20,028 and of superintendence Rs. 18,600. The corresponding figures in 1884 were Rs, 19,926 and Rs. 18,520. The Dullunda Asylum is by far the most costly, and arrangements are being made to restrict admissions to this asylum by making more use of the space available at Patna and Berhampore.

8. The money outlay on account of diet was Rs. 20,613 against Rs. 21,187 in 1884, showing a decrease of Rs. 574. The value of articles of diet made over from the manufacturing departments during the year was greater than that of the previous year; the average cost of a lunatic's daily diet was, as in the previous year, one anna and six pies. The cost on account of clothing and bedding was Rs. 3,103 against Rs. 2,579 in 1884. The expenditure on account of manufactures amounted to Rs. 29,248, being Rs. 2,705 more than that of the previous year.

9. The European Asylum at Bhowanipore is not included in the foregoing paragraphs. The number of patients in this asylum at the beginning of the year was 31, viz., 16 males and 15 females. During the year 20 persons were admitted, of whom 12 were males and 8 females. Of these 19 were from the civil population and one a soldier; of the 51 persons under treatment, 3 were discharged cured, 3 were despatched to Europe under the Merchant Shipping Act, 12 were made over to the care of friends, 3 were sent to Europe as still insane, and 1 died. At the end of the year there remained in the asylum 29 persons, of whom 13 were Europeans, 14 East Indians, and 2 Armenians. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 19,731 against Rs. 19,804 in 1884. The total amount contributed by the friends of paying patients was Rs. 12,338.

10. It appears from the report that the different asylums were efficiently managed during the year under review.

The following statement shows the number of suits which came before the Court, and the manner in which they were disposed of, during 1885 and the two preceding years:—

Pending at the close of the year	3,291	2,664	1,801
Total ...	33,664	32,875	27,584

The discrepancy of two cases between the total number for disposal in 1885 and the number disposed of during, and left pending at the close of, that year is due to the transfer of two cases to the High Court before final disposal.

2. The number of suits instituted and revived during 1885 was less by 72 than the number instituted in the preceding year, but exceeded by 4,975 the number instituted in 1883, and by 1,449 the institutions in 1882. The institutions are still 3,106 fewer than in 1881, the last complete year during which the former Act was in force; but, as was explained by the Judges in their Report for 1884, although, as regards suits alone, the numbers are not so great as they were prior to the extension of the Court's jurisdiction by the passing of Act XV of 1882, yet the work of the Court has actually been largely increased in consequence of the alteration of procedure, whilst the new procedure has given rise to a variety of miscellaneous applications that did not before exist, and the disposal of which occupies much of the time of the Judges.

3. In their present report, the Judges show in detail the miscellaneous cases which came before the Court, many of which, they state, have all the attributes of, and take as long to try as, regular suits; and not only is this so, but the proportion contested is generally, it is said, higher than in the case of regular suits. Thus, during the past year, out of 33,666 regular suits set down for disposal, only about one-sixth were disposed of after contest, whilst of 1,693 miscellaneous cases the number similarly disposed of was no less than 771, or nearly half the total number. The number of claim suits instituted under section 278 of the Code of Civil Procedure increased from 485 to 510. The number of such claims in 1883 was 323 only, and on a previous occasion the Judges have remarked that they form the most troublesome class of litigation with which they have to deal, the large majority of such claims being defended. There was a decrease in the number of distraint applications, while the number of applications for execution of decrees has increased gradually from 14,779 in 1882 to 17,636 during the past year. The Judges remark that they are afraid that the increase points to the fact that every year adds to the difficulty which creditors experience in obtaining their money. This subject has been before the Lieutenant-Governor in connection with a decrease in the amounts realised in suits brought by Government. It was the opinion of certain officers—an opinion in which the Lieutenant-Governor feels inclined to agree—that Civil Courts might do much to lessen the existing difficulties by more frequently sanctioning or instituting prosecutions under sections 183, 186 and 206 of the Penal Code. There can be no doubt that such offences are of frequent occurrence, whereas prosecutions of the offenders are exceedingly rare.

4. There was a decrease in every description of suit instituted during 1885 as compared with the institutions in the previous year, except in suits not exceeding Rs. 50 in value, which rose from 6,692 to 6,853, or an increase of 161 suits. The largest decreases were 278 in suits not exceeding Rs. 10, and 100 in suits not exceeding Rs. 5 in value.

5. The Court sat for 266 days, as against 265 days in 1884. There were 3,291 cases pending at the close of the year, as compared with 2,664 cases pending at the close of 1884. The total value of the suits instituted was Rs. 21,41,108, against Rs. 22,47,817 in the preceding year. The amount realised on applications for execution of decrees with the issue of process fell from Rs. 2,46,451 in 1884 to Rs. 2,42,265, and without the issue of process from Rs. 2,29,160 to Rs. 2,16,323. In 453 cases the judgment-debtor was imprisoned and in 449 cases he was arrested, but released without imprisonment.

6. The total receipts of the Court fell from Rs. 3,24,516 in 1884 to Rs. 3,08,321 in the year under review, and the total charges from Rs. 2,11,940 to Rs. 2,08,892, the net amount credited to Government being Rs. 99,429 against Rs. 1,12,576 in 1884. The Judges state that the net revenue would probably have exceeded a lakh of rupees, had not the practice of charging fees on processes sent from other Courts to Calcutta for service been abandoned under the orders of Government, the sum so received in 1884 having amounted to Rs. 5,877.

7. In the Resolution on the Report for 1884, Sir Rivers Thompson remarked that some case had been made out for an enlargement of the Court; it was not, however, considered advisable at that time to make any proposals to the Government of India involving increased expenditure, and the Judges were accordingly requested to resubmit the case in a special report. It was shown in the report for 1884 that the work devolving on the Court was more than the existing staff of Judges could dispose of without leaving heavy arrears, and this is made still clearer by the figures now given, the number of pending suits having risen steadily year by year from 1,288 in 1880 to 2,664 in 1884 and to 3,291 in the year under review. From the special report submitted it appeared that the number of suits pending at the end of September 1885 had reached the large total of 3,368 (of which it was estimated that nearly 2,000 would be contested), and as additional assistance was clearly necessary, if the speedy disposal of cases, the chief object of a Court of Small Causes, was to be secured, the Lieutenant-Governor strongly recommended the appointment of a Fifth Judge for a period of six months, and this proposal has been forwarded by the Government of India to the Secretary of State. This temporary assistance should suffice for the clearance of the arrears. At the same time Sir Rivers Thompson feels bound to record his opinion that, unless some steps are taken by the Judges themselves to reduce the increasing average duration of contested cases, renewed applications for an increase to the judicial staff of the Court may be expected from time to time. It is no doubt the fact, as stated by the Judges, that the "year has been remarkable for the extraordinary length of time occupied in the actual hearing" of contested cases, the average duration reaching the great length of 127·1 days. This is certainly a very unnecessarily large average, but even in the preceding year the average (114·4 days) was far in excess of what it should have been. Such delays are incompatible with the object of a Small Cause Court, and some action is called for in connection with the subject. To some extent the Judges have a remedy in their own hands.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be communicated to the Judges of the Court of Small Causes, Calcutta, for their information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. DUNBAR BLYTH,

Offg. Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL INLAND EMIGRATION REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1885.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—INLAND EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 16th July 1886.

READ—

The Report on Inland Emigration for the year 1885.

The office of Superintendent of Emigration was held by Dr. Grant throughout the year, and the report is submitted by him. Dr. R. Chandra, Medical Inspector of Emigrants at Calcutta, took leave on medical certificate at the end of June, and was succeeded by Dr. McConnell. Dr. V. Richards, Superintendent of Emigration at Goalundo, was on privilege leave for two months, during which his administrative and medical duties were discharged by the Sub-divisional Officer and the Assistant Surgeon respectively. It was found necessary, for the sake of administrative convenience, and in order to ensure better control over garden sardars escorting batches of coolies, to appoint Dr. Richards registering officer, in addition to his other duties, and to vest him with magisterial powers under sections 78 and 79 of the Emigration Act.

2. In April 1885 the Government of India forwarded a copy of a circular addressed by the Chief Commissioner of Assam to all Deputy Commissioners in that province, calling attention to the objections which exist to the execution of labour contracts in terms of days. The Lieutenant-Governor agreed in the views of the Chief Commissioner that the specification of terms of days, instead of months or years, was prejudicial to the labourer, because it made it difficult for him to ascertain when his contract had terminated, and was inconsistent with the provisions of section 116 of the Act, under which a labourer is exempted from the obligation of working for more than six days in the week. The Lieutenant-Governor accordingly directed that registering and inspecting officers should in future refuse to register or verify contracts executed in terms of days.

3. During the year complaints were received from the planters of the Chittagong district of the unnecessary trouble involved in keeping up the registers prescribed by the rules under Act 1 of 1882. Taking into consideration the small number of labourers under the Act in Chittagong, the Lieutenant-Governor agreed to modify the previous orders, so far as to allow employers of labour to keep registers in any form most convenient to themselves that would enable them to furnish the required returns.

4. The only other administrative change authorised during the year was the presentation of way-bills by garden sardars to inspecting officers at certain places on the journey. The new form of way-bill was still under preparation at the close of the year.

5. Some progress was made during the year in the development of the system of "free," or assisted, emigration, conducted by the private agents of employers, independent both of licensed recruiters and of certificated garden sardars. The total number of free emigrants, so far as it is known, was less than in 1884; but the falling off was trifling in comparison with the decrease in registered emigrants. The experience of the last two years has shown the tea-planters of Assam that they can obtain labourers more rapidly and more cheaply without having recourse to the procedure provided for recruitment in the Emigration Act, and that the labourers so obtained are willing, on arrival at Dhubri, or at the labour district, to execute contracts for the maximum term of five years. Registration, too, which is subject to fees in Bengal, is effected at Dhubri free of charge. It is therefore not surprising to find that year by year the proportion of free emigrants to contractors' and sardari emigrants increases; and every year brings us nearer to the time when, owing to the improvement of communications and the familiarity which the working classes of Bengal are rapidly acquiring with the conditions of things in the labour districts, it will be possible for this Government to withdraw altogether from the part now taken by it in regulating inland emigration. It may be mentioned in this connection that it has been finally arranged to start a subsidised steamer service from the 1st November next, which will do much to facilitate the transport of coolies to Cachar and Sylhet, and this will undoubtedly give a strong impulse to free emigration to those districts.

6. Recurring now to the operations of which the Emigration Department takes cognizance, it is natural to find, as a direct corollary to the expansion of the system of independent emigration, that the various forms of recognized recruiting agencies worked on a smaller scale during the year. Five contractors recruited against six in 1884; they employed 147 recruiters instead of 211; and the average number of coolies collected by each recruiter, which had been 33·55 in the previous year, dropped to 30 in 1885. The contraction in the operations of local agents through garden sardars was still more marked. Although the number of licenses issued to local agents increased from 33 to 39, the number of certificated sardars, who did the actual work of recruiting, fell from 3,183 to 1,743, which is the smallest number recorded since 1881; and they recruited on an average 6·8 coolies each against 7·6 in the previous year Three women held recruiting certificates during the year, but they appear to have made no use of them.

7. From the statements given on pages 6 and 16 of the report, it appears that 16,404 coolies and their dependents were registered under the Act —little more than half the number (31,286) registered in 1884. Of the total number, 4,398 were recruited by licensed recruiters on behalf of contractors, and they were all registered for transmission through the Calcutta depôts, not one going straight to the depôts at Goalundo. No explanation is offered of this circumstance, which reference to previous reports shows to be novel; but it is probably to be found in the fact that only emigrants to Cachar and Sylhet proceed direct to the Goalundo depôts, and there was a considerable falling off in Cachar and Sylhet shipments. The rest of the registered emigrants (including dependents), 12,006, were recruited by garden sardars—6,297 to proceed viâ Dhubri, and 5,709 viâ Goalundo. Dr. Grant, in comparing the numbers recruited by the two kinds of agencies respectively, excludes sardari emigrants proceeding direct viâ Dhubri, perhaps because this route has been practically abandoned by contractors, only 16 coolies recruited by them being sent this way during 1885. The figures given by him for the last five years are as follows:—

1881	6,415	2,379	8,794	37·0
1882	7,995	2,907	10,902	36·3
1883	9,875	5,291	15,167	53·5*
1884	7,081	10,235	17,316	144·5*
1885	4,398	5,709	10,107	129·8*

Including coolies taken by garden sardars viâ Dhubri, it would appear that for every 100 emigrants recruited by contractors there were in 1883 122, in 1884 341, and in 1885 270 emigrants recruited by garden sardars. The slight decrease in the proportion of sardari to contractors' coolies during the past year can be explained without difficulty. From the reports furnished to the Government of Assam by the Commissioner of the Assam Valley, it appears that the figures of 1884 were altogether abnormal, and have never been satisfactorily accounted for. The remarkable expansion in the demand for labour during that year has been followed by a contraction in the demand for 1885; and as recruitment through the permanent agency of licensed contractors can always supply casual requirements, the operations of sardars despatched from the labour districts were reduced in greater proportion than those of recruiters working under the regular contractors. This does not in any way affect the conclusion that Act I of 1882 has given a great and permanent stimulus to recruitment by garden sardars in perference to licensed contractors.

8. The statistics of free emigration are necessarily incomplete, but, so far as the figures supplied by the Deputy Commissioner of Goalpara go, it appears that 9,113 free emigrants and their dependents entered into local contracts at Dhubri, and 207 proceeded on their journey without contracting—a total of 9,320 against 12,199 in the previous year. In 1884, 13,970 registered emigrants passed through Dhubri, in the ratio of 114 to every 100 free emigrants; but in 1885, for every 100 free emigrants, there were only 66 registered in Bengal under the Act.

9. Although the number of licensed recruiters decreased during the year under report, there were more cases of misconduct among them. In 1884 only one license was cancelled, in 1885 the number cancelled was six. The most serious cases were two of false description, and two of enticing away married women. One unlicensed man, an old offender, was convicted of offences under sections 363 and 498, Indian Penal Code (kidnapping and enticing away a married woman), and sentenced to one year's imprisonment. No cases of misconduct were reported among garden sardars.

10. Very little information is afforded by the report as to the original districts of residence of the registered emigrants. In the case of contractors' coolies a distinction is made between residents and non-residents in the districts of registration, but it does not appear from what districts the non-residents had come. The following statement, however, is not without interest:—

Province.	Districts of registration.	Number of emigrants registered in each district.	Number of residents of district of registration included in number registered.	Percentage of residents (column 4) to number registered (column 3).	Number of emigrants of other districts included in number registered. No particulars of residence are furnished for the persons engaged by sardars, but their principal recruiting fields appear to have been as usual Chota Nagpore, the Sonthal Pergunnahs and South Behar; and they collected a good many emigrants (probably non-residents for the most part) in Burdwan.

11. Coolies recruited by garden sardars for despatch to Assam viâ Dhubri, and to Cachar and Sylhet viâ Goalundo, travel independently of the depôts; so under the head of "Transport" the Superintendent of Emigration has materials for reporting on only a small proportion of the total number of emigrants, viz. those recruited by contractors, and such sardari emigrants as pass through the Goalundo depôts en route to Assam. Of those last, 250 arrived at Goalundo during the year, and were all embarked for Assam without casualty. Of the 4,398 persons registered by licensed recruiters, 12 were discharged and 56 deserted from the mofussil depôts, and, the number being increased by three detained in the mofussil depôts at the close of the previous year, 4,333 were despatched to Calcutta, none proceeding direct to Goalundo. On the way 83 more deserted and one died, so the number ultimately arriving in Calcutta was 4,249. Between registration in the districts and arrival in Calcutta, the reduction in numbers was 152 or 3·45 per cent. against 262 or 5·48 per cent. in 1884. Desertions increased, but there were fewer discharges.

The history of the Calcutta depôts during the year is thus summarised by the Superintendent:—

	1884.		1885.
Daily average strength	51·59		29·07
Ditto sick in hospital	1·43		1·17

Desertions	349	6·86	274	6·16
Deaths from cholera	11	0·21	5	0·11
Total deaths from other causes	20	0·39	9	0 20

The proportion of discharges was almost exactly the same in both years, and although the percentage of desertions from the Calcutta depôts was slightly reduced in 1885, it must be remembered that desertions from the mofussil depôts and on the journey to Calcutta increased. The only noteworthy figures are those showing the mortality at the depôts. The total number of deaths fell from 31 to 14, and the percentage on total strength from ·60 to ·31. There were 309 cases of sickness against 304 in 1884, but the diseases treated were not so fatal. This is especially noticeable in the cases of cholera and diarrhœa and dysentery. Of 54 cases of diarrhœa and dysentery in 1884, 11 terminated fatally, while in 1885 there were only two deaths in 55 cases. There were nine cases of cholera in 1885, with five deaths; in the preceding year of 12 cases, 11 resulted in death.

There were nine cases of measles, spread over four different months, and all occurring in the same depôt. In every case strict isolation was enforced, and the disease was effectively prevented from spreading. The sanitary condition of the depôts appears to have been good throughout the year. There was no overcrowding; and indeed the depôts, originally constructed to meet the requirements of a much larger number of emigrants than is now recruited by the contractors for Assam, afford far more accommodation than is necessary. Good food and good water have been supplied, and the depôt hospitals have been maintained in an efficient state. A special vaccinator was employed in the depôts, and he performed 4,235 operations.

12. Of the 3,517 contractors' coolies despatched from Calcutta, 3,501 went to Goalundo and 16 to Dhubri. It is known from the Assam reports that all those who started for Dhubri arrived there, but their further history is not traceable. The Goalundo depôts received 3,751 emigrants during the year, viz. the 3,501 despatched from Calcutta, and 250 sardari emigrants direct from the recruiting districts. There was a balance of five from the previous year; so the total number to be accounted for was 3,756. Of these 11 remained in the depôt at the close of the year, and there were 12 casualties, as follow :—

Deserted	3
Died	5
Released	4

The percentage of casualties was only ·31 against ·72 and ·91 in the two preceding years, and they were all among contractors' coolies. The decrease was most noticeable in the mortality, only five deaths (four of cholera) being reported against 64 (63 cholera) in 1884.

13. The total number of contractors' coolies finally embarked was 3,499; 3,483 at Goalundo and 16 at Dhubri. Of these, 2,740 were labourers who executed contracts and the rest dependents. Of the labourers, 2,630 contracted for three years, and only 110 for five years. The five-year contracts amounted, therefore, to only 4·01 of the whole number. The percentage in 1884 was 8·82. On this Dr. Grant remarks :—

"Labourers as a rule prefer to engage for the shorter period of three years; and, I understand, agree to the longer term of five years, in most instances, only on receipt of a bonus or bukshish of a few rupees per head. Two of the contractors ascribe the comparatively small number of labourers on five-year contracts, that were despatched by them during the year 1885, to the greater disinclination shown by employers' agents, in the course of that year, to meet the extra charge which the payment of such bonuses necessarily involves."

These observations apply only to contracts executed by labourers collected by licensed recruiters. No figures have been supplied by the Superintendent as to emigrants recruited by garden sardars, although his attention was drawn to the subject in last year's Resolution. The following statement as to the period for which sardari and free emigrants viâ Dhubri executed contracts are taken from the Assam Report :—

Total 15,777.				Total 9,861.
Three years.	Percentage of total.	Five years.	Percentage of total.	Three years.	Percentage of total.	Five years.	Percentage of total.
6,843	43·	8,934	57·	2,896	29·	6,965	71·

In 1884 and 1885 the percentages of five-year contracts among emigrants enlisted by garden sardars and contracting in Bengal were 36 and 34 respectively, while of local contracts (i.e. contracts executed by free emigrants at Dhubri) 90 per cent. were for five years in 1885 against 76 per cent. in the previous year. The Deputy Commissioner of Goalpara writes :—"The great increase in the number of five-year contracts is due to the fact that planters have instructed their agents not to take coolies on any other terms;" and the Commissioner of the Assam Valley Districts expresses a doubt whether any option is practically given to coolies called upon to execute local contracts at Dhubri. The question whether Dhubri, a station on the journey to the Assam Valley, should continue to be treated as a labour district where local labour contracts under section 111 of the Act can properly be executed, was fully discussed in the report submitted by this Government to the Government of India last December on the working of Act I of 1882, and the Lieutenant-Governor can only repeat that the subject is one on which the Administration of Assam is in the best position to form an opinion. No complaints or allegations that the contracts are unwillingly made at Dhubri have been brought to the notice of the Government of Bengal.

14. The total number of labourers that embarked at Goalundo under the superintendence of the Embarkation Agent therefore was 3,733. This number is exclusive of sardari emigrants to Cachar and Sylhet, and of free emigrants who did not pass through the depôts, and would therefore only come under the Agent's superintendence when more than 20 embarked together for the labour districts in one country boat. Two thousand five hundred and forty-three embarked in steamers for Assam—2,293 contractors' and 250 sardari coolies. Both in respect of mortality and the time occupied in the passage, the statistics of the trips made by these steamers compare favourably with the figures for the previous three years, as the following statement shows:—

Ditto without cholera ...	62	46	31	40

Average length of passage ...	16 21	17 0	15 18	15 0
Ditto number conveyed on each trip	55	78	72	62

Cholera was present on only one voyage, that of the Bengal in December, when five deaths from the disease occurred. The rest of the emigrants, 1,190 in number, embarked for Cachar and Sylhet in 70 country boats, which, as a rule, accomplished the journey in about 14 days. The decrease in casualties was most remarkable, owing probably to less overcrowding among the smaller number of passengers. In 1884 there were 133 deaths on the voyage, 131 of which were from cholera, and the percentage of mortality was 3·52. In 1885 there were only 15 deaths (11 from cholera), and the percentage was reduced to 1·26. No desertions took place against 17 in 1884.

15. Dr. Grant reports a considerable improvement in the regularity with which garden sardars presented their way-bills during the year, and in the case of the Cachar and Sylhet emigrants he has attempted, for the first time, some account of the number of casualities as in the following statement:—

Statement of sardari emigrants registered in Bengal for Labour Districts, of Cachar and Sylhet alone, in the year 1885.

It may be observed that of the 1,983 not accounted for, it is very probable that many, although recruited in 1885, did not actually start on their journey until 1886. The most noticeable point in this statement is that, while the total casualties were only 8·23 per cent. of the aggregate number in the way-bills, against a percentage of 19·43 in the case of contractors' emigrants, the proportion of deaths was much higher. Of sardari emigrants, 5·10 per cent. died on the journey (4·94 from cholera), while among contractors' emigrants the percentage of deaths was only ·92, of which cholera accounted for ·56. It is believed that the subsidised steamer service to Cachar and Sylhet, which will be opened at the beginning of next November, will do much to facilitate emigration to Cachar and Sylhet and to reduce the mortality As regards emigrants to Assam viâ Dhubri, some improvement has already been effected by the provision of medical aid at Mugra on the East Indian Railway and at Jaipur Hât on the Northern Bengal State Railway, and the percentage of deaths among labourers taking this route has fallen from ·28 in 1884 to ·06 in 1885. Considering the number of labourers who use this line, it should be possible to arrange to forward them at certain seasons by special trains, timed so as to afford sufficient opportunities at particular stations for necessary rest and refreshment.

16. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Grant for his efficient administration of the Department during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1885.

POLICE.

Calcutta, the 17th July 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Police Administration of the Town of Calcutta and its Suburbs for the year 1885.

Read also—

The Annual Reports of the Chief Presidency Magistrate and the Presidency Magistrate of the Northern Division on the Criminal administration of their Courts for the year 1885.

The Reports for the year 1884, and the orders of Government thereon.

		1883.	1884.	1885.
Cognizable	Penal Code	4,546	4,638	4,132
	Miscellaneous	12,999	16,010	13,948
Non-cognizable	Penal Code	11,523	12,248	9,692
	Miscellaneous	15,114	18 692	19,999
	Total ...	44,182	51,588	47,771

The decrease occurred mainly under the heads of street offences and public nuisances; but there was a substantial decrease of 506 cognizable offences under the Penal Code, the number of thefts being 242 less than in the previous year.

2. The number of persons arrested and summoned fell from 54,888 in 1884 to 46,781 in 1885, the number being more than a thousand less than in 1883. The number of persons convicted was 39,600, being 84·64 per cent. of those arrested against 47,391 persons convicted in 1884, being 86·34 per cent. of those arrested. This decrease of 1·70 per cent. in 1885 occurred, however, wholly in non-cognizable crime and chiefly in conservancy prosecutions. The ratio of convictions to arrests for cognizable offences under the Penal Code was 65 in 1885 against 58 in 1884. These cases form the criterion of good police administration, and the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner of Police are to be congratulated on the improvement. Out of 11,921 persons convicted of offences, cognizable and non-cognizable, under the Penal Code, 6,371 were Mahomedans, 4,125 Hindus, 404 Christians, 18 Jains and Buddhists and 3 Jews.

3. The proportion of false cases has been steadily decreasing year by year; there were 296 in 1885 against 473 in 1884, 532 in 1881, and 911 in 1879. Though convictions are said to have been obtained in 51 cases out of 60 in which prosecutions were instituted, yet sentences of imprisonment were awarded in three cases only. Having regard to the gravity of offences under section 211 of the Penal Code, the Lieutenant-Governor finds it difficult to believe that the fines inflicted constituted in all cases an adequate punishment. A very common form of false charge is that of theft in a house, and the offence committed by the person bringing the charge would fall under the second portion of section 211, which makes it obligatory on the court to award, on conviction, a sentence of imprisonment. But, as a matter of fact, it appears probable that the so-called prosecutions, in which fines were inflicted, were not prosecutions at all, but cases in which compensation was awarded to the accused under section 552 of the Criminal Procedure Code. This seems to be borne out by the fact that the figures given by the Commissioner of Police in the sixth paragraph of his report do not tally with the figures given in the statements appended to the report. From the latter, it appears that only four persons were convicted and one committed to the High Court in the Town, and only two convicted in the Suburbs, under sections 193-200, 205-211, 229, and 421-424 of the Penal Code. In the Town and Suburbs together, 25 persons were either discharged or acquitted by the Magistrate, and one by the High Court. Five persons appeared before Benches, all of whom were discharged or acquitted. Sir Rivers Thompson observes that not a single case was instituted by a Magistrate suo motu, and the Presidency Magistrates do not appear in a single instance to have availed themselves of the provisions of section 487 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, which empowers them to try cases of false charge, false evidence, and other cognate offences committed before themselves In the course of his remarks the Commissioner of Police observes—"In the remaining 145 (false) cases the complaints were laid under misapprehension of facts and without intention to cause injury." Under the orders of Government such cases should not have been entered, and it was a mistake to show them as false. Their omission would still further reduce the extraordinarily low percentage of false cases, and the Lieutenant-Governor cannot help thinking that the instructions contained in paragraph 2 of the Resolution on the Report for the year 1882, as to the mode of showing false cases, cannot have been properly understood or observed The number of cases not inquired into was only 219—a small number, which shows that there has been no abuse of the discretion allowed by section 157 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Indeed, that discretion has been considerably curtailed by the orders issued to the police to refrain from investigation only when the complaint is petty and the complainant does not desire investigation. These instructions go possibly somewhat beyond the law, which enacts that an officer need not investigate on the spot, if the case is not of a serious nature and no particular person is named; and that he shall not investigate if, in his opinion, there is no sufficient ground for entering on an investigation. Moreover, abstention from investigation in very petty cases is calculated to be productive of good by giving the police an opportunity of paying more time and attention to the more important cases.

4. The total value of the property stolen in Town and Suburbs fell from Rs. 1,53,184 in 1884 to Rs. 97,504 in 1885, while the percentage recovered fell from 68·75 to 49·65 (the same percentage as in 1878). It may, however, be noted that the percentage of 1884 was abnormally good, owing to the fact that a large sum stolen in previous years was recovered in that year. In 1883 the percentage recovered was 51·74.

5. Cognizable crime in the Town.—The following statement shows the number of true cognizable cases reported within the Town during the last three years:—

	1883.	1884.	1885.
Abetment of offence not committed	.....	.....	1
Class I.—Offences against the State, public tranquillity, &c. ...	40	32	37
„ II.—Serious offences against the person	269	223	167
„ III.—Serious offences against person and property ...	131	102	139
„ IV.—Minor offences against the person	47	69	40
„ V.—Minor offences against person and property ...	2,225	2,309	2,156
„ VI.—Other offences not specified above	1,593	2,020	1,865
Special and local laws	9,786	12,389	10,391
Total ...	14,091	17,204	14,786

There were five murders and one case of culpable homicide in 1885 against 6 murders and 4 cases of culpable homicide in 1884, but on the other hand there were five attempts at murder against one only in the preceding year. The decrease in the number of cases of grievous hurt from 45 to 21, and of hurt by dangerous weapons from 51 to 44, is very satisfactory. There has been a steady diminution year by year in the number of assaults on public servants. The homicidal statistics of Calcutta appear to show that in a majority of instances the murdered persons are prostitutes, or the murders are committed in the houses of prostitutes, or on account of women of that class. In 1885 three out of the five persons murdered were prostitutes, while the numbers in 1884 were four out of six. There were convictions in only two cases. In one of these memorials were submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor with a view to the exercise of the prerogative of mercy in favour of Tin Cowry Pal, who had murdered his mistress, a prostitute; but as there were no redeeming or extenuating features in the case, Sir Rivers Thompson declined to interfere, and the law was allowed to take its course. In another case all efforts to trace the murderer were unsuccessful. The unfortunate victim, who again was a prostitute, had exchanged her gold ornaments for brass before leaving her house to accompany her visitor to the house of assignation (a precaution, it is remarked, which is commonly observed by women of that class), and thus the murderer failed to secure the valuable ornaments for which he appears to have committed the crime. The number of true cases of house-breaking and lurking house-trespass decreased from 160 to 146, and of thefts from 1,790 to 1,640. The value of the stolen property in the latter class of cases (of which one-half was recovered) was Rs. 70,973 against Rs. 1,14,771 in the previous year, the amount recovered being Rs. 36,384 as compared with Rs. 82,429 in 1884. With regard to cases of criminal breach of trust, it is satisfactory to learn that, owing to the conviction of several habitual receivers, the practice of bleeding bags on cargo boats has to a great extent ceased. Cases of thefts by carters are difficult of detection, and the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Commissioner of Police that it would have been well if commitments had been made in some of the detected cases. A few sentences of imprisonment, without the option of a fine, under the Gambling Act have had the result of reducing the number of cases to 65 against an average of 89 in the five preceding years. The number of street offences fell from 6,552 in 1884 to 4,604 in the year under review. The lower ranks of the force are very properly warned to use their powers of arrest in such cases sparingly, and the fact that needless and vexatious arrests were not made appears to be patent from the fact that 99 per cent. of the persons put upon their trial before the Magistrate were convicted. Although an increased number of steamers and sailing vessels entered the port, the number of offences under the Shipping Acts decreased from 330 to 265. Under the Port Act there was again an increase in the number of prosecutions for carrying excess of passengers. Unless heavy fines are imposed in such cases, the profits derived render it worth while to run the risk of detection and prosecution.

6. Cognizable crime in the Suburbs.—The number of true cases was 2,998 against 2,971 in 1884. In two out of the five murder cases the victims were prostitutes, and in another case two little girls were poisoned with arsenic. Cases of house-breaking (including cases of lurking house-trespass) increased from 47 in 1881 to 101 in 1884 and 123 in 1885, but the value of the property stolen decreased from Rs. 6,958 in 1884 to Rs. 2,551 in 1885: of the latter amount only Rs. 644 was recovered, however, as against Rs. 2,478 recovered during the preceding year. The majority of cases were very petty. The number of thefts fell from 492 to 400, and the value of the stolen property from Rs. 15,185 to Rs. 10,391.

7. Non-cognizable crime in the Town and the Suburbs.—The number of non-cognizable offences reported in the Town was 27,256, or a slight decrease as compared with the figures for the previous year. In the Suburbs the numbers fell from 3,185 to 2,435. There was an increase of 1,541 prosecutions in the Town under the Conservancy Act, but a large decrease of 1,963 cases under the Penal Code, chiefly under the heads of rioting, affray, and public nuisances—a decrease which is said to be due to the orders issued to the police on the report for 1884, directing them "not to exceed their legal powers." The necessity for amending the Calcutta Police Act of 1866, so as to enable the police to arrest drunken and riotous persons, and persons who are guilty of outraging the public decency by committing nuisances in the public streets, was brought to the notice of Government in 1885. It was certainly a defect that powers possessed by mofussil police under section 34, Act V of 1861, should not be possessed by the police in Calcutta, and as the necessity of extending the powers of the police in the directions above indicated was very pressing, a Bill was introduced to remedy the defect. This Bill has since been passed into law as Act II (B.C.) of 1886, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the evils complained of may now be reduced to a minimum. One of the greatest obstacles which now obstruct the sanitation of Calcutta is the insanitary habits of the lower orders of the population, and the commission of nuisances in the Town and Suburbs by people of those classes can only be prevented by the action of the police. The universality of the practice over the whole of the north and east centre of the town, frequently in immediate contiguity to urinals, shows that it is not in any way the want of such conveniences that drives people to commit the offence. Cases of obstruction in the streets can, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, be adequately dealt with under section 283 of the Penal Code. Almost all cases of obstruction would fall under this section, and where it is difficult to prove anything beyond mere annoyance to the people in the vicinity, the police should apply to the Magistrate for summonses under section 200 of that Code. No change has been made by Act X of 1886 (an Act to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure) as regards making the offence of hurt cognizable by the police; but it is the general duty of the police to prevent the commission of offences, and it is clear from section 42 (b) and (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure that they are fully empowered to interfere and take action for the prevention of a breach of the peace, or the suppression of a riot or an affray. If there is reason to believe that persons concerned therein have given false names or residences, they can be arrested and dealt with under the provisions of section 57 of the Code. Moreover, if persons concerned in an affray obstruct a police officer in his endeavours to prevent or put an end to such breach of the peace, they can be arrested under the fifth clause of section 54 of the same Code. There was one case of extortion, in which a European constable and a native shop-keeper extorted a cheque for Rs. 1,000 from a European shop-keeper under the threat of reporting him for having in his shop certain improper articles for sale. The extortion was the result of a preconcerted conspiracy, in which the native shop-keeper appears to have been the prime-mover, and the accused were both found guilty and each was sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment. In paragraph 10 of the Resolution on the report for 1883, it was directed that miscellaneous proceedings under the Criminal Procedure Code should in future be shown in class VI, heading 29. This has now been done. It is noteworthy that there were no cases, either in Town or Suburbs, under Chapters X, XI, or XII (public nuisances, urgent nuisances, and disputes regarding possession of immoveable property). Out of a total of 451 cases in the Town, 441 fell under Chapter XXXVI (maintenance), and 10 under Chapter VIII (security for keeping the peace or for good behaviour). The number under Chapter VIII appears to be remarkably small for so large a city.

8. The number of cases of suicide in the Town and Suburbs was 54 against 51 in 1884, and the number of accidental deaths was 247 against 264 in 1884 Of these latter, 104 were cases of drowning, 37 deaths were due to falls from trees or buildings, 17 were caused by the persons being run over by carriages, and 13 resulted from snake-bites; the remainder being due to various other causes not specified. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs in the Commissioner's remark that, "taking into consideration the incompetency and carelessness of native drivers and the narrowness of many of the most crowded thoroughfares, it is surprising that (carriage) accidents are not more frequent." In addition to the 17 cases referred to above, there were 12 cases of carriage accidents which terminated fatally, and in which there was evidence of rashness or negligence. In 8 of these cases the drivers of tram-cars were concerned. On prosecution 6 of the men were discharged, the other two being convicted and sentenced to 6 months' and one year's rigorous imprisonment respectively. Of 16 other servants of the Tramway Company who were prosecuted, 13 were warned, fined, or imprisoned, the other three being discharged. The fact that 94 drivers of public and private carriages were convicted of rash and furious driving, out of 109 who were prosecuted, should have a good effect.

9. No important changes were made in the working of the Arms Act during the past year, and no special remarks are called for under this head. The increase in the transport of arms and ammunition to Bengal frontier districts and the North-Western Provinces was probably due to rumours of impending disturbances on the Afghan frontier. Out of eight persons prosecuted for petty offences under the Act during 1885, seven were convicted.

10. The Fire-Brigade rendered assistance at 39 fires, of which 7 were in the Town, 17 in the Suburbs, 14 in Howrah and 1 in the 24-Pergunnahs. The loss of property was only Rs. 99,254 against Rs. 5,60,348 in the previous year. There was only one serious fire in the Suburbs, which destroyed a jute store-house at Chitpore, containing 3,236 drums of jute. The most disastrous fire in the Town occurred in the Jorabagan section, and completely destroyed a range of brick-built godowns containing 4,000 drums of jute worth Rs. 14,000. None of the fires was attended with any loss of human life.

11. The total cost of the police in the Town increased from Rs. 4,28,783 in 1884 to Rs. 4,59,344 during the past year, the increase being principally due to the appointment of the new mounted police sanctioned in December 1884. The cost is met as follows:—

	Rs.
Paid by Municipality	2,89,290
Government contribution	1,00,149
Fees and fines	69,905

The cost of the River Police was Rs. 30,919, of Government guards Rs. 46,849 and of additional constables Rs. 29,438.

12. The number of up-countrymen in the force amounted to 1,899, while it contained only 219 Bengalis; of the native officers 85 were Bengalis and 89 up-countrymen. Owing to the discipline enforced in the service, coupled with the fatigue and exposure which the duties entail, Bengali recruits will not come forward for enlistment. In the higher ranks there is said to be almost a sufficiency of Bengali-speaking men. The casualties in the force only amounted to 333 or 10·88 per cent. Only 54 men were dismissed against 114 in 1884 and an average of 105 in the five preceding years. Twenty-eight men died, giving a mortality of 9·13 per thousand against 8·56 in the previous year. It is said that many others go home sick and die in their own country, which would account for the very low percentage of deaths recorded. Sickness is caused, it is stated, not by want of proper accommodation, but by exposure at night in malarious localities, and a large number of young up-countrymen break down every year before they become acclimatised. The Commissioner of Police notes that cases of serious venereal disease have steadily increased since the abolition in 1883 of Act XIV of 1868.

13. In the Town previous convictions were proved against 280 habitual offenders, and 128 notorious criminals were photographed on their release from jail, and their names were registered by the Detective Department. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to note that great attention was paid to the registration of old offenders, and that no efforts were spared to keep under surveillance all members of the criminal class who are known to live by crime. The practice of entering only habitual offenders in the thana registers is a good one, as it saves an over-worked police force from a good deal of unnecessary labour, and at the same time enables supervision to be more concentrated upon the worst criminals.

14. The total number of cases instituted during 1885, in the Court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate, was 11,051 as against 13,635 during the preceding year. The number of persons acquitted or discharged was 1,476, 13,394 persons were convicted, and 21 committed to the High Court; 3 were transferred for want of jurisdiction and 35 were under trial at the close of the year. Sentences of whipping were passed on 43 persons, and 10 juvenile offenders were sent to the Alipore Reformatory School. The total amount of fines imposed was Rs. 28,406, out of which Rs. 26,403 were realised. In the Northern Division the total number of cases instituted fell from 12,002 in 1884 to 10,171 in the past year. In connection with these, 12,220 persons were convicted, 846 acquitted or discharged, and 24 committed to the Sessions, 12 were transferred and 12 were under trial on the 31st December 1885. The fines realised amounted to Rs. 21,394; the total amount imposed, which is not given, should be stated in future reports. In the Courts of the two Presidency Magistrates combined there were 5,109 persons prosecuted for cruelty to animals, and of these 5,069 were convicted.

15. Benches of Honorary Magistrates sat three days in the week for the trial of such criminal cases as were made over to them. The Chief Presidency

Magistrate remarks again upon the irregularity and lateness of attendance of some Honorary Magistrates; but otherwise the Bench has worked satisfactorily. It is a valuable aid towards the speedy administration of justice, and the work done is of a substantial character. The number of cases made over to the Bench was 1,068 in 1886 against 1,132 in the preceding year. Of 1,568 persons dealt with, 733 were convicted, 825 acquitted or discharged and 10 were under trial at the close of the year. The proportion of acquittals and discharges to convictions is very large compared with the proportion in cases before the Presidency Magistrates; but this characteristic of Bench trials is not confined to Calcutta. Mr. Marsden suggests the advisability of appointing more Honorary Magistrates to supply the place of those who have died or resigned. On this subject a communication will be addressed to the Commissioner of Police.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor notices the large decrease in the number of informations entered in the daily register at police thanas, the number having fallen from 157,797 in 1884 to 139,573 in the year under review. This must be regarded as satisfactory, if it means a corresponding decrease of crime, and if the provisions in the Criminal Procedure Code as to recording such informations are carefully observed. Mr. Harrison has not made any remarks under this head. The numbers of thefts and burglaries have decreased. It is satisfactory also to note that no extensive robbery took place either in the European or native quarter of the Town, and that not a single grave act of violence was committed in the public streets.

17. The Lieutenant-Governor has again to acknowledge the valuable services rendered by the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner of Police, and the Presidency Magistrates. The names of the officers favourably mentioned have been noted. The year was marked by a considerable decrease in serious crime, and the Commissioner is to be congratulated on the satisfactory report which he has been able to submit. The better and more systematic supervision of habitual criminals was probably to some extent the cause of the decrease.

ORDER—Ordered that copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information and for communication to the Presidency Magistrates, and to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, for information.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. DUNBAR BLYTH,

Offg. Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

MANAGEMENT OF THE MUHGYA DOME SETTLEMENTS IN THE CHUMPARUN DISTRICT.

No. 2219J., dated Calcutta, the 17th July 1886.

From—W. DUNBAR BLYTH, Esq., Offg. Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, Judicial Department,

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 326G., dated the 22nd May last, submitting the fourth annual report by the Magistrate of Chumparun on the management of the Mughya Dome settlements in that district.

2. In reply, I am to request that you will be so good as to convey to Mr. Henry the thanks of Government for his report, which gives a satisfactory account of the success of the scheme, and for the continued exertions and interest he has taken in the matter. The valuable assistance rendered by Mr. Bright, the sub-divisional officer of Bettiah, and the services of sub-inspector Ramdhani Singh and head-constable Ambika Pershad, in charge, respectively, of the Burgaon and Futtehpore settlements, have been noticed with satisfaction.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor awaits the report promised on the extension of the scheme for the settlement of the Domes on the Nepal frontier.

No. 326G, dated Bankipore, the 22nd May 1886.

From—F. M. HALLIDAY, Esq., Commissioner of the Patna Division,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department.

I HAVE the honour to forward herewith a copy of the report from Mr. Henry, Officiating Magistrate of Chumparun, on the management of the Mughya Dome Settlement in that district.

2. The report gives a satisfactory account of the success of the undertaking, and I myself had an opportunity, during my cold-weather tour, of visiting the settlements which were in a flourishing condition.

3. I shall later on ask for Government support in furtherance of the extension of the scheme of settlement for the Domes on the Nepal Frontier, as proposed in this report by Mr. Henry. I beg to bring to the notice of Government the excellent work in this matter done by Mr. Bright, C.S., the Sub-Divisional Officer of Bettiah, who has been of the greatest assistance to Mr. Henry. The services of Sub-Inspector Ramdhani Singh and Head Constable Ambika Pershad are again deserving of special acknowledgment

Mr. Henry has continued to exert his zeal and influence for the success of the scheme with which his name is identified.

No. 693, dated Motihari, the 10th May 1886.

From—E. R. HENRY, Esq., Magistrate of Chumparun,

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

I.—I have the honour to submit the fourth annual report upon the administration of the Dome Settlement in this district.

II. Burgaon Settlement.—This settlement had during the year a population of 111 adults and 58 boys and girls, there being an increase as compared with last year of eight persons only. So far as can be judged, there is little or no tendency to a marked increase in the number here, and this, on the whole, is not to be regretted. No Domes absconded during the year from this settlement, and the small increase in number is attributable to the admission of Domes upon release from jail.

Ten Domes of this settlement are employed as village chowkidars, two as peons under the Road Cess Department, while four have secured private employments. I have received satisfactory accounts of the conduct of all these men. Mr. Broncke, who is a resident farmer on a large scale, and has a very intimate acquaintance with all matters connected with the people of this part of Behar, informs me that the reclamation of these Mughya Domes has been more thorough and more lasting than he or any one else believed possible; and though at first opposed to the scheme on the ground that it would not prove a success, he has now altered his opinion and has given us assistance by taking the settlement Domes into his service as watchmen over his crops. A day school has been established at the settlement, and some of the children are beginning to learn to read and write and the rudiments of mental arithmetic. Though little or no direct practical good is likely to result from having these children taught, the indirect effect upon them and their parents is not inconsiderable, for they are beginning to realize that they will be treated in all respects like other members of the agricultural community, entitled to the same advantages, and subject to the same rules of conduct.

III. Cultivation.—The area of cultivated land attached to this settlement was 49 local bighas, of which 18 bighas are low-lying rice land, and 22 bighas bhadai-bearing land.

The Domes in addition have taken up on their own account 11 bighas direct from the landlords without our intervention, thereby increasing the area actually under cultivation to 60 bighas, from which the following outturns of crops were obtained:—

	Mds.
Bhadai crops	971
Aughuny „	495
Rubbee „	97
Total ...	1,563

The average outturn per bigha was 37 maunds, or a little over 20 maunds the acre. This result appears to me to be most satisfactory, and to be an encouraging indication of the marked increase in agricultural knowledge and skill which the Domes have gained. The season has no doubt been very favourable, but taking this into account, we have reason to congratulate ourselves upon securing an average yield which would do no discredit to a model farm from lands which are not all of the best quality, and which have been cultivated by men who have learnt all they know within the last four years, and who previously to the year 1882 had never had an implement of husbandry in their hands, except on the occasions when they were employed in the convalescent gangs to work in jail gardens.

As indicating the material prosperity of this settlement, I may note that 11 of these Domes have purchased out of their own funds the following stock:—

3 Buffaloes. | 21 Bullocks.
12 Cows and 2 Calves.

They own besides over 80 pigs and a considerable stock of poultry.

IV. Futtehpore Settlement.—On the 1st April there were 61 adults and 45 boys and girls, making a total of 106 persons at this settlement, of whom 11 were new settlers. Five males and 3 females absconded during the year, four of whom subsequently returned while the remaining four have escaped into the neighbouring district of Gorruckpore, where they are now believed to be. Six Domes of this colony were employed, throughout the year as village chowkidars, and we hope to be able to secure employment for others either in private service, or as vacancies occur in the service of the Road Cess Committee. Futtehpore being situated in a thickly inhabited portion of the sub-division, and within 10 miles of the town of Bettiah, much difficulty has been experienced in procuring land sufficient for our requirements. No doubt if pressure were put upon the proprietors land might be obtained; but as I am particularly anxious to work in perfect harmony with the ryots of the neighbourhood, I have taken care to see that they are fully compensated for any land they have surrendered to the Domes. The 10 bighas of land added this year to the cultivation area of Futtehpore entailed a payment from our funds of Rs. 225 as compensation to the ryots who surrendered it. Mr. Bright reports that throughout the year he received only two complaints against the Domes, one of which on enquiry turned out to be false, and the other was of so trival a character that he deemed interfence uncalled for. This is a satisfactory testimony to the orderly conduct of the settlers, as they are living within easy distance of the Magistrate's Court, to whom prompt information would be given were they guilty of lawless or oppressive conduct.

V. Cultivation.—The area under cultivation at this settlement was about 23 bighas, the local bigha being a little over an acre. From 18 bighas of dhan land a gross produce of 424 maunds was secured, and on the five bighas of up-land 96 maunds of makai and about the same quantity of rubbee were grown; the average yield of rubbee and makai being about 19 maunds the bigha, or 16 maunds the acre, which is fairly satisfactory. The outturn of the dhan land cannot be said to afford satisfactory proof of either good or bad husbandry, as the outturn depends almost entirely there upon the rainfall and the depth of water which lodges on the land.

VI.—There can be no doubt that more land is required here, and no efforts will be spared to secure it as opportunity offers; but, as I have before remarked, owing to the pressure of population and vicinity to the town, good land in this neighbourhood has a high market value and cannot be secured at short notice. Though the material prosperity of the Futtehpore Settlement is not so marked as that of Burgaon, the progress made during the year has been satisfactory. The Domes are learning their work as agriculturists, and are anxious to take up more land directly from the landlords, who are willing enough to receive them as tenants, but are not in a position to do so, as this year, owing to the general agricultural prosperity, few holdings have been surrendered or abandoned. A day school has been established at Futtehpore, which is attended by the Domes and by the children of the neighbouring villagers. This fact in itself testifies to the improved status assigned to the Mughya Domes by the people amongst whom they are living.

VII.—As in previous reports, I have described in detail all matters connected with the administration of these settlements; it will be sufficient now if I very briefly recapitulate the results of the year's working.

The season was particularly favourable to agricultural operations and the Domes shared in the general prosperity, as they succeeded in harvesting from their land over 2,100 maunds of grain, the yield being at the rate of over 20 maunds the acre.

The area under cultivation at Futtehpore was increased by 10 bighas, while the Domes at Burgaon secured such extra land as they required by taking it direct from the landlord.

Old and useless bullocks were sold and were replaced by serviceable animals at Futtehpore, while at both settlements, but more especially at Burgaon, the Domes added to their private herds by purchasing cattle.

Their conduct throughout the year was good; no person absconded from Burgaon, while only four permanently left Fattehpore, and the Sub-Divisional Officer reports that he received throughout the year only two complaints again the settlers, one of which was false, and the other of a trivial character.

The Domes become more settled, and their agricultural skill has much increased and there appears to be little doubt now that both colonies will continue to be self-supporting upon the basis of agricultural communities.

VIII.—During your cold-weather tour in this district you were in camp at Futtehpore and especially inspected Burgaon, and will therefore have been able to judge for yourself as to the measure of success which these settlements have obtained.

So far as I know, you received no complaint either from the villagers or from the Domes, and it is tolerably certain that, had abuses in connection with the administration of the settlements existed, they would have formed the subject of representation to you.

IX.—As these Domes who habitually resided in the Bettiah sub-division and the neighbouring district of Gorruckpore have now been provided for, I have decided, after some hesitation, to attempt the settlement of the Mughya Domes who infest the Nepal Terai, which forms the northern boundary of the Sudder sub-division. These marauders are a source of much trouble to the Nepalese, who appear to be unable to cope with them, and also to our own ryots, as they frequently cross the frontier on thieving expeditions. Once we get a few of the principal members of gangs to settle, there will be no difficulty in dealing with those who may wish to prove recalcitrant.

I have secured land for a homestead, and am now engaged in having houses constructed, and am arranging for land for cultivation. Later on I may be compelled to ask for a small, grant-in-aid in furtherance of the scheme.

X.—In conclusion, I desire to bring to your notice the good work done by Mr. Bright who throughout the year has continued to take a keen interest in all matters connected with the working of both settlements. Sub-Inspector Ramdhani Singh deserves great credit for the very satisfactory results secured at Burgaon, which has been under his special charge. Head constable Ambika Pershad at Futtehpore has also worked earnestly and successfully.

Explanation.—It dicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank.

CALCUTTA, the 20th July 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 16TH OF JULY 1886.

On the last day of the previous week it was mentioned that a slight disturbing element had occurred in the course of the steady monsoon current, which had previously been blowing, by the formation of a small barometric depression at the head of the Bay. On Friday, the 9th, the feeble depression was situated in the north-east corner of the Bay, the centre apparently being not very far to the west of Chittagong. On the following morning the depression had moved in a westerly direction, and its centre was near the Sunderbans to the east of Saugor Island, and on the morning of Sunday, the 11th, it had again moved in a westerly direction, and its centre was to the south-west of Saugor Island, and the slight disturbance was apparently moving towards Orissa. On the following day the depression appeared to be passing inland over Orissa, the lowest pressure on this day being registered at Cuttack, while on Tuesday, the position of the depression, if any such existed on this day, was very badly defined. On Wednesday, the 14th instant, pressure again decreased off the Orissa coast, and on the morning of Thursday, the 15th, the feeble depression had again become well marked, and on the 16th it had slightly intensified, and had also become more extensive, though it was somewhat irregularly defined. On this day the centre, so far as could be judged, was to the east of False Point and almost south of Saugor Island. The formation and movement of this depression, or perhaps more correctly of the two depressions, though the first had never quite disappeared, have been the principal feature in the meteorology of the week, and to the existence of this feature the break in the rain which has been reported over a large part of the province has been due. During the whole of the week winds have been more or less cyclonic in direction, though light in force, in connection with the depression. Easterly and north-easterly winds have prevailed over the whole province, almost without a break, and there has been a distinct indraught towards the feeble storm. The monsoon winds have, however, been blowing strongly in the rear of the depression, but their passage over Bengal has apparently been almost completely stopped or deflected by the existence of the depression, and thusit has only been those areas which have been immediately affected by the feeble storm, or the districts in the extreme south of the province and close to the sea, which have received anything like general rainfall since the first two or three days of the week. Rainfall has thus been fairly frequent thought light in Orissa, and in the southern districts of South-West and East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur, but after the first two or three days of the week, rainfall has been practically absent in other districts, except perhaps in the hill districts of North Bengal.

The variations and distribution of pressure during the week have naturally been determined by the formation and movement of the small storm above described, and thus while the mean pressure for the week has been in distinct defect of the normal at the Orissa stations and at Saugor Island and Chittagong, at almost all other stations pressure has been higher than usual. The defect had been largest at False Point, where it equals 0·063″, and the excess largest at Durbhunga, where it has been 0·034″; but for the whole province the mean pressure for the week has been only 0·002″ in excess of the normal.

Owing to the comparative absence or lightness of the rainfall in almost all districts, temperature has generally been slightly in excess of the normal throughout the week. The largest mean excess has been in North Behar, where it equals 1·1°, while in South Behar temperature has been almost normal. For the whole province temperature has been in excess of the normal by 0·5°.

Rainfall, as has been stated previously, has been light and scanty during the whole week over a large part of the province, and almost absent over another considerable area. Expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the week, Orissa has received 62 per cent. of the usual amount, North Behar 56 per cent., Chutia Nagpur 48 per cent., South Behar 48 per cent., South-West Bengal 31 per cent., North Bengal 27 per cent., and East Bengal 33 per cent. For the whole province the rainfall compared with the normal for the period has only equalled 43 per cent. The only meteorological district which has received a fall in excess of two inches is Orissa, and all other districts, except North Bengal, have received rather more than one inch of rain during the week, while this district has received an average of less than one inch.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 16th of July 1886 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 8f, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA;
Calcutta, the 19th July 1886.

MEMORANDUM.

THE mortuary returns of the districts in Bengal for the month of April 1886 present the following results:—

1. That the deaths of 115,476 persons were registered among a population of 66,163,884 in these districts, representing an annual death-rate of 20·88 per 1,000 against 18·48 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 21·36 per 1,000 during the corresponding month of the past year, indicating, as compared with the latter period, a retrogression in the number of deaths recorded.

2. That the highest casualty-rates were returned from the following districts:—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille.
Pubna	56·76	Rungpore	27·96

4. That while the incidence from small-pox, bowel-complaints and injury did not exceed the normal mortality generally, and the maladies classed under the head of "Other Causes" proved conspicuously fatal only in the Puri district, viz., at the rate of 10·20 per 1,000 of population, cholera and fever displayed greatest activity in the following districts:—

OFFICE OF SANITARY COMMISSIONER FOR BENGAL,
The 19th July 1886

R. LIDDERDALE, M D, Deputy Surgeon-General,
Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

THE returns of the principal Municipalities in Bengal (excluding Patna, from which no return was received up to date), for the week ending 3rd July 1886, disclose the following results :—

1. That births and deaths were recorded in these Municipalities at the rates, respectively, of 16·7 and 23·8 per 1,000 of population, as opposed to 17·4 and 20·8 per 1,000 in the preceding week ending 26th June, indicating a considerable advance in the registration of deaths with a small falling off in that of births.

2. That the highest birth and death rates were recorded in the following Municipalities :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Beauleah	36·8	Puri	195·2
Santipore	35·1	Gya	35·5
Bhagulpore	33·5	Suburbs of Calcutta	30·8
		Bhagulpore	29·9

3. That the mortality from the specific death-causes stood as follows :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	3rd July 1886.	26th June 1886.
Cholera	4·5	1·6
Small-pox	·04	·1
Fever	8·3	9·1
Bowel-complaints	3·4	3·2
Injury	·5	·8
Other causes	7·0	6·5

indicating chiefly that, in comparison with the preceding week, there occurred during the week under notice considerably enhanced mortality from cholera.

4. That of the death-causes above indicated, cholera, fever and the diseases classed under the head of "Other causes" proved conspicuously fatal in the Municipalities named below, the rest of the maladies manifesting no noticeable accession of mortality :—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.
Puri	151·1	Beauleah ...	23·6	Gya ...	13·0
Suburbs of Calcutta	4·6	Chittagong ...	21·1	Suburbs of Calcutta	12·0
Gya	2·7	Puri ...	21·0	Bhagulpore ...	11·8

It will be noticed that cholera has commenced to exhibit marked fatality in the Puri town, connected no doubt with the presence of pilgrims in it during the Rath Jatra festival.

5. That the mortality of the week distributed under the heads of Sex, Class and Age stands as noted below—

According to Sex.	Ratio per mille.	According to Class.	Ratio per mille.	According to Age.	Ratio per mille.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February last, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-consider them. The ratios have consequently been calculated upon the revised population under all heads in the above table except "24 Pergunnahs" and the ratios under which the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be considered correct. † Deaths under this head not having been recorded under the established form of age classification.

Increase.

	Tons.
Silk and silk cloth	10
This increase is due to fair market price in Calcutta for shipment.
Edible grain	176
This increase is due to fair crop and favourable market price this year.
Cotton	28
This increase is due to less import during the previous months.
Coal	358
This increase is due to larger consumption of coal in the silk and indigo factories owing to extensive use of steam-power.

Decrease.

Seeds of all sorts	112
This decrease is due to less import owing to the fair production of seeds in this district.
Sundries	49
This decrease is due to less import of tobacco, raw, and fuller's earth on account of low rate, and to less export of mango and jack fruits this year owing to less production.

NOTIFICATION.

The 27th July 1886.—There will be an examination for the Subordinate Executive Service in January 1887 open to all Natives of India who have passed the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University, or who can produce satisfactory evidence from competent authority of having received a good education up to the standard at least of the Entrance Examination. The term "Natives of India" includes all persons born and domiciled within the dominions of Her Majesty in India, of parents habitually resident in India, and not established there for temporary purposes only.

2. Certificates of health, respectability, and good moral character will be required from all candidates, without exception or distinction, and no one will be permitted to appear who will have completed his twenty-fifth year before the examination is held.

3. Applications for permission to appear at the examination, accompanied by the necessary certificates (except the health certificate), and a fee of Rs. 10, must be sent, not later than the 1st December next, to the Under-Secretary in the Appointment Department. Applicants who wish to present themselves for examination at the Medical College Hospital should state this fact in their applications, and they will then receive a letter authorizing them to do so on any morning in the week between 8 and 11 o'clock, Sundays excepted. When they have obtained their health certificate, they will forward it to the Under-Secretary in the Appointment Department to be filed with their other certificates.

4. Those candidates who can obtain a certificate from the Civil Surgeon of a mofussil station should forward it, with the other certificates necessary, at the time they apply for permission to appear at the examination. In all cases a fee of Rs. 4 will be charged for a certificate of health.

5. The examination will be held as usual about the middle of January. The exact dates, as well as the number of appointments to be competed for, will be notified hereafter. The subjects will be as follow:—

FIRST DAY.

Morning.

An essay on a subject to be selected by the Examiners and given out at the time of the examination.

Time allowed, 2½ hours.

In awarding marks in this paper, the Examiners will take into consideration the following points:—

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

ISSUED BY AUTHORITY OF THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT FORT WILLIAM IN BENGAL.

CRIMINAL.

Rule No. 4, dated the 29*th of June* 1886.

39. [Charges for certified or uncertified copies—C. O. No. 35 of 1*st October* 1880]—(a.) In all Criminal Courts, a uniform charge shall be made for the preparation of copies, whether certified[2] or uncertified, at the rate of four annas per folio[1]. This term, it is to be carefully explained to all subordinate officers, merely denominates a certain quantity of manuscript; the folio to consist of 150 words English or of 300 words vernacular, four figures counting as one word.

[2] The question as to what officer should be empowered to sign the certificates required at foot of certified copies, as directed in section 76 of the Indian Evidence Act I of 1872, is, under the explanation to that section, a matter which would depend upon the arrangements made in each office, and such arrangements would be made by the Presiding Officer of the Court (H. C. 297, 1883).

(c.) All copies, whether certified or uncertified, must, in future, before issue, be examined by a salaried officer[3]. The copies themselves will, in all cases, be made by section-writers, who will be remunerated at the rate of 2 annas per folio.

[3] The duty of examining copies should, as a rule, be entrusted to the head clerk or sheristadar, but where this is not possible, the Judge of the Court should make any other suitable arrangement, except that the copyists must not be allowed to examine for each other (C. O. Civil No. 8 of 29*th June* 1875).

Uncertified copies should only be marked as "examined" and initialled by the examiner, while copies to be used, or capable of being used as evidence, should be "certified to be a correct copy" and signed in full, and bear the seal of the court [C. O. (Civil) No. 30 of 23*rd August* 1879].

1. Cancel foot-note 3, page 135.

2. In the second paragraph of foot-note 3, page 136, cancel from the words "while copies to be used * * * " to the end.

3. After clause (c.c.), page 137, insert the following:—

(c c.c.) A certified copy must be "certified to be a true copy," must bear the seal of the Court, and must be signed in full, if not by the Presiding Officer, then by the officer hereinafter named, viz.:—

At the head-quarters of a district.

All certified copies by the head clerk of the Court of the District Magistrate.

In Courts at sub-divisions.

All certified copies by the head clerk of the Court of the Sub-divisional Magistrate.

In every case the certifying officer will append to his signature the words "authorized under section 76 Act I of 1872."

The words—

Certified to be a true copy.
authorized under section 76, Act I of 1872.

NOTIFICATION.

THE draft rules, which the High Court proposed to make under the provisions of sections 100 and 142 of the Bengal Tenancy Act VIII of 1885, having, as required by section 190 of the said Act, been published for general information in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 3rd March 1886, Part I, pages 152 to 154, and in the Gazette of India, dated 27th February 1886, Part II, pages 100 and 101, and more than one month having expired from the date of the publication thereof, it is hereby notified that, after consideration of objections and suggestions made, the High Court have made the following rules under the aforesaid sections.

By order of the High Court,
C. M. W. BRETT, Registrar.

HIGH COURT, Calcutta, the 27*th July* 1886.

Rules under Section 100.

1. Every manager, appointed under Chapter IX of the Bengal Tenancy Act, shall in all matters act in accordance with such orders as may, from time to time, be issued by the District Judge.

2. The manager shall pay the Government revenue, rent, and other demands of the like nature, as also all just liabilities upon the estate, in due and proper time.

3. No manager shall have power to sell or mortgage any property, nor shall he grant or renew a lease for any period exceeding three years, without the express sanction of the District Judge. Provided that this rule shall not render valid any lease for a shorter time than three years, if the District Judge directs by a written order that his sanction is to be obtained as regards all leases granted by the manager.

4. The manager shall apply for the sanction of the District Judge to any act which may involve extraordinary expense.

5. No manager shall have power to compromise any suit or relinquish any claim without the express sanction of the District Judge.

Rules under Chapter XII.

6. All applications to distrain shall be presented and heard in open Court. The examination mentioned in section 123, sub-section (2), shall be on oath or affirmation.

7. All such applications and all notices of distraint under section 141 shall be entered in a register to be called the "Distraint Register," which shall be kept in the form annexed. A copy of every such application, to be furnished by the applicant, shall be given to the officer appointed to make the distraint, and a copy of the notice under section 141, to be similarly furnished by the applicant, shall be given to the officer placed in charge of the distrained property.

8. The officer deputed to make a distraint under section 124, or to take charge of produce distrained under section 141, must in all cases be able to read and write the language of the district.

9. The written demand under section 125 shall be framed in accordance with the entries contrained in the application or notice referred to in rule 2.

10. The notification of distraint directed in section 124, Act VIII, 1885, shall be published—

By fixing up in a conspicuous part of the holding, or other place, in which the produce is, a notice that such produce has been distrained, and by proclaiming at the same time the contents of the notice by beat of drum.

11. The notice shall specify the name of the person at whose instance the distraint is made, the name of the defaulter, the name of the person in whose charge the produce has been placed, and the amount of the arrear due, and it shall direct any person intending to reap, gather, or store the crop or produce, if unreaped or ungathered, or intending to do any other act necessary for its preservation, to give due notice of his intention to the person who has been placed in charge.

12. The notice shall be fixed up in the presence of not less than two persons, in addition to the agent of the distrainer, who points out the crop or produce.

13. In the event of it being necessary for the distraining officer, or the officer placed in charge of distrained property, to reap, gather, or store any crops or produce, or to do any other acts for the due preservation of the same, as provided by section 126, the person at whose instance the distraint was made shall advance the funds necessary to this end.

14. The officer holding a sale under section 131 shall record a description of the property offered for sale, the names of all persons bidding for the same, and the amount bid by each; and if the sale is postponed, he shall record an order to this effect, and shall then and there notify the place where and the time when the sale will be held.

15. When the sale is concluded and the sale proceeds are realised, the officer who held the sale shall, after paying the cost of the distraint and sale, as directed in section 134 forthwith pay the balance into Court.

16. The officer holding the sale shall take separate receipts for all sums paid by him as costs of the distraint and sale under section 134, sub-section (1), and if the person giving the receipt is unable to write, the receipt shall be attested by some person able to do so.

17. When a distraint is withdrawn under section 136, the notification of distraint, published under section 124, shall be taken down.

18. All officers deputed to distrain property under this chapter shall, if there is a post office in the vicinity, report to the Court by letter immediately the distraint is made, or if there is no such post office shall, immediately on his return, report in writing the nature and extent of the crop or produce distrained, the day on which the distraint was made, the name of the person (if any) placed in charge of the crop, and the day fixed for the sale, or if the sale has taken place, the day on which it took place. He shall also immediately on his return file an account of all money received and disbursed by him, together with the receipts for the same and the record of the biddings at the sale, if a sale has taken place.

19. Every person, distraining produce by virtue of the authority conferred on him under section 141 of Act VIII, 1885, shall give notice of such distraint to the Civil Court having jurisdiction to entertain an application for the distraint of such produce, in a tabular form which shall contain the following particulars :—

(a) The name and address of the person at whose instance the distraint was made and a description of his interest in the property, whether as proprietor, tenure-holder, or raiyat.

(b) The name of the defaulter, and of the place in which he resides, or was known to be last residing.

(c) The amount of the arrear with interest, if any, and the period in respect of which it is claimed.

(d) The holding in respect of which the arrear is claimed, the boundaries thereof, or such other particulars as may suffice for its identification.

(e) The description and approximate value of the produce distrained, and, if the same has been reaped or gathered, the place in which it is stored.

(f) The name of the person by whom the distraint was actually made, and the name and address of the person in whose charge the produce has been placed.

(g) The date on which the distraint was made.

(h) If the crop or produce is standing or ungathered, the time at which it is likely to be cut or gathered.
